Board judging highlights Klondike Night

HINTON—

A good crowd turned out to the Kanuren Club annual Klondike Night last Friday as they followed the beards to an evening of fun

Thursday evening, hammers had gone around town on a final throwing away bags of gold dust that was promptly picked up by their escort of boys and girls on foot and bike who were able to jump the bags in to the Klondike Bank for Klondike money

Highlight of the evening was, of course the judging of the beards that have been seen on Hinton streets for the past two months. Contest winners were Glen Hall, most colorful W. Furphy busiest longest and a three way tie between I. Prosser W. Wirth and L. Kvako

Additional prizes were given to I. Prosser and L. Kvako who were selected by judges Mrs. L. Allen Denholme-Smith and Mr. A. Smirl as looking the most like the lamth Rose or South Bow Cough Candy fame.

Acts. Proceeds from the sale of tickets will go toward the completion of the Gold Eye Lake Junior F.U.A. Camp

Did you know that Twelve Foot Davis was just a little "Fellah" there enough He got his big name because of a 12 foot strip between two prospectors who had measured their claims with a fisherman's rule that must have been what happened! Anyway Davis mined this 12 foot strip and took out $20,000 in gold

Pete Chermen heads Golf Club for year

The Annual General Meeting of the Edson Golf Club was held on April 12, with 18hb Club President Dr I H Lewis in the chair In spite of the bad weather and condition with 5 H L. hotels a good attendance was on hand Reports were heard from the treasurer, secretary and president and from J Long, green keeper.

Amendments to the by laws were voted on by the Club to enable the annual general meeting to be held in October in future when new directors will then be elected The number of directors was increased from 10 to 12 In addition all single female members has to be required without the payment of a de tion on a holiday

All persons who are not members, but wish to play golf can purchase a $5.00 card which entitles them to five rounds of golf after which time a full membership must be purchased if it is the intention to continue golfing

A decision was made to go ahead with the construction of a clubhouse near the present No. 3 green and fourth tee It is intended that this will commence in the near future and be ready for most of the golf season

In order to assist the financing of the clubhouse a raffle is being held at 50c a ticket, the prize a set of golf clubs, ladies or men's, plus free green fees for the 1961 season Tickets can be purchased from any club member

The Ladies tournament will probably be held in June this year and a further announcement about this and other tournaments will be made when definite dates are set

Eight directors were elected at this meeting These elected were J Walker, C Sweeney, A Darks, J Reid, A Worthing, J Williams, J Long and G Bolton

At a special Directors' meeting held following the general meeting the following officers were elected P Chermen president Al Darks, vice president J Reiter, secretary, G Bolton, treasurer

Clubhouse committee J Hook, chairman, A. Darks A Worthing C Sweeney Rules and Handicapping J Reid Greens and Course C Sweeney chairman J Walker J Long, Memberships J Williams

Entertainment and Social committee A Darks, Club Captain and Publicity Dr I H Lewis Co-captain C Sweeney

Several new members, have already joined the Club The

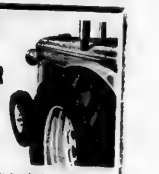
ELEPHANT BRAND FERTILIZER PAID FOR THIS TRACTOR



This is how we illustrate a basic principle — "It doesn't cost, it pays to use fertilizer." Fertilizer can provide the money for those many things you need to make the job easier or your family living better.

You make more money in two different ways when you fertilize with Elephant Brand. You grow better grade crops which sell for higher prices; you get greater profit from each bushel because it has cost you less to produce each bushel.

GROWING WHEAT?
You can make extra profits of $9.75 per acre and even more by fertilizing your wheat crop.

Here is an example of how fertilizer increases profit from wheat:

Increased yield per acre with ELEPHANT BRAND	10 bus.
Value of increase (Wheat valued at $1.25 per bushel)	$12.50
Approximate cost of fertilizer (50 lbs. per acre of 11-48-0 on summerfallow.)*	$ 2.75
EXTRA PROFIT PER ACRE	$ 9.75

*Most on stubble, when properly fertilized can show equally profitable

ELEPHANT BRAND PLUS VALUES
- Reduces size
- Free-Flowing
- Pelletized
- All fertilizers highly water soluble
- Strong, sanded, reinforced new slip bags
- Fast, reliable service assured by adequate dealer stock

Ask your dealer for your copy of the ELEPHANT BRAND NEWS BULLETIN

It pays to choose from the Elephant Brand line

Miss Gail Christianson spent a few days in Edson last week with her sister, Miss Jean Christenson

Grandmother saves life of boy age 5

A five year old Milton Freewater boy, Mark Silva, owes his life to the quick thinking of his grandmother Mrs. Mabel Studebaker.

Little Mark and his three-year old sister Julka, were left in the family car for about ten minutes while his mother, Mrs. Ernie Silva and his grandmother visited at a home in Walla Walla Washington. Mark apparently got hold of the fire extinguisher in the car and opened the nozzle. He got a dose of the fumes from it and was overcome.

When the little boy's mother and grandmother returned he was found lying on the floor of the car. He had stopped breathing. His grandmother pulled him from the car and applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Her mother called the fire department and oxygen was administered until a doctor arrived. A few hours later the little boy was released from a Walla Walla hospital where he had been taken for observation.

What was the chemical compound in the fire extinguisher? Carbon Tetrachloride - a compound not recommended for use by safety authorities and others.

What kind of fire extinguisher do you have in your car? Is it safe for your kiddies to be around?

Clean Your Freezer in the Spring

Towards spring is likely to be the time when stocks in the home freezer are at their peak, also since the winter will have made great inroads on the frozen fruits and vegetables. This, then, is likely to prove a logical time to practice some freezer good housekeeping, and defrosting which should not be necessary more than once or twice a year.

First accumulation on the walls or plate of the freezer acts like insulation. It impedes efficient operation of the unit and should be removed when approximately one-quarter inch thick. It is amongst the most unpleasant jobs to do, and is best accomplished with a knife or other metal instrument. Loosen up the loosened frost with a whisk and remove it. The frozen products need not be removed from the freezer provided there is sufficient room to shift them out of the way.

A thorough cleaning should be given of the walls or plates of the freezer have accumulated a thick coat of hard ice which scraping will not remove or if food has been spilled in the freezer. Switch off the freezer then spread a thick layer of previously chilled newspapers on the table or floor and stack the frozen packages in a compact pile. Cover the pile with more newspapers and several blankets. To hasten the defrosting process place a dish of hot water in the freezer. When the ice has melted, mop up the water with the interior surface with soap and water, rinse and wipe dry. Switch on the freezer and reduce the mode temperature to zero before replacing the frozen foods.

Arrange frozen foods in groups in order to save time when looking for a particular product. Food may also be located speedily by special color markings either with colored pencil or more readily sewn colored labels cut from locker tape. Always date the packages and keep your stock fresh to ensure the oldest packages first. It's good economy to board frozen foods.

United Church banquet marks 50th anniversary

The Edson Church last night celebrated its 50th anniversary with a banquet and social evening at the Legion hall. Approximately 250 people sat down to a delicious repast served by the ladies of the church. A large birthday cake donated by the Edson Bakery was the centre of attraction on the head table.

After supper Mr W Wilson, clerk of the session, cut the cake assisted by Mr H A Switzer. Whilst the dishes and tables were arranged for the program to follow the supper the congregation sang several old favorites.

Then the Rev C C Armstrong introduced three visiting ministers Father Napoleon of the Sacred Heart Church Rev L Hallowell of Bethel Pentecostal Church and Rev T Hord of the Edson Baptist Church addressed the congregation expressing their pleasure at being participants at the memorable day and bringing congratulations from their respective churches to the United Church.

Rev C Armstrong then read congratulatory messages from three former ministers of the Edson United Church Rev R F Pow now 80 years old and a minister in Calgary who had been here from 1926 - 30 Rev T J Mannion minister in Edson from 1942 45 and Rev W H Race minister in Edson from 1948 50

The program got under way with the Canadian Girls in Training, who sang two songs one humorous and the other their CGIT song Then the kindergarten and primary department of the Sunday school took over the stage 50 of them representing candles on a huge birthday cake brought gifts of money to the "birthday church" and sang several school songs

Shirley Collins then called for Mr H A Switzer and presented him with the money in the birthday church stating that this was to be the beginning of a building fund for the expansion of the church buildings and for facilities for a new Sunday School

The Explorers, girls from 9 to 12 then gave a performance of choral speaking and read two short individual items

The boys from 9 and up, mostly in the uniforms of the church sponsored Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs then took over They sang one of their Cub songs with the audience taking part in the refrain they also sang a negro spiritual and presented a short skit

The Willing Workers, one of the Ladies groups of the church then delighted the audience with a hat parade of 1961 modelling such delightful hats as the cleaning model made of a box of tools and cleaning materials the lampshade model the smart model etc etc

Mrs A B Maxwell gave a short talk on the history and activities of the Ladies Aid which were organized in 1911 and throughout the years raised several thousands of dollars by their various activities to keep the church going Mr H A Switzer, the church's official historian paid tribute to the Ladies Aid for their unselfish services to the church throughout the years, saying that at times the Board would have been unable to carry on without their help

He then talked briefly on the very early history of the church mentioning in particular the old circuit riders and the Methodist church in the latter which was one of the forerunners of the present United Church

The next item on the program was delightful skit on "History re-written" presented by the teachers of the annual Sunday School This took the form of meetings held at intervals of about 10 years during the life of the church, the passage of time being marked by the various hats the ladies put on for the separate meetings.

Personnel problems, such as the lack of parking place for cows and then Model T Fords was deplored, the difficulties the teachers had when teaching in the original church which was being held in the pool hall was mentioned and the eternally recurring problems of the young people (such as clothes worn by the girls, dances, staying out late etc) were touched on

Then the most senior members of the church, all those who joined in 1914 and previously were called to the stage and introduced to the congregation They were all presented with a golden arm-versary gift of a bible These senior members were Mr W Wilson and Mrs Wilson Mr and Mrs H A Switzer Mrs A B Maxwell Mrs R W Hodges and Mrs G H Matheny to whom special appreciation was expressed as she is the organist of the church

The Senior choir then gave a selection. It should also be mentioned that the previous Sunday the senior choir had gone to the Parkland Lodge for Senior Citizens to give them a special recital for the occasion of the 50th anniversary

The very enjoyable and memorable evening concluded with a litany of thanks read by Rev C C Armstrong and the people and the benediction.

What's doing at Parkland

There during the past week Monday evening and Sunday afternoon, church choir groups dropped in and lead in good old fashioned sang songs Nothing could be more enjoyable than a chance to join a gang sing song over the old favorites, and everyone took part and had a wonderful time

From all reports our hopes of having a piano to give the lead in these gatherings will soon be realized The social hall and other groups have been making great headway in their efforts to bring this about and are worthy of praise

And, when we thought the winter rush of illness was passed another started up Mrs. Kolbe and Mr Deakin have had to return to Edson hospital and Mr Challenger and Mr Cudemore have gone to Edmonton for treatment They are much missed from the family and everyone is hoping they will soon be back with us

LOCAL CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY TOOK a spurt ahead last week with the impressive start made on the new Edson Motor Hotel being built on the site of the former Edson Hotel, which was destroyed by fire over a year ago. The edifice will front on Main Street and First Avenue and will be one storey to the alley and then be two storeys for a half block west almost to where the Universal Motors building used to stand. Completely modern in design and appearance, the new hotel will offer all the conveniences the travelling and motoring public demand from a first class establishment.

BBG recommends local satellite to improve TV

Word was received today from CFRN-TV that the Board of Broadcast Governors had approved their application for satellite stations at Carrot Creek and Edson. The application has now been forwarded by the BBG to the Department of Transport and the Dominion Cabinet for approval. From past experience this takes several weeks to go through government process.

When Cabinet approval has been received CFRN-TV will begin work immediately on the two satellites and hope to have them in operation by September. The Carrot Creek satellite will be Channel 9 and the Edson station will be Channel 12.

Awarding of contract for paving sees council divided on method

Council divided on a vote on whether a low bid on a contract should be automatically accepted or whether Council should wait for their engineer's report verifying the contractor hadn't made a mistake in extending his figures, at its regular meeting Tuesday evening, April 18.

Majority of the Council hold that there was not all that hurry and that it would be better to wait until the next meeting to confirm the low tender after the engineer had checked the figures.

Tenders were for the paving of the six blocks north from Sixth Avenue on Main Street to 11th Avenue, which are to be paid for under the provisions of the Provincial Government's paving program as part of the five-year plan.

Tenders were as follows:

Contractor	Main Contract	Extra Block	Total
Nadon Paving	$49,291.25	$10,198.25	$59,489.50
Everall Engineering	49,308.50	10,598.75	59,907.25
Asphalt Surfacing	37,768.40	12,171.75	49,940.15
McCallum Holdings	73,152.20	15,172.25	88,324.45

Implication from the meeting was that the low tender of Nadon Paving would be the winner of the contract should all the figures check out.

Citizenship dates changed

A change in the times for the Citizenship Court called for May 4 in the Court Room above the dairy at Edson has been announced by Citizenship Court Judge O W Allen, who is to preside.

As now arranged hearings will start at 1 p.m and continue until 3:30 p.m. The court session for the presentation of certificates will start at 3:30 p.m.

Mayor W R. Brunelle is to say a few words of welcome at this time. Members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion are being asked to form up a color party for the occasion.

Glenwood man victim of hit-and-run

Mr Albert MacKenzie, 83, of Glenwood was the victim of a hit and run driver on Wednesday night between 12:05 and 12:30 when he was hit on the highway west of Edson just opposite the ISA Lumber Yard.

Mr MacKenzie's body was found by Chief of Police J MacDonald about 8:30 Thursday morning on the north side of the highway.

The Edson Detachment of the RCMP and the Edson Town Police are investigating the accident. An inquest will be held.

Mr. MacKenzie, who was revived and living in his home in Glenwood, is survived by his wife and three children.

Rifles taken from local hardware

Several rifles were taken from the Edson General Supply early Tuesday morning after a thief or thieves had gained entry by kicking in a window.

The break-in occurred about 4:30 Tuesday morning. An attempt had also been made to break into the safe which was locked.

Edson police are investigating.

EAAA meeting this Sunday

A general public meeting of the Edson Amateur Athletic Association has been called for this Sunday evening, April 30 at 7 p.m. in the Optimist Boys' Centre.

The meeting was called to discuss the various phases of EAAA activities for the summer. Discussions will be under the general heads of old business, the financial statement, organization of the Memorial Park committee, July First Sports Day plans and the election of the new activities.

All who are interested in sporting activities in Edson are urged to make a special effort to attend this meeting.

Spring's rash of fires keeps department busy

During the past week Edson residents heard the fire alarm more often than usual as our summer weather has attracted many youngsters to the woods to light firecrackers, try their hand at smoking and in general playing with fire.

The calls were confined mostly to grass fires until Monday night when the department was called out to a fire at the condemned home of the late Mrs. Forrest on fourth west and a second call to the home of Joe Foth when their shed caught fire about 9:30 in the evening.

The Edson volunteer fire Department was immediately on hand during all calls and wasted no time in making it to the scene of the fires.

J Belt addressed the Council about a complaint he had made in December and was asked by Council to put his points in writing.

Present for the meeting were: Mayor W R. Brunelle and Councillors W. F. Kerryman, L. A. Mahon, W Mills, F Reed and J Rost.

Approval of Council was granted to transfer of lease and option on West one-half of Lot 13, and all of Lot 16, Block 162 from Mrs. Marjory Hook to Roy L. Kleinhuesch and Mrs Esther M. Kleinhuesch that period of lease be extended to September 20 1981, upon undertaking of Kleinhuesche to erect home valued at $8,000.00.

Authority was granted to make transfer Lot 1, Block 69 to the Director Veterans Land Act upon payment sum of $200.00 by Mr Steve Cradock, $180.00 land sale and

There will also be a separate two-car garage.

LEDUC DEMONSTRATION SHOWS POSSIBILITIES

Rural fire fighting can prevent loss

More than half of the fire calls, apart from those of Alberta's cities, occur in rural districts. This is evident when farm fire protection associations compare their calls to farm fires with the number of calls in the town or village where farm fire protection equipment is stored and from whence it is operated by the local fire department. The number of associations or communities with specific rural fire protection responsibility has greatly increased in the past year. There is almost a virgin field for extension for fire services in rural areas. A glance at the present fire loss statistics will give some indication of the fire waste problem. In farm districts, for example, in 1958 farm fire losses totalled 30M and caused a loss of $1,130,000. During the year 1960 there were 520 farm fires with a loss of $1,125,723 recording in personal estimates

There was a very interesting demonstration last week by the Leduc Rural Fire Protection association, which arranged for a fire fighting demonstration in conjunction with the demolition of some old disused buildings at the farm of Mr Peter Wylie. This very progressive fire fighting association issued invitations to many other farm communities in order that other groups could see how this farm fire fighting co-operative operates. Approximately 250 persons attended from as far south as Arrow and east as far as Wain wright.

Rural communities certain ly can take steps to protect their valuable farm buildings and equipment, and it is believed that knowledge gained through the work of the farm fire protection groups will improve farm fire safety practices and reduce the present serious loss of life from fire

A word of warning regarding Referral Selling

An Edson man was recently approached in regards selling a food supplement on a year's supply basis and became a bit suspicious of the chain letter type of agency when he was asked to supply the names of ten friends who could be approached about selling the product. He immediately forwarded a letter to the Better Business Bureau of Edmonton and received the following information:

REFERRAL SELLING

This practice is high on the list of complaints received from the public. For years, promoters in various lines of business have exploited human gullibility and credulity by selling merchandise through the "something for nothing" appeal. Many otherwise smart individuals have participated because we are all human but many have discovered the hard way that there were hooked to a financial obligation. One of these something for nothing deals now current is known as "Referral Selling." Here is how it works:

The customer is asked to sign ten letters in as many friends, or to put the names of his friends on special cards. These letters invite the friends to participate very shortly in an advertising deal which will put money in their pockets, but the original customer is usually asked not to reveal ahead of time what the deal is. For each of these friends who purchase a unit of whatever is offered for sale the original customer will receive $10., which can be applied to the purchase price of his own unit. The salesman may imply that the customer can make up to as $1 500., and in this way share in the profits of the firm.

The salesman or woman is charming and persuasive. He convinces the customer that he can not only pay for his own unit, but also make some extra money. Of course you are asked to sign a Contract and to pay a deposit before the unit is delivered or installed. This type of selling is in the same category as the chain letter. Those who get in at the bottom may receive some monetary return but eventually, thousands will be disappointed.

Consider how rapidly it can build up. You send out ten each of these ten send out ten, which make one hundred the next step in one thousand, then ten thousand then one hundred thousand. In the sixth referral level this becomes one million or there times the total population of Greater Edmonton.

There is also another fact to be considered the possibility of losing a friend who objects to being inveigled into a trap where he is expected to help pay for your unit after he has learned the full details. How can you detect a referral scheme? Remember they usually pers upon the cupidity of the individual and can be put over with such conviction as to disarm an otherwise prudent buyer.

1. A friend or neighbor urges you to agree to an appointment with a friend of his, to hear about something which is well worth your while but he declines to discuss the details.

2. At the appointed interview the salesman hems a is what he turns out to be explains how you, too, can participate in his company's Share the Profit Plan.

3. He will point out that through his plan, the unit, it may be an appliance of some sort will be FIFT to you

Don't believe everything you read

[We reprint the following column by Bob Turner in the current issue of The Canadian Weekly Editor, a trade publication highly regarded by the fraternity of the community weekly press in Canada. Without comment — it doesn't need it!]

A couple of times in The CWE we have lauded Time magazine for its style and even questioned its accuracy in reporting — especially on Canadian affairs.

In turn, we have been quite severely snarled at for our altitude.

At no time have we questioned Time's ability to turn a neat phrase, nor its ability to cram a "great number of facts" into a very small space. All we think is that Time magazine has served as a model for too many news writers because they admired the technique, without considering the content.

"Timese" has become a style of writing. One which is undeniably enjoyable to read but it becomes so cute and ruddily with its many hanging adjectives that material can hardly be called reportage. Yet it is still held up by many editors as an ideal. It makes me ill. Many columnists — especially of the pseudoic variety — use it, and that's probably where it belongs.

The magazine's complete disregard of learning facts or at least of reporting them was clearly demonstrated in their story on Donald Fleming's budget speech last December.

Commenting on it in the Vancouver Sun (a publication which itself would profit from the addition of some reporters interested in facts as opposed to a "story") financial editor Cliff MacKay says:

> The story devotes five paragraphs to the budget's tax changes. She says that tax write-offs on plant and other permanent equipment will be accelerated for domestic producers of products never before made in Canada."
> It does not say that the acceleration shall apply for one year only. Or that its first purpose, in Fleming's words, is to assist new industries in areas where there is a substantial degree of unemployment," whether the products are new or not.
> Time's second paragraph says, "The four per cent surtax on investment income in excess of $2,400 will be repealed."
> The fact is that the surtax will not be repealed; it will continue to apply to income from sources outside Canada.
> The third paragraph of Time's analysis says "The first $25,000 of corporate taxable income, rather than the initial $25,000 will be exempt from income tax." The fact is that neither sum has been, or will be, exempt. Formerly the first $25,000 of a corporation's taxable income was taxed at a low rate of 21 per cent. Effective Jan. 1 the bracket bearing this low rate will be raised to $35,000.
> Time then proceeds to say that "A 15 per cent withholding tax is imposed on dividends paid U.S. holders of Canadian stocks; the same tax applies to interest on bonds issued by the federal and provincial governments." That is not so. The tax applies only to interest on new bonds issued after Dec. 20, 1960. And it also applies to municipal or other borrowings payable in other than Canadian currency.

At hearings of the royal commission on publications Time's accuracy was challenged. The Canadian manager answered, saying "It's a lot harder to produce something that's brief, concise, and clear than it is to produce a windy column or two." Maybe But it's harder yet to produce responsible reporting than it is to produce something which is brief, concise, lear and inaccurate.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

A recent decision to enforce a three cord load restriction on single axle 800 tire trucks has created a real hardship among small operators. For the sake of argument we notice a breakdown of the entire set up from the vantage point of he who stands to suffer most.

The average fee for hauling pulpwood is $7.00 per cord. Multiply this by 3 and you have the grand sum of $21.00. Deduct $10.00 for gas and we find a remainder of $12.00. Oil at anywhere from 30 to 60c must be taken into consideration, an occasional breakdown, a blown tire, and what has he left to pay for a $20/1.00 license, $120.00 insurance, and a monthly cut to his silent partner the finance company.

We need not mention the fact that even a pulp hauler requires food and clothing, and if he happens to be a family man his dependents expect to be fed now and then. We have always suffered under the delusion that our famous highways were built, paid for and maintained by the family through license fees, etc., and were not in order for the benefit of those who made them possible in the first place.

We have heard it said that our highways must be kept in condition to attract tourists. We agree the tourist trade needs the coffers of recipients, but poor old Jack Canuck is a permanent fixture and deserves some consideration too.

This apparent attitude of life it or lump it is pretty hard to swallow; especially in a democratic country.

Force a small trucker off the road and the finance companies will be able to meet used truck lots and run up competition against car dealers. The only trouble will be a lack of buyers.

Things have reached the point where the man who does his darndest is afraid to let men like best, has to intestate under more and more, put forth greater effort and realize less and less for his day's work.

This is no gross exaggeration; there will be hundreds of cords of pulpwood piled in the bush unless Mr. Taylor takes another look at the situation and comes up with a workable compromise.

THE SECOND COLUMN

Two teachers riding the street car were talking about their pupils.

"How many children have you?" asked one. "Oh, about 30," was the reply.

"Well, I've got you beat, I have 31," said the first.

An Irish lady behind them became interested. "Have, and I'll bet your husbands came from Ireland," she beamed.

Wife (angrily) "And I suppose you expect me to believe that you came straight home from the office"

Husband: "Sure did. Just like the time before."

Wife: "So I see, stopping here and there for a little cars."

CAPITOL REPORT

Problems in new education program

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON—The session of the Legislature is over, but the work has just started for the cabinet ministers and government officials whose job it is to put into operation the province's new education financing program.

As the session closed, there were still many uncertainties about the plan. Chief among them was the claim by many municipalities and school boards that the new program will bring an increase in property taxes, rather than a decrease as indicated earlier by the government.

And then there was the question of whether all separate school boards in the province will participate in the new plan. Under the rights given to them by the British North American Act, they can take it or leave it.

Education Minister Anders O. Aalborg has said he hopes all of the separate school boards will participate, and last week letters were sent to all of them asking them to notify the government of their intentions immediately. At week's end 11 separate boards had said they would come in, and Mr. Aalborg said he expects a flood of correspondence this week.

In order to take part in the plan, separate school boards must pass special by-laws which will, in effect, give the province the right to collect taxes on their behalf. Public school boards do not have the same choice.

Unless all of the 69-odd separate school boards decide to co-operate, it could put some obstacles in the way of smooth implementation of the plan. School boards which decided to go their own way presumably will be entitled to school grants under the old formula. But there was nothing noted in the budget for this year to provide for such grants.

The government is fully prepared for difficulties in some areas while the scheme is being implemented. Premier Manning said so after the House agriculture and education committee heard briefs asking that it be deferred for a year. But he pointed out the difficulties would be easier to iron out in practice as the plan is implemented, and argued nothing could be gained by delaying it for a year.

In charge of ironing out the difficulties are five cabinet ministers who make up a special committee which will work with municipalities. Members are: Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke, Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman, Provincial Secretary A. R. Patrick, Education Minister Aalborg and Municipal Affairs Portfolio Fred Colborne.

There's little doubt the committee members will have plenty to do when municipalities and school boards figure out their load gate and see just where they stand under the new plan.

Meanwhile, municipalities require money to operate school systems and last week the province advanced more than $15,000,000 to Alberta's 320 school boards to tide them over until the new "foundation program" goes into effect and local governments begin contributing their 23-mill levy to the central fund.

It looks as though there will be a four-way race for the national leadership of the Social Credit party when delegates gather in Ottawa in July to choose a successor to Solon E. Low.

But the one man who might make Social Credit a potent national force won't be on the running. We refer, of course, to Alberta Premier Ernest Manning who is holding to his original position. He is not interested.

Those who have announced they will seek the leadership are Dr. R. N. Thompson of Red Deer president of the national association A. H. Patterson of Abbotsford, B.C., national organizer George Hahn of New Westminster, B.C., and Real Caouette of Rouyn, provincial leader of the Quebec Social Credit party.

Top ranking Social Creditors here are conceding the leadership convention may be a pretty dull affair without Mr. Manning in the running. The premier has left the door slightly ajar by saying that if the party comes in power and still needs him, he'll be glad to serve. You can't blame him. After 25 years of one of the most successful political careers in Canada, why should he start all over again in an uncertain new field.

Absentee Landlordism

The president of the Sun Life Assurance Company, in his address to the annual meeting warned that we must beware lest international investors, discouraged and puzzled by the confusion in Canadian attitudes, should lose interest in Canada. He was referring to the growing concern in this nation about the extent to which Canadian businesses and resources are being taken over by outside interests.

We predict that Canadian concern towards the trend will grow rather than abate. At the present time United States interests own about one-half of our secondary industries and mining enterprises and three-quarters of our oil and natural gas development. That is a degree of "absentee landlordism" which would not be tolerated by any other nation on the face of the earth.

It is true that in the process this country has experienced booming conditions. In the years ahead, however, we will find that the landlords are taking the cream of our wealth production and leaving the skim milk to the natives.

Right now we have one chemical company in Alberta. But plans are underway to export our gas by-products to the United States to feed tremendous chemical corporations there. We had hopes that this process would have been intensively industrialized through natural gas development, but the vision is failing.

The rebellion in Ireland against Great Britain was fomented by "absentee landlordism." Herein, considered by some a benighted nation, has taken effective stand against any such fate What would the United States people think if half the industrialization of that country and three-fourths of the gas and oil development was foreign-owned?

Governments in this country shy from taking corrective steps. But we are convinced, as a true friend of the United States nation, about the prospects of bitterness in Canada in the years ahead - Brooks Bulletin

Significant Court Decision

Magistrate Ed Angrave said the section was discriminatory and, therefore was superseded by the Bill of Rights, which guaranteed equality to all Canadians. The ruling was believed to have been the first of its kind in Canada since the bill was made law last year.

Magistrate Angrave dismissed the charge of unlawful possession of beer on the reserve.

The move followed an editorial in the Vancouver Sun suggesting: "If some B.C. Indian charged with possession of liquor should defend himself with the new Bill of Rights, he might topple the whole antique structure of Indian liquor restrictions." As we recall, MP Erik Nielsen made the same suggestion around here not long ago.

If the decision stands, it will apply to all Indians in Canada and, presumably will mean by precedent and inference that Indian people cannot be barred from buying booze at any time, anywhere, providing it meets the rules now established for white residents.

Equality, however, is not merely a question of eliminating discrimination. It must be met half way with a wise use of a new-won liberty. In this case, if and when it is found there is no case for restricting Indian drinking rights, then the Indian people should be prepared to accept the ruling with moderation — no easy task, as many white people know from their own misuse a section of the Indian Act regarding booze.

A Lillooet, B.C., police magistrate recently ruled the Canadian Bill of Rights invalidates of the old canon.

GEORGE O'BRIEN ADDRESSING THE regular meeting of the Edson Chamber of Commerce on a recent business during Chamber of Commerce week. Mr. O'Brien, a past president of the Edmonton Chamber, accompanied Don Mallett, executive secretary of the Edmonton Chamber, out for the meeting. Both men gave excellent addresses on the purposes and objectives of the community service organization of business and professional people. Leader Photo

Edmonton men keynote C of C Week meeting

Two distinguished members of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce were keynote speakers at the regular meeting of the Edson Chamber of Commerce in the Commodore banquet room last Wednesday evening

Don Mallett executive secretary of the city body brought greetings from the city Telling his listeners that annual Chamber of Commerce week was a time when the membership should be taking stock of whether or not it was doing the job in the community it should

Mr. Mallett, an expert on matters of procedure, suggested rulings on several points of parliamentary discussion Noting with a smile the lively debate which preceded his talk he wryly intimated that he thought the Edson Chamber seemed active enough

The second guest from the city, George O'Brien, a past president of the Alberta Chamber of Commerce told the meeting that the "baby," a mining growth of Canada, assured our becoming an even greater nation.

Alberta's participation in this growth is assured he told his listeners, because of our tremendous natural resources and our people.

Smaller centers have a good chance of getting smaller industries as there continues to be an expanding market he told the meeting

Last year Chamber he opined alive he said, but guard against expressing an uniformed opinion If something is bad for the Chamber to promote, it will automatically be the best for the community, he added

Edson teens hold record hop

The Edson Kinteen organization presented a Record Hop on April 21 at the High School auditorium. The major difference from those presented in the past was that the DJ's for the evening were Buddy Bauer and Joey Rapisch, two of Edson's well known teenagers.

This change was very well accepted by the teens and proved that talent is where you find it. The dance also proved to be a fair success financially with the Kinteen reporting that a substantial sum was obtained from the dance.

With news for the third week of the CWL which commenced was held in the Methodist hall this Jan. Leadership with 194 points.

Chamber raises dough for 50th anniversary

Started off with a hundred bucks from Mayor W R Brunelle, quickly matched by a hundred each from Louis Joy and Art Leonard the Edson Chamber of Commerce oversubscribed their pledge of $500 for a donation to the 50th Anniversary committee

A mention for the grant tabled from the previous meeting was disinterred and it presented with the special press action by three of the town's groceymen

Other donations in various amounts quickly followed We hop

hope to acknowledge them all in the public prints shortly

Meanwhile the 50th Anniversary got a new boost with our even a general assessment in the Chamber's member

Couchgrass Control in Lawns

The only way to eliminate patches of couchgrass (or quackgrass) in a lawn is to break up the turf and start again. No chemical exists, at present, which will selectively remove this weed from an established lawn.

When only a few blades of couchgrass (half a dozen or so) are present, this weed may be controlled by pulling the blades with a solution of ATA (amine-triazole). This can be done by dipping a small paint brush into the solution and dabbing each blade. Care must be taken, however, not to allow any of the solution to drip onto the other grasses, because they are just as susceptible to the couchgrass to this chemical.

Sodium TCA is recommended for lawn preparations. It can be used either on the bare soil, after it has been tilled or on both foliage and soil prior to cultivation. If the grass is tall and dense it should be cut and removed so that the solution will be absorbed by the rootstocks and the plant crowns.

A solution of ½ to 3/4 of a pound of TCA, dissolved in 2 pints of water should be sprayed on a 100 square foot of ground surface. Periodical watering after several dosings or rainstorms should be done if there is any evidence of live couchgrass shoots. Because TCA has a rather long lasting residual effect, it is best to treat and till the area one season and sow the grass the following spring or early summer.

Good Treatment

Proper seed treatment will control most seed borne diseases, help to prevent seed rot, seedling blight and assures more uniform germination. This in turn helps to establish a vigorous crop which will be better able to withstand wet, dry disease and other adverse conditions.

There is no substitute for good seed but seed treatment helps you to get the best performance from all seed. Semidry seed can be safely treated several months before it is sown. Municipal Seed Cleaning Plants are equipped to do this job at a low cost.

Numerous, commercial seed dressings are available today. For the treatment of cereals, and flax seed mercurials are best. Non mercurials can be used for boll control in wheat and trithiuride is recommended for flax. There are also various insecticide dressings on the market for wireworm control. Label directions should always be closely followed to ensure effective and safe treatment.

Forage, garden seed and potato seeds also benefit from the treatment in these crops. Seed rot and seedling blight destroys more damage than they do in cereals, especially in cold wet soils or when germination is slow. Seed treatment with Arasan, Orthocide or Spergon is recommended according to label directions. Garden peas and beans often double their rate of germination and seedling survival when treated with one of these chemicals.

District families joined by marriage

Bethany Baptist Church Edson was the setting for the wedding that joined two Edson district families on Friday March 24, when Kathleen Margaret Jacobson became the bride of Robert Roger Cornelius.

Rev E. Hurd performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr and Mrs. John Jacobson and the son of Mr and Mrs. Melville Cornelius, all of Edson. For the occasion the church was decorated with bouquets of red and white carnations. Wedding music was played by Mrs. E. Ahlf.

Given in marriage by her brother John Jacobson, the bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of net over satin featuring illusion sleeves and a sweep neckline outlined by pearls and sequins. Her bouquet was of red roses and her only jewellery was a pearl necklace.

Attending her sister as bridesmaid, Miss Gail Jacobson wore a cocktail length formal accentuated by white accessories and a bouquet of white roses. Flower girl, little Shirley Cornelius was attired in a sheer dress with white accessories and white bouquet.

Roger Cornelius attended his brother as best man. Guests were ushered in their pews by Billy Mathews and George Maggs.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Jacobson wore an afternoon dress in orange shade accented by white accessories and white corsage. Mrs. Cornelius chose a blue afternoon dress with blue hat and pink corsage.

A reception for 24 guests was held at the home of Mr and Mrs. Leon Berglund, a sister of the bride. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr Bill Maggs.

The happy young couple are making their home in Edson.

"Send me a man who reads"

If your boy reads a lot don't worry about his becoming a bookworm. New research shows that the top high school scholars are also likely to be readers.

Recently interviewed were 100 high school seniors who had just been awarded national academic scholarships. In one month 9 out of 10 had read at least one book. The total number of books read by these boys was 600.

Then interviewed were 100 seniors who had been averaged by various colleges, but had not been awarded any type of academic scholarship. In one month, only 6 out of 10 read at least one book. Total number of books read was 174. The conclusion is as clear as print.

Men Who Read More Do Achieve More

And they are almost twice as likely to be LEADERS. Of 100 scholarship winners, 67 were officers of at least one social or athletic organization. Only 39 of the non-winners had a similar honor.

The message is plain. Reading is often a passport to leadership. Liberals never read that his best friend was the man who brought him a book — one that "I ain't read."

Boys' band needs sponsor

Due to poor support and no operation the Edson Elk's Boys' band was disbanded recently

Mr R Kendall organized and kept the band going for three years. He received very little help from anybody

However, an effort is being made by Mr Kendall to have some other organization take over the band and give it the proper support which a band needs to function

If any organization wishes to take over the band, please contact Mr Kendall at PA3-3438

Suffering innocents

I'm sorry for the children Who have to wear the clothes, Their parents put upon them When it turns cold or smothe

They're bundled up like mummies Their insides burn like fire Until they sweat like horses, Yet all the heat perspire

Of all the forms of torture There's nothing can compare With this our child perfect Desired with loving care

Helps in Reducing
1. Consult your doctor first! Only a physician is able to decide how much, how fast and with what treatment you should lose weight. Remember - many persons have made themselves seriously ill by "dieting" fraudulently, without a doctor's guidance.
2. Find a Helpmate — Enlisting your wife of husband's moral support, or the help of a friend in the "same boat" as yourself — is often a moral booster which will help to keep you on the track during the months of restraint ahead when you must develop "won't power."
3. Have a good breakfast. Studies in weight reduction show that for most people it is easier when you start on three meals a day by eating an adequate breakfast you re duce the danger of "nibbling" at that "morning break" and are not so likely to over eat at lunch and dinner. You are being kinder to your body and will feel better because of it — with no tired head ache feeling during the morning
4. Make haste slowly — It is best to change your weight gradually. This gives you a chance to adjust to your diet, and learn new eating habits; so you go. Reducing too rapidly may make you feel too tired to do your daily work, and you'll be more likely to overeat after you have stopped your diet and shoot back up to your original weight self! It is best to lose only 1 to 2 pounds a week.
5. Dont let your scale fool you! Weigh yourself only on ce a week, at the same time of day, in similar clothes. The reason for a once a week schedule is that weight losses of ten go in spurts and sometimes fat is replaced by water temporarily before it is lost, keeping your weight the same for a day or so.
6. Try something new — New interests and new thoughts go along with your program to become a new person.
7. Enjoy some exercise — Every healthy person needs some exercise, and most auth orities agree that the average adult does not get enough. Many persons discontinue sports and active exercise when school days are over and with our many labour saving devices we have eliminated many strenuous yard and house work.

In many teen-agers exercise is found to be one of the main factors in controlling overweight.

However, remember that exercise can never make up for overeating in the over weight person. You would have to walk five miles to use up the calories in one choco late sundae.

The decision about the kind and amount of exercise while losing weight should be left up to your physician. He may advise anything from strenuous sports to walking, depending on your age, health and previous habits.

Beware of "Short cuts"
Products such as pills, pan dera rollers, creams, etc., which promise to reduce you "quickly" and "painlessly" without "calorie counting" are either useless or harmful, and in most cases, expensive as well.

ELEPHANT BRAND FERTILIZER PAID FOR THIS TRUCK

This is an example of what can be bought with profits from the use of fertilizer. The money could have been used for a new car, home improvements or any one of the hundred things that make for better living.

You make more money in two different ways when you fertilize with Elephant Brand. You grow better grade crops which sell for higher prices; you get greater profit from each bushel because it has cost you less to produce each bushel.

GROWING OATS?
You can make extra profits of $6.25 per acre and even more by fertilizing your oat crop.
Here is an example of how fertilizer increases profit from oats.

Increased yield per acre with ELEPHANT BRAND	10 bus.
Value of increase (Oats valued at 50 cents per bushel)	$5.00
Approximate cost of fertilizer (80 lbs. per acre of 11-48-0 on summerfallow)*	$2.75
EXTRA PROFIT PER ACRE	$2.25

*But on stubble, when properly fertilized can show equally profitable return.

GARDENING TIPS
By RENE CAPT

Continuing our discussion on peat pots we would like to know about their composition. They are made of 75 per cent peat and about 25 per cent wood fiber. They are impregnated uniformly with enough nutrients to give young plants a good start. Roots grow right through the walls, permitting transplanting repotting or benching without removing the pots.

However a few words of caution are necessary. Peat pots are different and require special consideration, part icularly handling requirements. Peat pots must be handled rather carefully when they are wet. So do not water for about twenty-four hours before transplanting or repotting. Peat pots should be placed in a pan or flat with plastic film at the bottom and then filled with soil. Water by pouring water in the container. Stop watering two or three days before handling. Watering from the bottom encourages roots to go through the pot walls in clay pots the hole in the bottom seems to encourage penetration of the top root into the lower soil. When this root is disturbed, the plant is checked and in case of a flowering plant, buds drop.

Regardless of where you want to place the peat pots in cold frames or hot beds or do not place pots on bare soil. If any delay occurs in lining these plants, roots will penetrate the soil and take more time and nutrition, making them check somewhat when they are pulled up. Second this is very difficult to remove from the soil when root growth is substantial into the soil. Third the plants are apt to dry more easily on soil surface which is less smooth than plastic film, boards sand or any other form surface. So a smooth and firm surface is essential.

Drastan News
Mrs. Jos. Remenick and Joe motored to Edmonton on Saturday to visit with Mr. Remenick. Also with Mr and Mrs. Nick Grushko.

Mr and Mrs. Mike Bugeria visited with Mr and Mrs. Steve Drohobicki on Wednesday.

There will be a whist drive in the Drastan Hall on Saturday April 29 at 8 p.m.

Mr and Mrs. John Grushko and family visited at the home of Mr and Mrs. K Ross on Sunday.

Well folks the ferry is running again so here's wishing our ferryman, Mike and Bill Swarowski the best of luck this season.

The regular meeting of the McLeod Valley 4-H Grain Club was held on Friday evening at the home of Mr. Bill Deans with all members present and some 20 visitors.

It was decided to make a tour to the Achievement Days at Stony Plain and Edmonton on the 4th and 5th of July. Also a visit to Al Oening's Game Farm. The trip is to last two days and they will travel by bus. Mrs. Dixon served a delicious lunch at the close of the meeting.

Our sympathy goes out to Mr and Mrs. Albert Jagry and family in the death of their two little boys.

The old timers from here are all sorry to hear that Mrs. Kolbe and Mr. Deakin are again in hospital. Here hope they are better soon.

Mr and Mrs. Mike Pallubo and girls were visiting with Mike's folks, Mr and Mrs G. Pallubo Sunday evening.

A NEWLY DESIGNED ALBERTA GOVERNMENT FLOAT will be available for participation in Fairs, Sports Day and other celebration parades held in Alberta communities during the summer. The float is a successor to the previous display that visited 34 Alberta communities during the past year in response to 51 requests for participation. Difficulties of weather, transportation and conflicting dates made it impossible for that display to visit all points requesting its attendance. It made its first appearance at Dalhousie May 4 and its last appearance at the Dunvegan Bridge opening ceremonies August 31. The new float features the "Buy Alberta" motif and displays prominently the floral emblem of the province, the wild rose, and the official Alberta crest at either end of the display. Between the central panels illustrating the industrial and the agricultural aspect of the provincial economy is a stylized version of the wild rose, being used as symbol of the "Buy Alberta" campaign. Communities wishing to have the float included in their programs during the coming summer should write Director of Advertising, Department of Industry and Development, Legislature Building, Edmonton. Requests will be considered in the sequence of their receipt.

"You see, there's no such thing as a current joint savings personal chequing account...

... those are four completely different account systems for different purposes," the Imperial man explained patiently.

"But I can't see the difference."

"Savings Accounts are for saving. Current Accounts are for business deposits and withdrawals. Personal Chequing Accounts are for people who like to pay by cheque. Joint Accounts are for couples who like to save together and like the convenience of writing cheques on one account."

"But I still don't know which one I should have."

"Well, you're not running a business, you have no partner, and you're not paying bills each month. That only leaves two accounts. Which one is your savings account?"

"Maybe I'd better keep my Savings Account then, hey?"

"I think so, Peter; you can still write cheques on your savings account."

The boy left, his curiosity satisfied, and before the Imperial man had even a moment to reflect, he was busily telling a businessman about current exchange rates. It all part of his job at Imperial Bank. Perhaps you would like to know more about Imperial Bank's many services too. Ask at any of our branches.

...mergency measures test ...o alert survival crews

...the province of Alberta ... take part in a nation-... national survival and ...ergency Measures Organ... tion training exercise on ... 7, 8, it was announced joint... this week by the Canadian ...ng and the Emergency ...sures Organization.

The exercise will be known ... "Tuxis 1961", and is ...igned mainly to see how ... Alberta Emergency Mea... ...ng Organizations, as part ... the Federal Emergency ...sures set up, would react ... an actual nuclear attack was ...de on Canada and warn ... of an attack was given to ... public by the Army's ...rning system.

The aim of the exercise is ... practise those emergency ...sures necessary for na... ...nal survival and the con... ...uity of all levels of govern... ...t; to test these measures ... which preparations have ... en made and to direct atten... ...on to whatever gaps in plan... ...ng and preparation still ...ist.

In Alberta the emergency ...ional headquarters for the ...ercise will be set up at ...CAF Station Penhold ...here existing communica... ...ons on National Defence ...roperty are readily available ... and which is physically lo... ...ated outside what may be ...considered major target areas ...n Alberta.

The beginning of the exer... ...se will be signalled by the ...anadian Army by the sound... ...g of attack warning sirens ...n Alberta municipalities ...which have been installed, ...nd in smaller communities ...by the various signals that ...local civil defence authorities ...have arranged.

Army authorities empha... sized that when the warning ...signals are sounded, no action ...need be taken by the public ...other than to tune to their ...local radio station for a na... ...tional broadcast in connection ...with the exercise. It was stressed that unless the actual warning system is brought into play, the exercise would not be realistic.

Sometime on May 5 all Federal and Provincial agencies and Canadian Army attack warning personnel will start to handle simulated problems that might occur when a number of atomic bombs are dropped on Alberta. They do not know exactly when or where the bombs will be dropped, and their efficiency in handling the situations when the exercise control staff tells them a "bomb" has landed will show where the weaknesses in the organizations lie, and how improvements can be made that someday might mean the difference between existence and non-existence for the various communities of Alberta.

Co-director of the exercise in Alberta are 42 Headquarters Regional officer for the Federal Emergency Measures Organization, A.J. Lavoie, regional director of the Alberta Emergency Measures Organization, and brig. J.S. Bass, exercise commander, Alberta Area.

While the public is being asked only to listen to the emergency radio broadcast after the initial exercise warning is given, Army officers point out that the actual meaning of the siren signals is:

Steady three-minute note on sirens or other warning devices would signal "alert warning". Action to be taken would be to tune to local radio station.

Undulating note on sirens or other warning devices for three minutes would signal the "take cover" warning. Action to be taken would be to get the best available shelter at once.

For exercise "Tuxis 1961" only the "alert" warning will be given.

CBC-TV's King Whyte (left) doesn't seem to mind the 30-below zero temperature as he faces a pair of skates donated to Indian children at Fort Albany on James Bay. With the cooperation of an oil company, Whyte collected more than 2,000 pairs of skates from donors in Southern Ontario. He will distribute them to Indian children at residential schools and on reserves in Northern Ontario.

Alamo group dance 9 to 9 dance-a-thon

HINTON —

Square dance music had many a toe tapping as the Mountain Alamos held their square dance marathon on the hill parking lot last Saturday.

The square made up of Chester Long, Mrs. Sheila Gledhill, Chuck Weston, Mr. Vince Tredwin, Leonard Markland, Greta Huber, Dale Cunarro and Mrs. R. Brass and got away to a flying start at 9 a.m.

Dancing a half hour at a time with five minute rests every thirty minutes the square kept up the pace until 9 p.m. three hours short of their goal. The weather looked favorable on the group, being neither too hot or too cold most of the day, but cooled off in the evening to the extent that the dancers had to move indoors in the Timberland Hotel.

The change of temperature and the cement floor was too much for the already weary dancers and after two hours indoors they decided to call it quits. Cathy Jack, Wyl Rains, possibly felt the cold worse than the dancers as he was on hand all day, giving Bow calls or playing back tape recorded calls for the dancers.

A steak dinner was waiting for the weary group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lovin when they finally gave up.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. John Beams are pleased to announce the birth of their baby girl in St. John's Hospital on April 18. Weight 8 lbs. 5 ozs.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

A few weeks [illegible] vacation scouting now will help you find a new site, and starts and insure more pleasure for your big vacation this summer. Here's the simple plan.

First, decide what kind of vacation the family would like to try: beach, golfing, camping, fishing, mountain-climbing, resort-loafing, etc.

Second, get a road map from your service station dealer and circle the areas where vacations you want to consider can be found.

Third go scouting.

If everyone in the family agrees on a general goal, plan a week-end trip and scout a promising area for the site you want. If there's no general agreement, plan two or three week-end tours and check several places.

Each scouting trip can be a little vacation in itself but with its special fact finding purpose. Be sure the trip yields the information you want. Try the local restaurants. Talk to people. Find out all you can about each spot you consider. When you've gathered facts and impressions make your final decision.

Part of your choice will be determined by the accommodations you find. It's a good idea to make reservations as soon as you do pick a site.

A vacation scouting week-end is a little investment in time and pleasure, that will earn big dividends in an enjoyable and refreshingly different vacation later on.

Plan to form Athletic Association

HINTON —

There will be a public meeting held this Thursday, April 28 at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium for the purpose of forming an Amateur Athletic association. Representatives from the various sports in town will be on hand as well as anyone else who is interested in an athletic association.

It is important that all sports be co-ordinated under one central association and for this reason all who are interested in local sporting events are asked to be sure and attend.

Coming Events

FRIDAY, APRIL 28 — Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion will hold a special meeting in the Club Rooms at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend.

FRIDAY, APRIL 28 — Bingo in Glenwood Hall at 8 p.m.

Cutter Caper

By FRED ICE

It takes very little to set me to thinking about our youth, and the challenges we faced then to test the fact that they have developed us in some way or other.

Right now we are busily engaged in transplanting in our back yard a nine room country school on the prairies.

During the spring and fall months we rode shanks ponies to the three miles to and from our rural school every day. But always did prefer to walk. A horse was used in his way. As for me there was never a horse born that I'd put up with. All I'd ever met one that did, it always bore on either unload me. It was common knowledge that I would fall off. Nobody, when it came to horseback riding was cut out.

During the winter we usually hitched a ride with our brother Miss Long had a dirty pony and cutter complete with foot warmer buffalo robe and a shaggy halter shank. The latter was employed as a pain persuader. When old Darkie began to lag Mr. Miss Long had for the use rattle the chain and the pony took off in full stampeded.

One afternoon Darkie, re luctant to face into a typical prairie blizzard, refused to in crease speed. Teacher slapped with the lines, spoke sternly in her best classroom tone of voice, and even pounced a few decreet oaths into Darkie's hearing, but to no avail. Finally in desperation she had Bud dle under the buffalo robe and produce the chain. The old mare stuck up her ears and bolted.

But this was no ordinary burst of speed. Far from it Darkie had had enough of in sults and abuse. She was run ning away. Completely out of control she ran along the road with the speed of a grey hound in full pursuit. Teacher hauled on the lines. She and I hauled with our combined force. Bud got a straight hold on the end of the ribbons and we all hauled. No dice! If anything th..l old horse sped ed up.

Finally we got all we had into what proved to be our last terrific jerk, and a line broke. There hardly frightened people were completely in the power of an angry old bay baby.

A square corner was ap proaching on wings of speed so Miss Long decided we'd throw the lesser evil and bail out. Bud being the smaller and younger of us chosen to take the first plunge. He balanced on the side of the cutter but just couldn't do it so I pushed him out he went and was lost in a flurry of snow.

Next it was my turn. I too was chicken. I wasn't afraid of the jump it was landing that bothered me. But soon I too was borned in the snow. Teacher took care of that. But I scrambled to our feet and I responded the smothering snow from our faces and gazed after our departing teacher.

We were beginning to think that take a true captain she had decided to stick with the ship. But no she was on her feet preparing for the jump. Then she sat down. Now she was on her feet again how rounded and pounds.

—Dave Blundell looking for the approaching fifty under the hood of his car as he started home at noon. His pas senger, John Ealme had a very astounded look on his face when they pulled the yard rat out from under the front fender. It was the Ealme cat.

—Mr Charles Boek and son Murray of Edmonton, parking up fishing licenses at a local store while Murray's uncle and family waited in the car for a quick fishing trip up the Coal Branch.

Mr Charles from up from Carrot Creek and look ing like his old self after get ting over a bout in the hospital.

Car rolls driver hurt

The driver of an old model Volkswagen Myrl Fregren was seriously injured when his car went over the deep side of the road just south of the Sparkle Lake bridge at 2 a.m. Saturday morning, rolling over several times and ending up in Cliff Cundiff's yard.

Fregren was taken to the St. John's Hospital by the Edson Police force and was later taken to the St. John's Hospital in Edmonton where he was transferred to the University Hospital in Edmonton.

The car was totally demolished.

Finally the car was securely fastened and starting into the road and right behind it Miss Long in his usually an executed back manner-cuff as usual ever hope to see. How she manag ed that gymnastic feat we will never know.

Anyway we ran smack fa- the fact that old Darkie was al bored to choose her pal from that day on and never again had to betray to the ominous rattle of a halter chain per manently.

P.S. Although denied to t prairie winds out Miss Long topped the scales at a well

Dr. Hugh F. Horner

Recently there has been much debate on a private bill sponsored by Mr. Eldon Woolliams, MP for Bow River. This is the bill to incorporate the Aitken Pipe Line Company

Very briefly the facts are that no company can build a pipeline crossing a provincial or international boundary without being incorporated by the Federal Parliament The company in question want to export condensate from the Pincher Creek field Condensate is mostly pure gasoline and in effect is part of our energy self

My position has been to allow the company to incorporate so as to provide additional competition and markets for our surplus oil supplies Since they have set up the company they must still get approval from the Alberta Conservation Board and the National Energy Board

I have urged the greatest possible use of these by pro ducts, to raw materials for secondary industries in Alberta Also the domestic users of propane and other by products must be protected from unfair pricing or supply policies

Recent revisions in the budget have given Canadians equal opportunities We shall require equal treatment and as long as this capital is still log to come in on an equal basis it will be welcome

In contrast the whole question about the Aurora Bill is whether or not we should let these set up a company that they would then be able to offer their ideas and plans to the two Boards mentioned above

The CCF are trying to make a big thing of this but we for have only about two annoucements of the problems of Alberta Perhaps this is done for political purposes as last year they voted and spoke for a similar bill, Northern Pipe Line Act which is to operate out of Saskatchewan

Our agricultural economy depends largely on our sales abroad How have we been doing? We have increased our surplus wheat stocks by over 200 million bushels and this year should exceed the target of 300 million bushels sold

There has been some criticism that we are losing our position as an exporter of grain to the U.S. While the U.S. exported over 500 million bushels last year only 150 million was to commercial channels as compared to our 300 million bushels The balance of 350 million in the U.S. was made up in their give away programs

The government has also underway an energetic drive to sell more grain particularly soft in the markets of Eastern Canada A meeting of all con-

Other funds preserved frozen and canned which we grow in Canada must be brought in the fore and placed on the market places of the world

The answer to some of our problems is to produce more of what the peoples of the world need, and then to make it available to them at a reasonable rate We as a Government are instituting a program to put a greater variety of foods on the market

Rape seed is a crop which can be grown satisfactorily in our area We are beneful both to the crop future this will be classified as a grain and more under Crown Most Pass rates Thus will mean a difference of ¾ to ¾ cents per lb to the producer More than that it will guarantee an export market for many years to come

Continued aggressiveness in seeking new markets for all of our produce will be one of the major things to have our agricultural program sound

Anniversary Committee active in all directions

At a recent meeting of the Edson 50th Anniversary Committee it was decided that 2500 colorful buttons inscribed with the words "50th Anniversary, Town of Edson 1911 1961" would be ordered for resale locally as souvenirs. When the buttons become available the committee hoped all citizens would wear one to remind others this is no ordinary year but a milestone in the development of Edson and district.

The ways and means chairman, Dr. I. Lewis, reported financial contributions received, these included to date: Town of Edson, $500 CO. Lions Club $50. Oddfellows Lodge, $100, K.P.s' Lodge C.G. Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, $250 etc. Canadian Legion $50, and a promise of $500 from the Chamber of Commerce in addition to pledges from individuals.

In addition, the Civil Servants Association have offered free advertising in their monthly publication The Trail, Service Rodeo Ass'n have offered to share the expense of advertising on the Grande Prairie Schooner.

Chairman of the works committee, Lloyd Cullin reported the "Schooner," a pioneered wagon, is being designed for advertising purposes to be placed for periods of time at various service stations. This committee is now preparing 36 signs which will hang from town street light standards.

Essay competitions for grades 7 to 12 and poster competitions for grades 4 to 12 are well underway. Mr Garber reported. Cash prizes for 1st, 2nd and 3rd winners in both competitions and in each grade will be given by the 50th Anniversary Committee The Home and School Ass'n which has offered to assist in furnishing of prizes will be asked to present the boxes to the winners.

The town crest competition which the Edson sub-local of the Alberta Teachers' Ass'n offered to sponsor is open to any pupil or citizen of the Town of Edson

Plans for the Anniversary track meet are progressing. Pupils from the entire Edson School Division have been invited to take part with finals scheduled for Farmers' Day in Edson.

Contributions, whether they be financial advertising, prizes, or organized committees and activities in the name of Edson's 50th Anniversary are much appreciated by the committee which has been set up to make this year a memorable one With the continued co-operation and enthusiasm Edson will definitely be "put on the map."

The general committee reported historical material gathered by Mrs Elmer Abbl has been forwarded to Mrs G Ridgwood, noted playwright, of Williams Lake, B.C She has been asked to write a play depicting the growth of Edson and district

Should Mrs Ridgwood undertake to do this work production is planned for Thanksgiving weekend of this year in the high school auditorium. The Old-Timers' Dinner is slated for September 21, under the direction of Mr H Switzer, Mayor Brunelle, Dr. I. Lewis and the Lions Club.

A paint up, clean-up and decorate campaign has the blessing of the Mayor It was felt that citizens can be persuaded to light up and decorate homes, and places of business in the theme of Edson's 50th Anniversary.

The Library Board has consented to display the pictures in the Library of the zonal old-days.

Elevator meeting at Peers May 20

A general meeting will be held in the Peers School Saturday evening, May 20th, to work up details for the purchase of the UGI elevator at Peers An extensive canvass is underway and from pledges already made, it would appear that enough support is forthcoming to purchase the elevator co-operatively by the farmers in the district.

All those who have signed for shares, or hold debentures or dividend certificates in the UGI are urgently requested to attend this meeting.

Mr W Nordan, supervisor of co-op activities, will be in attendance to help formulate purchase agreement.

Let the farmers within a twenty mile radius of Peers make it known, through solid support, that we want to keep the elevator in our midst rather than to go to Wild rose or Mayerthorpe which has been our only outlet for the past two years.

Farmers conducting their own business co-operatively can help the country and help themselves.

ALL THE PARTICIPANTS in the Edson Optimist sponsored Fiddlers Contest line up for a picture just before the opening of the show last Friday evening in the High School Auditorium. The show which was held in conjunction with Edson's 50th Anniversary was very enjoyable as the local talent got out and showed the crowd their "stuff." Picture at right shows top fiddler Nels Jensen (right) being presented with the winner's cheque by Edson Optimist President Ken Rourke. Nels started playing the fiddle at the age of four when his father thought he should learn. Runners-up were Carl Jensen of Carrot Creek, and Lyle Fritzell, of Hinton.

Sportsmen dinner postponed for week

Due to a tight schedule for some of the big names in sport it has been thought best by the committee to postpone the sportsman dinner being planned until Wednesday, May 17.

The dinner, sponsored by the Edson Progressive Rodeo Association is planned to give Edson district men a chance to meet some of the personalities currently in the sports news.

Tickets are pretty well sold, but a few are still available from the Association executive at $5 per each. There will be door prizes in addition to a bountiful turkey supper put on by the Edson club.

Probable sports celebrities who have indicated they hope to attend include Hollie Miles, of Edmonton Eskimos, Glen Hall of the Chicago Black Hawks, Bud Poile of the Edmonton Flyers, Alex Gervais, curling champion of the world, Harry Vold stock contractor for the Edson Rodeo.

Remand suspect in road death

Paul Maffre, 47, was remanded in custody for two weeks when he appeared on Saturday before Magistrate P. L. Keyes on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the highway death of Albert MacKenzie, 54.

The accused did not enter plea and was given the remand to await an inquest into the death of MacKenzie whose body was found in the western section of it on along the Jasper Highway. The body was found last Thursday morning by two teenagers as they were walking along the highway near Glenwood.

Maffre was arrested by Edson town police Friday evening less than 48 hours after the fatal accident.

Jet flypast being arranged for Rodeo

Arrangements have been made by Dr. Hugh Horner with the RCAF for a jet flypast during Edson and District's big Rodeo August 4 and 5.

Also arranged for the Rodeo are the pipes and drums of the 49th Independent Medical Battery and the PPCLI Corps of Drums for the big two days.

ALBERTA'S FIRST HYDRO-ELECTRIC

Peter Anthony Prince, with quick stride, well-trimmed goatee and a keen sense of business opportunity, must be remembered as the father of hydro-electric power development in what is now the Province of Alberta.

It was lumbering that brought him to Calgary in 1886 but before long he was engaging in a variety of other enterprises including retailing, ranching and the sale of electricity. His Calgary Water Power Company was ultimately taken over by Calgary Power Company which this year celebrates the 50th anniversary of service to the Alberta public.

Prince's first hydro-electric utility started in 1892, was a humble effort stemming from an old water-wheel set up near the south bank of the Bow River. But before the wheel was installed, Calgary people watched two ambitious groups competing for popular approval to furnish electricity in the young town.

PETER ANTHONY PRINCE built the Eau Claire and Bow River Lumber Company mill at Calgary in 1886. Within a short time the mill was powered by small steam and hydro facilities adjacent to the Bow River. As a result of his association with the power problems of the mill, Peter Prince helped organize the Calgary Water Power Company with the assistance of its President, Mr. J. H. Kerr. This company is credited with providing Calgary's first street lighting in the 1890's. Interests of the organization were taken over in 1928 by Calgary Power Company Limited, predecessor of the present day Calgary Power Ltd.

Both were already generating with dynamos driven by steam. Using the name, Calgary Electric Lighting Company Limited, one local group had two dynamos set up in the town late behind the Bank of Montreal building, while Peter Prince with similar hopes of lighting the town, operated from the Eau Claire mill beside the river.

The rivalry was bitter just like a frontier election. The Electric Light Company's supporters contended that their direct current system was safer than the Prince alternating current. The contest reached a climax at a public meeting called by the mayor. After both sides were heard and cheers and shouts of derision, the mayor called for a vote. The Peter Prince proposition to light the town won most of the support and he was granted a contract to erect poles and bring light to the dark streets.

Having gained the official approval from the town council Peter Prince sought incorporation for his Calgary Water Power Company under the laws of the North West Territories. The ordinance to incorporate was assented to on November 22nd 1889 and Calgary Water Power Company was legally authorized to run both open various business purposes, including "the production, sale and distribution of electricity."

When a Dominion Water Power Licence was granted in 1893, it was just the sixth such license written. And Calgary although a frontier town, was the fifth community in all Canada to have street lights.

It was a good pioneer effort —as good as a primitive water wheel on the unpredictable Bow River would allow. When the river was low, the electric lights became dim. When there was heavy ice or an ice jam, the big wheel stopped and the town was obliged to depend on auxiliary power or go without lights.

After some 18 years, of wavering uncertainty the city of Calgary built its own steam plant to generate electricity. It had the advantage of more dependability but its electric current was costly to produce. A vigorous young city clamoring for street cars and industries and conveniences needed the abundance and the economy which a major hydro-electric development would furnish.

It took courage to spend more than a million dollars on a hydro installation — or any installation — at that period. But in 1911 the project was completed and power from the City Power Company's new Horse Shoe plant, 55 miles to the west, was turned on at Calgary to mark a great event was on May 31st, 1911.

THIS IS HOW THE HORSESHOE FALLS LOOKED just before construction began on Alberta's first central station hydro plant fifty miles west of Calgary. The dam was begun by Calgary Power and Transmission Company in 1909. Calgary Power Company Limited, organized the same year, took over the former company and completed the project in 1911. It was the first in a chain of eleven hydro plants operated by Calgary Power Ltd., on the Bow River.

TRYING TO QUENCH the flames that broke out in the Fourth Avenue home of the late Mrs. Ada Forrest, Edson Fire Department is hard at work. The house shrouded in smoke, looked as though it would burn to the ground, but before the department left the house still stood. They were called back to the fire in the early hours of the morning the next day after a second fire had broken out.

Mean Tests?

By AMBROSE HILLS

Political jargon is interesting.

Popular today is the idea of a "means" test. Politicians love to protest against what they refer to as the "means" test. Their protests however are insincere. The meanness they object to applies, they seem to suggest only when the government takes your tax money away from you.

Every time you fill out an income tax form you are taking a means test, and it is very mean indeed because the purpose is to take from you a large portion of your earnings — not to give you something.

If you are a married man and die before your wife your widow will be taxed on what you leave her. If you leave her a pension, she must pay a tax on her entire life interest in it because the government will curse how long she is likely to live and will tax her on what she may get for the next few fifteen or even twenty years. It can be a big sum even though the pension is small. And if she dies in 10 years and then doesn't get all the money she still has paid tax on it. Can you think of a situation much meaner than that.

The excuse for this sort of thing is always that the government has to have money to pay for all the wonderful things it does for us. Well if it does many more wonderful things for us we're going to be a bad way indeed. Many of us would like to do some of these things for ourselves because we believe we could do them less expensively, or do other things more to our taste.

The reason governments have been able to go on taxing us so severely is simple. Many voters aren't aware that they just pay for all these benefits. They think the rich do most of the paying.

How wrong they are! You and I do the paying. We pay the taxes not only on our incomes but also in the prices of the goods we buy. For example next time you buy some gas ask how much the price is for taxes. Taxes on gasoline have gone up in five provinces recently.

When the majority of voters awake to the fact that they pay for every single thing that governments "give" them there will be some new planks in political platforms planks like Pensions Thrift and Tax Reductions.

It is estimated that more than 80 per cent of the work of the Canadian Red Cross Society is performed by volunteer workers of all ages.

The grim humor of the gallows

(At this time of the year when most of us have just squared out that complicated (to us) form that says how much we still owe the tax collector, or hope to have coming back, the following article by Ambrose Hills, a well known Canadian writer seems appropriate.)

I find nothing funny about taxes. I firmly believe that unless there are large reductions in Canadian tax rates, our price structure is going to mount so high that consumers both at home and abroad will turn their backs on Canadian products. So the fact that our chief tax collector, the Hon George C. Nowlan, was able to get a tummy-tickle out of me ought to put him a notch above Jack Benny.

Mr. Nowlan told of writing to a taxpayer in the province of Quebec to ask him what was the length of his resident's there. He replied saying that he was a bus to understand why they required such information and what the blank business it was of theirs as to the length of his residence, but if they had to have it, he would inform them that it was forty-two feet long

He told, too, of one male taxpayer who listed himself as single in his return, but made a deduction for a dependent infant son. The assessor wrote him and said that he presumed this was due to a stenographer's error. The taxpayer simply returned the department's letter with the notation, "It sure was."

Mr Nowlan passed along a tip to smugglers who try to avoid customs duties at the border. He said, "Look the officer straight in the eye smile, be nonchalant, and for heaven's sake, stop putting that match in your mouth and try to light it with your cigarette."

Those were the jokes

The rest of Mr. Nowlan's talk was not funny. He told how government spending had risen from $2200 million to over $6 billion since 1914. He pointed out that the expenditure of public monies on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation alone last year was more than one quarter of the total government expenditures in 1914

He said that from the income-earning portion of the mere 18 million people in Canada, the department had to collect over $3 billion in income taxes last year. On top of that, they took in over $2 billion in customs duties and excise taxes

"That is too large an amount for most of us to comprehend," he said, in a masterpiece of understatement. He broke it down for us. It means that the cash registers of the National Revenue Department ring up $2,830,814 every hour of a working day, and this goes on the whole year through

Did he give any hope of a tax cut?

No ma'am. He said, "With the fixed charges and statutory commitments with which we are confronted, the tax collector has to work very hard in order to supply the minister of finance with the monies which he requires"

Oil for our lamps too?

A few years ago there was a popular book, or was it a show, that had the title of "Oil for the Lamps of China." It was about the potential markets the vast population of the ancient land contained. Even selling the Chinese people oil for their lamps could provide a large market

Now, up on the main line of the Canadian National Railways, we hear about Laing to move to the West Coast to feel the influence of people in China. The deal has been arranged by the Federal Department of Agriculture and should stimulate the whole Canadian economy. We do not need to agree with the political principles of a nation in order to sell them the products of our farms

The major countries of the world are concerned with the growing military power of China. Looking at it materially we all probably should be concerned.

China has a population of 800 million people which is around 22 per cent of the world's population. At least one of every five people in the world today is Chinese

Many years ago Napoleon said: "There lies China asleep. God help us all if she ever awakens!" Field Marshall Garnet Wolseley, who served in the British army during the Chinese opium war in 1861 said, "The Chinese are the most remarkable race on earth and are the genuine rulers of the world, needing only a Napoleon or a Peter the Great to lead

"... of nine-tenths of all world inquiries in ... civil affairs inventions and living standards ... a people and nation then known only as Cathay, ... on the decline when imperial Rome burst upon ... world scene

... by is now China, through its Communist leaders ... most militantly aggressive. We believe, however, ... that most of the people of the world ...

... should work to get enough for their families ... to clothe themselves and live decently

Perhaps a trade agreement with their neighbor Canada can help them solve this human need

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor

I can sell radios, televisions, washing machines, dryers, plus all the things in my store after hours.

I can sell used cars, new cars, gas, parts, and etc., after hours.

I can sell lumber, pulp, rail road ties, after hours.

But we have to abide by our obsolete outdated by law

Attempts have been made to determine what articles may be sold by retailers within the hours set by their classified items. This result in a by law difficult to interpret and apply, one which should be repealed.

Here is the finding of Canada's largest retailer: "The company's experience in 10 provinces convinced them that regulatory by laws such as this one are outdated."

It said modern merchandising must adjust to meet the needs of the consumer, and restrictive shopping hour controls prevent this adjustment. The company contends closing hours should be left to the judgement of individual retailers.

We still think the Town Council should throw the so-called "early closing by-law" out as it only applies to some people.

CAFFE BORGIA

Apparently an ever tried our coffee recipe of a couple of months ago, to our disappointment. Here is another known by the name of Caffe Borgia—we hope the results weren't prepared by Lucrezia

Half cup of instant coffee
half cup of chocolate-flavor mix, 4 cups (1 quart) boiling water, sweetened whipped cream (optional), cinnamon or finely grated orange rind

Combine coffee and chocolate-flavor mix in pot or carafe. Add boiling water and stir to blend. Pour in demitasse cups. Top each serving with sweetened whipped cream and a dash of cinnamon or a sprinkling of finely grated orange rind. Makes 12 servings of about 3 ounces each.

Motorists get break on plates

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Car licence plate dead lines in Alberta are getting to be about as stable as governments in France. Last week the provincial cabinet looked at the approach ing deadline then looked at the number of cars still on the roads with 1960 plates, and decided the deadline might as well be extended to May 10.

Highways Minister Gordon Taylor then became as busy soliciting police forces in Alberta, other parts of Canada and the U.S. that officials of his department didn't even know about the change until the following morning.

Until a few years ago, the deadline for obtaining new licence plates was March 31, the end of the government's fiscal year. Then, in an effort to avoid the inevitable last minute rush, the government began granting one month extensions, until the end of April. All this did, as it turned out, was to delay the last minute rush for a month.

For the past several years, the government has simply set the deadline at the end of April and revealed through the last minute rush historians who left it until too late were temporarily immobile or ran risk of being nailed by police for driving unregistered cars.

This year, the deadline was set at April 30, because that was the last working day of the month for the motor vehicles branch. The extension until May 10 was explained officially by Mr. Taylor, who said it was due largely to "many representations" from motorists. But the fact that an almost impossible situation would have developed may have had quite a bit to do with it, too.

The estimated number of cars on the road with old licences was far in excess of the number of applications processed—and she could handle in the time left before deadline. The result inevitably would have been thousands of unregistered cars on the roads, a fantastic headache for the police and the courts, and thousands of unhappy motorists.

Mr. Taylor's last word on the matter: There will be "absolutely no further extension" beyond May 10.

There were indications last week that the government may relent and put more money into the provincial education financing pot. This was the latest development as cabinet ministers continued to puzzle out details of the new foundation program for financing the provincial education system.

The province has asked all school boards in Alta. reports with the education department showing estimated expenditures for the coming year, amount of grants expected under the foundation program, and the likely effect on local mill rates.

Once all this information has been gathered and it may take some time—the province will review the whole situation and possibly make some adjustments in the grant outs under the new program. At the time of writing, only about 15 per cent of the province's 250 school boards had supplied the information requested. The remainder were still mulling over the budgets, and attempting to see exactly where they stood under the new program.

The real question mark hangs over

The trucker had just returned to a restaurant for the first time in a long while and the girls had all been outfitted in new uniforms. Across the left breast pocket on each uniform, the girl's names were embroidered. One of the waitresses faced him and said "How do you like it?"

"I like it very much," he replied "but tell me what are you going to name the other one?"

WONDERFUL ALBERTA

The natural resources of Alberta in their variety and scope make it the country the richest province in Canada.

It has almost unexhaustible soil, and a wealth of verdure. It has mountains, prairie and parklands, winding rivers and countless lakes, and game birds of all descriptions. It has coal in abundance, natural gas that could furnish light and heat for 30 million people, immense reservoirs of petroleum — and the tar sands, brick making clay, salt, sulphur, gold, radium and furs. An agricultural country, a land of pastoral farming, a land of mixed farming, field crops, of beef and milking and pork, of dairying, and poultry, and horticulture.

A land of rich and varied resources, larger in extent than France or Germany, twice as large as Great Britain and Ireland, and only a few square miles short of Montana, North Dakota and Minnesota. A total area of 255,285 square miles, with a climate and resource variation from Cardston to Fort Smith.

Alberta is populated with the best classes of people from all over the world. People from Ontario, from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick; from Iowa, Minnesota, and Nebraska, from Maine and New Hampshire; from California and Washington; from England and Ireland and Scotland, and from all the countries of Europe and Asia. We have people insured to pioneering and able to cope with the challenge of farming. We have all the machinery of production, marvellous creations of ingenuity. We have trucks and automobiles, tractors and combines. We have factories. We have social, religious and cultural organizations of all kinds — and we have a province of homes.

Wonderful Alberta. Boost at times with problems which prevent her economy, but nothing can hold back her progress for long.

Clever Mites — Annoying Household pests

What are they, where do they come from, and how do I get rid of them? Are they dangerous? They swarm up the side of the house and enter through almost invisible cracks. They are first noticed on the window as moving dust particles. They appear every where

These are Clover Mites and small as they are they are one of the largest species of mites. Mites are not insects but are closely related to spiders and ticks. Although commonly known as clover mites, they feed on a variety of plants. In most cases they do little damage either inside or outside the house. But in the house they are a nuisance because they are into everything in clothing food and the beds They do not feed on blood Many people think so when they squash one and see a red stain. But this is only a red pigment that is already present in the mite

Getting rid of them in the house is a never ending chore unless control is started outside. The mites feed chiefly in the surrounding lawns and orchards. They move to the warm foundation usually on the south side of the house then climb the walls. Entry can be made through any tiny crack, such as at the top of the foundation or around window or doors

Usually they are pests in houses where the lawn extends right up to the foundation The first step is to dig a border at least two feet wide around the building to deter them from coming to the pest

St. John's Hospital "Open House"

THIS IS "OUR" HOSPITAL of which we should be very proud. On May 10 from 3 to 5 p.m. everybody will have the opportunity to tour this hospital. The Sisters of Service together with the Hospital Auxiliary would be very pleased to have you attend "Open House." Even if you have already inspected our hospital, please feel free to drop in for a cup of tea and a chat with our Sister who dedicated their whole lives to serve others.

budding. Do not fill this border with too many border plants

Treat the soil surface in a wide band along the foundation all around the house with four or five per cent malathion emulsifi- cent malathion emulsion at the rate of one gallon of water. Continue spraying until the liquid just starts to run. Be parties lar to treat all the cracks The same mixture should be forcefully sprayed into the lawn for at least 20 feet out from the house

These chemicals treatment may have to be repeated as often as every ten days to prevent the re-invasion by this pest

THE McDUFF REPORT

Quebec Social Creditors promising $100 monthly

OTTAWA – Social Credit is again making the type of noises that indicates the Party is about to launch still another attack in the federal field. Someone is pumping enormous amounts of money into a television and radio publicity campaign in Eastern Canada, and the odd meeting is being held in the east in an effort to stir up interest

One such meeting was held recently in Ottawa. Alberta's Premier Manning was there, to lend an aura of responsibility to the affair, which, despite some ballyhoo, attracted but 150 people.

Halfway through the meeting, the Chateau Laurier staff drew screens across the hall, to separate those attending from the embarrassing view of row upon row of empty seats.

For sheer enthusiasm, none of the speakers could match Reale Caouette, president of Le Ralliement des Creditistes du Quebec, the Quebec wing of the Social Credit party, and disciple Gilles Gregoire. They confidently predicted the Social Credit will pick up at least 65 of Quebec's 75 federal seats in the next general election

Mr. Caouette said the party was promising Quebec residents $100 cash for every man, woman and child.

Premier Manning, whose Alberta party dropped the "Social Credit dividend" idea many years ago, shuddered visibly at Mr Caouette's approach

Premier Manning tried to give his version of what social Credit should stand for now, as opposed to its radical and monetary theories of the 1930's. It should stand for the freedom of the individual, and should oppose "statism," said Mr Manning who defined "statism" as the turning over to the state responsibilities which create an all-powerful state.

In other words, he believes Social Credit should clearly state its claim to be the party of the Right in Canadian politics, the party of reaction With respect to Mr Manning few Canadians outside of Alberta and B.C have harbored any doubts of the reactionary nature of his Party.

Ottawa is giving considerable thought to Social Credit these days in the next federal election appearances No one is quite sure how the party will fare

After 1958, when every Social Credit candidate went down to defeat, most of them by humiliating margins Ottawa said the party would not make a federal comeback, and would inevitably die as a political force when defeated provincially in Alberta and B.C Now with the Liberals picking up strength on the prairies and in B.C, the possibility of badly split votes in many ridings has led to the further possibility of Social Credit victories

A very Black Eye

None of these three parties in the House of Commons wants that to happen Their dislike of Social Credit transcends normal political differences. It is considered to be on the lunatic fringe of the political tapestry. Mr. Caouette and his $100 dividends; Social Credit national president Robert N. Thompson and his constant references to "sin" for lovers of wine in Canada," and, his claim to have cured leprosy with chiropractic manipulation in the Ethiopian desert; the tie in of some Quebec Socreds with the once-strong Fascist movement in that province—these things are what others have given Social Credit a very black eye

There is also the religious ritual exuded by Social Credit meetings at which the audience is asked to rise and sing "Oh God our help in Ages Past" Not that politicians generally and churches during Christians, they don't like the demagogic approach of making politics a religion. Scandals in B.C have illustrated that Social Credit does not have a monopoly on Christian virtue.

The Big Question

One of the big questions being asked now is who is behind the Federal Social Credit Party? The same Mr. Thompson is heard regularly on eastern radio stations, something the Liberal and Conservative parties for all their alleged party war chests, are unable to afford between elections.

In Quebec, the party supports a four-city TV broadcast once a week and intends buying time on a Montreal station.

Again, that costs money, big money

The usual theory is that the funds are coming from B.C and Alberta parties. The B.C party is undoubtedly well heeled but Premier Bennet as old line Conservative who runs an orthodox right wing Tory government, wouldn't for a moment support the type of people now running the show in eastern Canada And, his ambition for federal office has dimmed with the years. Premier Manning is from the same mould: his government is a Tory government with very old-fashioned right wing ideas and he too has disclaimed any intention of entering the federal field

Only Manning Knows

Surprising enough it was Premier Manning who gave National President Thompson his job for reasons known only to himself The B.C Socreds had their own man picked out Herb Bruch a Social Credit MLA who lives outside of Victoria Bruch was defeated by the Alberta delegates at last year's convention, and the Alberta delegates were told how to vote by Mr Manning himself

Thompson was almost unknown to the Socred party. For a number of years he says he was in the Ethiopian desert he was a chiropractor in Red Deer district, and he toured Canada on the luncheon circuit as a lecturer As far as anyone knows, his first active appearance at Social Credit gatherings was when he was named to the full time salaried job of national president

With the inner turmoil and intrigue going on inside the Party, with the obvious conflict of ideologie- Social Credit won't get very far in eastern Canada. What it will do in the West is one of the big puzzles that can only be answered by the next federal vote.

By ERNIE CAPT

Today we are starting a new series giving a few simple suggestions on flower, and vegetables worthy of consideration to break the monotony of growing the same traditional plants as snapdragons, pansies and radishes year after year.

One of the first flowers to come to my mind is the Sweet Scented Sultan. I have had them blooming here at Hinton until permanent frost without protection They are wonderful as border plants coming in many different colors, and give a profuse supply of blooms all summer and fall to be used also to cut flowers. They stand high winds, semi-drought, snow and even a good frost in the fall. Sweet Scented Anemones are available in local stores in tubers to be planted outside two to four inches deep as soon as the frost is out of the top soil in the spring. They require a good drainage, they don't stand wait-r logged soil for long periods time old manure or well rotted compost is of good benefit to them in the fall the tubers should be lifted and stored until the following spring

There are dozens of varieties of Anemone worth investigating, the Pompon flowers or Anemone Pulsatilla, which should be blooming in April or early May here, has finely cut leaves and large purplish flowers. The Wood Anemones are low growing and are suitable for shady places.

Other attractive ones are Anemone Sylvestris or Snowdrop Windflower, has large sweet scented flowers. Good for shady border Anemone Caindensis grow from 10-24 inches, have white flowers very attractive in rock gardens and shaded border.

Anyone interested in Anemones, should investigate as to the varieties growing wild in the Rockies and other parts of the woods in Canada. They are well worth a little study for their beauty, hardiness and early flowering habits.

May bride shower guest

Fifty friends gathered in the club rooms of the Sacred Heart Church recently to honor Miss Mary Radenich with a bridal shower Bingo and other games provided the entertainment for the evening with the highlight being the presentation of the many lovely and useful gifts for which the bride-elect gave her gracious thanks

Miss Radenich will become the bride of Mr Ed Soltys on Saturday, May 20.

A delicious luncheon was served to bring the evening to a close. Hostesses were Mesdames P. Resch Sr., and Jr., R. Bobersky, J. Likovich and J. Stakich

Lakehead boxer in Drayton Valley match

Word was received this morning that Alan Cutler of the Lakehead Amateur Boxing Club in Port Arthur, Ontario, would be competing in the Canadian Amateur Boxing Championships in Drayton Valley on May 12 and 13 this year. Cutler has entered in the Light welter weight class, and as it looks he will be a very redoubtable opponent for any and all competitors at the 139 pound weight limit.

Cutler will come here with by recommended with one of truly outstanding ring records in amateur boxing. English by birth, Cutler started his amateur boxing career at the age of 13 in Salisbury England. In 1951 he won the Western Counties Champion ships.

During the next four years Alan fought in many club fights and tournaments throughout his native county 17. The year 1956 was a big one for the Salisbury pugilist He won the Western Counties Championship and lost a close decision to Tommy Nichols in his bid for the national title At this time Nichols was British Empire Games Champion, European Champion and finalist in the 1956 Olympic Games. During 1956 Cutler also represented his country in several very important International bouts.

Coming to Canada in the spring of '57 curtailed Cutler's boxing activities to a minimum due to the lack of good amateur fighters in the particular part of the country in which he settled. As a result of this Alan has had only six bouts in Canada and new little action in the past two years.

Cutler's complete record shown in a total of 107 fights of which he has won 83. He is known to be a very clever boxer and and a crisp puncher. Presently Alan is the head coach of the Lakehead Amateur Boxing Club So an other important name is added to the 139 pound class which sofa boys like Rafael Combs and Wimie Schell looks like it will be the dominant division in the class pluralities.

It was agreed at the Annual Meeting of Carrot Creek Hall Club that no new received from the sale of lumber still on hand will be used to pay in part a loan from Sam Bohn who contracted cash in the re-building program.

A free Foreplay Show will be held May 9th in Hallmeford Hall.

A dance in Carrot Creek Hall Friday, April 28th was thoroughly enjoyed by a late but enthusiastic attendance.

Congratulations to Mels Jen sen first place winner and Karl Jensen who came in second in the Fiddlers Contest held in Edson Friday April 28.

Don't be disappointed in case your name is often omitted from our column. Just leave a note at the post office and we will be happy to oblige.

Mr and Mrs Dave Patten enjoyed a holiday in Edmonton and visited former neighbor Mrs. Charles Beck shortly before the passed away.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Glen Berthelet (nee Miss Ruth Wegert) who were married Friday April 28th.

Following an enjoyable four month holiday in Holland Francis Peters returned home Saturday via TCA jet airliner. Travelling at a speed of approximately 600 miles per hour Francis tells us there was not much time to enjoy the scenery but there been anything to see 37000 feet above ground, as the non stop flight from Amsterdam to Edmonton took a mere 8 hours.

We noticed our new neighbors the Smith family from Edmonton moving in a truck load of furniture Sunday after noon in preparation, no doubt for weekends and holidays.

Having done our share of complaining, the past couple of months, it is no more than fair to announce that Calvary Power has at last been installed in the homes of Bob Bradford, Mrs Hotelson and Ray Thomas. Now a ban on some comes up with a solution for receiving TV reverse, should we say pictures, every body should be happy.

A poorly attended but thoroughly enjoyable Annual Meeting of Carrot Creek PTA was held 871 hook place Monday May 1st in the hall.

Election of officers as follows: President, Bid Smith Vice President Fern Ice; Secretary treasurer, Miss Connie Smith. A Board of Directors will be chosen at the next meeting.

Mr and Mrs Joe Fairbairn attended the meeting. Follow ing adjournment Mr and Mrs Fairbairn gave a few pointers on modern square dancing after choosing a set from the very young members present. It was decided to hold a trial square dance in the hall Mon day May 8th, with the Fair banks on hand to instruct. Music will be provided by Fairbairns who have square dance records that have proven very popular with residents of Macleod Valley. Everybody interested in square dancing is cordially invited to attend.

Should this prove of interest to the public modern square dancing will become a regular feature at Carrot Creek.

Crippled Children fund sends thanks to all

Dear Sir:

Now that the Easter Seal campaign is nearing a success ful conclusion there is one pleasant chore left to complete

That of saying "Thank You" to the many people who con tributed so much toward the support of the handicapped and crippled children of Al berta.

I would like to take this opportunity to especially thank Mr. Bob Brunelle and the Lions Club of Edson, Mr Harry Thompson and The Ki wanis Club of Hinton and of course all the members of the Kiwanis Club in Jasper who contributed so much in time and effort to make this a successful campaign.

A special "Thank you" to the Editor of this paper who so generously contributed in publicity and informing the public regarding the campaign progress.

Your generous donations and efforts will bring hope for a more normal life to the children and direct assistance to doctors, nurses, physiothera pists, teachers and others who are providing daily care and treatment in order that they may become healthy useful citizens in the future.

The results to date of our Edson, Hinton, Jasper cam paign is as follows:

Total No. of Easter Seal en velopes mailed 3500 (from re sident to Edson Monday.

The Pitz family are pleased with the latest addition to their "family" a beautiful buckskin filly no less.

Hinton Ladies enjoy International fashion show

HINTON—

Last Friday evening Mahon ney's British Woollen Shop treated an audience of fashion conscious ladies to a preview of haute couture for 1961 which delighted everyone. The wide variety of clothing shown was chosen with care to appeal to all ages and sizes.

The show was opened by Mrs. Bowen, herself, who ap peared in a pale blue three piece ensemble by Aljean of Vancouver, made of double knit, wool jersey. She wore with the coat, stole and dress, a matching pale blue tulle hat with this season's high crown. After being introduced by Mrs. J. Clark, Mrs. Bowen was commentator for the evening.

Her models started with the sports wear and Janiere suits suits and progressed through casual dresses to the lovely im ports for which Maloney's is famous. Mrs. H. Simmons dis played an English beige, worst ed shirt, matching beige cash mere sweater by Pringle of Scotland, Italian silk printed scarf, and topped them all with a pure suede jacket from Vice of Holland.

Miss Carol Duchesne was very smart in an Italian suit of cherry red by Luisa Spagnoli with which she wore a black velvet hat. Mrs. R. Vincent came out in Bognar ski pants from West Germany, a Jersey bodeller cardigan from Sweden and fur boots. Miss Alberta Dupuis showed a three piece ensemble of all wool jersey by Tricosa of Paris.

The styles became more for mal as the show progressed and accents of fur carried or worn were noticeable. The long-haired fox seems to be very much in style again as was shown in Mrs Simmons who wore a pale beige cash mere overcoat with a lovely full collar of matching fox. The hats, scarves and gloves worn were all shades and colors to compliment the various outfits. Flowers were used in profusion, both by the models who carried them and for decoration around the room.

The decorations were unique in that they were made of ar tiches of clothing and accessor ies from Maloney's accentual ed by the many varieties of artificial flowers that can be had.

Coiffures by the Parisienne Beauty Salon were those shown at the Hair Style Con vention in Edmonton this past winter. Beehives were upsup ed in pastel shades to match the spring fashions.

Salad and coffee were served at the end of the show to com plete a very pleasant evening.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Next time you plan a picnic don't settle for the usual fare of sandwiches and soda pop. Make the meal a feast, and without any fuss or bother in the kitchen beforehand.

It's easy. The secret is to pack foods from your grocer's shelves or frozen food bakers that can be tucked right into the picnic basket and savour ed when you arrive at your open air dining room.

Although the frozen foods defrost en route, you can buy a canned chemical freeze that'll keep them cold for hours.

Start your feast with a fro zen chicken a la king or beef stew can be heated over a fire or on an outdoor grill Or the canned cold meats such as ham tongue or chicken can be opened and sliced so that everyone can have his choice.

For dessert, you can have real strawberry shortcake without going near your oven. A store-bought cake, frozen strawberries and a pressure can of whipped cream provide the makings.

And there will be no bar bes between the black and light coffee cloques if you car ry along a can of powdered cof fee cream. It dissolves instant ly in the cup of hot coffee you've poured from your va cuum bottle.

This is just a sampler There are many, many more delica cies to choose from. Make your next picnic an outing to please a gourmet.

Jasper Banff hi-way to open except for a bit

The Jasper Banff Highway will be open after May 1st for a section 68 miles north of Lake Louise and for 65 miles south of Jasper to the ice field chalet.

In the intervening section, there is heavy construction for three to four miles on the Big Hill section south of the ice fields and only emergency through traffic on the highway will be permitted between May 1 to 15, the scheduled opening date of the road for all through traffic.

Emergency travel will be permitted on the road from 12 noon to 1 p.m. and from 6 to 7 p.m. with alternative one way travel controlled by a road patrol.

The 68 mile south route is excellent hard surface, while the first 40 miles at the north end contains old hard surface in generally good condition with patching crews working while other areas are rough in places.

By Rev. C. C. Armstrong

Several weeks ago the Alco holics Anonymous group gave notice of a public meeting to be held in the Nanz Theatre, Sunday, May 7th at 3.30. Why a group that is "anonymous" hold a public meeting, where in alcoholics would lose their anonymity? Would those who attend signify that they are alcoholics, and thus openly in dicate that they consider them selves to be alcoholics? In a hard drinking person willing to openly identify himself as a person who drinks too much? Is a total abstainer, who would n't touch a glass likely to stand out like beef eater at a vegetarian dinner, like a semi trailer transport surrounded by a score of Volkswagens, like a dowager in the midst of a group of rhesus girls?

I am not going to try to answer the reasons why a per son might hesitate to attend a public meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous. Rather I would like to state some of the rea sons why I think such a pub lic meeting is of value

1st, Because those who are able to talk about alcoholism out of their own personal ex perience, are not rallying at tention to themselves but to a proven pattern of recovery known as the "Twelve Steps."

2nd Because those in A A feel that such a public meet ing will be helpful both to drinkers and non drinkers alike They have no moral bias nor sectarian axe to grind, but they have a story to tell, information to give and hope to offer

3rd. Because attendance at such a meeting helps all of us to escape from preoccupations with ourselves. From thinking of ourselves as being "differ ent from others" and helps us become aware of those similarities which we share with others. Both the alcoholic and the non alcoholic need to struggle on the basis of a com mon need and a common dif ference upon a higher power

4th. Because I believe that the principles underlaying the Twelve Steps sho ld be known to all of us, by which I mean the general public They are steps which can be taken by anyone whose life is troubled frustrated and unhappy and who feels a sense of being driv ven by unscrutinizable forces in his life They are steps which should be known to everyone whose life is serene, purposeful and happy and who comes in contact with people who are not serene nor happy and frequently perhaps very foolish.

5th Because I believe that people must take a certain risk in order to achieve a cer tain result.

Some people would not con sider it a very risky thing to attend such a public meeting, because they have nothing to lose They are obviously al coholics, or are obviously total abstainers, and their condition is a matter of public know ledge But what about the person who wonders if attendance at such a meeting would furnish some clue and who runs the risk of being con sidered an alcoholic Would you like to be considered an alcoholic?

On the other hand who wants any changes in his pat tern of living eating or drink ing Yes there are risks in attending such a meeting, but there are also risks incurred through staying away But those in A A have taken those risks, and I for one would like to take this step in their direction, by attending the public meeting

AS I SEE IT

Reverend E. HURD — Pastor

"Remember," writes the apostle Paul, "that Jesus Christ of the seed of David was raised from the dead according to my gospel" (II Tim 2 8).

Why should pastors and Sunday school teachers, busi nessmen and labourers, house wives secretaries and christ tians in every walk of life re member the resurrection Here a few brief answers from the Scriptures may make ob servance of this wonderful oc casion more meaningful

Why remember?

Because salvation through faith in Christ means life with him "If we be dead with him, we shall also live with Him."

Because by his resurrection He fulfilled the Scriptures The empty tomb became final, indisputable proof that He is indeed the Son of God

Because His resurrection is evidence of a completed, ac cepted work in bearing our sins "If Christ be not risen," says His present ministry A risen High Priest He ever lives to make intercession for us

Because our inner life to day depends on His "And the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me"

Because He Himself linked His resurrection and return to heaven with the coming of the Holy Spirit Herein lies our hope of effectiveness in wit nessing, preaching and all Christian work "If I go not away the Comfort will not come unto you; but if I de part, I will send him unto you."

And what of the man or woman who has not yet sought Christ as Saviour? The word for him is the most solemn of all a reminder of sure and certain judgement "Because he hath appointed a day, in which He will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom He hath ordained; whereof He hath given assur ance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead" (For Bible documents see II Tim 2:11, Rom 14, Acts 12 33, I Cor 15 17 19, Hebrews 7 25, Gal 2 20, John 10 7, Acts 17 31)

Jasper players appear in Edson this Saturday

Amateur drama fans are in for an enjoyable evening this Saturday, May 6 when the Jas per Players present "The White Sheep in the Family". The play will be presented in the High School auditorium starting at 8:15 p.m.

The play was very well re ceived when produced in Jas per in March, playing to more than 600 persons. Directed by H. T. R. Gilmore, the play features a cast of nine persons who portray the Winterton family, their offspring and friends in a satire that is bound to hold their audience.

Although their first perfor mance, the Jasper Players may well be proud of the calibre of "The White Sheep in the Family." The play is being sponsored in Edson by the Home and School Association.

Nearly three million dollars in contracts awarded on J-B road

A contract for $1,446,552.40 to Dawson, Wade and Co., Ltd., of Vancouver and another for $1,287,791.66 to Square M Construction Ltd., and Coleman Collieries Ltd. of Edmonton, were announced as being let by the Dominion Government Dr Hugh Horner MP for Jas per-Edson announced at the weekend for work on the Jasper-Banff Highway.

The first contract is for grading, installing culverts, and double seal coats from Mile 103.5 to Mile 113 at Range Creek. The contract also in cludes the reconstruction of the access roads from the J B Highway to Honeymoon Lake, Beck Lake and Sunwapta Falls.

The second contract is for grading, the installation of culverts and the laying of a granular base course on 14.3 miles of the road on the side of the Athabasca River The work on this second contract will start at Mile 125, which is approximately 15 miles south of Jasper townsite and continues to Mile 139.2

The firms submitted their bids in response to advertising for public tenders. The con tracts were the lowest of nine in each case. The highest bid in the first contract was for $2,052,220 and in the second, tender went as high as $2,113, 888.88.

Both contracts are scheduled for completion by November 30, 1962. The completed por tions of the travelled part of the road will have a width of 22 feet with 10 foot shoulders

A. H. MacKinnon, District Engineer, (Development Engi neering Branch) at Banff, will be responsible for supervision of the work.

Economics explanation

A Manitoba resident recently sent home a statement by a provincial American government official which indicates that even politicians are occasionally in a bit of a spot over some of the official pronouncements to the average citizen.

Does the country's economic minister confuse you, is the question

Here is the answer "The conservative department reports that sales and income figures show an easing off, which is taken as proof of the government's contention that there is a slowing up of the slowdown."

In order to clarify the cautious terminology of the experts, it should be noted that a slowing up of the slowdown is not as good as an upturn in the downturn but it is a good deal better than either a speedup of the slowdown or a deepening of the downturn and does suggest that the climate is about right for an adjustment to the readjustment."

Which about clears up the whole thing.

One thing about the gobbledygook speeding as it is intended to be, it's still in reasonable down to earth language. Those born from south of the border should scan some of the governmental bulletins that come into this office from time to time.

While honesty compels us to admit the majority are becoming less obscure there are still a few which must of necessity fill the reader with awe and wonder and very little information.

We just don't know how some of these people do it

...I've heard of faces being wrinkled lliers was accordian pleased.

Your MP
Dr. Hugh Horner
Reports

The Minister of Agriculture, Honourable Alvin Hamilton made two important announcements on April 20, which will concern all of our farmers in our constituency.

The first announcement by the Minister was that the dairy price support program would be maintained at the present level for the next two years, that is, from May 1, 1961 to May 1, 1962. This is a vital and important announcement to the farmers in my area and I am sure it will be well received. However, I do believe it is important to impress the butter producers in our area that they must give very serious consideration to the situation in regard to butter. Together we must prevent a pile up of unsalable surplus butter. Every farmer must become a salesman for his product and every farmer must become concerned with seeing that the standards of the produce is maintained. We must always remember that we can sell quality produce but we have a difficult time even giving away the inferior material.

The second announcement of the Minister was the final payment on the butter fat for this year. There was a surplus of over two million dollars in this pool and while this does not allow for a very large payment it does mean that money will be most welcome in Western Canada at this time.

In this regard, the increased sales of grain which are now in process should make a substantial hole in the surplus stocks of grain and will mean easier marketing and increased quotas in the near future.

A daily newspaper has compiled some interesting figures showing that farmers are of added importance to the Canadian economy in other than their role of growers of food.

Illustrating the wide and vital part played the following are listed:

There are more than 1,000,000 cars, trucks and tractors on Canadian farms and their annual expenses, including depreciation and financing, are more than $4600 million.

About 11,000 tons of pig iron goes annually into making farm equipment. The farm machinery industry in Canada gives work to more than 10,000 employees with a payroll of $42,000,000.

Farmers buy 800,000 tons of fertilizers worth nearly $70,000,000 and also use over 600,000 tons of limestone.

Farmers spending for petroleum products are $20,000,000 a year.

In addition it is estimated by the Canadian Department of Agriculture that one eighth of all revenue from commodities comes from farm products, and about one-fifth of the revenue from all railroad freight. The combined revenue total more than $225,000,000

Hinton man to write traffic exams

HINTON—

Three Hinton men will sit for their Traffic and Transportation examinations on May 9th and 10th in Hardisty High School. Of the three Mel Gaudet and Roland Meseros will be writing exams on the course while Jack Livingstone, order and traffic manager of RWP & P will be writing his graduate course examinations.

The Edmonton District of the Canadian Industrial Traffic League recently completed a successful transportation course. Fifty students in Edmonton are enrolled in transportation courses leading to supervised examinations in major centers across Canada by the University of Toronto.

Mr. F. Roemer, Chairman, C.I.T.L. and Traffic Superintendent of Canadian Chemicals Limited addressed the group pointing out that "now, for the first time industry will be able to judge the competence of their distributing personnel."

A second seminar will be held at the Airlines Hotel commencing at 6:30 p.m. on May 12th. All those interested are invited to attend.

Learn how to strengthen Assoc.

The monthly meeting of the Edson Home and School Association was held in the High School auditorium on Wednesday, with Mr. H. Wortman presiding. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Business arising out of the minutes: A) a previous request in had been decided to give players in the winners of the 20th anniversary essay contest. It was now suggested that instead of the certificates should be given to the winners of both the essay and the poster contests in honor of Edson's 20th anniversary. After a short discussion it was decided to re-send the former motion and to award certificates to the winners of both contests.

Mr. H. D. Meade expressed the hope that the Home and School would again enter to the forthcoming High School Banquet on May 25th at cost.

Mrs. M. McKnight gave a very informative talk on her recent trip to Banff for the Home and School convention. She gave a rundown on the different speeches that were of special interest to anyone interested in education and also read the resolutions arrived at. Mrs. S. Stellmacher regional director for Edson and region enlarged on some of these resolutions and went on to say that we should keep apprised at the local level in Home and School Associations. Region 8 has been unanimously wanting a regional council formed and the organizational meeting has been set for May 27th in Edson.

Mrs. S. Stellmacher addressed the meeting and mentioned the following ideas for stimulating Home and School:

1 Home and School members as particular should acquaint themselves with and publicize financial and available to site needs.

2. Lead on organizing local conferences which in turn would lead to the Provincial and National levels.

3 Let it be known that help is available at Calgary head office for any topic on which a Home and School Association may need information.

4 To help needy students a Home and School could follow the lead of Camrose Home and School which joined with other clubs to set up a loan fund which can be drawn on interest free.

5 Send all information and files in legible handwriting to the Federation within the time limit.

What's doing at Parkland

The anticipated piano was duly moved into the Lodge last week and what a difference it makes. Everyone enjoys getting together for singing, and there is always some one dropping in to play. Our appreciation goes to the members of the auxiliary and to the Lions Club, who jointly sponsored the project.

The "Silver Tea" on Sunday afternoon was a major event and really enjoyable affair. ...one was happy to have so many friends show up to take part and to give our home the once over, which always produced expressions of amazement at the comfort and happy atmosphere to be found everywhere.

We are very happy to have Mrs. Martha Kelbe back with us again and getting her strength back at fine shape. We are happy also, over the excellent reports of progress being made by Mr. R. J. Chief ...anager and Mr. H. Colcombe ...n Edmonton hospitals. We hope to have them home again very shortly. Mr. K. J. Deakin was not quite so fortunate and has gone to Edmonton for further treatment but every one is pulling for a quick recovery.

The many guests have moved in and been received warmly by the Lodge family. Even the number of enquiries be...guests is a hook, as though it will be growing steadily from now on.

SEEMING TO HAVE AS MUCH FUN AS THE GIRLS the group of ladies above were leaders at the CGIT Rally held a couple of weeks ago in Hinton. Seventy girls and their leaders attended the Rally from Brule, Jasper, Edson and Hinton. The visitors were taken on a tour of the mill then settled down to song leading, craft work and Bible study generously interspersed with much giggling good times. Left to right above front row are: Mrs. Louis D. Albrecht, Mrs. D. M. Tate and Mrs. J. C. MacDonald all of Edmonton. Back row left to right are: Marion Knox and Mrs. Jack Pattimann of Edson. Mrs. Glenn Smith, Hinton; Mrs. S. MacDonald, Jasper; Mrs. Ellyn Cunningham, Hinton and Mrs. I. Worton, Jasper.

Tips on the wearing of flowers or corsages

A "love corsage is usually worn on the left shoulder but there is no definite rule governing this. It is really up to the individual. Only one thing should be remembered. Never wear them upside down. The flowers should face up, the way they grow. If your gown is of a rather soft material, and a corsage could harm it, place the flowers on your purse (also facing up).

As for artificial posies, if used they should only be worn on a street dress, or suit, and that they should not be overdone. A small rose or gardenia is well made, may help add a little dressed-up corsage look. Wouldn't a real flower be better?

There is no other way to pin such congratulations or thought for others can be so beautifully expressed as through the medium of send ing flowers. It is particularly appropriate to send them to observe a birthday, a wedding anniversary or to commemorate ...ate any special occasion.

In the case of a death in a family flowers are of course a tribute that should be sent. All ways remember to place your full name on the card which accompanies flowers that you might send to a funeral home. If the obituary in the newspapers says please omit flowers, do just that. However, if you know the family of the deceased well sending flowers to the nearest relative the day after the funeral is a thoughtful way of expressing one's sympathy.

Flowers have a definite healing power according to doctors, so sending them to those who are ill definitely proves beneficial. Be sure, if sending them to a hospital to have them in a container that floats, without a vase of some kind, add to a nurse's problems. By the way men enjoy receiving flowers when they are ill just as do women!

Edson bees too

Bees many of us slow down and gaze with wonder at the swarm of bees darting the hill side near Wahanee (other) Bees, Bees, Bees !!

Although we may never have been aware of any around Edson there are at least two enthusiasts with some fifty hives throughout the town and district.

In this area this year there are two queens, Caucasian and Italians. The worker bees are the only ones that sting. Drones, like the mosquito male do only the burning while Queens will sting only in mortal combat with other Queens.

A demonstration day is held every year in June with the Bee Inspector in attendance

Forage Seed Production

A new revision of the pub lication "Grass and Legume Seed Crops for Alberta" is now available This booklet contains a great deal of valuable information for the forage seed producer It can be obtained from this office in Stony Plain any time.

TB Defeated

Forty years ago, at least one case of tuberculosis could be found in every thirty head of cattle. Now one case can be found in 715 head.

This change has been successful the T B. program in Canada has been Veterinarians of the Canada Department of Agriculture have been working toward this for over 40 years Their success story sounds much in dollars saved for cattle owners, and health guarded for everyone

Spring Tainting of Milk

After a long winter as dry feed, milk cows naturally are attracted to green pasture! Remember these first appearance in the spring Stinkweed makes an early growth and imparts a very objectionable flavour to milk and cream Other weeds making early part disagreeable taints to milk Some of our common pasture plants more particularly crested wheat grass causes a very objectionable flavour on milk as cows are allowed to pasture it for any lengthy period during the early growing season

It is well to keep in mind that the changeover from winter feeding to pasture should be done gradually over a period of ten days or so Allow the milk cows access to pasture for a short period not more than twenty minutes the first part of the day and not just before milking time Allowing the cows to stand three or four hours before milking greatly reduces the danger from feed taints ever stinkweed.

Cars of Lawns

All lawns will benefit from an application of fertilizer at this time of year Most lawns are deficient in both nitrogen and phosphorous at the beginning of the growing season 27 14 0 or 16 20 0 are both good. Either would provide these nutrients

To avoid any risk of burning the grass never put a commercial fertilizer on the lawn while it is wet The fertilizer will work more quickly how ever if there is a watering immediately after the application It is often a good idea to give a second application of fertilizer later on in the season A loss in the colour and vigour of the grass is usually an indication of a soil deficiency

Regular and frequent mowing is essential to the maintenance of good turf The grass should not be cut lower than 1½ to 2 inches. If it is going to be able to compete with the weeds When it is cut lower than this it loses its vigour and is more susceptible to drought damage Because it encourages the roots to stay near the top of the ground

A list of recommended lawn fertilizers is contained in the publication "Lawn Building and Maintenance" which can be obtained from this office

What happened to the pho nograph? They call it a "re cord player" now I'm still comparatively young, I keep telling myself, but every so often I almost mindedly reach down an antique phrase and use it, the way a man might grab an old mock onion hat from the cupboard in the dark, and wear it down the street.

The other day I stepped myself just in time from say ing "magic lantern." I quick ly amended it to "slide projector" the same, colorless and neutral phrase that you must use nowadays.

I looked in the dictionary. "Magic lantern" is still listed as there, but its speech is for out of style. I'm sorry about that It brings to mind a simple, wash-hazy old world of marvels and adventure, when people still were naive enough to be fascinated by an unmoving picture on a screen.

Now we are ashamed of that old enthusiasm, and we try to show our sophistication by using a grey, leaden phrase like "slide projector" or "photograph" They call it a "record player" now I'm still comparatively young, I keep telling myself, but every so often I almost mindedly reach down an antique phrase and use it, the way a man might grab an old mock onion hat from the cupboard in the dark, and wear it down the street.

Now we are ashamed of that old enthusiasm, and we try to show our sophistication by using a grey, leaden phrase like "slide projector" or "photograph" or "photograph" are not loaded with the same kind of power. "Stereophone" can have up a picture of a scratchy, wind up machine with a big horn "Phonograph" makes me think of a more pretentious machine in a cabinet, playing tunes of the 1920s and 1940s.

Neither of these words has much color But "record player" is totally flat and limp Surely we could have done better than that. Some one should offer a prize for the best words to describe new inventions.

Not long ago I caught saying "Well, it's nearly time to buy a new bathing suit."

It came as a shock in real ize how outdated that remark was The last time that men and boys wore bathing suits was in the 1920s, early 1930s at that Since then, the term has been "swimming trunks" or to be more up-to-date "swim trunks" Nobody bathes Nobody bathed for 20 years The word has almost Victorian connotations Now everybody "swims" — even if they can't swim a stroke

It will be quite a number of years until I apply for a pension, but I am old enough to remember the days when men and boys wore bathing suits Often they rolled them down to the waist.

Long after trunks had come into general use there still were some golfers who clung to their suits Maybe they were golfers in their 30 and 40s, seen through a youngster's eyes)

Sometimes, on a warm and dark summer night, we would plunge into a pool of the river with no suits or trunks on A very old fashioned style of swimming which is modern enough to be illegal, even today

Said the spinster who was asked why she never married "It takes a mighty good man hood to be better than none"

Junior leaders still needed for Surprise

A meeting of the Surprise Lake Camp Committee was held in the United Church last week The following were some of the matters discussed by the committee

Establishment of a com munity or public beach on Surprise Lake was talked over The committee felt very strongly that they would welcome the establishment of such a beach for swimming purposes, but would deplore it if motor boats were to be introduced to the lake as this would disturb the wildlife and also present a very real danger to swimmers

A propane stove is to be purchased for the kitchen

Construction jobs for the forthcoming work camp in May were discussed such as the foundation of the newly acquired scout hall the construction of a more effective slop pail, building of extra bunk panning etc

Mrs F. Abbf gave a report on her attendance to a camp leadership course at Banff Mr J Nerwoy told of the camp night which had recently been held at Hinton

Use of Ice Vigour

The amount of water required by a lawn depends to a great extent upon the soil Heavy soils need less water than the lighter types Generally speaking however all lawns should be given enforcement soakings rather than frequent light ones A light application of water makes the grass more susceptible to drought damage because it encourages the roots to stay near the top of the ground

A list of recommended lawn fertilizers is contained in the publication "Lawn Building and Maintenance" which can be obtained from this office

Building permits near quarter million mark

Building permits issued by the Town have already exceeded last year's figure and stand at $224,287. This figure does not include several large projects that in all likelihood will get started this year as well

Included in the total is an estimated $150,000 for the superstructure only of the new Edson Hotel. The whole edifice will amount to much more and push the total up.

Not included are the proposed warehouse and housing project by Alberta Gas Trunk Company, the housing project promising for Alberta Mechanical Contractors and several other tentative housing developments

Also on the books for a start this year is the junior high school for which a block of town property has been cleared by the School Division. The school will run to much more eventually, but this year the expenditure for the land clearing of site and the first stage of construction will run in the neighborhood of $200,000

All in all it looks like at least a record year for the construction industry in Edson. This combined with the activity in the local gas pipe line field should provide a full summer of work for most Edson men connected with the construction and heavy equipment business it is hoped

Local business men make city paper on land deal

A story published last week in the Edmonton Journal concerning the income tax appeal of three Edson businessmen caught the imagination of local people. The story as run in the city newspaper follows:

Three Edson businessmen, on a hearing before the Income Tax Appeal Board here Thursday failed in their bid to have the board overrule a revenue department assessment covering a 1956 land transaction.

Harvey Lawrence Switzer, A. P. Coleman and Lorne Kroetch contended that $18,802 profit they made in the sale of three lots in Edson was a capital gain on an investment and exempt from income tax.

However board member R. S. W. Fordham disagreed. He called the transaction "a speculative moneymaking adventure in the nature of a trade," and said the profit was taxable income.

FOUR LOTS

According to evidence, the appellants purchased 10 lots from the Town of Edson on Sept. 10, 1956, for $600 per lot. They were given the titles to four lots immediately. Titles to the others were to be granted when stipulated improvements had been made on the property.

Mr Switzer said they obtained the land for the specific intention of erecting a motel, service station and restaurant.

He said he and his associates had sufficient capital to build the motel and also had a verbal arrangement with an oil company to construct the service station on a mortgage basis.

Two days after they bought the property, Mr Switzer stated, an oil company official told them the company did not consider the proposed mortgage arrangement "too suitable" and said the company would prefer to buy three of the lots and build the service station itself.

"We weren't too happy about it," the witness testified, "but we decided to ask a price that would be so high the company wouldn't buy the property. We gave them an option to buy

Edson girls get degree

Among the early results from the University of Alberta released this week are the names of Misses Joan Mae of Gwen Gregg and Mary Kuc who have qualified for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing.

Miss Evelyn Talpash of Edson is included on the list of those passing their diploma in District Nursing

Chief to set inquest date

According to a statement given by Coroner in Edmonton.

The inquest pertaining to the death of Albert MacKenzie will not be held until they hear from the chief justice in Edmonton.

Mr Paul Maffett remains until the inquest has been held in custody

No C of C Wednesday

A regular meeting of the Edson Chamber of Commerce tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, May 17 has been postponed it was decided this week.

This will allow Chamber members to attend the big Sportsmen's Dinner being arranged for the same night in Edson.

Nearly 100 taking basic CD course

Nearly 100 Edson people are taking the week's course on basic orientation in connection with the upsurge of interest in emergency measures being held on the Evergreen school

Sportsmen's dinner now set for next Wednesday

It looked for a while as if the Tri Service Hockey Association sponsored sportsmen's dinner was going to be again postponed but things have worked out so that the big affair will come off Wednesday May 17 at 7 p.m. in the Legion Hall

Renowned sportscaster Al Shaver of CFRN-TV, who will act as MC for the event, has rounded up some impressive sports talent.

Such names as Rollie Miles of the Edmonton Football Club Hector Gervais and hockey league father Hal Pawson, sports editor of the Edmonton Journal are among

No list of Edmonton sportspersonalities would be complete without mention of Tiger Goldrick of Edson who has made a name for himself in the world of sports. There all sports writers point to his old boss from the Edmonton Flyers.

Bob Tickets are still available from members of the executive of the Tri-Service Hockey Assoc. The Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion will be catering to the big feed

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Thousands of women have found my "tour-ette" the perfect change - of - pace weekend for themselves and their families. A tourette is a planned two or three day trip to some point of interest within 200 miles of home. Drive there by one route, spend the night at a motel or inn, return a different way.

Another suggestion is a one day outing for those who can't spare an entire weekend. It's a fine idea too.

Pick an interesting spot that's near some natural wonder, scenic area not more than 100 miles away. Map out a round trip route you have not used before and allow time for a leisurely ride and stops along the way.

Start early and take a picnic lunch. You'll be amazed at the delicious and varied food that comes packaged for just a jaunt. Take vacuum jugs with hot coffee and cold lemonade. A frying pan fits warm food over a small fire; paper plates and cups picnic spoons, a can opener — and you're all set.

After the picnic be sure your fire is thoroughly extinguished, and put the refuse in a waxed paper bag for disposal when you get home.

If you want to splurge, have dinner at a restaurant on the way home. The money you've saved with your picnic will help pay for a steak or lobster.

Kinsmen to promote blood clinic June 20

The Kinsmen Club have taken on the job of accepting registrations for blood donors for a clinic to be held in Edson on June 20.

The Red Cross blood donor clinic will be visiting in the area at that time and the Kinsmen hope to be able to maintain Edson's quota for this very worthwhile service.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. E. Eddy of Williams Lake, B.C. announces the engagement of his daughter Laurence to Mr. Kent Baker of Dawson Creek. The wedding will take place in the Canadian Legion Hall, Edson, on Saturday, May 20th at 2:00 p.m. Mr. Chris Mead, Congregation Servant of the Hairdresser Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will perform the ceremony. YOU CAN SAVE A LIFE!

NEXT WEEK IS WATER SAFETY WEEK!

WATER SAFETY DEPENDS ON YOU!

WHEN SWIMMING—

Wait two hours after eating before swimming.

Swim parallel to the shore.

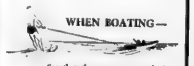
Stay out of canoes and row boats if you cannot swim.

Learn to tread water, hands only and feet only.

Investigate conditions when entering strange water for the first time. Enter the water feet first.

Avoid swimming in the dark.

WHEN BOATING—



See that there are two people in a boat which is pulling a skier.

Avoid using small craft in rough weather, but if caught in a storm, lie down on the bottom of the boat and drift.

Remain seated in a canoe.

Remember if a canoe or row boat capsizes, remain with the upset craft. Hold onto the gunwales, but do not try to climb onto the bottom of an upset canoe as it will roll.

Insist that everyone in a boat wears a life jacket. Don't overload your boat.

Be ready — should tragedy strike! Learn these few essential facts about

MOUTH TO MOUTH RESUSCITATION

1 If victim is not breathing begin artificial respiration at once. Wipe out quickly any foreign matter visible in the mouth, using your fingers or a cloth wrapped around your fingers.

2 Tilt victim's head back. Pull or push the jaw into a jutting-out position.

3 If victim is a small child, place your mouth tightly over his mouth and nose and blow gently into his lungs about 20 times a minute. If victim is an adult, cover the mouth with your mouth, pinch his nostrils shut, and blow vigorously about 12 times a minute.

4 If unable to get air into lungs of victim, and if head and jaw positions are correct, suspect foreign matter in throat. To remove it, suspend a small child momentarily by the ankles or place child in a jack-knife position with arm under his stomach. Slap him sharply between shoulder blades.

5 If victim is an adult lie him on the ground in the jack-knife position and slap him sharply between the shoulder blades.

Ask your druggist about the Sleek Air-Way Resuscitator, an inexpensive plastic tube designed for mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

GREEN ACRES

By DICK BOCKING

Wireworms

These yellow, wire-like worms that work underground have cost district farmers a great deal of money. Grain crops showing skips in the drill rows or bare patches in the crop may be victims of the wireworms.

Close examination of unemerged seeds will often reveal wireworms damage as a burrowed hole, or hollowed out seed. Young seedlings damaged by wireworms will show first a dead center shoot that can be easily pull ed out of the plant and is shredded at the severed end. If the plant is dug up, a hole or shredded area on the side of the stem between the seed and the soil surface will be found. Later the whole plant may die and later blow away to leave no evidence that a plant was once present. Causal scratching or digging in the soil at this time generally reveals relatively few wireworms. However, if the soil to a depth of six or more inches is carefully sifted through a screen as many as ten wireworms per square foot may be found, although none were found in casually examining the top two or three inches of soil.

While it is possible to grow more resistant crops such as legumes or grass or to starve wireworms with clean summerfallow practices, chemicals have become the most convenient and profitable method of controlling wireworms in cereal crops seed treated with an insecticide (aldrin heptachlor or lindane) at about one ounce of active agent per acre costing less than 50 cents per acre, prevents damage and kills a certain percentage but not all of the wireworms present.

Seed treatments, while highly effective can fail if not applied at recommended rates or if treated seeds are planted too deeply or into dry moist soil. Occasionally very high populations will have sufficient survivors to cause damage regardless of the treatment. Efficient seed treating equipment should be used to obtain a uniform application of treatment on the seed. The seed cleaning plant at Stony Plain is well equipped for this work, for those close enough to use it.

Keep Off the Grass

Particularly if you are short of feed, the early spring we are having will soon be tempting you to turn your stock out on pasture. This is false economy. You will be further ahead buying hay, if necessary, rather than damaging forage crops by pasturing too early. Both experiments and experience have shown that for it created returns, forage crops should not be grazed until they have reached a height of about six inches.

Experiments are being conducted to find ways of extending the pasture season in both spring and fall. We hope to know more about this before too many years, as it would cut out feeding costs considerably if good pasture was available earlier in the spring and retained its feed value in the fall. We do know that crested wheat grass is one of the earliest grasses in spring, and some farmers are gaining a special spring pasture of crested wheat grass alone to make use of this feature.

Creeping red fescue retains feed value much later in the year than any of our other forage crops, with the exception of Russian Wild Rye

WINS BINGO JACKPOT

Mrs. Pat Piper of Glenwood was the lucky lady who won the $95 Jackpot last Friday at the Glenwood Bingo. The Jackpot starts again this Friday at $90 which is well worth taking a chance on because there's an enjoyable evening in the hall.

This letter grass is however noticeably low for the drier areas. The right mixture of grasses and legumes is important to establishing good hay or pasture. If you wish we would be pleased to help work out a mixture that would be most suitable for your purposes. A booklet "How to Pasture Crops for Alberta" is also of considerable help and is available at this office

"THIS IS FOR YOU, MOM!"

First holiday vigilance

The approaching Victoria Day holiday weekend is an eagerly awaited event throughout Canada. Now, after a long, hard winter of cold and short days we're ready to start a season of fun in the outdoors.

We realize that brilliant sunshine and glistening waters beckon, but we also realize we must perform an important task before we embark on this season of fun in the sun and water.

And that task is to learn water safety rules. We must learn them and follow them. And we must teach them to our children and make certain they follow them.

This is National Water Safety Week throughout Canada. The earliest it has ever been held, to cut down the tragic drowning toll over the Victoria Day holiday weekend and the start of the water season.

Each year your Canadian Red Cross urges you to contact your local branch and obtain water safety rules and information before you start your vacation or a holiday weekend. Learning these rules are not time consuming. They are just plain good common sense. And they work. They can serve you or a loved one from a horrible drowning.

Learn these rules yourself. Teach them to your children. Make sure they are followed. Putting it off until afterwards could mean a life lost. Last year there were nearly 900 such lives lost in Canada.

Have a happy season of water fun but make it safe. Learn safety rules and be water wise!

Mothers' Day

Once again sons and daughters everywhere will honor their mothers and all mothers on the one day of the year specially set apart for them — Mothers' Day.

It's a wonderful idea, this Mothers' Day. It makes children feel good. It makes fathers feel proud. It makes mothers feel important — and they certainly are important.

Of course, a certain amount of commercialism has crept into Mothers' Day, just as it has in every other occasion in our lives. But that is not to be deplored unduly. In an age when stress and the rush of business keeps most of us busy many hours a day, it is useful to have some place where we can order a Mothers' Day card, or a bouquet rather than have to pick flowers ourselves or write a letter — admirable as these might be.

So on Mothers' Day, remember her — even if you do need an artificial commercial prop. Mother will understand the effort you have made in any event.

The sergeant was taking particulars from a new recruit.

"Are you married?"

"Yes, sir."

"Any children?"

"Yes, sir. Five girls and four boys."

"Nine altogether."

"No, sir — one at a time."

"Stand!" cried the green sentry to the figure approaching in the dark. "Friend or enemy?"

"Enemy," growled a voice.

Holy Smoke!" quavered the sentry. "Now what do I do?"

The multi-millionaire checked in at the hotel and was immediately taken to the elaborate suite of rooms in the establishment.

"But I don't want this at all," he snapped. "I just want a small plain sedanary room."

Taken aback the clerk stuttered: "Oh. I'm sorry, sir. I thought seeing it was you I mean, when your son stays here he always asks for this suite the best we have in the hotel."

"That may be," growled the multi-millionaire. "But in my case it's different. I haven't a millionaire for a father."

Then there was the tongue-tied radio announcer. Broadcasting an appeal for public aid in locating the whereabouts of an aged man who had strayed from home, the announcer concluded:

"If you should locate this old gentleman please treat him gently since he has lost the use of his faculties."

CAPITOL REPORT

Interference charged at Calgary

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — The government found itself in a rather sticky situation last week. And it appeared the stickiness was due in a large part to overzealous efforts by some government officials to avoid a sticky situation.

We refer to the charge by caretaker Peter Zagonec that he was stabbed in the hand by a student at the Provincial Institute of Technology in Calgary. Zagonec laid a charge against the youth then withdrew it. His explanation was that he was threatened with loss of his job if he proceeded with the charges. The threats he said, came from "those," and later he was subjected to pressure by officials of the public works department.

High officials of the education department and public works department in Edmonton attempted to pass the incident off as "trivial." Both departments are involved. The education department operates the institute but as a member of the caretaking staff Zagonec is employed by public works.

Then Premier Manning stepped into the picture and took the only possible action in view of the fact that the story had been broken by a Calgary newspaper. In his capacity as attorney-general he ordered a full investigation of the incident.

Maybe there's an object lesson to be learned from the affair. If Zagonec had simply gone ahead with charges against the student, he, or one would have gone ahead through the courts, received the usual amount of news paper publicity, and then quickly blown over. As it turned out, the case has received twice as much publicity. And on top of that government officials have been accused of interfering with the due processes of justice. This is a serious accusation regardless of the triviality or otherwise of the original incident. It will be interesting to see what sort of report is turned over to Premier Manning as a result of the investigation.

More progress was made last week on implementation of the government's new

Bloomers — Late and Early

When educationists talk about late bloomers they aren't referring to flowers unless, perhaps, it's in a horticulture course.

What they are talking about is the student who is average or below average in high school but suddenly blossoms and does well in university.

They are the opposites of early bloomers who get good marks in high school but don't do so well in college.

And there are also dark horses — students who don't show much in the early years of university but come on with a sprint to finish near the top.

The definitions were provided by a panel at a Toronto meeting of the Ontario Education Association.

What is possibly more important is that he educationists admitted it's difficult to spot an early bloomer or a late bloomer with any certainty.

This should be a double-edged warning to parents who themselves seem to fall into two divisions.

We've probably all heard some parents berate their child as stupid and indicate they have given up all hope the youngster will ever complete his education.

And many teachers have encountered parents who refuse to face up to the fact that their child's intelligence isn't high enough to permit him to complete a university course successfully.

On the one hand the danger is that the parents are abandoning hope for a child who may be destined to become a late bloomer.

On the other hand, they may be expecting too much of a student who just hasn't the ability to cope with further education.

Either way, it can mean loss of interest or frustration in the child. The boy or girl who senses that his parents think he's stupid may give up the idea of pursuing an education before he has been given a chance to show his true colors.

How those parents practically force them to continue in an academic course when they know the capability are being denied. Or how to find their niches in a field where they can succeed — such as in vocational or commercial courses.

There is no simple answer to the problem. It is fairly easy if it's all wrapped up in the emotional ties between parent and child but perhaps if we at least try to recognize the problem when it exists and to get it in its proper perspective and heed it we can be willing to help our children find their way to a fruitful and satisfying role in society.

Short-sighted British Columbia

Premier Bennett of British Columbia seemingly is obsessed with the idea of making that province as self-sustained as possible. He has demanded that Pacific Petroleums should build a pipe line from oil wells in northeastern British Columbia to supply the needs of Vancouver. Then he has given instructions to oil refinery companies in that province that they must use British Columbia oil in preference to Alberta oil.

If Alberta undertook to retaliate this province might go into the apple raising business. Eminent horticulturists maintain that within a dozen years the province will have a species of apple trees which will stand up to our climate and produce excellent fruit. Then the Alberta government might insist that Alberta apples be disposed of before any more imports from British Columbia are allowed into the province.

Premier Bennett should be broadminded enough to understand that such trends lead towards the "balkanization" of the nation, to the disadvantage of all. Canada's prosperity depends upon free and open trade between the provinces.

Just like ball fans

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Now the Americans claim a count to their game of spaceball against the Russians. They have lobbed a man high in the air and caught him.

The Russians say it doesn't count because they did the same thing two years ago.

But you can't tell that to the Americans fans, who are cheering the heavens hoarse.

Quick, where is the umpire?

Quite unheard in the din are the voices of those scientists who declare that the United States is accomplishing little of scientific value by heaving a man in a steel box high into the void.

At the present stage of rocket development the critics incontestably point out, America can learn far more by sending up unmanned satellites containing instruments.

If a man is killed in the course of the present series of space shots he will be a martyr in a childish contest of prestige.

The Russians got a head start in rockets and built big [illegible] rockets.

The Americans having small [illegible] rockets, had to devote much time and money to developing miniature lightweight equipment.

Over all they lagged far behind the Russians because they were not so single-minded. they allowed various army and services to squabble among themselves, they declined to reject scientists and scholars as [illegible] and starve them. [illegible] for research.

They still lag behind. But the Americans can "catch up" — if they try hard enough. They are a great nation possessing vast industrial and technical strength.

And to say, they are impatient. They won't wait. They want to show the world immediately that they can out perform any old Communist any day.

Space travel is the greatest adventure of all. The men who take part in it, Russians and Americans — are fine courageous men.

Not all the onlookers are so admirable. Millions of them resemble the wherry, round shouldered fans you often see in the bleachers hurling down foul words and (sometimes) bottles.

They don't care greatly about man's scientific knowledge of the universe.

They have the spectator's thirst for danger. Get in there and win. Our side right or wrong. They have the spirit of baseball at its worst — the spirit of spearball.

MOTHER'S LOVE

How wonderful is a mother's love! She is always caring for her children. She is up first in the morning and she is in bed last at night. But how many boys and girls just look upon that as a matter of course and really sometimes, until it is too late, that mother is God's best earthly gift to them.

There was once a boy whose father died when he was young, but whose mother did all she could to give him the best chances in life that she could. A gentleman who lived in the neighborhood saw that the lad showed promise and he helped him by giving him a good education. The boy grew up, and succeeded in life and he became a famous doctor. When he came to London to live he remembered his little country home and he used to send his mother money and presents and she used to feel what a clever man her little lad had grown.

One day his mother was told she must leave the little cottage where she had lived for so long, and she decided that she would go up to London and live with her son. So she packed her things and got into the train and soon found herself a cabin, at the door of her son's beautiful home. He opened it and she asked if she could see the doctor but she was told that his consulting hours were over for that day. However she was so persistant that at last the servant went in and told the doctor.

When the doctor saw his mother he kissed her, and asked her why she had come out of her simple heart she said "I have come to live with you now, Teddie"

He not did know what to say, but at last he said "Well, you know, Mother, I do not think London would suit you. I will buy you a little home in the suburbs and I will come and see you."

She understood what he meant, although she did not say anything about it, but went up to bed that night she asked him where his room was, and he told her. The doctor had not been in bed very long when the door opened and a little figure came in

"What's the matter," he asked "Are you ill?"

"No," replied his mother "I have only come to tuck you up as I used to do when you were a little boy." And she pulled the bed clothes over him and then slipped quietly away.

The next morning she did not come down to breakfast and when the doctor went to her room he found she had gone.

For a whole year that great surgeon searched through London broken hearted, for his mother and he found her at last in a hospital for she had met with an accident. He was able to care for her and to obtain her forgiveness before she passed away.

Remember boys and girls, that you will not always have Mother by your side. If you fail now to show your appreciation of her acts of self-sacrifice, how sad one day you will feel. Do all you can while you still have the opportunities to make her happy and while God still spares her to you.

THROUGH THE Study Window

By Rev. C. C. Armstrong

Every morning at five minutes to eight there is a CBC broadcast entitled "Family Worship. It provides a brief program of music, scripture and prayer, and message that is uniformly excellent and a source of inspiration for many years this is predicted It thankful for such a program as this.

There is another program in the evening not on the radio for which we should also be thankful. It is called Emergency Measures" or "Civil Defence" and is a program of study designed to save life rather than to destroy it. It is a good thing for people to be prepared both in theory and in practice to look after themselves, to maintain some of the basic features of civilized living.

It is unfortunate that "civil defence" sound so much alike, because the purpose of one is that of providing assistance and help to people in terrible distress and the purpose of the latter is to cause terrible distress to others, if need should arise. It is also unfortunate that the major emphasis is upon the appalling consequences of nuclear warfare rather than upon the positive measures. As humans we view with alarm anything that threatens our existence, but feel the same emotional driving force that impelled him up and then slip quietly away

The next morning she did not come down to breakfast and when the doctor went to her room he found she had gone

WHAT'S THE "INSTALMENT PLAN" WAY TO SAVE FOR A DOWN PAYMENT?
Many purchasers of automobiles, furniture and such, pay on the instalment plan. You can put your savings on the same instalment basis. PSF, Scotiabank's Personal Security Program is the "instalment plan" way to save for a down payment for any project needing forward planning and saving. This is how PSF—exclusive with The Bank of Nova Scotia—works. You select a savings goal (between $100 and $2,500) which you reach in 50 equal payments. As you save, you're life-insured for the full amount of your goal. When you reach your goal, you collect all you've saved, plus a cash bonus. PSF is the ideal way to make sure your long-range plans are realized. Ask about PSF at your nearest branch of Scotiabank.

Death comes to a tree

I am a Tree whose green had reached birth into the sky yesterday Today, my head is still high, in the sky, but it is no longer green Where once I looked out over a bed of solid green, today as far as I can see, from my great height to the horizon, everything is black and dreadful and dead I, too, will soon be dead

Never again will I be glad dressed by the songs of birds, the soft whispering of the wind the honey-dripping of the crickets the sudden rumbling of the partridge in the leaves about my feet Never again will sulphur butterflies chase each other in shafts of sunlight through my arms, nor the "thump thump" of rabbits' feet be heard on smooth paths

My strength, my brothers and I were born about seventy five years ago, in the year of confederation Seventy five times we have seen the sun sets come and go Several times have we seen the birds fly south and return to nest and raise their young Nearly thirty thousand times have we seen the sun settle down in the crest bed we made for it Tonight though it passed slowly and sorrowfully I knew though the charred sticks that yesterday were living trees

Soon I, too, will be dead Soon, I hope because I want to forget the tragedy of yesterday I want to forget that little black lamp on the hot floor around my feet, where the mother partridge died with her wings covering her little ones I want to forget the terror in the eyes of the deer, urging her twins to more faster on their weak legs I want to forget the old poplar with its nest of noisy young woodpeckers. I want to forget the hour burrying along on burnt feet, and the hopping toads and frogs. The lumbering moose and the squirrels in my arms that ferried with fear as the ragging, crackling flame swept over me and them I want to forget the sounds that no human has ever heard, because no human could live to tell of what happens in the heart of a forest fire

I wish, Mr Camper, that you could have seen and heard the terrible tragedy you unleashed when you tossed your cigarette butt alongside the trail yesterday as you left for home. We saw it fall among dry leaves Helplessly we watched it smoulder We saw a blade of dry grass flare up and die, then another and another, and we hoped We saw a dry leaf wrinkle and smoulder beneath the cigarette and we saw the smoke grow thicker

"Wind die down, die down." silently we prayed.

We saw with despair, little red tongues of flame running hither and thither. A year old pine flamed up a mast of red spread and the tree that died and fell last year

In the distance we heard a young human laugh and

He added however that all members of [illegible] ...ganizations will have an opportunity before the convention to study all resolutions to be presented to the delegates, and to submit their opinions on any and all of the subjects to be discussed.

In this way Mr Shortell emphasized the decisions of Alberta Chamber Annual Meeting reflect the views of community organizations, from every part of the Province. He also pointed out that voting is to be precluded at the Provincial Chamber Convention that each board and chamber from the smaller communities have proportionately more weight than the larger chambers.

This he stated is another means of ensuring that the policies of the Alberta Chamber formulated at the Annual Meeting are representative of thinking across the Province.

More human interest needed for pageant

More human interest material is needed to complete the story background for the Edson Pageant being planned as part of Edson's Jubilee Celebration this year.

Professionals writer Mrs. G. F. Rowland, of Willows Lake, B.C., will be in Edson to finish off the pageant story during June, but requires more material to develop it.

Such things as how people lived during Edson days, the earlier days, fires, rubber-tailed bee stuffings and district disasters are among the type of what Mrs Rowland requires.

Mrs Margaret Ahlf has compiled a comprehensive factual history of Edson's early days from old news paper files, but the vivid personal recollections of Edson's oldtimers are needed to flesh out the dramatic possibilities of the Jubilee theme.

Anyone with ideas on the subject or willing to give interviews should contact Mrs Ahlf.

AFTER STUTTERING THEIR STUFF for the inspectors and a few very proud parents the Edson Cadets stand at attention for the order to dismiss. Many the parents and other onlookers were heard to report that the boys certainly had improved since last year and gave a lot of credit to their leader Chief Instructor A. Lyons. —Leader Photo

The district extends a well come to the new owner of the former Coppin farm, Mr Ash dreams who now makes his home there.

Bob Bradford and Harold Thomas brought their thrush ing machine home recently, an optimistic pair of farmers if ever we saw such. Preparing for threshing in the dead of winter brings a foot long adorn the coat projections of farm homes so it must be winter.

The farm home of Mr and Mrs Ray Thomas is the gathering place for TV viewers since Calgary Power was installed

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Lodge and contents at the Dutch Lake Guest Ranch of Mr and Mrs. A. C. (Chuck) Russell Thursday. Nothing was salvaged from the building that housed furniture clothing and all personal belongings of the Russell family.

Twelve year old Johnny Russell was trapped within the burning building but was rescued by his brother in-law Cliff Hansen seconds before the structure collapsed. Johnny and his mother had been trying to carry some of their belongings to safety but were forced to give up in despair. As it was with children Johnny possibly intent on trying to claim something of par ticular value to him perhaps his old fish or minnows, returned to the building and could not find his way out. Then Cliff found him be was standing in the middle of a room with his coat over his head in a vain effort to escape the smoke and heat.

Chubby and Irene celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on April 15th two days after the fire.

Hinton Sr. men bowlers hold wind-up banquet

The Senior Men's 8-Pin Bowling League held their wind-up banquet Friday, May 5, to close the 1960-61 season. With their index, to attend some dinner, relaxing, refreshments dancing and renewing old games made the evening function one to be remembered by all in attendance.

Master Bill Switzer presented his annual trophy for bowler championship. Winners of the trophy this year were the Hydelanders Bowling team of the team for the play-offs were Bob Medrall, Lee Kapo Mike Dumphil, Tony Sander and Tom Leahy. On the team as well were Harry Polaher, spare, and Ron Thomas who dropped out due to illness.

Master of ceremonies was genial Gerry Maguire, president of the league. Other trophy winners were as follows Team high single, Hydelanders Bowling team with Paul Lemoel, Bill Schrader, Don Lindsay, Gerry Maguire, Vern Daupe Their high of 1220 was bowled Dec 13 against Highlanders Rnooth to break the heart of the opposing team but it seems to have made them determined to win the play-offs which they did.

Team high triple went to the Alley Cats with a 2778 on Jan 24 against The Highlanders Bowling that night were Roy Askew, Stan Penn, Merv Nystrom, Jack Letcher and Sol Bain.

High single went to reverting secretary Grant Rutcliffe of Jasper Boys, with a high game of 298 bowled on Jan 3 with two other not so complimentary games of 125 and 200 Grant also had the distinction of being the only bowler having bowled all 12 games during the year as well as the play-offs. Grant was captain of the Jasper Boys winners of last year's play-offs, who travelled from Jasper every week to enjoy the friendships and keen competition of bowling.

The trophy for high triple went to Bill Ainsworth, general manager of Polar Bowl Bill amassed a total of 899 in three games on April 4 with games of 346 316 and 339 Bill, bowling with the Pin Pacers, ended up the season with a 27 average of 218, one of the few averages over 200

The most improved average trophy was awarded to Percy Pitcher, league treasurer. Key raised his average from 148, on the third night, to 177. This shows a consistent improvement of skill or luck) with a nice raise of 29

A late-comer Red Berardi, with Jasper Boars, worked up from 136 to 150 but start ed so late in the season as to be out of the prizes But Red paced Alton Yerks on this team when Al was transfer red north to Fort Smith

Winners of trophies for being the League winners in regular play were the Alley Cats with 114 winning points and 94 lost This team comprised of Frank Saint, Vic Kosowka, Jack Letcher, Stan Penn, Ray Askew, Bill Bain and Merv Nystrom

Final standing of the teams, Alley Cats, 114-94 Jasper Boars, 10-77; Hitch Hikers, 97-88; Terbisticks, 93-92; Saddle Sores, 76-89, Pacers 79-105

Thanks goes to all concern ed who made this a successful bowling season These include the executive of the League Mayor Bill Switzer of Switzer's Drugs, donor of the trophy, manager owners and staff of Polar Bowl, and of course to the many bowlers, without whom there would be no bowling league

MWBL Stunts

By MEL SOLTYS

Just last month league the MacKay Braves can keep on cranking their chips in for league championships and baseball tournaments is a question which keeps on cropping up each year at this time when the first cry of "Play Ball" rings out to kick off baseball proceedings in and around these parts. Those same players who had one of their best seasons to date last year, are looked upon again as the team to beat in 1961.

Last year MacKay captured the league pennant with a 56-6 won-lost record best out one of the league new members — the Mayerthorpe Imperials — in a best-of-three semi-final series and then polished off Edson Athletics in three straight to win their second straight North Western Baseball League championship. (These same Braves won the crown also back in 1957 when the MWBL was formed.)

Tournament wise, they took home second prize money in Jasper played third and in the pocket money at Edson's First of July tournament, split top prizes with the Edson Athletics at Hinton when this town's final game was rained out and then for the first time walked off with their own tournament at MacKay

This year the Braves are expected to have their hands full with the Hinton Hi Brites Mayerthorpe Imperials and Whitecourt Eagles in league and tournament play How ever rumors have it that the colorful mentor, none other than Andy Skaird has landed Jerry Kulak and that in the mill is a prize catch for any ball club.

Kulak, now employed in Stony Plain, played with the Jasper Panthers as a shortstop and pitcher and is rated as one of the top players in the MWBL and can be always counted on for a steady performer. When you add him to the likes of Charlie Gelle pher, Fred Davis, Ed Delano, Ernie Welch, Don Young, and Glen Clark, you can bet that Andy Skaird's crew will be no push-over this year.

Both the Edson Athletics and Jasper Panthers are having player problems The A's are minus five regulars from last years roster in Ken Layden, taking an electrician's course in Toronto second baseman Gary Dunziger who plans on remaining in Moose Jaw Saskatchewan for the summer, Lew Remstead who looks like he'll be with the Jasper Pan thers this season and Dave Anker and Mel Bolles who are employed in Hinton and will be wearing Hi Brite uniforms

Jasper meanwhile has lost the services of Bill Proskiw, their ace pitcher who now lives in Edmonton and Jerry Kulak who moved to Stony Plain Mike Dagosta will have his hands full there minus three two outfielders but has a number of junior ball players who will have to fill these big holes

No word from Mayerthorpe and Whitecourt yet but you can bet that Peter Prouchy and Byron Mosier will come up with a couple of strong contenders as these properties teams come very close in upsetting the MacKay Braves and Edson Athletics in leagues semi-final playoffs

You can pretty well apply the same to the local Hinton Hi Brites who apart from this week have been holding practices with as close to twenty hopefuls trying out for the various positions.

Last year the Hi Brites fin-op Insurance and Implement supply (supply).

A question period followed with many questions being asked and ably answered by the speaker.

Before continuing the meeting after lunch a circle dance was called by Mr Grieshaich with everyone participating this was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Mr A P Olson representing the UFA Local Petroleum Division explained how the Co-op Locals were set up with each electing a President Secretary and Directors Mr Olson stated that there are about 8 0 FUA Locals in Alberta and the UFA Co-op has been in business for 26 years. He explained how shares and dividends are received by members through their Co-op and urged all farmers to patronize their nearest UFA Co-op bulk bins and oil stations Mr Olson's address was very interesting and under standable.

Co-op Fire and Casualty insurance agent, Roy Getson spoke on FUA membership and fully explained why a farmer cannot afford not to belong to the FUA To quote Mr Getson, "It's a lot easier to save $5 00 than try to earn $50 00" He went on to say that there are several ways in which a farmer can save. Through the Car Pool, FUA Public Liability Insurance Home Insurance, UFA Co-op Local farm supply and UFA Co-op gas and oil Mr Getson expressed his willingness to help form any Co-op Locals in the district.

FWUA Director for District 5 Mrs Jonah gave a report on many and varied subjects such as, World Affairs, Welfare Organizations Co-operation, Young Peoples Week, and the Junior FU Quotient Mrs Jonah stated that women should take more interest in public affairs and help more with FUA problems She went on to say that co-operation is essential to building a community together and urged all to be more co-operative in every day living Ladies present found this talk by Mrs Jonah thoroughly enjoyable

Mrs D Zatorski gave an interesting report on the recent Leadership conference she attended at Banff She was enthusiastic in her praise of speakers from Ceylon and India Besides many other noted speakers Mrs Zatorski said the course was interesting educational and well worth the time to attend

Nine resolutions were handled in by the resolution committee from the following Locals Rosevear Pella Fallhaun Chip Lake Myle and Edson All were read and discussed and will be passed on to the Dis trict convention at Stony Plain July 5th

Mr Grieshaich explained that Farm Young Peoples Week is of great value to the youth of our province and should be well attended

A question and answer period followed and numerous charts on the structure of FWIA FFA and Junior FFA were shown and explained These concerned the correct setting up of locals policy resolutions and constitutions

Miss Donna Ivy of Carrot Creek arrived after school and was introduced as candidate for Junior FUA Queen contest Donna asked everyone to support her from these districts and expressed gratitude for the honor bestowed upon her

At the close of business Charles Swan suggested a vote

Wading pool to be undertaken on grant for recreation basis

Mr. Alec Jardine, representing the Kinsmen Parks committee, appearing before Council at their regular meeting in the Town Hall on Tuesday last, requested consideration of the Town in recommending the Kinsmen for a provincial government recreational grant.

The grant in the approximate amount of $3,000 would go towards the construction of a wading pool and sun deck at the Kinsmen Swimming pool. The work would be done by the Town except where volunteer labor by the Kinsmen could be performed.

The committee in turn would recommend to the Province that it undertake to pay to the Town a sum equal to the grant over a period of time. This would ensure that the identity of the pool remains as part of Kinsmen Park.

Mr. Jardine asked if the Motors Ltd. indicating Company would give favorable consideration to such proposal. After some discussion, Council indicated its full support. Council also gave tentative agreement to the placing of acceptable signs at pool by Club.

Present were Mayor W. R. Costello and Councillors W. Gertsmen, L. A. Mahon, F. Clark, J. Scott and P. W. Sheila and eight citizens.

Mr. J. Griffiths addressed Council, on behalf of Waterloo Ward George Hicks and Bette Irene Hicks on the payment of $750.00, on a basis of $1.50 per land sale and $748.50 toward cost of servicing, including connection of water and sewer local improvement, upon undertaking of applicants to erect house value $10,000.00 and delivery of title to CMHC.

The Mayor and secretary were authorized to make transfer lot 17, block 32, to Mr George Maxwell Kilpatrick, upon satisfactory completion of his home.

The resubdivision of existing subdivision parts of south half of block 140 and the north half of block 141, was approved as submitted by the director of Town and Rural Planning.

The tender of Naden Paving Ltd., being total tender in the sum of $58,572.20 for paving of roadway Main Street and lane, was accepted, subject to the final approval of the Minister of Highways.

A discussion took place on the matter of reports to Mayor and Council suffering and shelling below 8th Avenue and the Secretary was directed to prepare a submission to Naden Paving Ltd.

The Mayor and Secretary were authorized to sign agreement, as submitted, with Edson Curling Club providing for lease of premises lot 17 to 20 block 32.

The sum of $60,000.00, being the sum of recreational grant obtained toward costs of Curling club building addition is to be paid to the imperial Bank of Canada $1,903.24 and to the Bank of Nova Scotia $54,096.80 as Edson Curling Club accounts.

Councillor Mills was appointed Deputy Mayor until the first meeting in August.

Clean up week is to be observed May 15th to 20th and the public co-operation is to be sought through notice with water bills.

Report of Building Inspector on condition of house damaged by fire on lot 8, block 36, was read. The Secretary was directed to advise Mr V McLeod that burned shell of building must be demolished.

The Secretary was directed to seek approval and full clearance for burning by Fire Department of shell standing on lot 10 block 18.

The Provincial Sanitary Engineer was advised it is the intention of Council to proceed with construction Main outfall and lagoon system 1961.

Council approved calling for tenders for construction water and sewer on 7th Avenue and 10th Avenue and sewer 12th Avenue immediately. A special meeting of Council is to be called for 7:00 Friday, May 26 for the purpose of opening tenders and other business that may come before Council.

It was decided in consequence of size of certain lots organized, that restrictions be allowed that exact cost house moving lots be imposed. No new barracks must be installed or paid for by owner. Submission of Canadian Legion requesting approval of Council to cut lumber been, held at Memorial Park June 17 was read and Secretary was directed to have applicant apply to the EAAA as lease holders of the park for 1961.

Approval of the Council was granted to the placing of post office trailer lower on Block 5 by Dutton Williams Bros. Ltd on that Company's undertaking of full responsibility and liability.

The Council are to meet as a Committee of the whole to review the town budget as soon as possible after free of firm knowledge of School requisition figure.

Your MP
Dr. Hugh Horner Reports

The big news in Agriculture is the big contract with China for wheat and barley.

Following, in the statement made in the House of Commons in this regard by the supervisor-in Minister of Agriculture the Honorable Alvin Hamilton.

The House will recall that on February 2nd I informed The Honorable Members that a sale of 40 million bushels of wheat and barley valued at approximately $60 million had been contracted between the Canadian Wheat Board and the China Resources Company. I now inform the House that there was an additional sale to China of 2.3 million bushels of wheat valued at $2.7 million for shipment during March to May, 1961.

These connected with shipping grain, through the West Coast ports have made a fine effort to meet these commitments. As a result the grain sold to China for delivery between March and August to be ship loaded ahead of schedule.

Simultaneously with the fulfilling of the first order there have been discussions and finally negotiations between the Canadian Wheat Board and the China Resources Company concerning further amounts of grain that could be made available. Because of the quantities of grain involved and other factors the Canadian Government felt there should be an overall agreement to facilitate orderly marketing.

I am now pleased to report that a Long Term Agreement has been signed.

This Long Term Agreement covers the period of June 1st 1961 to December, 1963. Under this Agreement we have committed ourselves to provide up to 6 million tons of barley, wheat and flour. Of this amount approximately 1 mil lion tons will be barley. To put this into approximate bushels and value, it would approximately be 180 million bushels of wheat and 68.7 million bushels of barley, worth approximately $362 million.

If one adds the previous sales of 28 million bushels of wheat and 12 million of barley since August 1st, one then has the total transaction that could provisionally be expected in the three calendar years 1961 1962 and 1963 will be about 68.8 million bushels of barley with a total approximate trade value of $425.6 million.

I mentioned earlier that the first order of 40 million bushels was being moved satisfactorily. As an extension to the order has been filled a contract to provide additional grain from June 1st to November 30th of this year has been signed. It is the first contract under the Long Term Agreement the amounts are 750,000 tons of wheat, 300,000 tons of barley and 22,500 tons of flour to be shipped mainly from West Coast ports. The equivalent in bushels is 28 million of wheat 12 million of barley and 1.5 million of flour. The estimated value of this order is $60 million.

The terms of payment under the Long Term Agreement are 25 per cent cash and the balance in 270 days.

Honourable Members will appreciate that it is beyond the powers of the Canadian Wheat Board to extend credit facilities for the quantities involved on these transactions. Accordingly the Government, reflecting its intensive efforts to sell grain in volume to new markets is prepared to guarantee to a maximum of $50 million the credit necessary for the Canadian Wheat Board to consider these transactions on a short term credit basis.

I have made it clear that there is a Long Term Agreement. Under that Agreement sales outlined has been agreed. Each future contract will be negotiated as respect to price and quantity.

A sale of this order will spread substantial benefits through the Canadian economy. Not only will it provide a welcome increase in western farm income - but this in turn will release new purchasing power for the goods and services required by farmers from the business community at large. Additionally the sale will generate increased employment for country and terminal elevator operators, railway and dock workers and others engaged in the domestic handling and export movement of grain and flour. It is apparent that new grain sales of this magnitude will add significantly to Canada's total earnings from exports. Business activity in general will therefore be stimulated to a marked extent by the conclusion of this new sales contract with Chi

Need AWA for word addicts

By G. F. MORTIMORE

What — an automated [illegible] asked the girl at the office. A man who drives a spaceship I said.

Well I made a fool of myself because I didn't know that. She said I thought it was part of a space ship or something.

That's one of those new words I can't keep in the dictionary. At night then let's look it up.

I spoke with a feeling of hopeless frustration something like the feeling that a alcoholic must have when he meets an old drinking crony in the street.

Well let's go and have a drink he says heavily. Knowing that once they enter a bar we are headed for it. Then until closing time we are there.

Soon [illegible] we are talking about the world. Then [illegible] we are dealing here with words. Words will inevitably stagger out bump into a policeman and spend the night in a cell.

I got the same pronunciation down then I say. All right let's look it up in the dictionary. I am a word addict and compulsive dictionary read er.

Once I dip into the dictionary I know what lies in store for me. I will be lucky if two or three hours later I [illegible] over the head bleary-eyed and faint about culprits down purple faces [illegible] and adjectives drunk with words.

Slowly I reached down the big black Webster and sensed it near the end thinking that a word like astronaut might be in some section devoted to new words at the back of the book.

But I looked among the "A's" about the worst possible place. This is where many of the strangest words seem to gathered.

For a word addict lunatics among the "A's" is roughly equivalent to dropping through a trapdoor into the nether regions.

I haven't come anywhere near astronaut yet I said.

What on earth is that?

"At a guess I would say a disturbed an ultra-conservative husband visibly [illegible] with [illegible] fresh vegetables that visit the man's home when the wife is absent."

Who Rules?

Not I said. I mention [illegible] words. Where [illegible] used to mean that [illegible] marked shoulds.

It should be the girl in the office said.

I slipped back to the A's. Astronaut [illegible] complete the platform of [illegible] and then [illegible] through the Y's and Z's.

Yuppa ukka can cook. Hi-ho [illegible] valid [illegible] has produced [illegible] and rattles [illegible] Peruvian [illegible] and [illegible] want to know what a [illegible] to look it up for yourself [illegible] confusion [illegible] in the [illegible] and 2) American [illegible]

Elks in Edson for big district meeting

Saturday May 6th was a big day for the Elks of District No 3 and for their auxiliary Lodges the Ladies of the Royal Purple Members of lodges from Drayton Valley Jasper gathered in Edson for their annual district convention

The Ladies of the Royal Purple held their business sessions in the IOOF Hall in the afternoon which was followed by a banquet in the Parish Hall

The Elks held their business sessions under the chairmanship of DDGER Cliff McDougal of Magnolia in the Elks Home Matters of interest to the district were dealt with and it was decided to hold the next annual district convention at Entwistle and the next district banquet at Gainford

Bro Leo Jensen of Entwistle was elected District Deputy Grand Ruler for the ensuing year

In the evening about 200 gathered in the auditorium of the Evergreen School Complex to witness ritualistic work took place, with Entwistle Lodge being declared the winner following very closely by the Hinton Lodge Edson Lodge coming in third place The judges were Provincial President Bro Don Horn of Calgary D D G P E Bro Bro Abel of Red Deer and the past exalted rulers from Drayton

Ladies of the Royal purple from Jasper Hinton and Edson put on some very fine drills which were heartily applauded

Bro George Knight gave information on the provincial convention to be held in Jasper in June

At the close of proceedings presentations of the trophies were made the one for ritualistic work to Entwistle Lodge Membership Trophy to Drayton Valley Lodge and Purple Cross Trophy for highest per capita contributions to the Purple Cross Fund to the Edson Lodge

A bouquet of flowers was presented to Lady Karol Callaghan by members of Edson Elks Lodge in appreciation of services as pianist for the drill team

Following the meeting a school all organized by the Elks home ec. ety was waiting to provide for dancing and delicious buffet luncheon was served

Mayor W R Lester brought greetings to the visiting Elks from the town Dominion Exalted Ruler Steve Bodnar acted as host

H & S ask help with banquet

The Graduation Banquet is to be held Thursday May 25 and the Home and School Association requests volunteers to help serve at the banquet

Help is needed for the afternoon and there's lots and lots of dishes to be washed after the banquet

Please phone Mrs. Mac. Abel at PA3 3250 if you would like to help

Big turnout for sportsmen's dinner

Sports minded Edson men were quite enthusiastic about the sportsmen's dinner held Wednesday evening in the Legion hall sponsored by the Edson Tri-Service Rodeo Association.

Several prominent sports figures attended and circulated among the Edson sports people in this second sportsmen's dinner held in town in as many years.

Chaired by Jim Griffiths for the Tri-Service committee, enlivened by Mayor "Sis Shot" Brunelle and MC'd by CFRN TV's Al Shaver, the entertaining talks by the sportsmen from the city went over big with all the 150 plus fellows who sat down to a delicious dinner served by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion.

Mayor Brunelle earned his gun gun reputation right after the dinner by chopping in even buy steak and knocking an ash tray off a stand in the back of the hall (from the front).

Honored for providing the land for the new CFRN-TV satellite was Henry Woomouth. Said Mayor Brunelle "Mr. Woomouth only asked a nominal figure for the necessary land for the tower as he felt it was a big step forward for the district." A presentation of a barometer was made in recognition of his gesture.

Guests at the head table were presented with fancy jugs made of Edson clay by the Craft Centre as were two local door prize winners.

15 BIRTHDAYS

Wally Urmiak, a member of the Hec Gervais rink of curling fame told the gathering that he has spent 15 of his last 17 birthdays in this community. His birthday falls on June 20 and he has usually been playing ball here on July First.

In addition to Wally who came as a curler, two other members of the winning rink included Hec himself and Vic Raymer. The latter told some of goings-on from the ice side when the rink took the International Smirch champion ships in the auld and this winter. Hec later countered with equal time.

Clark Rex, manager of the Edsmen baseball team, gave an interesting account of how baseball fans schools work and told the audience he hoped to see some tryouts from this district.

Bud Poile of the Edmonton Flyers and a veteran of play with every National Hockey League team except the Can adiens gave an explanation of how things were with the city club this winter while holding out the hope of better things to come.

Hal Pawson, sports editor of the Edmonton Journal said everyone had heard the story that what Edmonton and Ed son need is a second paper but he thought what Edson needs is ONE TV station.

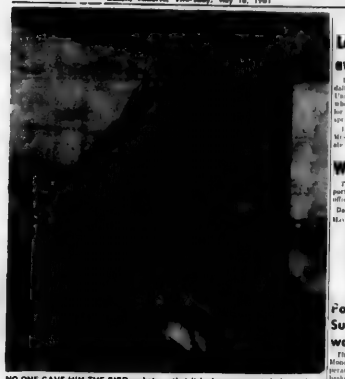
RACE POSSIBLE

Ed Keller gave a lengthy ex planation of harness racing, which is making its appear ance under the auspices of the Prairie Trotting circuit. Re ferring to Edson's half mile track he held out the hope of a possible race meet here sometime in the future.

Bodie Miles of the Edson ton Eskimos football club told the younger sportsmen that an athlete has to have the desire to succeed in his chosen job as well as in sport. He ventured the opinion his club might well get back in the Grey Cup swim this com ing season.

Whether or not it was real ized many present were de cognized at not having a few words from Edson's contri bution to city sport. "Cecil Tiger" Goldstick for did manage to get around and shake a few local hands though.

Proceeds from the affair go towards making a bigger and better Rodeo for the district this August 4 and 5.



NO ONE GAVE HIM THE BIRD — he's got one on his hat. Harold Nichols and the budgie bird perched on his hat caused a considerable amount of interest on main street this week. Strange as it may seem it is an indisputable fact that it had no apparent desire to leave its mobile perch, despite wind, rain and crowded business pieces. P.S. the bird and his master are looking for a house for Harold's family. Leader Photo

Council calls vote on sewer disposal system and trunks

Council decided at its meeting Tuesday night to call for a vote by the property holders on the proposal to borrow $216,600 for an extensive sewer expansion program. Vote has been called for Monday, June 12, from 10 a.m to 7 p.m.

Main part of the sewer project would be the large trunk line along First Avenue which would carry the bulk of the town's sewage to a new lagoon disposal plant south and east of the east railway crossing.

Included in the proposed borrowing are several trunk feeders that would relieve congestion at several points and also provide sewer facilities for Spike Island and expansion in the north west parts of town.

A public meeting has been called for proprietary electors in the Legion Hall on Wednes day, June 7, at which time Councillors will be present to answer questions and discuss the plan with Edson citizens.

The sewer proposal is one made to the town by the firm of Stanley, Grimble, Beddis Health would be hard to ob tain for continued use of the old plant without extensive alterations and it expects would still demand use of a lagoon or other system for a major part of present sewage.

The lagoon system of sew age disposal is a new method of using natural agents in an open ponding system to treat sewage and has been found to work well in other North American locations with cli mates similar to ours.

Property south east of town will have to be acquired for the ponds, which are reported to be relatively odor and nuis ance free to immediate sur roundings. Which is said to be one of major points in fa vor of the lagoon system.

Financing would be through Central Mortgage and Housing supplemented by a grant from the Federal Government of the project is completed within three years.

CALGARY POWER LTD.
SERVING THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

Here's a real saga of the old West, a story that fires the imagination of every Westerner. The building of HORSESHOE, the first major hydro-electric development in the West, is a story of courage and vision that helped to open up this country.

In the early 1900's the only source of hydro power in the West was a small 280 h.p. water wheel plant at the Eau Claire sawmill on the Bow River. However, in 1909 work started on HORSESHOE. Imagine the problems of excavating without modern power equipment. The only power was muscle . . . provided by 200 men with picks and shovels. Horsepower was just that . . . horse drawn slips and fresnos.

Cement came by rail spur from the Canada Cement Plant at Exshaw, and sand and gravel (150 car loads) was hauled in by rail to be fed to the cement mixers. Friendly Stoney Indians dropped into the camp from time to time.

The trials and tribulations were many. At one time the complete coffer dam was washed out by a flood. Slowly, however, the dam took shape and on May 21, 1911 HORSESHOE was completed with a capacity of 20,000 h.p. Here is a lasting memorial to the courage and vision of the men who planned and built the first large hydro-electric development "out West".

Mother milks the cow

by FERN ICE

Should any one come right out and call Mom bull headed, stubborn or set in her ways no kids would be the first to take up the cudgels in her defense.

We like to believe an over dose of adages as a panacea is responsible for a reluctance to part with a notion once it becomes fixed in the mind. Like the time Dad bought the range row with her calf at side Mom took one look at that critter and decided there and then that cow was going to be milked. And like that

She put up a good argument The calf was a registered heifer built on the cow must produce a fabulous amount of cream. The calf was three months old so could very well do without so many vitamins Oh and as she used It was a downright waste to use all of that cream going to a calf that would be just as well off with calf meal and skim milk

Waste not want not" quoted Mother: but to no avail Dad emphatically refused by saying it would be impossible to break in a four year old range cow "While there's a will there's a way" chanted Mom, but her saying did like water off that proverbial duck's back Finally Dad went to work and Mom was left with the chore He was scarcely out of sight before Mom grabbed a pail and headed for the barn mumbling something to the effect "if you want a thing done do it yourself" It was fly time so the cows were in a shed Before the unsuspecting cattle realized what was going on she had grabbed the fat calf and stuffed him into a box stall First job carried out without a hitch

While the mother was busying around the stall worrying about her son's solitary confinement, mom climbed the rear of the cattle out and closed the door Then she poured a pail of chop in a box inside a stanchion and waited Before too long the cow poked in her head to nibble the tempting morsel and Mom dropped the bar in place The cow was her pet saner Step two and all was well

The frightened animal cut a few capers but Mom stayed a distance until bossy finally gave up and started munching the feed Realizing that a bit of kindness might help, Mom began with the softsoap She rubbed the critters neck, scratched behind her ear, that usually gets them; but the cow refused to co-operate She bawled like a Banshee tried lying down, and did her best to get out of the confines of the stanchion Mom decided the bigger they are the harder they fall" so she opened the barn door to let in a breath of fresh air, and waited till the cow calmed down and resumed her dinner Finally all was calm, so mother grabbed the pail, dashed into the stall, and shoving her head against the cow's side, began milking The poor cow trembled and her legs became so weak it looked like she was going to collapse from sheer fright but Mom had started so she had no intentions of stopping Just when Mother was becoming overconfident and decided to change positions that cow cut loose You never in your life saw or heard such a commotion Whamo - There goes the milk pail flying across the barn then a well aimed series of kicks connected with Mom's person, Next the cow had Mom approved against the wall and was standing on her foot Mom was running like a ve captain and the cow was de ing likewise in her best bovine vocabulary

We don't know if the chor had given bossy added strength or if her repeated efforts had weakened the stanchion but whatever the reason the stanchion gave way and the cow made a lunk for freedom Remember Mother was still in the stall so when the cow and the ch an ti ished stanchion went past mom was knocked from her feet and landed on the floor

We kids rushed to her aid helped a bewildered, to put it mildly milkmaid to her feet After checking and finding no broken bones, Mother re leased the calf and said "Th well nothing ventured noth ing gained, I wouldn't be sur prised if that critter grew near milk anyway"

Edson's next step

The proposal to construct a modern large capacity sewer system for Edson would seem to be the next logical step in providing for orderly growth

The completely gravitational system is estimated to provide for at least a population of 16,000, which will take us several years to achieve

A public meeting has been called to discuss the advantages of the project and all citizens who pride themselves on being up on their town affairs should make a point to attend

This coupled with a Main Street paving and curbing program, partly financed by Provincial Government grants this year, will see our town stride ahead in becoming the attractive town we all want it to be

Young Peoples' Choice

Every young man and woman leaving school is looking forward to a happy life, but there is wide room for individual choice of the things that will make life happy

Long, long ago men and women moved from birth to death as it were on a stream, obeying unquestionable laws, taboos and totems Today, we are more subject to the burden of choice. No warm blooded youths want to go to sleep in the bottom of the boat, letting the elements carry them wherever chance leads Instead, they wish to sit up and learn to sail into the wind and against the thrust of the tide, with stars to steer by They wish to be if not masters of their fate at least pilots of their craft

In a country vessel all the oceans are open, all the rivers explorable all the ports beckon Only choice and sailing skill are needed

Life is an endless succession of choices When you go to a ball game you reject an infinite number of other things you might have done with your time When you sit up to enjoy a late movie you reject sleep in its favor When you spend a quarter on a soda you reject all else you might have bought with the quarter Every choice involves your sense of values

Life is also a set of skills Your education and your preparation need to be suitable to your hopes and the greatness of the enterprise upon which you are embarking

This was the greatest question of antiquity as it is of the modern world Men and women have sought in many ways to seek a happy life Some have called before and are unable to write them a could you please thank them for us"

Yours very truly

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

My husband and I, along with several other couples, had decided not to go to the formal this year because of the extremely poor music in the past However, since reading the article in last week's Leader re the parents being required to this year in regards to music, we have changed our minds I fail to see why the teenagers prefer a rock 'n roll band Surely the girls must realize how ungainly they look rockin 'n rollin' around the floor in a formal gown

The formal gowns are an other point in question I'm very sorry to see the longer more graceful gowns disappearing, to be replaced by short, short dresses that display many bony knees Very few girls have legs nice enough to do credit to the knee length style However I suppose it is easier on dad's pocket book Hardly formal though A short mini years ago when I graduated, the girls all wore floor length gowns

In closing, I would like to point out the Edson teens didn't have to go all the way to Edmonton to hire a good band The Trumps from Hinton is an orchestra that both young and old seem to enjoy indeed, from the crowd who attended the Fireman's Ball

Lend back to FHS students, and we will see you at the formal

Hutterite problem not solved

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON—The provincial government is planning to take a new tack on its efforts to solve Alberta s tothish Hutterite problem. Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke announced last week the government plans to hold a series of meetings with Hutterite leaders, aimed at reaching a better understanding between the province and the sect.

The minister's announcement didn't say so, but the decision to meet with the Hutterites would seem to indicate new legislation passed last year is failing to solve the problem Last year's legislation established a communal property board, which deals directly with Hutterite applications for new colonies or for additions to existing colonies.

At the time the bill was before the Legislature government members said such a board could go a long way toward solving the furore that inevitably increases when the Hutterites want to expand. The board was supposed to help the sect find suitable land in areas where there would be a minimum of local opposition.

It hasn't worked that way. To date every board hearing of a Hutterite application has been marked by strong opposition. In some cases local residents have threatened to take the law into their own hands if new colonies were established

Since the communal property board went into business last year, four new colonies have been approved. Two were authorized last week, they will bring the total number in the province to 80.

The Hutterite problem is one of the thorniest the government faces. The Hutterites whose religion requires them to live communally, want only to be left alone. But wherever they go to set up their rural cells local residents complain. Farmers object to the amount of land they take up, and both businessmen say they contribute nothing to the community's economy because they are too self sufficient and thrifty.

In many cases the opposition boils down to something even more basic—they don't conform to our way of life. A long range program aimed at integrating the Hutterites into Alberta society is held out most often as the best solution to the problem

It may be the best solution, but integration is the last thing the Hutterites want. They won t send their children to public schools, as the government has compromised by allowing them to set up special schools on the colonies The colony schools follow the standard Alberta curriculum, but teachers say the after school training given children by colony elders counteracts any schooling the children receive.

The Hutterites really want no part of our way of life They have no use for television, radio, automobiles or fancy homes But they are efficient farmers (more efficient than many of their neighbors). They buy the latest in farm machinery, use the modern methods of farming.

Whether the impending talks will bring results is a question that remains to be answered As Mr Hooke pointed out, it hasn't been done before "It seems sensible, and can't do any harm," he said.

Actually, the government may be in a bad position to bargain with the Hutterites on anything but the Hutterite's terms. There is a strong possibility that Alberta's communal property laws would not stand up in court if the Hutterites ever decided to test them

The Alberta Communal Property Act is aimed directly at restricting landholdings of the black-clad Hutterite Brethren, and as such it could be ruled legislation against a religious minority.

The car license deadline (extended version) has now passed, and government officials are asking themselves if the extension was really necessary. During the final week sales showed a crawl Most motorists had purchased their licences by the original deadline of April 30

Then why the extension? A new theory (extended version) is making the rounds. It goes like this The licensing branch purposely published low figures as sales, in an effort to frighten motorists into buying licences and avoiding the last minutes rush. Without consulting branch officials, the rubber stamp published figures, panicked at the thought of 5000 or so motorists minding the deadline, and extended it. As we said, this is only speculation, but isn't it an interesting thought to ponder?

Dear Sirs:

I have been told there was a news item recently to the effect that I had retired and moved to the Coast.

If it was printed in your paper, I wish you would deny that rumor as it is not true. I am still practising at the above address and have no immediate plans for retirement

The rumor whether it was mentioned in your paper or not has given me a lot of embarrassment and I would like to let it be known that it is a bad mistake.

Yours sincerely,
H H C Hoag M D

Editor's note We did not publish a news report along this line, but we join with Dr Hoag's many friends and former patients from the Cool Branch in wishing him many years of practice in the city

"Do you think plastic surgery could improve my face tonight?"

"No."

"What do you suggest?"

Much against her will the little old lady consented to spend a day in the city People bustled the buses were crowded and the multitude of street signs bothered her As she wearily climbed the front step of her own front porch she said "Shake alive' I'm so glad to get home I'm glad I went."

Civil servants leave jobs

Last week a former civil servant, retired to the Coast a dozen years ago, returned to Edmonton for a holiday. Of course, he decided to pay a visit to the Legislative Building to look up a few old friends, and learned that offices still open at 9.30, just as they did when he retired.

He got down to the Building about 9.30 and to his amazement found the happy civil servants by hundreds, all bonded to their offices. "This must be a good place to work when they arrive ahead of starting time," he mused, and decided to look in again next day

So, next day he got to the Legislative Building at 8.30 o'clock, and to his amazement he found hundreds of civil servants already on hand. These just arriving were frantically driving through the grounds to the parking lanes.

Why this wonderful transformation from the attitudes of a few years ago? wondered the retired civil servant. "Is it higher salaries, better pensions, more coffee breaks or the new classification plan that I heard about?" He decided to ask one of the super

"Tell me," he said, "just what makes the average civil servant of today so anxious to get to the office in the morning? When I was here they came drifting in at the last minute Now I find them at work thirty minutes ahead of starting time My, they must be a happy and contented bunch."

"Afraid you've got it wrong, old timer," said the supervisor "It's not salaries or coffee breaks they're happy about. What brings them here at 8 00 a m is necessity. If they don't get here by 8.30 they can't find a place to park their cars."

CALGARY'S VICTORIA PARK STEAM PLANT was in operation by 1910 with 30 steam units which consumed large amounts of coal. After the completion of Calgary Power's Horseshoe Plant in 1911, the City's power requirements were met by both hydro and steam generation. Victoria Park Plant was leased to Calgary Power from 1920 until being dismantled in 1953.

That day in May, 1911

Without stopping to make a speech or pose for a picture, Mayor John W Mitchell inserted a connecting plug which immediately brought the new hydro-electric might of the Calgary Power Company's plant at Horse Shoe in the city It was an epic event in the life of Calgary In the words of a spectator editor: "To-day Calgary is released from coal-made power She has stepped into the ranks of those fortunate cities to which the streams and waterfalls pay tribute "

The date was May 21, 1911 Good fat steers were worth 4½ cents a pound, dairy butter 30 cents a pound and pork in sides, 11 cents. Anyone with $1200 and the will to spend it luxuriously could buy a fine touring car complete with top and windshield Immigrants were flocking to Western Canada and Calgary's real estate boom was booming more frenzied every day The city's people were catching a vision of industrial expansion and urban greatness.

One obvious civic need was a better supply of power. In the earliest years the community was glad enough to have the uncertain power provided by the Peter Prince water wheels and then there was the more costly power from a city-owned steam plant But neither of these was adequate for an expanding city with industrial ambitions

For years there had been talk about harnessing the Bow or Elbow River and giving the young city the "power to grow" at reasonable price But such an undertaking would require engineering skills large amounts of capital and exceptional courage most of the good ideas did not get beyond the stage of enamouring

One plan however, began to take shape in 1909 It was the building of a dam at Horse Shoe Falls on the Bow River and a working force of between a hundred and two hundred men using picks and shovels and wheel barrows was kept busy for almost two years One company started that ambitious operation and another finished it and brought the power to Calgary Completing the huge task was Calgary Power Company Limited with which Albertans were to develop an appreciative familiarity Although organized in the East, it soon acquired a western character with Calgary's R. B. Bennett as president for 10 years

Only a few people witnessed the official act of connecting the Calgary Power Company's Horse Shoe plant with the city circuit The fact was that

THE ORIGINAL HORSESHOE PLANT WAS COMPLETED IN MAY, 1911 with a capacity of 14,000 horse power. Shortly after its completion, R. B. Bennett, President of the Company, announced to the shareholders that demand for power had exceeded expectations of a year before and necessitated a 6'000 horse power addition at Horseshoe. From this initial 20,000 horse power plant, the hydro capacity of Calgary Power Ltd. has grown almost 2,000 per cent during its fifty years of service in Alberta.

Water Safety Rally called for May 24

"Think don't sink" is the Red Cross water safety slogan for the coming season of family fun at our many lakeshores and our pool

All who 'take to the water' should know the water safety rules and should be familiar with a method of artificial resuscitation.

In this connection a water safety rally has been planned for Wednesday May 24 at 7.30 p.m. at the Legion Hall.

An excellent film on the mouth to mouth method of artificial resuscitation will be shown as well as an actual demonstration of this method of revival.

A member of the Edson RCMP Detachment plans to outline the requirements of lifesaving equipment and safety rules for motor boat operation A film on boat safety will be shown

Mr Gordon Welch who is our swimming supervisor is on hand again this year will introduce the pool staff and will outline the swimming program at the pool for this season.

Copies of the Red Cross Water Safety manual will be on sale for 35 cents per copy The manual includes colorful drawings of all phases of water safety as well as drawings of the various swimming strokes. Every family would be advised to purchase one of these informative booklets.

To help you 'think don't sink' bring the family to the Water Safety Rally at the Legion Hall Wednesday May 24, at 7.30 p.m

THE HOMEMAKER

Modern Household appliances, wonderful as they are have not taken all the work out of housework. The aching back, tired feet and legs are all too frequent for the homemakers, especially the mother of young children. Such efforts of fatigue show up not only in physical discomfort but in emotional reaction and ineffective handling of the work to be done.

Your own body constitutes your most important item of household equipment. It is well worth the effort to understand how the body functions in work and to develop skill in using the body effectively.

Good posture is the basic law of effortless use of the body in housework. There are three major body weights the head the chest and the hip sections. If proper balance is maintained so that these three centres are aligned then all are over 1 b.o. bine support - the hip section. When natural balance is maintained a minimum of muscular effort and strain is required to hold the body upright.

Applying this to Housework

To lift baby from the floor go down with a deep knee bend rather than by bending the back. Then rise lifting the baby as part of your own weight by straightening the legs. The muscles of the legs and thighs are long and strong and can do the lifting job better than the small muscles of the back.

Hold any object that you lift or carry as close to the body as possible.

Think of ways to avoid lifting. A basket of damp clothes will have to be lifted place the basket on a bench before adding the damp clothes (clothes are twice as heavy when they are wet as dry).

The energy cost of reaching is high. To reach to a height of 50 inches above the floor requires twice as much energy as to reach to a height of 40 inches or to 72 inches requires four times as much. Reaching low was even more costly to a height of 2 inches above the floor need 10 times as much energy as to the 50 inch height. Endeavor to place articles of most frequent use at convenient levels.

MacKay wins two in schedule opener

By MEL SOLTYS

The 1961 North Western Baseball League schedule opened last Sunday, May 14 with only two of the six teams seeing action. At Edson's Memorial Ball Park the defending champions and three time winners of the league crown, the MacKay Braves, swept the double-header from the hosting Edson Athletics by scores of 6-4 and 12-6.

The games at Mayerthorpe between the Whitecourt Eagles and Mayerthorpe Imperials were postponed due to cold weather and wet grounds. The other scheduled doubleheader between the Jasper Panthers and Hinton Hi-Brites was also rained out at Jasper by that town's club brass because of mid wrath er conditions

Much controversy has arisen out of the Hinton ball being called off before the encounters with Edson. At this game will go into the books as a postponed doubleheader if not, four points will be allotted to the local Hi-Brites who in some cases to have the upper hand.

The discrepancy arose when various Jasper officials contacted both the league president and the Hinton ball club in state that weather conditions were not feasible for the slated games. After numerous phone calls to Jasper and president Bessie Hinton showed up in Jasper with nine dressed regulars and an umpire who had filed a report in Beach on the playing conditions etc

BARNES MULLS THREE MYTHS

At Edson, the MacKay Braves relied mostly on the steady pitching of Bill Barker and the strength, of Charlie Gallagher's game winning two run homer to edge out the homebown A's 6-4 in the first game of the twin set Barker, a right hander who has seen limited action in previous games with the Braves, scattered three hits over the route, struck out at least one batter in every inning he had eleven in route the distance for the visitors to take the win for MacKay

WALES HURT ATHLETICS

The Braves took advantage of control trouble by Edson's pitcher Kent Craig, out for the first time after a four year lay-off, to score three runs in the first inning on four Athletic hits and a hit batter Craig settled down and saw his teammates come back to score two runs in the second inning and one more in the third to tie the game at 3-3. Singles by Reg Gerlitz and Wild rose Barker, a wild pitch by Barker and an error resulted in the A's scoring a brace in the second

Calvin Rowan scored the third and tying run when he singled, was sacrificed on to second by Bob Smolanich, and crossed the plate on a throwing error by MacKay. Fred Dmytriw put the Braves ahead in the top of the fourth inning when he advanced home after Craig had banged the bases on three walks and allowed Bill Barker a sacrifice infield hit. Bob Smolanich's second sacrifice hit of the afternoon scored Ken Antonenko to tie the game up only to set the stage for Charlie Gallagher's two run shot over the left field fence in the top of the sixth frame to give the Athletics in order in the next two frames

2ND GAME GOES EXTRA INNINGS

The see-saw battle continued on into the second game with both teams exchanging leads on different occasions The Athletics, down 4-2 going into their bottom half of the fifth inning, pounced across three runs on singles by Ken Antonenko and Bob Smolanich, a sacrifice fly by Reg Gerlitz, and a two-out two RBI single by Whif Oliverbrite, to go ahead 6-4 That's the way it stood until the top of the seventh when, with two out and the bases empty, Ted Dyc blooped a single into shallow left field and advanced to second on an

a wild pitch by Gerlitz Bill Barker then came through with a smash single through the box and Dyc scampered home with the tying run The Athletics just failed to get that one back and send a good crowd home happy in their bottom of the inning

With two out, Bob Smolanich got on as a result of a bobbled ground ball and advanced to third base when Reg Gerlitz slammed out a double to deep centre field The next batter, Whif Oliverbrite, bounced a slow grounder to third sacker Brian Welsh and Welsh's perfect throw got the Edson runner out by half a stride.

That forced the game into extra innings and the roof fell in on the A's when they committed two costly errors to open the top of the eighth inning A fast ball, walk, single, another walk and two hits, one a triple by Dan Young off reliever Bob Smolanich resulted in the Braves scoring seven runs to put the game far out of reach Edson scored one run in their bottom of the frame

Charlie Gallagher went the distance for the Braves and in doing so, set a North Western Baseball League record as he struck out eight Edson Athletics batters in the eight full innings he worked Reg Gerlitz took the loss for Edson He worked seven and one-third innings struck out thirteen MacKay batters al lowed eleven hits and passed one.

Elks Sports Day set; to be two day affair

JASPER

All six teams which comprise the North Western Baseball League - Edson Athletics, MacKay Braves, Hinton Hi-Brites, Jasper Panthers, Mayerthorpe Imperials and Whitecourt Eagles - will see action this coming Sunday and Monday, May 21 and 22, when the Jasper Elks Lodge hold their annual Sports Day and Ball Tournament in Jasper.

The tournament draws get underway on Sunday when the Hi-Brites face the hometown Jasper Panthers at 1 p.m. The Edson Athletics and Whitecourt Eagles tangle at 3:30 p.m. to close out that day's ball games.

On Monday, the MacKay Braves and Mayerthorpe Imperials open the day with a game at 12 noon. One team will receive a bye into the final round, with the draw for same coming between the Jasper-Hinton and Edson-Whitecourt games on Sunday. Two hundred dollars in first prize money while second place of one hundred dollars and third prize money of fifty dollars rounds out the tournament's purse awards.

The tournament was won last year by the Jasper Panthers, who defeated the MacKay Braves in the final game.

NWBL Sheets

By MEL SOLTYS

About this time of year last season, Andy Skaar, then coach and manager of the MacKay Braves, announced that this would be his last season with the Braves It sounded hard to believe at the time and it still is, but "apparently" Mr Skaar is keeping well with his words. Last Sunday at Edson when the Edson Athletics and MacKay Braves met in a league doubleheader, Andy was out of a Brave uniform He helped umpire the first game in that traditional "Skaar" manner and then sat in the stands to watch MacKay win their second straight game of the afternoon.

With his announcement arriving at the coach of the Braves, Andy leaves quite an impressive record behind him in league and local fast pitch baseball. In his baseball proceedings he was involved with before, the N W B L originated back in 1927.

Under him, MacKay has won the league championship crown three times and never have they finished lower than third place in regular season play He wasted quite some time for it to happen but last year when his team captured first prize money in the annual MacKay Baseball Tournament it marked the first time that the Braves have walked off with top honors in their own tournament.

Congratulations Andy on a job well done during those many years.

Edson Rasmussen fastest at Speedway trials

If Sunday's time trials at Edmonton's Speedway Park were any indication of things to come, Hinton's Edson Rasmussen is away to a good season

Heading the three cars that turned up in the Class A trials Edson went the quarter mile hop in 19.94 seconds seven seconds faster than his closest competitor

MILK PRODUCTION COSTS

Some dairy farm research has been done to find out the labor costs of milk production. Most startling of these findings is the great drop in labor per cow as the herd size increases.

Distribution of man labor shows approximately 30% for milking, 15% for feeding 8% for cleaning barn or parlor and 10% for cleaning equipment, with the remainder going to feed, preparation of feed, bedding the cows and preparing equipment used up the rest of the time. The interesting things about the studies showed that labor cost varied from 18% to 40% of total costs and that large herds had low labor costs per cow.

Herds producing milk with 12 cows or less averaged 147 hours of labor per cow. Herds with 35 cows or more averaged 62 hours of labor per cow, and this is a great saving in labor.

Size of herd has three possible effects. It divides the method or type of labor, such as preparing to milk and cleaning up after milking over larger numbers. It makes possible and worthwhile to adopt all the labor saving devices and methods. And it also surveys the non productive use of labor such as excessive grooming, pampering and admiring the animals.

Those figures show in part at least why we're moving in the direction of specialization right in this district, and why those with only a few of each of many types of livestock are having a tough time making ends meet.

EVERY FARMER'S BUSINESS

Tractor safety is every farmer's business every day. Simple and basic are two of the main causes of those accidents—fatigue that numbs the power to reason clearly and react quickly and haste which forces a man to take chances that he knows may have dangerous results. An operator must be on his toes all of the time he is operating a farm tractor if he is to prevent an accident. Prevention is basically the only aim of tractor safety.

During spring operations three types of accidents occur much too frequently. Two of these have to do with tractor tipping and the third is when the operator is crushed by losing control of his tractor while adjusting or hitching an implement. Consider the tipping accidents.

Side hill work is often necessary, but every precaution must be taken to see that the low wheel does not fall into a soft spot, or the high wheel run over a rock or root. Where wheel width is adjustable both back and front wheels should be remembered that either a narrow gauge or tricycle type steering makes a tractor more unstable on sidehills.

The second type of tipping accident is when the tractor rears, or tips backwards. The most common cause of this accident is using "home made traction" lashing a log or timber to the drive wheels of the tractor and then attempting to move ahead. In the time it takes for the rear wheels to make one quarter revolution all control of the machine is lost. Other reasons for tipping backwards are hitching too high on the tractor, starting with a jerk or trying to start a heavy load on an uphill grade.

Hitching and adjusting accidents generally cause crushing, although being dragged by the implement in fairly rare cases.

Dr. Hugh Horner Reports

Public Works have always been a major item in construction in our country. In other years I have often felt that too much of this was done in the larger centres and in 1957, we have developed a program of building such public buildings as post offices and RCMP barracks in the smaller centres.

In these three years we in Jasper Edson have received new RCMP barracks in Evansburg and Hinton. Tenders are now out for a new RCMP barracks in Edson. New post offices have been built in Barrhead Whitecourt and Wildwood.

These public buildings are necessary for the Government and bring jobs and money to a community. It should also be pointed out that the Federal Government pays a great deal of taxes in the towns in which they are situated.

Besides buildings the Federal Government builds wharfs and docks after certain lakes where either commercial or tourist traffic is heavy enough. In this regard, two years ago we built a $35,000 wharf at Wabasum. Repaired federal wharfs at Seba Beach and did extensive stone clearing at Alberta Beach.

A wedding ring is like a tourniquet — it stops circulation

Those mishaps are caused by stepping off a tractor to adjust a trailed implement or trying to control a tractor from the ground while backing a machine. Both these practices are extremely dangerous. The time saved is negligible don't take a chance stop and do the job the safe way.

These are only three of the common, seasonal hazards of driving a tractor, and there are numerous others that must be constantly guarded against. Constant vigilance is the password to tractor safety. The life that is saved will almost certainly be your own. Tractor accidents can happen to you it is not always the other fellow.

Hon. Willmore to attend Cadomin meeting

Word is received that the Hon. N. A. Willmore minister of Lands and Forest, will be in attendance at the next meeting of the Cadomin Development and Tourist Association to be held this Friday, May 19 at Cadomin.

It is expected Mr Willmore will speak to the meeting on the government's plans for the area.

The Cadomin group was organized some time ago to determine what to do to attract tourists and industry into the now comparatively dead Coal Branch area. They feel there is both tourist and industrial potential in the area and are doing what they can to let people know of it.

Chairman of the meetings is B. Pete Smith, who has always taken a great deal of interest in the organization and is one of its most enthusiastic boosters. It is hoped that the meeting on Friday will be attended by a number of people from Hinton.

My husband got me a bracelet that he said would make my friends turn green with envy . . . but the bracelet beat them to it.

HIS WORSHIP MAYOR W. R. BRUNELLE gets his certificate from Deputy Director of Training for Alberta J. Henderson (left) Friday evening after qualifying for the basic orientation course in emergency measures. Looking on is Edson Director D. Hodge. Tips on Touring

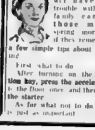
By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority



Women drivers will have less trouble with the fairly easy on those moist spring mornings if they remember a few simple tips about starting.

First what to do

After turning on the ignition key, press the accelerator to the floor once and then use the starter.

As for what not to do this is just as important.

Don't pump the accelerator! They will make starting harder while trying to start. It has the same effect as overchoking or flooding.

If you do forget and do pump the gas pedal possibly flooding the engine the solution is patience. Get out and walk around for five or ten minutes. Then try it again. Be right way.

If you do have trouble starting don't be too quick to blame it on wet wires. Wet weather can make the wires damp but it rarely the cause of the start problem. If wires are it has merely helped identify other troubles.

Don't overlook the possibility that your car may need a thorough servicing. Wet weather

Census of Population coming during June

Canada's population rose to 18,040,000 at the end of 1960, according to estimates by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. That figure is based on the population census of 1956 along with records since then of migration, births and death. Such estimates for Canada and the provinces are highly accurate in the years immediately following a census, but they tend to become less accurate as the census base year recedes into the past. Hence the need for accurate up-to-date counts which can only be obtained by means of a census.

Annual and monthly vital statistics on births and deaths measure current changes in Canada's population. But the results of these characteristics only be assessed through periodic inventories in the form of a general census. Furthermore, a host of facts are available in detail only from a comprehensive census.

Among these are age, language, education and employment characteristics. Each question asked in the census has its vital use. Age distribution for example, are essential to school authorities in judging future needs for teachers and schools.

START MAY 31

Midnight of May 31 is the chosen hour of the census. That doesn't mean Canadians will be disturbed at midnight by the rap of the census taker. Census officials, have a more workable plan. The actual census taking will be 4th June ! in all parts of Can ada except the for north. The bulk of counting is expected to be finished in cities in two weeks, and in rural areas in three weeks

Because of the hour, babies born after midnight of May 31 are not to included in the tabulations, even if the census taker arrives in mid June. And the people who die after May 31 are to be included in the count.

In isolated areas, dog sled teams and park horses will have to be used in previous censuses a plane has had to be chartered to reach four or five people. And planes will be chartered again when necessary. It's cheaper than sending two men in a canoe for a two week trip. For their part, the RCMP will take the census in the far north, they know where the trappers, live and can find them more easily

In less northern but still isolated areas census takers must know the country or be supplied with a guide In Labrador and the far north census taking had to begin in the winter because of the difficulties of the terrain Some returns from Labrador in fact arrived in Ottawa as early as February And not all of Canada's population will be living in Canada come June 1, but everyone including diplomats serving men and merchant seamen abroad must be reached

Here is another headache of census taking in cities A family may leave Halifax by train, for example May 31 and arrive in Vancouver June 2 just after the census taker has passed his neighborhood This race is perhaps the most difficult of all to reach. Ho any Canadian not reached by a census taker will be asked through general announcement to contact local census officials as he, too, can be included in the population count.

WHAT QUESTIONS WILL BE ASKED?

The 1961 census, among other things, is designed to provide a detailed and up to date picture of family size migrations of population, and income.

The main population forms contains 20 questions. Fifteen forms with be gathered on everyone, ranging from birthplace and education to religion and language Two additional facts on employment will be asked of those 15 and over. And men over 25 years will be asked if they had wartime service in Canadian or allied forces

Employment questions will ask Canadians whether they worked during the previous week looked for work during the week, or had a job at any time in the previous twelve months Other questions will ask the number of hours usually worked per week, the type of business or industry and the kind of work performed by the individual

A supplementary series of eight questions will be asked at every fifth household of those 15 and over The first question in this series constitutes the first large scale survey of Canadian migration and family size in 20 years. Three questions ask occupants, whether they were living in the same municipality at the date of the June 1, 1956 census, and if not, where they were living at that time.

Two questions are for married, widowed and divorced women, who will be asked the date of their first marriage and how many children they have had. Three questions will provide valuable information on recent trends in family size in Canada particularly in view of evidence of marked changes taking place since World War II Similar questions were last asked in the 1941 census.

The final three questions for one household in five ask for breakdowns of income from all sources, including wages or salary earnings from business or professional practice, family allowances, pensions, bond and bank interest and income from investments These supplement the questions about salaries and wages asked by, which will be asked at all households The answers will provide statistics of income by locality, age group, occupation, education and other factors.

Answers of individuals will be kept strictly confidential Census takers are sworn to secrecy The questions on income will be completed in private by the respondent, and the document sealed until it reaches the census office. And at the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, figures are immediately translated into nonsense data on magnetic tape and fed in to an electronic computer.

In the words of the census proclamation: "Information relating to individuals shall not be used in connection with matters such as taxation military or jury service, the compulsion of school attendance the regulations of immigration or the enforcement of any national, provincial or municipal law or bylaw."

Calgary Aquarium adding specimens

A recent expedition to the Pacific Coast by Elmer Taylor, curator of the Calgary Aquarium and Peter Bueschkaper, aquarist, has yielded nearly 250 new specimens for display at the Calgary Aquarium

Mr. Taylor and his assistant spent five days collecting specimens in the waters off Vancouver, and of Tacoma, Washington, to enlarge the aquarium's marine exhibit and replace the few earlier losses.

The exhibits they obtained included several large dog fish sharks, many small fish and snakeskin sea creatures invertebrates such as star fish, sea anemones and many others Packed with a small mon amount of luckily ony gunard water in plastic containers inside waxed cartons the specimens weighed a total of half a ton when they were flown back to Calgary by Trans Canada Airlines DC-8 jet and Vanguard passenger planes.

Most of the specimens are now on display at the Aquarium, together with a 60 pound octopus which was presented to Mr Taylor as a gift from the Vancouver Aquarium

The expedition had a supplementary dividend while he was at the coast Mr Taylor was able to prove that octopus can be transported long distances in a state of suspended animation

This theory has been advanced by officials of the Tacoma Wash., aquarium and of partial morals that the Tacoma Aquarium adjacent to Tacoma harbor where octopus abound, could supply the crews turns to many other aquaria throughout Canada and the United States

Mr Taylor travelled from Vancouver to Tacoma while he was at the coast to attend the world competition of skin diver teams diving for octopi The teams captured 18 specimens, one of which Mr Taylor volunteered to transport in a state of suspended animation to Vancouver

The creature was packed in oxygenated salt water in a plastic container over board recently it doesn't pay to go to sleep

According to snatches of a conversation over board recently it doesn't pay to go to sleep

Two young fellow, or so it would seem decided to steal forty winks and while gainfully employed on slumber his pals decided on a prank involving more concrete evidence of their efforts

Result, free board and room for a drugged period of time, for the sleepers and busier active pals

That's what we would call caught napping

and placed in a plastic container for the six hour trip back to Vancouver

There Mr Taylor was able to revive it by supplying art ificial respiration This involved working to re-circulate water to pump the creature's gills for two hours before it returned to its normal state

Although the octopus died the following day as a result of poisoning from the copper sulphate used in its capture there was no doubt of the success of the suspended animation state for transporting it , Curator Taylor said

Though the Vancouver Aquarium generously gave us one of its own large octopi for display here we intend to obtain another one from Tacoma if possible, shipping it by air in a state of suspended animation he said

Mr Taylor spent one day at the coast aboard the Vancouver Aquarium's 30 foot boat, the Aquarius, setting herring baited lines for dog fish shark and flounders til the four sharks taken, two were larger than any ever fished from aboard the Aquarius

For the time being both are being held in reserve tanks at the Calgary Aquarium The other two are on display here

Baited lines also captured specimens of large sculpin, and skate, while a session at trawling with a large mesh net dragged across sand bars from behind a small boat scooped up lemon soles, flounders, red pout and other small snakelike fish

At low tide in the Vancouver harbors Mr Taylor and his assistant were able to dig starfish and sea anemones from exposed rocks and tidal pools They also used a scoop net in shallow off shore water to obtain pipefish tubesnout shiners sticklebask and small flat fish The invertebrates, sea stars anemones, hermit crabs snails and sea cucumbers were taken in Tacoma

Doesn't pay to go to sleep

Protest careless use of fireworks for celebration

Laws in themselves are not sufficient to eliminate the tragic annual toll of serious injuries which still occur throughout Canada each Victoria Day as a result of the sale purchase and subsequent use of fireworks

Thus the recent recommendation of adequate laws at all levels of government backed by severe punishment for offenders can bring about the desired results

In making this statement a spokesman for the Canadian Underwriters Association not ed that in the United States more persons have been killed in fireworks during Independence Day celebrations than were killed during the entire Korean conflict.

The U.S. might all stand to take precautions against their children becoming fireworks statistics.

Those who claim that fireworks are not dangerous might consider a few of last year's accident reports collected by the National Security Council. Persons of Baltimore A four year old was struck in the eye with a cap propelled by plastic firework toy.

Doctors were unable to save his sight A so-called harmless sparkler burned both eyes of a 12 year old girl. A home made grenade made both eyes and burned the hands of a 10 year old boy who

Irksome curfew

It was news to several old timers and to many Red Deer citizens, but there is in existence in the city a by-law requiring children under 16 years of age, unless accompanied by a parent to be home by 9 p.m.

The matter was brought up at city council meeting on Monday by Ald Stan Barton, and indications are that the RCMP will be asked to check infractions of the by-law.

The curfew by-law is probably a relic of the war, and it should have been scrapped long ago. It has long outlived its usefulness, and it is a surprise to find the Council suggesting that it should be enforced. Their attitude is Victorian, to say the least.

The bringing up of children is still the responsibility of the parents and not of the city father. If the parents are so neglectful of their responsibility as to allow young children to roam the streets after what is considered a proper bedtime, it is not the place of the RCMP to shoo them home, unless they are convinced that the children are in danger of breaking a more serious law than the curfew.

While the Council is obviously concerned about the laxity of parents, it decides they should avoid being branded as old maiden aunts.

With the long summer days just ahead of us the suggestion that children of 14 and 15 should be chased home by a cop is not going to win a great deal of favor with the parents. Children are bad dogs to be imprisoned if they stray after hours.

Such a curfew would mean that children would be barred from the theatre if the show finished after nine o'clock. Often, parents who find the vigor of young people a little wearing during the holiday season, pack them off to a show for a couple of hours of peace and quiet. Children would have to make an early return from the lakes and the ball games. There would be no visiting of friends and listening to record players in the cool of a summer evening.

It would have been better to forget the by-law and leave the rounding up of the younger children to the common sense of the RCMP. Naturally, if an officer sees a boy of seven or ten wandering about the streets at ten or eleven o'clock at night he would be anxious to chase him home. But enforcement of a curfew is irksome and undemocratic, and places too another burden on the already over worked RCMP. — Red Deer Advocate

Weather sniffers from the Prairie farms

Poem for

"What do you know? it's raining!" "The dry spell is broken."

We complain about the weather, "We told we want it hot always wanting what is not" but isn't it lucky many moist does not control the weather?

Complaints over excessive moisture always remind of us of our youth on the dried out prairies. Farmers would get their crops in early allowing seed to germinate before the soil dried out. A good warm prairie rain would warm the soil and before you know it the grain was up.

There is nothing so green as these first shoots of bright grain. Acre upon acre of beautiful level land, the rich red soil in our province, but luxuriaty.

In less time than it takes to tell it, moisture, the source of winter has been drawn from the ground by incessant wind and scorching sun, grain has shriveled to a pitiful brittle brown, and the farmer's hopes once again have been dashed.

Even the small children learn to scan the skies for rain clouds. We are of the belief that there is no forecaster, like the prairie son. He will stand outside and sniff the dusty air.

Then with a wide grin announce "There is rain coming I can smell it." Sure enough in a short time a huge cloud appears on the western horizon. The duty of the house takes the wash off the line, as dust and rain don't do much toward eliminating stale tale grey. Kids cheerful by heed mother here into the coop so their chicks won't drown. Dad closes all the doors in case the rain is accompanied by winds.

By now all this is in readiness for the participation Thunder roars. Lightening flashes and everyone runs for cover. The storm continues hours but not a drop of rain falls.

The moisture father smells and the tears of his neighbor in the west bears of frustration and disappointment because he too smelled rain in what turned out to be nothing more than a typical prairie dust storm.

Chamber hears plans for Yellowhead picnic

JASPER

The Jasper Chamber of Commerce held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening May 9th, in the Activity dining room.

Roy Everest read a report prepared by Art Andrew representative of the Provincial Education Tax. He stated that the tax this year would be more than 20 mills and with a 10 per cent discount, this would then be 23.4 mills.

Jasper the Bear will make a trip to both Edmonton and Calgary where he is sure to be publicized. Jasper The Tourist News will again be available this year.

The Highland Dancing class are going along smoothly and a pipe band is being formed. The Chamber assured Mr. O'Rourke of their interest in the Highland Dancing and may later give some backing financially.

Delegates from T.C.A. will be in Jasper on May 31st and will be entertained by the Chamber with a Bar B Q at the Ski Chalet.

The Mt. Robson Picnic this year will be sponsored by the Farmer's Institute and the Chamber of Commerce from Mcbride, with the Jasper Chamber co-operating. This picnic will take place on May

TOWN OF EDSON
Construction of a Sewage Disposal System and Trunk Sewers
Synopsis of By-law No. 917

WHEREAS the Council of the Town of Edson proposes to construct a Sewer Disposal System and Trunk Sewers to serve the Town at a cost of $216,600 00

AND WHEREAS in order to construct the said works it will be necessary to issue debentures of the Town of Edson in the amount of $216 600 00 to be re-paid with interest not exceeding 6% over a period of 25 years.

AND WHEREAS the amount necessary to discharge this debt together with interest will be raised by levying a rate sufficient therefore on all the rateable property of the Town.

AND WHEREAS the said indebtedness is contracted on the credit and security of the Town at large

AND WHEREAS it will be necessary, before the final passing of the By-law, that it be submitted to the proprietary electors for their approval.

TAKE NOTICE that a Vote of the Proprietary Electors on the By-law will be held in the Council Chambers of the Civic Building between the hours of Ten o'clock in the forenoon and Seven o'clock in the afternoon, on MONDAY, JUNE 12th 1961 for the purpose of approving or rejecting this By-law. That an Advance Poll will be held as provided and in accordance with Section 194 of the Town and Village Act at the Civic Building on June 8th and 9th 1961 from the hour of Two o'clock in the afternoon until Five o'clock in the afternoon

Certified a true synopsis of By-law No 917 which will be finally passed by the Council within four weeks of the assent of the proprietary electors thereto

Given under my hand this 16th day of May 1961

Crest deadline extended $50 prize offered

The Town crest sub-committee has extended the deadline date for submission of crests to 12:00 noon, May 29

The prizes sponsored by the Edson Sub-Local of the ATA are to be $15, $10 and $5 However, if the first prize entry is officially adopted by the town, the prizes will then be $50, $10 and $5

Since the best crest possible is wanted for future use, the competition is "wide open." Any citizen of the town of Edson may enter a suggested crest

There is nothing to prevent those who met the previous deadline from making a further submission All such submissions must be handed in to the town hall or any one of the schools

Rules (1) Drawings must measure 12" x 18" Maximum of 24" x 36" (2) Contestants are asked to submit their entries in black and white only (3) If the contestant wishes to use a slogan, it should not exceed three words (4) The contestants name should be placed on the reverse side of the drawing

Safety course set for June

May 31st is the deadline for entries in the Red Cross Water Safety Instructor Training course scheduled for June 23 to 27 at the R C A F hangway Recreation Centre in Edmonton.

At least 20 applications must be received for this course, at conclusion of which candidates will be examined for the Red Cross Senior Swimmer award and the Royal Life Saving Society Basic Medallion

Applicants must be 16 years of age and should hold the Red Cross Senior Swimmer award and a life saving award from either the YMCA or Royal Life Saving Society Candidates must be 16 to receive the Senior Leader award and 18 to qualify as instructors.

Application forms are available from the Water Safety Director, Red Cross House 8051 108th St in Edmonton

Council holds line on 61's mill rate levy

65 mill rate allows more for town use

The lengthy budget meeting Tuesday night by a special meeting of the Town Council pared here and there on their estimates to hold the line on taxes for 1961.

This year's mill rate compares with last year as follows:

Municipal purposes	32½	17
School requisition	27	44
Hospitalization	5½	4
	65	66

This year, after cutting the program out of the budget for years, a start is to be made on the residential curbing program. Main street from 6th Avenue to 11th is to be paved with the help of a provincial government grant, and it is hoped to resurface Main south from 8th to First as well as put a new surface on Main Street sidewalks.

This and other municipal projects is made possible this year due to a drop in the school requisition to $57,664.69 (approximately) compared to $129,906.69 last year.

$130,000 FOR WORKS

Rejoyal item on the budget this year is an estimated $60,712 for public works which is about the same as spent last year in addition to this $35,000 will be spent on Main Street paving above 6th Avenue. Of this latter amount $47,000 will be government grant as part of the Five Year Plan.

Thirty thousand dollars is included for capital expenditure on sewers and water extensions to open up further residential areas. No debenture payments for the big sewer project are necessary this year. It is expected that the additional property coming on the tax rolls next year will better than pay the annual charge for this project.

Wage increases to Town staff are reflected in higher estimates for routine works, police department, sanitation and garbage collection.

Police department will cost $17,216; fire department $8,000, street lighting $3,800; utilities for Town buildings, caretaking etc. $12,265; cemetery $1700; sanitation and garbage removal $11,000 (up $1000); Health Unit requisition $6,626 (down $350); sewer operation $4000 (up a thousand). Hospital requisition $10,472, which are about the same as last year except where included in brackets.

It is estimated the rink will cost $3303 (up $1350); the cemetery $1600 (up $500); the swimming pool about $7150.

As usual it is expected the waterworks department will show a profit over operations of $11,107 ($7500 last year).

Total budget this year is $308,514 ($278,581 last year). Of this amount real property will provide $212,197 in taxes while the business tax will realize $9,200. Licenses, fines fees and government grants will make up the remainder.

Local daughter gets her B.Ed.

Another graduate of Edson High School, Mrs. Beverly Wilson is listed as qualifying for her Bachelor of Education degree at convocation ceremonies at the University of Alberta.

Beverly is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. R. Nygaard of Edson and married a doctor during her university years.

Hot weather brings fires

Ten fires surrounded Edson and district according to forestry officials at press time. Nine of the fires were started by lightning and one by a careless resident.

Due to a careless Peers resident a fire which covered 150 acres was started, but is now under control. Eight of the nine lightning fires are now under control also.

The biggest fire which is not under control yet is about 20 miles northwest of Edson, wiped out the Henry Brand camp and also destroyed several fire pumps and some hose. This fire has 12 cats, 85 men, two bombardiers, various fire pumps and tools, one fixed wing aircraft and a helicopter battling the flames in action against it.

Fiercest part of this major fire area is on Crown Hill west of the Mayburn lookout tower.

THREE LITTLE BOYS WITH A TURTLE they found in the dam stopped in front of the Leader office the other day and we got this picture of Dennis Wagner, Gary Cosgrue and Terry Lind. It was a big turtle about 5½ inches wide and 9 inches long, and had the initials E. S. J. on its back. The turtle belongs to the Jacobs family who brought it back with them from their holidays in Great Falls, Montana. They report they have got a mate and a female in the dam and suggest that children leave their turtles there to see if there is going to be little turtles.

Machinery Tests

It is often very useful to have an independent and expert report on machinery before buying. The Saskatchewan Agricultural Machinery Administration has established an excellent test centre where farm equipment is tested under a variety of conditions. These reports of these tests are now available to Alberta Farmers.

Apart from smaller machinery, reports are now available on tillage, haying, seeding, harvesting and grain handling equipment. Each report contains a description of the item, an outline of the conditions under which it was tested and a complete list of modifications and improvements which have been made upon the recommendations of the A M A.

A farmer who has studied these reports is in a much better position to choose the equipment which will be the most satisfactory for his particular needs and farming conditions.

The reports, published in bulletin form, can be obtained, free of charge from this office.

Mastitis

Careless use of antibiotics is mainly responsible for the fact that mastitis is still a serious problem. Dr J. U. O'Donoghue, Alberta's Extension Veterinarian, points out that indiscriminate use of antibiotics is often due to the false belief that these drugs can work miracles.

Indiscriminate use of antibiotics rather than ineffective drugs is responsible for the apparent failure to reduce the incidence of mastitis. This indiscriminate use is often due to the false belief that antibiotics will perform miracles.

Reports from veterinarians show that mastitis is till the major problem with which Alberta dairymen have to contend.

These drugs are very useful in the treatment of mastitis if they are used with discretion, says Dr O'Donoghue. They are however by no means a "cure all" in the fight in the prevention of herd problems. they are secondary to good milking practices and good management. There is little doubt that antibiotics have reduced the type of mastitis caused by staphylococcus but unfortunately there has been a corresponding increase in staphylococcus mastitis. Because staphylococcus is not as susceptible to antibiotics as streptococcus the over all picture remains unchanged.

Dr O'Donoghue advises dairymen using antibiotics in quantity, to stop and look at their problems. The advice of the veterinarian and a laboratory examination of milk samples will help to determine the kind of bacteria causing the trouble and should also shed light on management and treatment practices that need improving. To prevent mastitis from spreading vacuum from rather than outbutte treatment may be advisable particularly in staphylococcus mastitis. A carrier can be either commercially produced or made from organisms collected from the infected herd. Proper management of the milking machine and a periodic laboratory examination of milk from the cows' quarters is still the key to mastitis control says Dr O'Donoghue. When however antibiotic treatment is necessary no milk should be put into the fluid milk supply for at least 72 hours after the last administration of these drugs

Teaching children by good example

Most of us are familiar with electrical appliances nowadays, but can we be sure that our children realize the dangers which go with them if improperly handled. We can help prevent accidents from these appliances if we set an example in the following ways.

Keep water away from electrical appliances and outlets

Make certain hands are dry before connecting or operating any electrical appliance. Also make certain appliance is standing on a dry surface.

Never use any type of electrical appliance while in the bath tub.

Never stick anything into wall outlets. A small child inserting a hobby pin could get a severe shock. Several kinds of guards are available.

Never put your hand in/or side the radio or TV without unplugging the power supply.

Always disconnect cord appliances at the plug end, grasping firmly and pulling gently.

Do not store electrical cords in drawers where sharp edged tools might cut them.

Do not use frayed cords. Temporary tape repairs are supposed wires are hazards for shocks and fires.

Never hang a cord over a nail. Do not wrap it around a pipe or bedpost or run extension cords through doors to adjoining rooms.

Do not use an electric cord if the plug is loose or a screw or bolt has fallen out.

Do not tack cords to wall. Use insulated staples for this purpose, which can be bought at local hardware stores.

Never use household extension cords outdoors. Weather proofed wire, sockets and outlets should be used for outdoor appliances, including lawn mowers and barbecue. Christmas and garden light ing.

Always disconnect any appliances with exposed coils before cleaning. Keep knives and forks out of the toaster. Do not place the heating element of an electric appliance in water, as this may cause a short.

If you have a fuse box show children how to replace a fuse properly, and use only the proper size fuse. When a fuse blows and the cause is unknown unplug all fixtures and appliances before replacing the fuse. Replug the fixtures and appliances one by one and if the fuse blows again you will know which appliance is causing the trouble. The fuse may blow because the circuit is overloaded.

In case of electrical trouble call a qualified electrician.

Local fishermen appear to be having better success than commercial counterparts employing nets at Shining Bank. This fact is, we may add, not too much of a disappointment to old local fishermen who are of the opinion that the few whitefish inhabiting the lake could well be left for those who like to spend an occasional weekend paying the old rod for sport and relaxation.

Exotic fish in Calgary are ferocious

Never turn your back on your brother

That according to Elmer Taylor curator of the Calgary Aquarium, is the philosophy of one of the world's most ferocious small fish the eight inch long South American piranah.

At least 20 species of piranah all of them flesh eaters and some who consider man's flesh as tasty as any other are native to the waters of the world's largest river, the Amazon, which flows through the jungle-like rain forests of South America.

A single specimen of one species is currently on display at the Calgary Aquarium loaned on the grounds of the Calgary Brewery of 9th Ave and 15th St S.E. and Curator Taylor and his assistants take no chances with him. He has bitten through every net we have placed him in Mr Taylor says, and whenever we move him from the tank we have to support the net with a heavy wire screen.

Ten piranahs are now being reared together by an aquarist in Toronto and will be sent to the Calgary Aquarium when they reach maturity. According to the theories these ten should be compatible not with our present specimen but at least with each other Mr Taylor said.

It's unlikely however that they will ever trust each other. The philosophy of the piranah is never turn your back on your brother Mr Taylor said. When they're in the tank together you can see them watching each other their eyes appear to follow

CCC Assoc. plan social

At the regular meeting of Carrot Creek Community Association on Wednesday, May 17 plans were worked out for a pie social and dance to take place Friday, June 16 in the Carrot Creek hall. Other business consisted of a clean up bee scheduled for Saturday, 2 p.m., May 27. All mops and wielders welcome.

The ladies of Carrot Creek WI engaged the hall for a film and social evening for Wednesday evening, May 31. The social will include modern square dancing under the direction of Mr and Mrs Fairbairn.

Fire insurance for the hall was discussed by the 14 members present, also the purchase of fire extinguishers, completion of the kitchen with a view toward more satisfactory methods of serving lunch, and most important ways and means to pay obligations incurred during the re-building program.

Lunch was served at the close of business. The next regular meeting will take place in the hall Wednesday June 21.

Hall meetings are held the 3rd Wednesday of each month and a large attendance at all of these gatherings would be greatly appreciated.

Yellowhead Highway delay hinted

Mateel Lambert MP for Edmonton West has indicated to the citizens that the Trans-Canada Yellowhead Route develop ment may be a long time in coming.

each movement of the other fish you can almost see the expression of doubt on their faces and the flushed color which often startles that they can be provoked very easily by these companions.

When that happens the piranahs tear at each other with their razor sharp teeth. The damage is less than might be expected fins and tails of the piranah have remarkable regenerative power and their battle soon grow back as good as new.

Mr Lambert says there are representatives from other parts of Canada who have taken the stand that the present route should be completed before a secondary route is developed.

He added however that MPs from Edmonton and adjoining constituencies have made a common cause on many occasions advocating this development.

Mr Lambert's letter arose out of a resolution recently passed by Edmonton council favoring early completion of the route.

In a letter submitted to Ed monton council he stated the prospect does "not enjoy such enough priority to compete with other demands for funds". He letter added that there is some doubt as to whether all provinces involved in the system favour the undertaking at this time.

The choice is obvious

We presume that all thinking Edson citizens agree that the big sewer project which is to be voted on by property owners on Monday, June 12, is a necessity because of our town's growth.

For several years our present disposal plant has not been big enough or efficient enough to handle the sewage it is getting. No one can argue about that the smell it creates in an east wind tells everyone in the east end of town.

The new lagoon system which will dispose of wastes from a completely gravity system will be cheaper to operate and promises to look after a population of up to 10,000.

In addition to the stench and the potential health threat, the most disturbing thing is that there are no Town owned serviced lots available for residential building. Also the project extensions to 7th and 10th Avenue east will not be possible without extra facilities.

For those worried about increased taxes, the Council figures that the added assessment which will be coming onto the tax rolls next year will at least look after the debenture payments. If the project is completed in three years the Town qualifies for a grant of 25 per cent of the cost from the Federal Government.

Citizens should turn out to the public meeting of ratepayers to be held in the Legion Hall on Wednesday, June 7, at 8:00 p.m.

Town officials have been given to understand in no uncertain terms that the Provincial Department of Health will not allow any more land for the present plant. Therefore all expansion of homes, offices, commercial buildings, etc, planned for this year could not be connected. Such a prospect is unthinkable. We need the sewer project and we need it this year.

Appearance is important

There is nothing more disheartening than driving into a town or farmstead which is messy, untidy and unpainted.

All of us have at some time driven into or through a town and without any conscious appraisal have remarked — I wouldn't want to live here. Or have been driving along a highway past coffee shops and service stations, and suddenly seen a clean, bright looking place and decided to stop for coffee.

When anyone, be it a businessman looking for a place to establish, or an industry looking for a site, or just an individual looking for a place to live, comes to a town, there is a first impression established. That first impression may be good or bad — but it is seldom easy to change — especially if it is bad.

We are in a position to want business or industry to establish here. It is most important that we create the the right type of impression on those who visit us.

What are some of the things we need?

(1) On the part of property owners — clean up and paint up better yards and lanes

(2) On the part of businessmen — heightening up of business places, with paint and color

(3) On the part of the town — Clean up vacant areas and improve street maintenance.

In other words we need a greater measure of pride of ownership both on the part of the individual and of the civic authorities.

We have come a long way in the past few years— but we must not relax our pace of improvement. We are living in a highly competitive age — and if we slack our pace we will lose out.

CAPITOL REPORT

Tuition fees another kite

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — The bite-flying weather has been excellent in Alberta this spring, and Johnston Mosster Anders O. Aalborg took advantage of it last week in a speech at Red Deer the education minister said the time may be coming when Alberta students will have to pay tuition fees for high school courses. He said the rising costs of education may force the government to introduce such a system.

Mr Aalborg hastened to point out that the government has not decided on such a move, but I am predicting it may be necessary in the future." Necessary it may be, but any government that decided to tamper with the long established principle of free secondary education will have to be sure of its ground in Alberta at the moment, with education such a hot issue, tuition fees for high school students could be political dynamite.

To this observer it looks as though Mr. Aalborg's statement is part of the campaign to impress upon the taxpaying public the fact that education costs are getting out of hand and that citizens of the province must, in the long run, foot the bill.

The government undoubtedly would like to find a new source of revenue to ease the school headache. But this means a cash tax or a provincial income tax. We believe there are members of the cabinet who favor something like this to raise the money for schools. But new forms of taxation are risky business for a government as prosperous looking as Alberta's. There won't be any new taxes — or tuition fees — until wide spread demand enables the province to get away with it.

The incident at the Calgary Institute of Technology and Art was in the news again last week. Premier Manning released the report of an investigation into the affair, and it appears it was a tempest in a teapot.

It involved a caretaker, Peter Zayonce, who claims he was knifed by a student at the institute. Zayonce laid a charge, later withdrew it, claiming his superiors in the government had threatened the security of his job if he proceeded.

If Zayonce had proceeded and the case went through the courts in the normal manner, it probably would have blown over. But Zayonce, after withdrawing the charge, told a Calgary newspaper about it. As a result there was a deluge of publicity and government officials were accused of interfering with justice.

According to the report of the investigation Zayonce received a cut on his hand in a scuffle with the student. The student was arrested, the report said, because of improper and unwarranted remarks made by the caretaker in a gist student

Institute principal F. W. Wood took disciplinary action, but this apparently didn't satisfy Zayonce, who went to the police. Then Zayonce's supervisor J. A. C. Ingles, advised him to withdraw the charge although the report says Mr Ingles emphatically denies that he at any time threatened Mr. Zayonce with the loss of his job or in any way intimated that his employment was in jeopardy."

In fact says the RCMP officer who investigated the case, "it is my opinion that Mr Ingles had the janitor's welfare in mind as well as the student and the institute..."

Onu of Zayonce's claims, as reported in a Calgary newspaper, was that a government official in Edmonton phoned him and told him to drop the charge against the student. Says the report: "That report is entirely false in that no official of the department in Edmonton was aware of the incident until after the matter was reported in the press."

It's too early to say yet whether the whole thing has blown over Premier Manning declined comment on it because, he said, there may be court action.

A major part of the Cameron Commission report on education will receive a going-over in Edmonton May 30. A meeting has been called for that date to discuss school accreditation.

Delegates at the meeting will represent teachers, school trustees, home and school groups, school boards, the education department and the university. It is expected recommendations will be drawn up and presented to the government. Accreditation of local school boards was one of the main measures recommended by the Cameron Commission. It would give individual boards more latitude in developing their own programs. So far, the government has not decided what action to take.

CANADIAN SPELLING

Canada, like Britain, has a flair for nonsense. It has been developed through necessity. Canada must compromise every day between things British and things American. The Canadian character, when it emerges, is a mixture of the two.

Compromise, then, is needed, and not a something in itself. If it is to be a mixture, then the right quantities of the various ingredients must be decided upon and the formula, without distortion, the mixture becomes a mere muddle.

That is the state of Canadian spelling today, whenever words are used that have different spellings in Britain and the United States.

So far the muddle is mostly concerned with words ending in "our" in Britain. The newspapers and periodicals of Canada have for many years dropped the "u" in such words as labor, flavor, valor.

But the government still uses the "u", and strangely enough, so do Canadian advertising agencies.

One result is that such words are often spelled differently on the same page of a newspaper or magazine.

For some other words, notably "centre" and "theatre", the advertisers generally use the United States spelling — "center," and "theatre."

Unfortunately, a Canadian standard for spelling does exist. It is the standard followed by The Canadian Press and accepted by all its member newspapers. It drops the "u" out for British "our" words but it retains the original French for such words as "centre" and "theatre." For those who follow it, it is sound protection against small Americanisms of expression as "mosquer." Unfortunately, it hasn't yet been accepted by the government or by the ad agencies.

The Ministry - a vocation

While some of us do not realize it, the rule of the clergyman in our community has become a role represented by men who have undergone many years of specialized training. The old days, when anyone who felt inclined to preach picked up a Bible and began preaching, are fast going out of fashion.

While there are not any standardized requirements for the ministry, and never will be, except a feeling of vocation in God's work, it is nevertheless true that long years of preparation and study are increasingly demanded of our clergymen.

The job itself, which is another thing some people fail to understand, is a tremendously demanding one. The clergyman who attends to all his duties, the sermons, the details, the preparation of appropriate sermons, the counseling and the tending of the many people, who need support, advice, comfort or encouragement is working a seven-day week, and often a twenty four-hour day.

When we consider the training, the study and the experiences which all go into the process of developing the average clergymen, it makes us realize that the benefit from their services, and their individual worth, is immeasurable, and reminds some of us that they are among us to serve, and that we should take advantage of their counsel perhaps more than we do.

MAYOR'S REPORT

Mayor Brunelle gave the following report to Council

"I wish to deal with matters brought to my attention by the Town Manager Mr R. F. Green on May 4th, 1961 concerning a land transaction in the Town of Edson in the year 1956 comprising Lots 2 and 10 Block 127 Plan 4384 AF

"Mr Green ordered his cut crew to use over forts revealed on an income Tax Appeal Board Hearing in Edmonton on May 4th, 1961 which dealt with an appeal to have the Income Tax Appeal Board overrule a Revenue Depart ment assessment concerning the 1956 land transaction Mr Green gave testimony at the hearing on the specific re quest of Mr A Lafonso Town Solicitor

"An Edmonton Journal press report on May 5th 1961 re ferred to this transaction as a "speculative moneymaking adventure in the nature of a trade"

"Because of the said pro obligations under the Town and Village Act a meeting was ar ranged for May 10th, 1961 with Mr R Ramsay Chief Mum cipal Inspector Mr Green and myself in their Edmonton of fices

Further to Mr Green s re port and documents held with the Department of Municipal Affairs Inspector I found it necessary to consult the ma jorson of Mr A Lafonso in regard to a matter relative to the transit on his behalf I shall be glad to give same before the Municipal Inspec tors Branch for consideration by their legal department

The Council approved in principle the action taken by Mayor Brunelle

Nadon Paving awarded Hinton mill road contract

Hinton Council Tuesday evening awarded the contract for paving mill road to Nadon Paving Ltd subject to approval of the Minister of Highways. Upon receiving government approval the contract calls for work to begin on the project within fourteen days after it is let

Tenders were received from:

Nadon Paving Ltd.	$70,196.50
Everall Engineering Ltd.	$71,747.00
Arthur A. Voice Construction Co.	$113,474.80

The paving project includes the mill road from Highway 16 on the west to the Athabasca Valley Hotel. At present work is progressing on the widening of the section from Hardisty Avenue turnoff to the foot of the hill It will not be necessary, according to engineers reports, to widen or rebuild the section skirting the valley town.

You didn't, Daddy - Why

A Child's Prayer

Daddy if you know we're hungry,
Know our lives are ever cursed,
It must break your heart us Hearten
Cause you slighted Safety First

Mother wonders why you didn't
Save the life you threw away,
But you thought there was no use in Doing things the Safety Way

You were taken without warning
Leaving us to fight alone;
You'd have been a bit more careful,
Daddy, if you'd only known.

'Twasn't that you didn't love us,
I recall how dear you were,
But your little girl must suffer for
'Cause you failed to think of Her

Mother just can't make a living
She is wearing out, she said,
And the compensation payments
Do not help us get ahead.

When she's gone. I guess they'll take me
To a place of charity
To be clothed and fed; but Daddy
It can ne'er be home to me.

Mary's Daddy believes in Safety
And their home will still be theirs;
They're not hungry. Sometimes Mary
Gives me cast-off clothes she wears.

They don't have to take in washing,
Mary's mother doesn't cry,
For her Daddy believes in Safety;
But you didn't, Daddy—Why?

Gardening Tips

BY RENE LAPT

This month and the next month a lot of fertiliser is going to be used, and in too many cases unwisely. Before adding any fertiliser have your soil analysed This is the only way to know what is lacking It is only a waste of fertiliser rich in nitrogen on a soil already containing this nutrient in sufficient quantity. The same applies for the phosphoric acid and potash Add only what is lacking. In any case about ten pounds of fertiliser per thousand square feet ten times a year is plenty for the best results

Overfertilizing causes burns (to be seen on many lawns these days). It may cause plant injury, not immediately detected. The roots may be injured, become unable to absorb sufficient water, or later plants may burn or yellow (chlorosis or stunt, wilting, etc.

They even may die as a victim of evanescence which is the drawing out of the solution in the plants due to a higher salt concentration in the soil To avoid three injures, it is always good practice to apply soluble fertilizers a little at time and about once a month or every six weeks.

Watering practice is also very important Light watering favors soluble salt accumulation Over watering washes fertilizer down deep and away For lawns one inch of water at a time (perhaps twice a week in hot weather, once a week otherwise) is enough

To know when an inch is up proceed as follows Place a few cans or pans at each side of the sprinkler about ten to twenty feet away. Turn the water on, mark the time down When an inch of water has collected in the pans, turn the water off and mark how long it took. From then on water for only this period of time

Tourist groups to have parent body

Another step that will lead and the Mountain Newspapers to a parent body for all regional tourist promotion groups in Alberta was taken by directors of the Alberta Tourist Association at a meeting in Edmonton.

The directors appointed a committee to plan a member ship structure that would see the ATA become the spokesman rather than a competitor, of the numerous groups which are promoting within their areas what is the Province's third largest industry.

As the ATA's first Provincewide publicity scheme, the directors decided to take 13 writers on tours of the Province.

The writers will visit the interesting points from the Saskatchewan border to the National Parks in the mountains including Radium and Yoho and from the International Border to the Peace River country on the North west, and Lloydminster and Cold Lake on the Northwest

The project is divided into two phases The first trip to be made this fall will cover the Northern part The second in the Spring of 1962 will cover the Southern half The writers will represent the Daily Weekly and Farm Press

Bob Williamson moving to Saskatoon

HINTON

Bob Williamson manager of Hinton's Scotia Bank leaves with his family for Saskatoon He over saw the management of the bank's 8th Street and Clarence branch

Hinton people made Bob's acquaintance first in May 1955 when he came over from Edson to give banking service here one day a week He and his family moved to Hinton in 1956 and for a while he managed the branch in the old townsite and the new service his office permanently to the new site the following year when another manager was appointed for what came to be known as Highway Branch

Though pleased with his promotion naturally, Bob says he is going to miss the association with the many fine people he has come to know both in business and in the United Church the Kiwanis and Community Clubs and in his neighbourhood

Pool preview on Saturday

HINTON—

Word spread like wildfire among the junior members of the community last weekend, that the pool had been filled and swimming was allowed on it By mid afternoon there were dozens of boys and girls taking advantage of the temporary opening to cool off

The pool had been filled the night before to test for leaks When it had settled down after the young swimmers went out, a shindig had been demolished He

Cadomin area not forgotten says Willmore

The Hon N A. Willmore held a meeting of the Edson Tourist and Industrial Development committee last week that the government has not forgotten the development of the Cadomin area. He said that although no decision had been made on them they were considering letting them out to a private party In this case the individual would develop them then charge for admittance

He also told the group that the government was sending a bulldozer to Cadomin this year to clear away the rubble left after the mines had closed and public and private buildings had been demolished He commended the group on the placing of signs to advertise the area and told them that the fork to road from Grande Prairie to Entrance would be completely gravelled this year This is a link in the forestry road that will one day be brought up to highway standard from Grande Prairie to Rocky Mountain House

Following his address a very active question period took place with 32 persons attending making inquiries on a wide variety of subjects from taxes to fishing license fees, to granting land permits

In the centre picture Hec Gervais of the world champion Scouts and other curling fame, tells his side of the story, while Clark Rex, manager of the Eskimos baseball team, Ed Keller, head push at the Prairie Trotting Circuit, Mayor W. R. Brunelle and MC Al Shaver of CFRN listen.

Edson-Hinton take money in Jasper tournament

Edson Athletics walked off with top money of $200 in the Jasper Elks two day tournament at the weekend defeating Hinton Hi-Brites by a score of 12-11 after winning the bye into the finale. Hinton took home the second spot cash of $100 with MacKay cropping third money of $50

The tournament was played off in perfect weather with better than average crowds, particularly for the Monday games when games, rides, and concessions were also open for the public.

Hinton and Jasper got action underway on Sunday at one p.m with Hi Brites running out the winners by a 7-4 score. Next up were Edson and Whitecourt with Edson winning to hold their place in the finals. Monday afternoon saw ball activity open with a game between MacKay and Mayerthorpe with MacKay coming up as top team. Three winners made it necessary to give one team a bye into the finals and Edson received the go ahead.

After winning their game with MacKay in the semi-finals Hinton met Edson in a well played see-saw crowd pleasing game, that ended in a 12-11 score in Edson's favor.

The recently opened Jasper swimming pool was another attraction that got a lot of weekend attention both from local and out of town holidayers Sunday's attendance at the pool was over 1000 with Saturday not far behind and Monday probably more.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Woman's Travel Authority

Woman's work can be done, and far easier than it used to be. Here are some tips on removing stains from car upholstery.

To get rid of grease and oil stains cover the area heavily with absorbent powder such as talcum. Then vacuum with dry-cleaning fluid and absorbent cloths, clean spot from the outside edge toward the centre. If the stain has just been made, soak first with dry cloths, then dry clean any remaining spots.

Loosen chewing gum with cleaning fluid or absorbent rug cleaning powder. Remove what's left with a knife. Vacuum the powder or go over the spot again with the cleaning fluid.

Spilled ink? Don't use milk. It adds a stain of it's own. Sponge first with cool water, blot up spot with dry rags. If this doesn't work, make a solution of one part dry-cleaning fluid and two parts of water. (First test it on a concealed upholstery part to make sure it too won't stain.) Then, sponge, dry, rinse and blot. While permanent type inks never disappear entirely this method can lighten the stain.

If your puppy had an accident in the car, sponge the areas lightly with warm salt water (half cup salt in 1 pt. water). Soak dry with rags, rinse as d dry again.

Finally, for candy and chocolate stains, use clear lukewarm water. Sponge from outside of spot to centre. Soak dry with rags, sponge again with detergent suds and soak dry.

Women who do so much of the family driving, are taking more and more responsibility for the care of the car. To be sure your car stays cool during hot weather driving, ask your service station dealer to check these points:

1. Drain out all your anti-freeze, even if it's the "permanent" type (Heat and time change the coolant, and rust and corrosion inhibitors are any usually exhausted over the summer.)

2. Flush out the cooling [illegible] make and grease, have him use a chemical cleaner.)

3. Check the thermostat for operation at proper temperatures.

4. Check all hoses for deterioration, inside and out.

5. Tighten hose clamps; replace if necessary.

6. Examine fan belts and drive belts for signs of wear, loosening of tension.

7. Look at the radiator filler cap- especially if it's the modern, pressure-valve type.

8. Remove all bugs, leaves, papers, etc., from air passages in radiator.

9. Refill cooling system with clear water, the softer the better, and add a good rust inhibitor.

10. Run the engine until it's warm. Then make sure the system is completely filled.

Check for leaks at radiator hoses, water pumpd, cylinder head gaskets.

Hot days ahead! Make sure your car leaves coal by having it checked NOW.

Crest deadline extended $50 prize offered

The town crest sub-committee has extended the deadline date for submission of crests to 12:00 noon May 29.

The prizes sponsored by the Edson Sub-Local of the ATA are to be $15, $10 and $5. However, if the first prize entry is officially adopted by the town, the prizes will then be $50, $10 and $5.

Since the best crest possible is wanted for future use, this competition is "wide open." Any citizen of the town of Edson may enter a suggested crest.

There is nothing to prevent those who met the previous deadline from making a further submission. All submissions must be turned in to the town hall or any one of the schools.

Rules: (1) Dimensions Minimum of 12" x 18". Maximum of 24" x 30". (2) Contestants are asked to submit their entries in black and white only. (3) If the contestant wishes to use a slogan it should not exceed three words. (4) The contestant's name should be placed on the reverse side of the drawing.

Government is "Us"

By AMBROSE HILLS

Everybody hates the government—all through tax time.

Editorial writers and tavern grumblers portray the government as a fat cuckoo in the national nest crowding out private citizens and rather thriving on it.

The critics jab the government in the ribs with pointed statistics. Taxes take 35 cents of every income dollar our 23 cents, or 40 cents depending on your arithmetic). A man spends 106 days of the year "working for the government" (or 100 days or 200 days—fill in your own figure).

I know the arguments, because I have used them myself. The numbers vary, but the idea is always the same. That the government is running us.

It's an easy idea to accept around this time of the year, when you can feel the pain in your wallet and your bank account. Cash and fever after the bloodletting.

Later in the year you will feel strong. If you are one of the lucky ones you may even take more money than you paid in tax. Then you'll forget them.

Then you may feel [illegible]. The government [illegible] Maybe [illegible] back. It is a group of people [illegible] to do some work.

By some mental black magic this [illegible] of employees becomes a league of aliens, with a separate power and life of their own.

It isn't whodis a delusion either. People in the government may begin to think of themselves as a separate group, exercising sovereign power.

We need a book written in popular style to inform the people how much money the government spends, what the money is spent on and who pays.

You can scratch together the information now if you are clever, hard-working and immune to boredom. It's all there, in long government reports.

Most people sad to say, will not take the trouble to analyze dull documents. It would be in the nation's interest to publish these facts in easily readable non-partisan form.

If the tax and spending book shows that the government is wasting money, if it shows that certain kinds of businessmen are living off expense accounts and capital gains, and going virtually tax free, then the voters will have something to guide them.

Half the people won't read the book, unless you put a dollar between each pair of pages. But those who do read the book will know that government isn't "Them." Government is "Us."

OUR LITTLE MISS WHO IS PRESENTING her dancing teacher with a big bouquet of flowers and saying "Thank-you very much, Mrs. Mennens, for all the hard work you have done" is Marilyn Wilson. Marilyn's teacher must have worked pretty hard as the dance review did show a lot of planning and much effort behind it. Other people who worked pretty hard and were presented with gifts on Saturday night were Mrs. Tina Hendricks who did a good job on all the costumes, Mrs. Louis Etty, who taught the children the tumbling they could do so well and the pianist Miss Betty Acorn. The scenery for the play was done by Dick Jones.

Heat packs pool for early opening

About 400 kiddies attended the opening of the swimming pool on Sunday, May 21 according to Gordon Welsh pool superintendent.

The second day, Victoria Day, all told about 542 persons attended about 86 adults, 46 students and 430 kiddies. He stated that the ratio remains about the same all through the year.

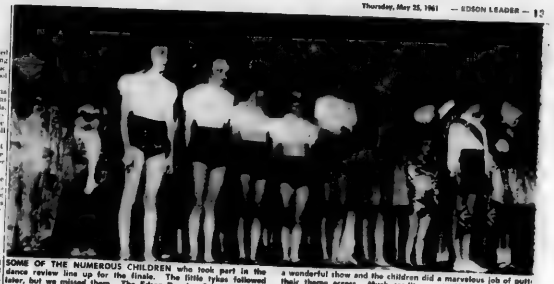
The Edson children are at treating the pool quite frequently and are in right after school

Gordon tells us that on the whole the children are always good when they go swimming and that it is the bigger boys that he has to watch out for

To speak on chronic hospitals

Dr. Ross of Edmonton will be addressing the Hospital Auxiliary banquet meeting June 5 on the Chronic Hospital to be built here.

Anyone interested is welcome to attend Tickets are available from Mrs. Goldrick, Mrs. Romano and Mrs. Mabel Morrison.



SOME OF THE NUMEROUS CHILDREN who took part in the dance review line up for the finale. The little tykes followed leader, but we missed them. The Edson Dancing School's presentation of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs is reported as being a wonderful show and the children did a marvelous job of puttheir theme across. Much credit goes to Mrs. Eleanor Mennefor her initiative in conducting this year's school and review.

Initial plans for two day Rodeo mature

The recent rodeo held in the city brought a thought to the mind of many Edson and district rodeo enthusiasts that before too long Edson's Fourth Annual Rodeo would be the talk of the town, and for those who just enjoy taking in the show, they can be sure that this year's show will top all previous ones, and should circle August 4 and 5 on their calendar now.

To assure that only the best of stock and riders will compete for the honors and prize money again this year, the Edson Rodeo Association have obtained approved certificates from the Cowboys Protective Association and from the Rodeo Cowboys Association Incorporated, two organizations that are popular to the big Rodeo circuits.

Bud Brunelle, chairman, directors, it can't be anything Kelvin Wallace, secretary and but another sound planning Dick Nault, rodeo manager are affair the key personnel in promoting the Edson Rodeo and with the assistance of the members of Edson's three service clubs as

Plans for the parade were started immediately following last year's show with Peter Serdiuk re-elected as parade marshall We have been informed that more bands, more floats and more horses than ever before will be placed in the long rodeo parade As this is also Edson's 50th Anniversary year, the people of Edson and the business firms are expected to surpass their previous attempts in helping to "put Edson on the map" in a bigger and more effective way

Advertising of the Rodeo started during the long week end when the Edson Scouts plastered bumper stickers on all cars parked or driving slowly down the main centre of town

Co-operation, in putting the Rodeo over the Town Council has declare I Friday August 4 as a full day holiday Saturday August 5 the stores will be opened but such as many people ending their week working time it is felt an another large crowd will be free to take in the final performances.

More news will be brought to the public as they develop Rules regarding riders, entries of floats and etc. will be released shortly

Help make Edson the Rodeo Capital of the West!

Reports

This week Ottawa has been in a stir with President and Mrs Kennedy visiting here Yesterday we were assembled with the Senate in the House to hear his address. After words we had an opportunity to meet President Kennedy

My impression was that he was a sincere young man trying to do a job. He has a magnetic personality and in charge up is much more mature than his pictures sometimes indicate His wife is charming and resembles very much her picture.

His speech to us dealt with many aspects of Canada United States relations He stressed the fact that he felt Canada should join the organization of American States. His second point that he stressed was that Nato should become better organized and better armed to resist aggression

With regard to Canada joining the O A S I am in agreement with this However we must make sure that our participation in O.A.S. will not weaken our economic and other aid which we are now giving to the emergency nations of the Commonwealth

Nato must be our first line of defence Our Prime Minister has been advocating that a stronger unit for the past few years We would like to see the Nato countries join together in disarmament negotiations as well The economic arm of Nato O E C D must also be strengthened and used to provide aid to our allies and to make sure that we do not lose out to a Communist trade offensive

Edson still in strategic rail connection position speaker tells C of C

Facing the facts, Edson is one of the divisional points on the CNR being discontinued Area Manager of Western Division W R Jackson told the Edson Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting in the Commodore banquet room Wednesday night

There is no reason for Edson people to be discouraged though the speaker said. Edson is strategically located on the rail system and continuous growth through added industry can make it a first rate distributing centre.

Illustrating his talk on automation and modernization of railway operations, Mr Jackson declared that some divisional points be eliminated. Modern high speed trains and automatic signal systems made longer trips possible for the same crews

With reference to industrial development the CNR officials point out the attributes and facilities of various locations along its rail line to prospective industries desiring to establish in some point serving [illegible] population.

A report was brought in announcing that $1035 had been raised by chamber members to help Edson celebrate its 50th Anniversary The more had been sparked by a motion introduced several meetings ago by Dr I Lewis.

Mayor W R Brunelle and Mrs Lilian McCredie were appointed voting delegates to the annual meeting of the Alberta Chamber in Edmonton May 20 and 20

The guest speaker was introduced by M D Meade and thanked by M G Barfoot

329 men still on job on fire front

Strong wind can still blow up raging flames

The men on the fire front 35 miles north west of Edson were like veterans following a campaign during the war by Wednesday this week "You should have been here last week when things were really jumping," was a common retort

Rangers and other Forestry officials even had time to change and shave. While the men relaxed a bit to enjoy the high class grub rushed into the six fire camps during the height of the fire threat.

Morale among the men is high except for the married man with family worries. Fifty-five cents an hour doesn't buy much in the way of shoes and groceries The young fellas and the single men are not complaining, they still seem to have energy left after 12 hour shifts out in the bush scouting for bulldozers or hitting the flare-up fire that is the chief worry in the area now

Last week's rain did help check the worst of the flames, but the situation is still critical Forest Supt. M. Sybannen states. Continued hot weather combined with a wind could start the bush raging again.

Besides the 329 men in six fire camps one of which is across the Athabasca there are 26 cats six track vehicles six tractors and several trucks committed to the fight Three helicopters still patrol the lakes and carry supplies to the bush camps.

A radio communications system has been set up for each camp and a relay from the Mayburn tower to Headquarters in Edson has been set up

Edson High School graduands honored

On Thursday evening parents and friends gathered for the annual graduation banquet in the High School auditorium. The toast to the Queen was proposed by Mr. A. Jardine, Superintendent of Schools. Principal M. D. Meade proposed the Toast to the Graduands. Darlene O'Hara replied fittingly for the graduating class.

On Thursday and Friday evenings of last week various functions were held in honor of this year's graduating class Only pupils carrying sufficient credits to secure a High School Diploma were allowed to participate Pupils are not allowed to take part in these exercises twice

Members of the graduating class are. David Andrews, Kenneth Antonenko Leonard Brazeau, Gerald Bolton, Eric Carlson, Dominic Del Vecchio, John Fenske, Allen Fossheim, Elaine Garber, Carol Kerbly werh Andrew Kulyk Lorne Larsen Jean Lypkie Wayne Markley William Marlow, Jeanette Mac Blair McNamara, James Nahorecky Darlene O'Hara Eleanor Perkins Wilson Polak Edwin Preece, Keith Quennell May Rogers, Phyllis Seibel, Victor Sipkens, Pat Sylvester, Clifford Wells, Robert Williamson, Darlene Woywitka, Diane Wyshowski, Carrie Anne Reddell

Gerald Bolton president of The Students Union proposed The Toast to the Staff Mrs. L. Koebel replied for the teachers Joe Rapach acted as Toastmaster

Later in the evening an audience of four hundred viewed the graduation stage exercises Among those bringing messages of congratulation to the graduands were Mr Jardine for the Department of Education Councillor P W Wells for the Council and the people of the community; Mr A. W. Leonard, Chairman of the Edson School Division, and Mr J Patinson, Chairman of the Edson local school board.

Wayne Markley delivered the Class History The Valedictory address was given by Darlene Woywitka Principal Meade, acting as Master of Ceremonies presented Wayne Markley with the Marlean Magazine Honor Award, and Darlene with the Reader's Digest Special Award These took the form of subscriptions to the magazines.

As a special feature of the program, Elaine Garber nee Petary of the Students' Union presented Mrs Irene Maynard with a bouquet of roses on the occasion of her leaving the Edson high school staff after nine years of devoted service to her pupils

Solo numbers were rendered during the program by Kathy Turnbull and Susan McCrae, accompanied by Miss F Ciccarelli

Finally, Mr Meade introduced each member of the graduating group to the audience, giving a thumbnail biography of each with special reference to the number of places from which pupils have found their way to their present homes in Edson.

On the following night a large crowd attended the Graduation Formal for which music was supplied by McKinney's Orchestra of Edmonton.

Catering for the banquet was done by the Edson House and School Association under the capable direction of Mrs. Margaret Ahlf.

JA's attend festival in Edmonton

The JA group of St Catherines Anglican Church, Edson have been a busy group this year Earning stripe and badges during their weekly club meetings.

Receiving stripes two weeks ago and presented by the Rev Cannon A Hooper were first stripers Brenda Romanetz Archie Serdiuk Rachel Shreve, Sandra Romano Lyn da King, first and second stripe Valerie Willitts Glennis Schultz These two girls also received their attendance badge.

Mary Neemann 3rd stripe attendance badge and church manship Glenna Hoffred 4 stripe Karren Pillage second stripe and attendance badge. Noreen Boone Edith Gregg Theresa Rutherford, Judy Worton all received attendance badges and churchmanship badges.

Last Saturday the girls were kindly driven to Edmonton to attend their JA convention by Mrs A Hooper and Mr Ronald Boone The girls met with 500 other JAers from Edmonton and districts, beginning their day by attending the service at All Saints Cathedral Church lunch in the Parish Hall and over to the Alberta College auditorium for their program — at which our JAs put on a Fashion Show.

On June 8th the girls will be having a hike after school The girls held a candy sale on May 13 at the Parish Hall at which they made $10.00 This will go towards adopting a refugee child The JAs are under the direction of Mrs R Boone assisted by Miss Ruth Ashwell

Blood donor clinic June 20

The Edson Branch of the Canadian Red Cross have announced there will be a blood donor clinic in the Legion Hall on the afternoon and evening of June 20.

The Edson Kinsmen have offered to help get out the donors. It is hoped to get better than 300 donors this time to meet our district quota

Edson 1911 to '61 Home Ec. Fashion Show theme

The girls of the Edson High School home economics classes are busy completing arrangements for their annual fashion show and display of handicrafts.

This year's program, being centered around the theme "50 Years of Fabric to Fashion" is arousing keen interest since it fits so nicely into the celebrations in conjunction with Edson's Fiftieth Anniversary

Highlights of the fashion show will be comparing models dressed in gowns popular at some time during the past fifty years and those really fitted and worn by our home economics students of 1961

A sale of home cooking and crafts will be supervised by the girls also

The boys of the physical education classes have been practising diligently to perfect their acrobatic numbers which will provide a pleasant change for the intermissions

As in the past beautiful exhibits from the Industrial Arts classes will be on display and the art exhibition by the grade 9 Art students promises to be especially outstanding

Invitations are extended to all concerned These exercises will be held in the High School Auditorium on Friday June 9 at 8.00 p.m. A small fee of 25c per person is being levied to help defray any expenses incurred during the staging of the show.

EIGHTY-FOUR OLD G. S. LAWRENCE of the Roseveer District dropped in at The Leader Office to place a printing order and got to showing us how agile he is. Staffer Mrs G. Munson holds up her hand and Mr. Lawrence neatly nips it with his foot.

Track meet postponed 50th committee told

Postponement of the Edson School Division School Track Meet from June 8th until sometime next September was announced by school officials.

The Edson Athletic Association approached the Anniversary Committee with regard to entering a float in the parade July 1st. This was turned over to the works committee.

One thousand fifth Anniversary souvenir buttons were distributed for sale in the schools. These are available for the price of 25c. Those not sold through the schools will be sold down town at the same price.

A 50th Anniversary dinner is to be held September 21st at the High School Auditorium invitations are to be sent out to as many as possible who were residents of Edson and district prior to 1915. If you know of any old timers and their present addresses, kindly turn their names into Mr. H. A. Switzer, Chairman 50th Anniversary Committee, Edson Alta. All those invited will not be able to attend but their day may be a little brighter for having remembered them.

The Pageant Committee has been notified that a rough draft of the play will arrive next week for consideration and further development.

A Committee has been chosen for the judging of the essays recently completed by the school students. Prize winning essays will be appearing in the local newspaper from time to time.

Posters announcing Edson's Golden Jubilee Year will be hung from the lamp standards on Main Street. These should be on display in the near future.

The Civil Service Association of Alberta has given the 50th Anniversary Committee free publicity in their Bulletin, articles and advertising to appear in the June, July and September issues.

Much credit is due the local branch of this organization for their securing of this donation of space in their magazine. Also, for the birch plaques or pins in the make up process, to be distributed later.

The Committee of Ways and Means gave their final report. A vote of thanks was moved on their behalf and the committee was dismissed.

While the Free World slept

Until Chamberlain went to Munich in the spring of 1938 most people outside of Germany thought Hitler was just a crackpot with a funny mustache. Even after Munich there were many in Britain and the USA who thought that a durable peace had been purchased by throwing the Czechs to the Nazi wolves.

Three years before, Germany's march to power could have been halted with practically no bloodshed. When Hitler invaded the demilitarized Rhineland in 1936 in defiance of a treaty, a show of force would have sent him scampering back across the Rhineland and the whole Nazi movement would have collapsed.

The Rhineland coup made Hitler supreme and World War II was inevitable. He had been wiser than the generals who had opposed the move.

Perhaps, too, the allies had guilty consciences about their Versailles treaty. They had even begun to believe Hitler's rantings about its iniquities.

While all this was going on Germany a keen observer from the USA was on the job in Berlin in The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich, William L. Shirer has recorded a vivid account of personalities and events in the making of plans for a Nazified world. It's most absorbing reading.

East District Doin's

By FERN ICE

Peery suffered a bit of unwanted publicity last week when a fire got out of control and threatened to obliterate the town and several district farm homes. All available manpower and several cats were required to control the blaze.

Francis Peters got out on Thursday for his summer work at Banff, where Shannon and Kane, for whom he has worked for several seasons, have resumed hard logging operations.

We should have spared the prairies the publicity concerning dust storms, because our own community seems to want to get into the act by staging the odd wind storm. John Farmer comes in at night so dusty his own dog fail to recognize him and his wife meets him at the door with a change of clothes before serving the poor soul his meals.

German measles are making a nuisance of themselves in the immediate district at least, and several school children are enjoying an enforced holiday right at the best of the hunt, so to speak.

Joe (Sleepy) Ice celebrated his 23 birthday, Tuesday, May 22.

Local viewers were without lights and entertainment on Thursday due to a power failure somewhere along the way.

Mrs. Burian and Donna Ice have been helping out at Durston's store while Mr and Mrs Durston were on the sick list.

Several members of the Anna family spent Sunday in Edmonton visiting relations and were accompanied to the city by Happy Ice on the first lap of a trip to the Yukon where he hopes to find work.

Some of the hardier members of the community have been taking a cooling dip in the creeks the past week or so while others are content with a shady spot on the bank.

Mr and Mrs Ray Wiseman and family called on relatives in the Hattonford district last week while enroute to their home in Edmonton at the end of a short holiday.

Sunday callers at the Ice home included the Weisner family from Leduc.

Mrs Herman Lindgren is out and about following her recent illness.

Miss Alice White and Dan Cox called at the Ice home Monday evening. Alice selling tickets on a power saw in aid of the MacKay ball team while Danny whipped out a few tunes on the piano, accordian, guitar and banjo.

Monday callers at the C. A. Durston home included Mr and Mrs Foster and other members of their family from the USA. The Fosters plan to visit their niece Ruth Boise, who makes her home in Saskatoon.

Reports

The first volume of the Macpherson Commission Report has now been received. This is an interim report and deals with the causes of the Railway difficulties in Canada and makes several major recommendations to try and cure them.

Briefly stated the view of the commission is that obsolete regulations imposed upon railways by reason of law or public policy should not be a financial burden upon the railways and the users of rail services. The whole problem of railways and rail freight rates in Canada is a very complex one.

They recommend that large subsidies be paid by the Federal Government on a declining diminishing scale. In the railroads to allow them to get out of uneconomic services and branch lines. The majority report also states that a subsidy of some $15 million be paid to the railways because of the Crows Nest Pass rates. There was a controversy in the commission on this report and Commissioner Rene Gobeil of Quebec has written a minority report stating that he does not agree and feels that no subsidy should be paid here.

Our Government has already stated that there will be no interference with the rates in the words of Prime Minister Diefenbaker they are the "Magna Carta of Western Canada".

I fully agree with Mr Gobeil in his minority report when he says

"I cannot however accept the other Commissioners' decision that a subsidy is required in order to compensate the railways for alleged deficits incurred on the carriage of grain and grain products at export positions. There are three reasons for my disagreement with this decision.

Firstly, I believe that the Canadian Pacific Railway has since obtained certain very real advantages when it undertook in perpetuity to accept a rolling on these grain rates because party to a contract which is still in effect and which must be abided by.

Secondly I do not believe the grain rest studies which

Junior League Baseball gets under way

The first game of the Edson Junior Baseball League season, organized by the Optimist Club of Edson in cooperation with the Kinsmen Lions and the Canadian Legion was played at Memorial Park on May 29, with the Optimists losing to the Kinsmen by the close score of 15 to 14.

Kinsmen player Don Saxon got 3 hits for 3 times at bat, 4 Butts batted in and scored 3 times himself. Winning pitcher Robert Hoel did very well relieving Don Saxon in the 2nd inning and going the rest of the way to rack up seven strick outs for the Kinsmen.

Paul Brand of the Optimists came through with 3 hits and 2 walks out of 5 times at bat, scoring 4 times.

Optimist catcher, Gary Park, did a good job behind the plate but still managed to 2 for 5 with 4 RBIs, and score 3 times. Teddy Worlund Kinsmen Short stop, because of the many balls hit his way got a chance to display how great being shipped for export and plays a ground ball.

A small crowd gathered to witness this hectic display of enthusiasm and good clean baseball played by these boys. We sincerely hope more parents can turn out to these games and we do not hesitate to assure them they will have an enjoyable, and entertaining time.

The next games are Sunday, June 4 at 1:30 pm in the Memorial Park when the Optimists play the Lions, and the Kinsmen meet the Legion which should make a really interesting double header.

Whole District Mourns

The rain that fell on Hinton Saturday, seemed to weep with a stunned town as the community learned of the accident in the early morning that took the lives of three Hinton youths and sent four others in serious condition to hospital

Two of the victims were members of the grade twelve graduating class and the third a grade nine student. They were standing on the threshhold of a future filled with promise when in a few moments the hopes of themselves and their parents were dashed to pieces.

At the time of the accident, fellow students were just starting a gay wiener roast a few miles away that was to winding the biggest night of the school — their commencement dance. Coming on the scene of the accident these students brought the word back to their families who had earlier seen their young people leave for the dance and the wiener roast with the exuberant enthusiasm with which most teen-agers meet life

The Edson community mourns with their families

Rumors can hurt

Why do people start rumors? What makes them want to be the first person to bring bad news, even if they have to make it before presenting it? Why, if they don't know facts can't they remain quiet until they have heard the truth instead of taking a snatch of conversation and adding to it until it has become something sensational and altogether untrue.

In the past few days, following the tragic events at the weekend in Hinton district, there have been enough rumors going the rounds to last for a lifetime in too many instances the rumors are not only untrue, but very cruel to the families of those involved, adding heartache and suffering to persons already in a state of shock

Compassion and common sense seem to be replaced by a mass urge for sensationalism at a time like this People, mostly unintentionally we believe, repeat the last story they heard or hearing a snatch of conversation complete it to their satisfaction and pass it on without ever stopping to think that it may return to the persons involved, and cause unnecessary added grief

This, even to the extent of phoning the family and telling them their loved one had passed away, without making the effort first to find out whether or not it was true In the case we heard of it wasn't

Imagine the shock if you were in the position of the bereaved or family of a badly injured person Put away your thoughts of sensationalism Instead bear the rumors with compassion and hope for suffering fellow man by speaking only of what has been proven and not of what has been rumored

Winged hitch hiker . . .

An unintended passenger in your car, that may cause plenty of trouble, is a bee You may be driving along the highway some afternoon when suddenly you hear an angry buzz and several sharp "plops" against your windshield And you'll spy a very annoyed bee trying its best to get through the glass

If you are wise, you will pull to the side of the road stop, open a window and door, and if nec-sary rap it with a sheet of paper, that the exits are open Don't keep on driving, making sporadic flappings at the bee or at most Put in your face a bee has been known to get in a person's mouth stinging the tongue The resultant swelling caused death

It is hard to feel pain when a small body strikes your face but serious accident may happen if you permit the continue driving while you wage war on the bee

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir

You are called to a fire!

Every man, who has ever fought fire on a reclaiming afternoon, knows that by the time the flames are seen and the men called they are getting the bad end of it We are fighting all the errors we made before

The way to fight fire friends is to fight it before it starts by ALL Canadians and at ALL times

We should make use of the top 8 feet of trees that are cut and now being left in the bush The amount of debris would be cut in half

Debris from bushmen must be cleared and burned on road, side days and could very well be done by those men who are now collecting unemployment insurance-money

The more we find ways and means to utilize waste wood and clean up the brush the more people we can afford to have in Canada The more people we have the more industries we can afford and the better we will be able to take care of our resources

Let us point our fingers at our government and our forestry industry, the master men of the pulp, lumber and tie mills as the culprits in the bush, for they let the men get away with wastes waste for their own convenience

Henry Wassmuth

Dear Editor

In regard to our tragedy of Saturday morning past We of the community extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved and injured

But as for our local accident riddle and sacred rex theories for such we can hardly have much respect.

How can we, of this community, who are more or less advocating a second Transcanada Highway via the Yellowhead Route, tolerate an attitude of free and easy cruising, right on black too The question is Who has the right of way? Man or Beast?

Surely when human lives are involved, which the past has so sadly proved some remedy can be found True, we have wild game to contend with, but why should we aggravate the situation further with domestic animals

Our provincial law makers are considerably authority and rightly so, in enforcing traffic rules for the benefit of all surely, in all fairness to human lives and property they can and will do something about this one

Fire hit during conservation week

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Last week was National Forest Conservation Week, and in Alberta it was marked by one of the worst forest fire outbreak in years. At week's end, 74 fires were burning in the province, and many of them were destroying valuable timber. But more than 600 men were in the bush fighting the fires, and at the time of writing en by late worse out of control

Hardest hit were northern and western regions of the province, where a prolonged spell of hot, dry weather had made the fire hazard explosive As the week drew to a close Lands and Forest Minister Norman Willmore clamped a ban on all but essential travel in much of the area affected.

The efforts of a forest fire emergency situation were felt most keenly by residents of Grande Prairie and the surrounding area. Just about every available man was pressed into service Police cleaned out beer parlors and coffee shops as they rounded up "volunteer fire fighters

Forest Conservation Week activities in Alberta apart from the fires — were held in Rocky Mountain House, which had been chosen as the Canadian forest conservation town of the year. Premier Manning and other government officials were there for ceremonies opening the official week, and there were displays of aerial bombing, parades and the crowning of a conservation queen.

Most spectacular event was a target bombing contest, time of the planes missed the target and put a 5-lb. [illegible] filled "bomb through the windshield of a car. The owner of the car now knows how firefighting crews feel when they're drenched by a waterbombing plane that overshoots the target area.

As for the fire situation, it might look like the worst possible thing to happen during Forest Conservation Week But perhaps the fires are having a beneficial side effect. Certainly during the past week newspaper headlines made the public keenly aware of the hazardous conditions and the need of protecting the province's timber resources

The large scale action being taken to combat the fires is a good illustration of how the Alberta forest service has grown. A few years ago, the lands and forests department had neither the men, the equipment nor the organization to cope with a situation such as the current one.

As a result, fires in remote areas were simply allowed to burn through valuable forest until they burned themselves out or were doused by rain

Today things are different. The forest service has build up a highly mobile force, with aircraft, land vehicles and boats available to move men into fire areas. More lookout towers have been build, and an efficient radio network provides vital communication between the men in the field and headquarters

But no matter how good the organization is, forest fires can't be extinguished by men once they get a good start. The only thing that will do it is rain. At the weekend, the forecast was for slightly cooler with the possibility of showers. A few hundred weary, smoke - blackened men were certainly hoping so

Another honor has come to Alberta Lieutenant Governor J Percy Page From now on he can be called Hon. Dr. Percy Page, lieutenant governor of Alberta An honorary doctorate of laws was conferred upon the lieutenant governor last week at the annual spring convocation of the University of Alberta An honorary degree also went to Mr Justice Hugh John Macdonald of the Supreme Court of Alberta (is he now referred to as Dr Justice?) and university degrees were conferred on 825 university graduates

Alberta's new system of "social allowances" cases, into effect this week, with more than 31 cent persons eligible. The new allowance — to be based on need — will be available to persons now receiving mothers' allowance widows' pensions, disabled persons pension and supplementary allowances. The program will be administered through regional offices of the provincial welfare department The new system of allowances, say officials will make for more flexibility in the payment of welfare benefits.

The decline and fall new advanced version

The samples of readings from the new version of the Holy Bible leads us to the conclusion that those who were brought up with memories from King James version will not care to give up on its stately phraseology

As conversations pass on we presume that a still newer biblical version will appear and the story of Adam and Eve will be told thus

Until Eve arrived this was Man's World and no arguments about it Adam did as he pleased, was relaxed and easy going. Was quite satisfied with things as they were but little lonely at times.

This loneliness persisted as his dreams of one might be felt a pain in his side and thought he had pleurisy But when he woke up the next morning there was Eve beside him and she was quite a girl.

Eve had plenty to say and was full of new ideas and fabulous plans and Adam thought she was wonderful He told her that she was terrific Eve admitted she was.

But Eve was never satisfied to stay put and was always curious about things. When she saw an apple tree with a sign "Do Not Pick the Fruit" she was intrigued. "What harm will taking a bite of one apple," she whispered So she picked off an apple and she and Adam ate it core and all and then the fat was in the fire for good.

Things turned out badly after that but the worst that happened was eviction from the Garden of Eden That was the final straw

"Well Adam dear, we still have each other," remarked Eve

Adam said nothing.

SPRING

Meadows yonder leafy greens
Sings Mother Nature noble queen.

She brushs the flowers and sings to the deer,
"Hail ye returns spring is here."
Birds send their song through the warm air of spring,
Squirrels chatter their loudest and the melodious ring.

Every day the animals have loads an' loads of fun,
Jumpin' in and out of trees and greeting Mr Sun.

Mr Sun greets and welcomes and goes along his way,
Everybody's helpful and they always say "Good day"
So if you're ever in the forest while spring is on the run,
Don't be afraid Mr Sun into the happy days of fun

Alberta rapidly is becoming known as a camper-conscious province with the provision of free campsites at scenic locations throughout the width and breadth of Alberta. All services including camp kitchens water and firewood are provided without charge. The provincial government campsite at Landmark Park, northwestern Alberta, above, is one of those beautifully located tourist havens.

Millions enjoy Alberta's finest holiday facilities

More than 3,250,000 people spent part or all of their vacation in Alberta last year and the greatest percentage of those arriving to enjoy this province's holiday attractions were influenced in a greater or lesser extent by the enticements publicized by the Alberta Travel Bureau

It is the Bureau's responsibility to attract visitors to the province from outside its borders and to encourage and promote development by individuals or facilities and attractions within the province. Virtually every media of publicity is used in its efforts to increase the flow of visitors to this province. Worth of its program may be judged by the $70, 000,000 that holidayers spent in Alberta during the last of tourist dollars. In those who hosted the travellers there were light on the red state worth, 21 cents of each dollar received is used to pay salaries, wages and professional fees; 28½ cents goes to farmer, food processors, retail and wholesale suppliers, printers, laundries, dry cleaning establishments, etc. 14 cents is used to pay taxes, and insurance premiums; 12½ cents helps pay interest on mortgages; six cents is spent on furniture; four cents on heat, light and power, and three cents on telephone charges.

The secondary distribution of the tourist dollar is the one that confirms the claim of Tourist Business is Everybody's Business.

Continuing surveys of tourist habits show that the average expenditure of approximately $9.00 per person, per day. With the phenomenal growth of the popularity of camping, visitors are now spending less money per day but are staying longer.

Constant evaluation of year to year travelling trends by the Alberta Travel Bureau enables the province to satisfactorily meet changes in traveller habits, such as the sudden demand for camping facilities experienced from 1956 on. Today there are more than 200 provincially operated free campsites along Alberta's highways and roads with a planned program of increased developed to make Alberta one of Canada's outstanding camper resorts province. Already hundreds of letters have been received by the Bureau from visitors who were pleasantly surprised at the facilities available here and who wrote to congratulate Alberta on its camp site program.

The Travel Bureau is also responsible for classifying the province's tourist accommodation under the "star" rating system. This program carried out in co-operation with the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, enables a visitor to to anticipate accurately the type of accommodation he will get at any of the thousands of motels and camps in those areas.

Today, travellers are served by more than 2,500 motel rental units in Alberta. There are 1,954 luxury, four star units, 322 three star units, 343 two star, 300 one star and 350 no-star units which are graded by impartial Travel Bureau inspectors. Ten years ago there were but 1,175 rental units in Alberta.

Capital investment in accommodation facilities in the province at the present time is estimated at nearly $24,000,000. During the past year investment in additional units in existing motels totalled $514,000 while new motel investment amounted to $812,000.

Advertising on major magazines with national and international coverage results in many enquiries into Alberta's vacation possibilities. Coupons from these advertisements and other direct mail enquiries resulting from contact through television viewing of films on Alberta, or travel show publicity are rapidly increasing each year. In 1960 more than 50,000 such letters or post cards were received, 5,000 of which required personal letter replies. To April 21 of this year more than 21,000 enquiries have been received.

Large colorful posters showing several scenic holiday and resort areas are distributed annually to travel agencies, airline, railway and bus line offices, and there is the entire people to write for more information and to visit the province.

Today more than a million pieces of promotional literature are distributed annually to travel agencies and prospective vacationers through out the world. There are booklets and pamphlets, some in full colour, on things to see and do in Alberta, on accommodation facilities and costs, special events, road maps and other such topics of interest to visitors.

A valuable information service is provided visitors at several information bureaus operated at Fort Mcleod, St Mary's Mont.; at Beep Creek, Idaho, and at Lacombe. Alberta was the first Canadian province to bring tourism to the tourist through the location of manned mobile information and service units outside provincial boundaries. Nearly 35,000 persons stopped at the attractive Fort Mcleod bureau in 1960 while more than 16,000 visited the St Mary's, Deep Creek and Loydminster stations.

In addition to publicizing Alberta for prospective visitors, by residents, and makes Albertans tourist conscious through such programs as the annual "Tourist Courtesy Campaign", designed to encourage residents to regard the visitor as a guest in their home. Retail store clerks, waitresses, gas station attendants, policemen, even housewives, all play an important part through the courtesies they extend in making a visitor feel he would like to return to Alberta.

During the past year the Travel Bureau spent $1,100,000, having 3,250,000 vacationers to Alberta. A decade ago the Bureau's budget was $62,000, and in that year slightly more than 1,000,000 visitors spent nearly $30,000,000 on Alberta vacations

When the Census Taker calls please be ready with the answers he needs

Every household in Canada is being sent a list of questions the Census Taker will ask. Please study it and be prepared to answer all the questions or learn the answers with someone who will be at home when the Census Taker calls.

What will you be asked? Questions such as: what is your age and schooling; are you employed and what is your exact job title; how many hours do you usually work each week; is how many weeks did you work for wages or salary in the last 12 months; what were your earnings in the last 12 months?

All information is kept strictly confidential and by law is not available to any private organization or person, or any government department or agency other than the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Census is taken only to include statistics valid for all parts of Canada.

When the Census Taker calls, welcome him with your co-operation. Everyone will benefit when you help Canada count!

Shooting accident takes life of Hinton man

An accidental shooting Saturday took the life of Hermann Voskuylen 33 of Hinton

The accident took place at Camp 53 while Mr Voskuylen, clerk at the camp, was handling a supposedly unloaded rifle.

He had picked the rifle up from among a number standing in the corner, all of which were apparently empty and set it down butt first on the floor

This caused the gun to go off, the bullet striking Mr Voskuylen in the head and killing him instantly

The accident victim is survived by his mother in Tilburg, Holland He had been in Hinton district with North Western Pulp & Power since January 1957 and was well liked by his fellow workers

Funeral will be held Wednesday, May 31, in Our Lady of the Foothills Roman Catholic Church with the Rev Fr. B. W Malone Chsll. conducting the service.

Monster jack taken at Talbot

JASPER —

Fritz Kropshofer of Jasper can now tell you a fish story that is true. While fishing at Talbot on Sunday May 14th he hooked into one of Talbot's large jackfish.

After fighting the fish for some time he was able to haul it to shore. Upon measuring the fish he found that it was 42 inches in length and weighed about 25 pounds.

Quite a number of fishermen had fish steak for supper that night.

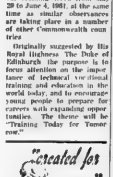
Commonwealth Technical Training Week in Canada

Canada is planning to observe Commonwealth Technical Training Week from May 28 to June 4, 1961, at the same time as similar observances are taking place in a number of other Commonwealth countries.

Originally suggested by His Royal Highness The Duke of Edinburgh the purpose is to focus attention on the importance of technical vocational training and education in the world today, and to encourage young people to prepare for careers with expanding opportunities. The theme will be "Training Today for Tomorrow".



These three words are the secret of the beautiful fit of a Spencer. Because it's designed individually for you . . . to your own personal needs . . . your Spencer brings out all the beauty of your figure! Phone for free figure analysis

Commonwealth Technical Training Week in Canada will be arranged by Provincial authorities within their jurisdictions. The Federal Department of Labor, will play a supporting role that involves issuing booklets, pamphlets, reference information and similar material to supplement the provincial and municipal programs. The Department will also seek public service publicity through national organizations.

The ultimate success of the effort however, will depend to a large extent on the activities planned and carried out by government labour industry, associations clubs and a wide variety of other organizations at the provincial and community levels.

The broad objectives of the week are

1. To create more public awareness of the excellent career opportunities which exist in the technical trade and other vocational fields and to give to these careers their proper place of importance among all occupations in Canada.

2. To stimulate the establishment of more apprenticeship and other in plant training programs which lead to gainful and useful employment.

3. To convince young people of the necessity of planning a career and staying in school until graduation and at the same time to create in parents and youth a better appreciation of the importance and value of education to a person's future employment security.

4. To encourage adults to upgrade their skills and increase their education and to stimulate the establishment of more adult education and training programs related to the world of work.

To bring these goals directly and universally concerned with education and training closer together for the general benefit of the country.

GREEN ACRES

By PIER BOCKING

It should pay to check your weed survey now to make sure that it is in good working order and properly adjusted. Little attention now will save valuable time and money later.

At the beginning of a new season, the nozzles of the sprayer usually need cleaning. Some may need replacing. Strainers can be removed and cleaned. A sharpened piece of soft wood can be used to clean all the screens thoroughly with a brush. Then check the pump to see that it is working properly. Sometimes it is necessary to loosen it up by brushing it with some oil or radiator rust inhibitor. The pump with prime easier if the hose is loosened or disconnected on the discharge side so that the intake will help when priming is difficult.

Examine the intake screens, the hoses and replace any that are worn. Then tighten all the hose connections and run the pump and boom to see that there are no leaks. After filling the spray tank with water check the sprayer pattern. The nozzle should be lined up in such a way that the fan spray is parallel to the boom. But does not interfere with the spray from adjacent nozzles.

Run in a barrel or spray tank can be lessened by putting in a little diesel fuel and flushing it with water, preferably using a pressure spray covering the inside of a barrel or tank, after it has been used, with a solution of soluble oil in water will help to prevent rusting.

Four miles per hour is a good ground speed for spraying—that is 300 feet in 30 seconds. To properly calibrate your sprayer so that you are getting just the right amount of that expensive chemical on each acre, the booklet "Weed Control with Chemicals" is a big help. Your copy can be obtained at this office.

FALLOUT ON THE FARMS

In the event of a nuclear war, our survival as a nation will depend to a great extent on the ability of farmers to cope with the situation. Because food is such an essential item, a special bulletin entitled "Fallout on Farms" has recently been published.

This booklet points out that fallout, unless it is very heavy, loses most of its radioactivity during the first two days following a bomb explosion. The deadly radioactive particles, however, can be carried down wind many miles, affecting both farm and urban centres over a large area. Based upon what is known about the effect of fallout, the farmer is advised on how to protect himself, his family, his livestock and his crops. The importance of being prepared in the months of "Fallout on the Farm" cannot be overemphasized. For the fallout reaches your area just as many of your animals, as possible under cover. The others will stand a better chance of survival if confined on a small grazing area because they will consume less strontium 90 caesium and iodine. A supply of feed and water, protected against fallout, should be kept on hand for this emergency. These precautions are essential for the protection of dairy cows and select breeding stock.

The booklet also tells which foods are safe after having been subjected to fallout and gives instructions on how to decontaminate others. Contaminated livestock products may be safe if they can be stored long enough but cooking will not destroy radioactive particles. The veterinary profession will have the responsibility of deciding which are safe and which need to be specially processed. Another section deals with radiation sickness in livestock.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture under the direction of the Alberta Emergency Measures Organization, are at present actively engaged on the many aspects involved in protecting the agricultural industry in this province. All district agriculturists, field supervisors and many veterinarians have been trained by the provincial Emergency Measures Organization to use monitoring equipment and to calculate the amount of fallout.

Copies of "Fallout on the Farm" can be obtained from any Dairy Plain office.

Joint Chamber statement says be nice to visitors

JASPER—

A joint meeting of the Jasper, Banff, Lake Louise and Waterton Lake Chambers of Commerce have issued to resolution on how they would like everyone coming in contact with visitors to carry on. The statement follows:

To work together to promote the Canadian Rockies as a holiday area.

The modern tourist is on the move and does not stay too long in any one place therefore it is very important that we talk up, promote, and encourage the tourists in our respective areas to visit the other parks, and in this way may be the tourist will spend a few extra days in the Canadian Rockies, and "everyone will benefit."

A financier or owner of a business can only personally contact a few, so that it is store clerks, service station attendants, the waitresses, etc., who must be educated and informed to carry out the program. This job is up to you!

Make sure that your staff gives the tourist the same consideration and helpful information that you would yourself. Make sure that they are correctly informed as to roads, accommodation, distances, points of interest in all the parks, and that they encourage the tourist to visit them.

Public Relations — one of the most important factors in the tourist industry. Make sure that you and your staff are courteous, friendly, considerate and helpful, so that the visitor will go home and tell his friends and neighbours about the wonderful people of the Canadian Rockies.

Remember, it is the small things that count, and cost so little in time and effort.

Friendliness always pays!

NEW 7-FIGURE TELEPHONE NUMBERS

WILL APPLY ON ALL NEW TELEPHONES, MOVES, AND CHANGES OF LISTING

In preparation for DDD—Direct Distance Dialing—and the coming of inter-continental dialing ... it is necessary to change your telephone number from 2 letters and 5 numbers to the new 7-number system. For your maximum convenience, the change will be a gradual one. In future, all new numbers, moves, and changes of listing will be to the new 7-number system.

The 7-figure numbers will be grouped in an easy-to-remember 3-4 system. Example: 424-6181 rather than the old GArden 4-6181. As the first two numbers in the 7-number system correspond to the letters GA in the old number... stationery, signs and existing advertising material will not have to be changed immediately.

These new numbers are a necessary step in Your Telephone Company's continuing program to keep pace with world-wide telephone development.

Mr. Ted Lewis, Director of Health Services for the Province, was present at the meeting and reported on the Health Unit's dental program. He stated that the program was progressing very well and that the Health Unit was now ready to start the program in the schools.

Mr. Lewis presented a summary report on the proposed Health Unit dental program for 1961. This program will be directed at those pre-school children who will be in grade one when school reopens in September and to the present grades 1, 2 and 3 school students. The latter group up to date some 65 per cent have indicated their intention of participating in the program.

Dr. Gretchen commenced at Hinton on Thursday, May 25 and will remain there to July 5. Work will be carried on from Edson on July 6th and 7th. The clinic will then move from Hinton to Edson where it will remain from July 10 to August 18.

Final arrangements for the clinic in the other places will be made in the next few days.

Mr. Johansen was introduced to the Board and gave an account of the aims and objects of preventive dental care. Mr. Johansen will assist Dr. R. McElroy, Secretary-treasurer, and Dr. J. H. Lewis, Medical Officer of Health.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Miss Nola Gamble, Staff Nurse at the Health Unit on the Drayton Valley Subdivision.

The board appointed Mr. Warren Grochoski to replace Miss Gamble. Mr. Grochoski will start work with the Health Unit on June 12.

Drayton Valley Health Unit also approved the appointment of Miss Shannon Sidler as Stenographer-Technician at the Edson office.

Drayton Valley Health Unit also approved the appointment of Miss Shannon Sidler as Stenographer-Technician at the Edson office.

Dr. Lewis presented a summary report on the program of Health Unit dental services which will be carried on from Edson and Drayton Valley. The Board also approved the appointment of Miss Shannon Sidler as Stenographer-Technician at the Edson office.

THIS TRUCK IS IN REMARKABLY GOOD SHAPE considering that it had plunged over a high grade of Highway 16 near Paddey. Driven by Robert Cecil of Hinton, the truck apparently travelled for abo.t 300 feet on the shoulder of the road, flew through the air for another 70 feet then plowed 150 feet through fairly thick trees before coming to rest in a small creek. The only damage apparent here is a badly cracked windshield. Mr. Cecil climbed up the grade to the highway where he was brought to Hinton Hospital by a passing motorist and treated for cuts and abrasions. He was released from hospital after two days.

DOT representatives attend Council re airstrip

HINTON—

Mr. Tom Prescott and Mr. George Knudson of the Department of Transport attended Council to discuss the possibility of additional development for the local airstrip. Mr. Prescott advised that Hinton could upgrade for Federal assistance only if the strip provided that the runway could be lengthened to a minimum of 4000 feet, at an economic rate

Mr. Prescott advised that the Town should make a formal application to the Department for Federal assistance, submitting details of all local operations and conditions making a licensed strip desirable. The Federal Government would then conduct an economic survey to see if the plan is feasible, and if approved would match dollar for dollar any municipal expenditures for airport improvement.

Mayor Sulzer thanked Mr. Prescott for coming to Hinton to examine the local strip

Clerk who will arrive at Hinton on June 25.

The medical officer presented to the board the first quarterly report for 1961 and commented on the extensive additions to the report presented by Dr. J. Mordell, dental inspector.

The recommendations of the Dr. Health and conference report were studied by the board and after suggestions will be considered by the board at their next meeting.

J. Mordell was granted permission to attend the Banquet on Canadian Institute of Sanitary Inspectors conference at Edmonton on July 25, 26 and 27.

The next meeting of the Board will be held in June when Health Unit Board policies will be the subject for discussion.

Export fishes for Calgary aquarium

Any angler who has ever been outsmarted by a wily bud stealing fish has had enough experience to generate a genuine respect for Elmer Taylor, the fisherman whose catch is likely to be a small shark or a stinging ray.

Mr Taylor is curator of the Calgary Aquarium, located on the Calgary Brewery grounds at 9th Ave. and 18th St. S.E. in Calgary. The genie's only aquarium, it has been operated as a public service for almost a year.

Through he receives many specimens for display from as far-noted donors and other aquariums in Canada and the United States and purchases some from dealers, many of the 1500 fish and marine animals on exhibit at the Calgary Aquarium are the results of his own fishing.

Chance waiters for his purpose are the Pacific Ocean off Vancouver, and the best season is the early spring for fishing larger fish which are in deeper waters in the summer.

Small fish shiners, sticklebacks, pipe fish and sculpins have to be taken with gear even in the weed beds off English Bay and Burrard Harbor at Vancouver. A 100 foot long, six foot deep seine net, controlled from the shore by Mr Taylor and five assistants is looped in a semi-circle off shore by a small boat and then dragged through the waters it sweeps up an assortment of small fish and the occasional large prize specimen

Working from a boat, Mr Taylor also fishes in deeper off shore water in the Horseshoe Bay area, netting baited hooks for small sharks and skates on other occasions he has joined aquarists from the Vancouver Aquarium in trolling operations to obtain prize sea specimens, which are then shared by the two displays

In June Mr Taylor will join a Vancouver aquarium expedition which will operate in Pacific waters off California in search of stinging rays and leopard sharks

Transportation of the specimens back to Calgary presents no problem They are put in plastic containers filled with sea water and let them to the 9th Mr Taylor doesn't need the container himself and accompanies the marine specimens carrying them as a "hand baggage" on the passenger air flights

Pre-registration of School Beginners, Edson Schools

As in the past the Edson Elementary schools will pre-register possible fall school beginners during June The dates set for this year's pre-registration are June 26 27 and 28 in both the A H Dakin and Evergreen Schools

All Children born on or before February 29, 1956, are required to attend pre-registration.

During the three days the boys and girls will be given acquainted with school life, will be carefully observed and helped by teachers and will be given a test to determine their readiness for Grade 1 work

Those children born September 1, 1955 and later will be admitted in the fall only if tests and observations show that they are ready for Grade 1

Parents will be notified of pre-registration results early in July

Please Note. It is to the advantage of all children that your child pre-register in June, rather than join up for the first time in September September pre-registration upsets a smooth school year beginning for all As well, test requirements will be three months stricter in September than in June

Please use the registration form below and hand it to the school at which children of your area are attending This form should be at the school by June 15 Additional forms are available at the elementary schools or at the Edson School Division office

THESE MEN WERE PICKING up steaks as they passed through the camp cookhouse line at a camp set up north west of Edson a few miles from the Athabasca River. Following our story on the fire last week we were told "we never seen no steaks — all we got was spaghetti and meat balls in the bush" — your Leader reporter actually saw these steaks though. Forestry officials do admit that a couple of times a week was all the steak there was.

RANGER DON MORAN holds up what is left of some hose couplings that got caught in some fire that moved too fast. Caught and melted into useless mess a pumper and power saw. Don also holds up what's left of a Wajax hand powered sprinkler that caught it in the fire too.

Ratepayers meeting votes confidence in sewer project

The public meeting of property owners in the Legion Hall on Wednesday night left no doubt in anyone's mind that those attending at least were in favor of the $216,000 sewer extension project that should solve Edson's problems until we reach a population of 18,000.

Jon Dragosh of Spike Island made an urgent plea for sewer for his district of town. "We have been left out for years and this new plan looks like we will now be getting sewer for the first time," he told the meeting.

A formal vote by the ratepayers present unanimously asked the Edson Council to go ahead with the expansion in the interests of the whole. Property owners will vote on Monday at the Town Hall between 10 in the morning and 7 o'clock in the evening.

An advance poll will be held in the Vine Building between 2 and 5 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, June 8 and 9.

Due hand to explain the project, and answer questions about it were Mayor W. R. Brunelle, Secretary Manager R. L. Carey, Health Committee Chairman I. Mahon, J. Mundell for the Health Unit and P. Dusel for the town's engineering consultants.

Mayor Brunelle outlined the potential town growth we are facing and how necessary to provide for this expansion the sewer project has become.

Secretary Manager Carey outlined the financing of the project, indicating that ten dollars this year was the town rate the tax roll, and next year should look after the yearly payments for the sewer program with no tax increase for this project.

Councillor Mahon pointed out the necessity of the project from a health point of view. Mr. Mahon made a plea for all to get out and support the referendum on Monday, for it is the best interest of all Edsonites.

J. Mundell outlined the history of how the present disposal plant designed for 2000 people at most had now to some overworked. He also mentioned that provincial sanitary authorities have been alarmed about the disposal plant for some time due to complaints.

P. Dusel, engineer for the firm of Stansby, Grembly and Robbin, told the meeting about the new conception that would make the system an all-gravity one. Chief feature of the new sewer plan is a large trunk line from West to East along First Avenue which would remove much of the present system and also provide for sewer connections from Spike Island and the North West quarter of the townsite where new building expansion is expected to take place.

A final serious question raised at the meeting was whether or not a lagoon system as explained by the engineers would work for Edson soil and weather conditions. Answered by the engineer it was pointed out that such towns as Drayton Valley, Grande Prairie and Hinton have been using this lagoon type of disposal with satisfactory results.

The feature of the lagoon system it was pointed out was that a separate tank were not small as various types of bacteria do all the work.

Threatened town still going strong

In spite of a large headline in a paper printed 180 miles east of Edson — no resident to our knowledge was standing by his station wagon to head for the safety of unforested sanctuary at the height of the fire 10 miles south west of Town Tuesday afternoon.

Closest the fire got to Edson at the height of the large black clouds was six miles south west and the wind was blowing up a rain storm from the opposite direction at that time.

Some of the nicest fighter type flying we've witnessed since the war carried a water mud mixture to the flames on a ten minute round trip basis from the Edson landing strip.

This new fire fighting technique plus about 30 men and the traditional fire fighting equipment added to a provincial rain Tuesday evening got the flames under control. Wednesday's heavy shower pretty well cinched the job, though the fire area is still being carefully watched.

In addition to the fire south west of town, the area 26 miles north west is still being patrolled by 200 men the area 20 miles south east is tying up 20 men and a fire outbreak in the Sproon's Flats district has about ten men keeping tab on it.

Though this indicates there are fires in all directions of the compass, Forestry officers here discount the "town threatened" story as not being factual of the actual situation even at the worst of the fire Tuesday afternoon.

Editor looks at wrong end of (mus)keg

Leader Editor W. C. B. Gooch hits back at "Calgary Eyeopener" Editor Bob Edwards in his issue of June 12, 1913, excerpts of which are printed on page 10 of this week's Leader.

This interesting view of how people thought about Edson 50 years ago shows some of our problems are still with us. Editor Gooch has long since gone to his reward, but this one's editor likes his work.

Mayor Gilbert Lawrence, Edson's first mayor, was Mr. H. A. Scriver's father-in-law. The latter has been named chairman of the 50th Anniversary co-ordinating committee this year.

We are indebted to Mrs. Margaret Aloff for digging this bit of Edson's history out of the files.

Baby moose bottle fed

John Brown and family of town have been feeding a baby moose which lost its mother in the fire up the Hardesty Bay road.

According to John they hope to get the little moose built up enough so that it can go out into the green forest and make its own way.

Knifing suspect held on vagrancy charge

A suspect in the knifing of Benny Rose section foreman at Embarras, arrested and held on a vagrancy charge was remanded until June 16 in Edson police court Wednesday.

The man, arrested while sitting in the CNR restaurant in Edson about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday morning, denied knowledge of the knifing attack but was unable to explain his movements.

The arrest followed two days of road blocking by numerous RCMP officers and searchers, of oncoming rock trains from the Coal Branch by the RCMP and local town police.

Mr. Rose was attacked by the knife wielder Sunday night when he and David White an other section house at Embarras. Mr. Rose suffered knife wounds in the neck back and arms. He is reported to be recovering satisfactorily in an Edmonton hospital. White was unharmed.

The break in at a tool shed at Meland River Crossing and reports of a man lurking in the bush spurred the RCMP to an intensified search of the area 20 miles south west of Edson on Tuesday.

Mr. Rose is well known in the district Mrs. Rose is a teacher on the Edson school staff.

Federal Government calls tenders for Yellowhead

The notice for tenders for rebuilding of the East West highway across Jasper National Park has recently been released, a statement from Dr. Hugh Horner announces this week.

These tenders are for a contract for the grading, culvert work, base course and seal coat of Mile 0 to Mile 11, and include the new bridge across the Snake River.

"I am sure that all of the people in my area will be heartened by this start of the portion of the Yellowhead Highway," says Dr. Horner, "which is the Federal Government's immediate responsibility."

"This follows along with the policy which was laid down two years ago when it was decided that the Banff-Jasper Highway should receive priority," he added, "and an attempt be made to complete this, particularly before we made a major attack to complete the East West road through Jasper."

"The Banff-Jasper highway we now have under contract, and we are looking forward to a similar type of road being built to connect to the Edmonton highway."

Former Edson men elected to Kinsmen posts

At the convention of Kinsmen Clubs for all of Alberta held in Calgary the week end two former Edsonites were honored one Bob Lavergne with the position of District governor and the other with honor Zone Deputy. Pat Hurley

Bob came to Edson many years ago as a barber and was one of the founders of the Kinsmen Club and was its president in 1955. He is now principal of Pat Burrowes and holds the position of manager of the Valley Hotel at Hinton. He was the charter president of the Hinton Kinsmen club and was one of a couple of years ago

Women's softball set for season

The Edson women's softball team got off to a good start on Thursday night. May 25, when ten women attended a general meeting at the home of Joyce Smith, last year's captain.

Tony Armstrong was elected new captain for the year, with Donna Becker as president and Irene Borbek secretary.

Practices are being held Tuesday and Thursday at 7:30 p.m at the A. H. Dakin School. Anyone interested in joining the club is asked to attend these practices.

Membership fee is $2.00, and to date there are 20 names on the list. Every effort is being made to make this year's team bigger and better than ever before. Attendance records will be kept.

Women play a vital role in census

". . . and what is your husband's exact job title?"

No, this isn't the 004.00 question. It's one of the key queries in the national census quiz which will be conducted at every one of Canada's 5.5 (00,000 households beginning June 1. The answers, will provide a fund of information greatly needed by both government and industry.

Census officials are quick to point out that women have a vital role to play in the census—in fact, more important than men. During the daytime hours, women will answer the census taker's knock more often than men, while the husband is at work, the wife will supply the information not only for herself but for the rest of the family as well.

Because of this role in communications between the census taker and members of her family, she will need answers to a few questions before beginning her enumerating. Questions concerning her husband's earnings and occupation.

Would you say, offhand what your husband is "a machine operator"? But there are many kinds of machine operators, and such an answer is too terse. The "billing machine operator" is correct response could be "the operator had short operator", or "sewing machine operator" for example.

Or perhaps he's an "exterminator"? What kind of exterminator? A useful answer could be "civil engineer" "stationary engineer" "steam engineer" "sales engineer". But he's a "manager"? That too is an inadequate reply. The right answer could be "credit manager" "employment manager" "sales manager" or "office manager".

"Clerk" too should be defined more clearly as "accounting clerk" "sales clerk" "receiving clerk" "shipping clerk" for example.

From past experience census officials know many housewives do not know their husband's exact job title. They suggest that you ask him tonight for so doing, you will greatly assist census takers in drawing an accurate picture of Canada's working force.

Airwomen to reminisce

Warning all Litterbugs!

With the fine[illegible] [illegible] found, it's time to start [illegible] littering the highways with discarded refuse.

Here is a piece from the newsletter of the Greater Edmonton chapter America Society of Safety Engineers slightly condensed.

We must stop making it convenient a dump America has 3,384,000 miles of fine highways. Our state and Federal Governments plan to add many thousands more in the next 10 years. We travel ed 580 billion miles last year. This year we'll beat that.

Imagine the mess our high ways will become if you and I do not stop throwing litter. Modern packaging with waxed paper, cellophane and foil keeps foods fresh and clean. Don't turn this life saver in to a murder weapon.

"Litter can kill. We are discussing beer cans, pop bottles and contents of garbage cans days. I travel But what we don't see is far more serious the people killed and injured in cars that hit or swerve to avoid trash (bowling) thrown on the highway.

"A piece of tossing paper can't a truck through bridge railing to a 25 foot fall A bottle thrown from a car window caused the car to skid to skid violently off the road and overturn. Our habit ed cigarette and cigar butts burn forests and fields, destroying crops and homes, kill ing wild life and people. Numbers of lost outdoor fires attributed their cause chief roadside drains, causing costly erosion and serious accidents.

Save yourself embarrassment and a fine. Keep a basin your car for litter Use it put it in a trash can. Use the ash tray in your car. Never throw anything on the roadside. You will reap rewards of a safer, cleaner, greener throughout.

Be kind to enumerators

Give a thought to the poor census enumerator, pleads a correspondent.

"We have a difficult job," she says. "Please try not to make it more difficult."

"Each enumerator has sworn and signed an oath of secrecy and if he or she should divulge any information, such person is liable to a fine of up to $500 or a prison term of up to six months, or both . . ."

"You are quite right in saying, 'Very likely most of the information will be useful in drawing an economic and social picture of the country.'

"Communities will plan their school requirements according to the numbers of children in certain age groups. Government must know the demands of the population to estimate future demands on family allowances and old-age pensions . . . Planning for community needs such as roads, waterworks and fire protection on population growth and movement."

I know this lady is right. Most of the information will be very useful. I intend to answer all the questions. And yet I can't help feeling uneasy about some of them, and I can't help sympathizing with the people who object to the personal nature of the questionnaire.

By the way, there is one more good reason why you should answer the questions. If you refuse, you can be fined $100 or sent to prison for three months.

The census-takers are taking softly about the penalties. They want to keep the census polite and friendly. But the penalties are there, just in case anyone who gets extra stubborn.

Fog clearance

Perhaps it is a natural result of the growing complexity of government, but it is a dismaying fact that a surprisingly large proportion of Canadians seem to be wandering around in a fog of uncertainty as to the fields in which the federal and provincial governments have authority.

Test this out for yourself. Casually ask your friends which of these two governments, federal or provincial, completely control immigration, schools, the basic old-age pension, Child Allowances, import duties or tariffs, Unemployment Insurance, Workmen's Compensation, the Board of Grain Commissioners, and so on.

Such a little quiz makes a most interesting and educational stunt for meetings of women's groups, farm groups and so on. If the group is well informed on some of the above divisions of authority, carry it into more complex fields such as health, hospitalization and agriculture where both dominion and provincial governments co-operate under pretty well defined boundaries.

Some deliberately created

Such fog clearance is vital and absolutely necessary if Canadians are to think clearly and constructively about their problems.

There is a very definite effort by many members of provincial legislatures, not only in Alberta but in every province in Canada, to leave the impression that they alone are responsible for all good things and that the scamps in the House of Commons at Ottawa are responsible for all bad things. The Ottawa members naturally fight back.

This confusion also extends down into country and town affairs in the minds of too many citizens. "Government" has become a vague, foggy word meaning every level of authority and jurisdiction lumped into one grey mass.

The result is that many voters have no clear cut knowledge as to what politician or party is to be credited or blamed.

We suspect that a lot of new vitality would be injected into our democracy if our schools spent more time drilling them basic and vital facts of government into students. We are positive that not nearly enough emphasis is placed on the importance of changing governments from time to time and of keeping a strong opposition party seated across from the one in power.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

As truck owners who are sick and tired of hearing nothing but rumors concerning the proposed load restrictions for trucks we think it high time someone in the know take time off to write up a set of rules and regulations and have them published for all to see.

The following are some of the questions we would like answered

1. How many cords of pulp wood are allowed on a single axle 9000.20 tire job?

2 How much does a cord of said pulpwood weigh?

3. How is a man going to judge the weight of his load? It goes without saying some wood is heavier than other.

4 How is the load going to be weighed, measured or judged?

5. What happens if you happen to have an overload? Will one be fined, returned or thrown in the jug? (this last seems ridiculous but from the hauler's point of view the whole silly set up seems pretty unfair.)

6. How come load restrictions were eased the same content as far as Junction 43 but no further West?

7. And last but not least — what happened to all the pressure from away back in 1937 wherein the "under-dog" was assured of a fair share of the season's wealth?

Dear Sir

We commend the B.C. provincial government for its courageous stand against the misuse of union dues for the support of a particular brand of politics No lab-orer should be compelled to give indirect support to any party Voluntary individual choice is the essence of democratic expression.

Unions in their true sense exist for the benefits of labour and not for the benefit of a political movement. The New Party as yet is untried, and it is open to question as to whether its unknown policies will actually affect labour favourably

It is a scar on our freedom that so many have to join certain unions against their better judgement in order to gain economic security. therefore we strongly urge the Alberta Legislature to revive its stand on this check off system for union funds, taking into account the far reaching effects that establishing such practices could have in making an individual a economic welfare dependent upon his support of any given political party

The Christian Labour Association of Alberta therefore urges other provinces to pass similar legislation that will restrict compulsory supports and yet permit proper functioning of unionism to assist and defend the rights of labour

We believe that individual democratic rights are God given and therefore to be guarded against any encroachment

Yours truly
Richard Ostra

CAPITOL REPORT

Radio man new secretary

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — A newsman and an ex-newsman were in the news last week.

A is Pete Elliott, who left his job as legislature reporter on The Edmonton Journal about 12 years ago to become executive secretary to Premier Manning, has been named chairman of the Alberta Liquor Board.

Russ Shoppard, veteran Edmonton radio newsman (who covered the last session of the Legislature for Alberta weekly newspapers) will step into Pete Elliott's $8,000-a year job as secretary to the premier.

Mr. Elliott, whose new job pays something over $11,000 a year, succeeds George A. Clash, who died last year.

Those were among a number of important appointments announced last week by Premier Manning.

C. G. Hergryer, who has been acting chairman of the liquor board since Mr. Clash's death, will become head of the province's new Local Authorities Board. The new board, to be set up under legislation passed this year, will take over all municipal matters now handled by the public utilities board.

James Falconer, a member of the liquor control board, will move up into Mr. Macgregor's position as vice-chairman. Still to be named is a third member of the liquor board to succeed Mr. Falconer.

All of the new appointments go into effect July. 1.

Initial consensus among the newspaperman fraternity in Edmonton was that it's good to see a newsman will still be holding down the job as Premier Manning's right-hand man. At the same time, though, it will be a loss to the news industry in Edmonton. Russ Shoppard is one of the city's most experienced and respected newsmen.

The government last week reached an incapable conclusion more money will have to be pumped into the new foundation program of education financing. Education Minister Anders Aalborg announced this will be done by adding money to the 2,000,000 contingency fund set up to soften the blow for school boards that will have to raise more money under the scheme.

Mr. Aalborg wouldn't say how much. However, we have it unofficially that an extra

Hobby or Horror ?

A touching little story coming from a central Alberta town last week tells of a long service award to a librarian leader being passed on the lady's husband, in recognition of the fact that "husbands of officials sacrificed much, as their wives went about the business of keeping Brownie and Guide Packs, active."

The sacrifice is not confined to the husbands of librarians and Guides. In fact, it can't confined to husbands. It has been brought to our attention rather forcibly on recent occasions, that spouse of whatever sex can be somewhat less than enthusiastic over their partners' enthusiasms. And it has been observed that spouse, unlike the boyfriend or the girlfriend, have no choice but to endure, be it vocally or by the silent treatment patiently or in wrath, their mate's hobbies.

Close observation indicates too, that the sacrifice is not always limited to the unparticipating member of the family. Some of these so-called hobbies have wound their monstrous tentacles around every longsuffering member of the family, including the hobbyist himself

A hobby is defined as a favorite subject or occupation that is not one's main business To respect a subject or an occupation with favor, implies considerable pleasure derived, a reward other than monetary being received Watching the hobbies of people around us brings a suspicion that other emotions besides friendly regard and goodwill frequently must be involved

In fact there comes to mind the legend of The Old Man of the Sea, a story half forgotten since childhood, of a kindly wayfarer who agreed to lend a helping hand only to find himself shouldering a burden from which he could not shake free This seems particularly true of many of those who involve themselves in the "lucrative occupation" of civic government. There must be times when the pleasure of doing ones duty as a citizen, of facing up to a challenge, of wishing to see a job well done, or whatever the motive, fades into a nightmare of responsibility and worry and even neglect of one's main business.

As one watches the increasing burden being placed on the shoulders of those hobbyists who become involved in municipal and town government, one can't help wondering just how long it will be until they and their spouse reach the point of rebellion.

It might be in the general interest of the less civic minded of us taxpayers to do something to alleviate this situation before we lose our willing workers. It is said that pressure cookers are stuffed with two sets of officers—one to look after the amenities, the other to do the actual navigation Towns and communities becoming increasingly enmeshed in high financing might find it to their advantage to consider the possibility of hiring a "front" man whose job it would be to consume the chicken salads and the turkey dinners, to lend a sympathetic ear to the wails and moans of ratepayers, to attend with smiling grace the endless visitors, greeting citizens, town boosters and those just wishing to pass the time of day. in short, it might be a good idea to take the load off those people just long enough to let them get on with their own main line of business; to give them the opportunity to put their knowledge and management to civic problems in their own spare time, unharassed by their own business worries and responsibilities.

As for the rest of us, worn, weary and harassed by the weight of our time-consuming "hobbies" we'll just have to find our way out from under the burden.

Meanwhile, we're in favor of pinning a medal on the spouse of all hobbyists.

Crest competition only limited success

The attempt to secure a crest for the town of Edson has proved somewhat abortive. The Edson Local of the A.T.A. offered a first prize of fifty dollars to anyone submitting a crest suitable for reproduction on official town documents, stationery, etc.

If no suitable crest was submitted, the prize for the best efforts were to be fifteen, ten and five dollars, supplied by the A.T.A. In the hope of obtaining some outstanding entries the sponsors opened the contest to all adults in the community, as well as to school children.

For some reason, the contest gathered little steam—except in one household. Principal J. H. Garber of the Junior High School — a citizen of our community for less than two years — insisted that his family must give their all to anything that will increase interest in Edson's 50th Anniversary celebrations.

The result: the first three prizes go to Carl Garber, Allan Garber, and Alvin Garber. Honorable Mention were Terry Carwell and Ronnie Volstad (It should hardly be necessary to point out that the judges in this contest, as to others, did not know whose efforts they were judging.)

The committee agreed that while there was considerable merit in many of the submissions, not one as it stands could be effectively reproduced for official use.

Members of the judging committee were R. Gregg, convener, Councillor P. W. Wells, Mrs. R. Mahon, Mrs. G. Stoffer and Mrs. J. Hromo.

Mayor Brunelle named to C of C

One of the local Chamber delegates to the annual meeting of the Alberta Chamber, Mayor W. R. Brunelle, was elected a zone director of the provincial organization during the election of officers at last Tuesday's session.

The term of the directorship is for two years. Mr Brunelle is an executive member of the Edson Chamber of Commerce in addition to his duties as civil magistrate for the town.

During the sessions the Alberta body passed a recommendation for longer school hours as outlined in the Cameron report on education.

Higher standards and more years of university were also advocated for teachers. It was thought by the delegates that gradually stiffened qualifications could be implemented for Alberta teachers over a period of years.

If all the good resolutions that are kept were placed end to end they wouldn't reach very far into the new year.

Chronic hospital subject of address by minister

A survey of Edson will be undertaken in 1962 for purposes of ascertaining what type of chronic hospital would best suit the needs of this community, by The Hon. Dr J Donovan Ross told the banquet meeting of the Edson Hospital Auxiliary in the Commodore Inn guest room on Monday evening.

It is expected that the hospital would be completed in 1962. Dr Ross told his audience. The speaker told the meeting of how it was planned that these chronic hospitals would relieve regular hospitals of patients who needed long term care and how auxiliaries could help in different ways.

Mayor W. R. Brunelle welcomed the distinguished guest and Mrs. A. Goldstick thanked the Doctor and Mrs. Ross for coming.

A short meeting of the auxiliary was held following the talk. It was decided to change future meetings back to the first Tuesday in the month.

Mrs J Ball won the monthly raffle. The next meeting will be held Tuesday September 5 at 8 p.m in the Health Unit office.

PROCLAMATION

BIKE SAFETY WEEK, the campaign sponsored by the Optimist Club of Edson and the Edson Home and School Association officially opens on June 11th and continues through June 17th, 1961

The purpose of this campaign is two-fold:

-1) to acquaint bicycle riders with the rules of the road, to emphasize the importance of being alert at all times and to use common sense in respecting the rights of others on the road,

-2) to draw the attention of all motorists to the problems and dangers found on a street or road used jointly with cyclists.

May I urge all citizens of Edson to co-operate with the Optimist Club and the Home and School Association in their effort to make Bike Safety Week a success and therefore teach everyone cyclist and motorist alike the lessons of road safety.

Eyeopener draws Repercussion and Comments

In The Edson Leader, June 13, 1912

EDITORIAL — W. C. R. Garrioch, Editor

The Calgary Eye Opener — in its last belated issue — saw fit to make some statements derogatory to Edson. That notorious sheet might have indulged in a prophetic tirade against some of the sub-divisions, which would have passed unnoticed, but the unrailed for and untruthful attack against the town proper cannot be ignored, even though it is only the above mentioned sheet that makes it. It is surprising, however to find how many people there are who will actually give credence to such statements.

Further comment is unnecessary, especially as the scurrilous statements are officially refuted elsewhere in this issue over the signature of Mayor Lawrence.

Although Bob Edwards said some mean things about Edson he was not as vindictive as he might have been. He refrained from telling about the snakes he saw hanging in festoons from the forest trees, and darting hither and thither through the moss and slime of the muskegs that he waded through while looking over the townsite.

Well, one can only surmise that he must have had a hazy jag if he couldn't tell the difference between a whiskey keg and a muskeg. Perhaps he was floundering around in the oasis of empty bottles, that the small boys have staked up in a portion of the 'muskeg', lying adjoin

Eyeopener (Comment appearing in reply — June 13, 1912 by 'THAT GUY')

I have had until now a smoking regard for the Calgary Eye Opener. True it is a good deal of a sewer rat, at times going for anything that stinks; wallowing in it in preference to its ill odor. But I am not unmindful of the utility of nature's scavengers. So I felt at least a good natured tolerance towards this gutter cleanser.

But when its writer gets into a town with a notion of opening people's eyes and makes himself so blind that he can't count the streets and published his impressions as if they mattered something he makes a big draft on his allowance of good feeling. It is one thing to say disagreeable things about hog men but quite another to tell lies about a whole town. He is pretty good at personalities but he has at times — no idea of locality

He certainly takes himself some seriously. "Real estate victims all over Canada will be interested to know that I spent an hour or more in the town lot of Edson." How's that for importance? "Those who have purchased the Edson lots will" he thinks "have one devil's own time locating them" and they certainly will if they happen to be in the purblind condition of not being able to see the streets. He makes an exception in favor of those that "happen to be within a few yards of" the street he saw. But it seems there are states of mind and body when a man couldn't see the lot nearest him let alone ascertain its number.

Now I saw two men locating their lots this afternoon. Between them they wanted to see nine lots. And they didn't have any devil of a time at all. They were in possession of their ordinary faculties how Correspondence from Mayor Gilbert Lawrence, June 11, 1912. Calgary Eye-Opener Comments. Edson Leader, June 13, 1912.

To the Editor of the Edson Leader.

Sir,

My attention has been called to certain mischievously misasked to the unreportable statements of this purveyor of criminal quips, but, for the sake of those who may be genuinely injured by the misinformation thus disseminated as to the value of their property as well as of those who may be deterred to their own disadvantage from proper investigation of the facts, I compel with the suggestion that I ought to give authentic denial to these misrepresentations.

What is meant by Edson being "a little burg of one shoe straggling street" may be open to discussion. But as to the length the fact is that the furthest house along Main street in the Grand Trunk Townsite is over three-quarters of a mile in a straight line from the station where Main street commences. The only street what are named avenues, run east and west. Counting these avenues as streets each running from Main Street which seems not unfairly considered as them have behind or other buildings facing them exclusive of the building on Main Street corners which all face Main Street beyond these seventeen streets which the Eye-Opener does not seem to have discovered there are several houses in the sub-division

The population which is stated to one of the paragraphs to be 800 souls will be found on the 18th of March last when 1253 inhabitants were found That there has been no reason for the building since then would indicate that the number of souls has not diminished meantime.

After such glaring inaccuracies as these malicious or hasty in dealing with facts, it seems scarcely worth while to notice the expression of the Eye Opener's opinion as to the future growth of Edmonton. For the apparent statement of fact that "Edson contains about 800 souls with nothing to make it much larger than it is at present" is only an expression of opinion and it ought to have been made last year before the population exceeded 800 to give it any semblance of validity. At the time the opinion was given it was already proved worth less for its writer had not taken trouble to ascertain the population of a town of which he was to express over two months ago

But the opinion of an important official of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. is probably worthy of as much acceptance as that of the Calgary Eye Opener and I am credibly informed that such an official made the statement that then in five or six years Edson would have a population of 8,000 or 9,000 as a rail road town alone

A twelve stall round house already full and to be increased to double that capacity; machine shop and repairing shop already employing 150 men with capacity laid out for more than double that number are facts indicating that the Railway Co intend to conduct important operations there And it does not seem likely that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co are retaining their immense yards for which they are so far using only the smallest fringe) without having some purpose in view which will afford occupation for a large number of men

The sentence which occurs between two of the Eye Opener's paragraphs relating to Edson "Between Edson and Fitzhugh we ran into a magnificent timber belt should have indicated to its writer some thing likely to have an influence in increasing the population of Edson, for this town cannot fail to be the distributing point to the smaller towns westward through the mountains

But the high grade coal deposits in every direction from Edson — of the existence of which appear the Eye Opener's writer has never heard — are the first and most important element in affording ground for anticipating a large population in the area which will be served by Edson. This large population, apart apart from the number of people living at Edson and handling this coal, will inevitably make Edson a distributing point of some importance

In saying this, no account is taken of other deposits such as the marl to be operated by the Edmonton Cement Co. which seems not unfairly considered as them have behind many valuable deposits will be found in the immediate neighborhood Brick clay is already on sale

All this is exclusive of the claim Edson may have to the traffic into the Peace River country of which a considerable proportion is already coming through Edson The mails to Grande Prairie be carried by this route entirely — a very significant fact in itself

As to the statement that Edson is "all a muskeg" I can only invite your readers to come and see the town for themselves

Yours obediently,
GILBERT LAWRENCE
Mayor of Edson

Party leader raps local apathy

Alberta Liberals were rapped today by their provincial president Earl Hastings of Calgary for apathy and a lack of interest in the welfare of provincial and constituency organizations

He also criticized constituency officers for an appar ent lack of interest and leadership in the current provincial membership campaign. The membership drive was to increase provincial membership by 5,000 new members and to date 20% of the objective had been reached. He said the provincial executive had authorized him to ask for the resignation of officers not fulfilling their responsibility and this would be done early in June if progress did not materialize.

He told the Edson Leader that the operation of a central and local constituency association is a costly under taking and every Alberta Liberal must assume his share of the obligation with membership fees and contributions

The Alberta president said that Liberal supporters must understand and appreciate the fact that candidates were not going to be elected if rank and file Liberals contribute to nit on their hands. The results in every Alberta constituency will be important to a national Liberal victory and a half- hearted effort would simply not be good enough.

SCOTIA PLAN LOAN TALKS NO. 1

When should you arrange a car loan?

Today the automobile has become a part of our way of life, and for many people is almost as much a necessity as a comfortable place to live. But a car that no longer suits your purpose can become a liability to your peace of mind as well as your pocketbook. The time to trade your car is before operating and repair expenses become too much of a headache. However, you may be ready to trade in the old before your savings account is ready to pay for the new.

Here's the answer! Finance your new or used car purchase easily and at low cost through Scotia Plan - The Bank of Nova Scotia's unique consumer lending program. What's more, you can arrange your Scotia Plan Loan before you shop for your car. This guarantees you the advantage of Scotia Plan's low rates, and lets you make your deal the moment you find the car you want. You can also get a Scotia Plan Loan for debt consolidation, to pay nuptial bills, for new furniture, etc.

Whether you're a Scotiabank customer or not, when you need money promptly, call at your nearest branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia.

Lovsin, Bjork power at plate as Hi-Brites near first place

By MEL SOLTYS

With versatile Frank Lovsin and mainstay Al Bjork providing the necessary scoring punch at the plate, the Hinton Hi-Brites moved within two points of first place in the North Western Baseball League when they pasted a brace from the MacKay Braves last Sunday at Hinton's baseball park. The Hi-Brites moved into a second place tie with the Braves when they polished off the visitors 7 - 2 and 13 - 8, in other league action that same day, the Jasper Panthers upset the Edson Athletics win

LEAGUE RESULTS

Sunday, May 26th — Edson 7 16, Hinton 6 13, Jasper 2 - 3; Mayerthorpe 3 4, MacKay 8 0. Whitecourt 3 5, Edson 2 - 3.

LOVSIN COMES CLOSE TO RECORD

Hi Brite shortstop Frank Lovsin came close to tying former team-mate Jim Bowersock's hitting record of eight hits in eight times at bat during a league doubleheader. Lovsin went four-for-four in the first game against the Braves and singled three consecutive times in the last game before MacKay hurler Charlie Gallagher got him to ground out pitcher to first in the last half of the sixth inning. All his seven for eight performance at the plate, Lovsin upped his league batting average to .600 nine hits in fifteen times at bat).

FRANK LOVSIN, one of the stars of Sunday's double header who batted 7 for 8 against MacKay, almost equaling Jim Bowersock's record of 8 hits in 8 times at bat.

BJORK THROWS FOUR HITTER

Al Bjork remained unbeaten, pitching wise, in league play when he ran his won-lost record to 2 0 as the Hi Brites opened the season at home with a 7 - 2 win over MacKay. The right-hander came up with a nifty four hitter against the defending champion Braves who seem like a different club usual time — 1:00 p.m

Sunday June 11th, finds all six teams in action once again with Hinton playing host to the Mayerthorpe Imperials, Jasper travelling to MacKay, and the Edson Athletics at Whitecourt All games are doubleheaders with the first starting at the usual time — 1:00 p.m

Census taking: the bare facts

An army of about 26,000 census takers will call on 5 and a 6,500,000 Canadian homes beginning June 1

Through it all they will be roamed on, splashed at, barked at by countless dogs named Rover A few will be bogged down at some point in muddy roads tossed about in Model Ts, for example, one enumerator fell down a flight of stairs and broke a leg An other was tripped by a dog who proceeded to severely tear her dress and shocking- but she still got the interview A third stepped into a pothole in a sidewalk, fell and broke her ankle And a fourth was frightened by a dog jumping through a window to attack her Fortunately she fled to her car in time

This bears out the words of one regional officer of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics "We stress that our staff enumerators and recruiters must be flexible and adaptable Each interview is to some degree a somewhat different undertaking"

Questioned on expenditure, he reported how the deadline had been lost when his boat capsized

Almost every incident that can happen to a human being has happened during a census There are everyday hazards of living in the 1961 census for example, one enumerator fell down a flight of stairs and broke a leg An other was tripped by a dog who proceeded to severely tear her dress and shocking- but she still got the interview A third stepped into a pothole in a sidewalk, fell and broke her ankle And a fourth was frightened by a dog jumping through a window to attack her Fortunately she fled to her car in time

In the lighter side one census commissioner in Ottawa in 1951 was faced with a sudden camp Happily, being a shy man he was not confronted with the "bare facts" Interviewers were arranged without embarrassment

And then there's the case of the two septuagenarians a man and a woman- living in apartments one atop the other, who hesitated to divulge the respective ages lest the other might find out

Census takers have been known to display ingenuity but probably no one will ever again match the bravura of one woman She came out with the idea of planting a flag outside each house she entered, so that her super visor would know her location.

In more isolated areas, census takers will have problems peculiarly their own. During the census, an enumerator claimed for a drum of gas

Kindergarten pupils have windup picnic

Monday, May 29th, the Kindergarten mothers gathered at the home of Mrs. Rita Stef fert where Mrs. Grace Harrison grade one teacher spoke to them on testing of potential beginner pupils.

An I.Q. chart drawn up by Mr. H. Wortman was borrowed and on display. This chart explained the achievement and ability of pupils having various levels of I.Q.

The mothers after asking many questions which Mrs. Harrison very capably answered thanked her and said they felt her talk had helped them very much. Prior to closing the Kindergarten class was busy with a visit to the craft corner. Here they watched Mrs. Laura Mahon "throw a pot" and were shown the various stages the pot goes through before it's finished.

Later the same week the [illegible] visited the Grade one and two rooms at the Pine [illegible] School. They observed [illegible] pupils at art [illegible] the grade one pupils having a money lesson. They enjoyed viewing the art display and seatwork scrap books. Both these tours left the class timetable unpicturbed.

Juvenile Met. Drill trophies and prizes were presented in the kindergarten class. Health competition trophies were won by Jim Metzgert and Donny Swedish. Mobilaire trophy was won by David Jardine.

To wind up the year the Kindergarten Class along with the Mothers drove to the picnic spot several miles east of town where they enjoyed a picnic lunch and races were run for the children and mothers with all participating in the final sport Lunch was served at the picnic shelter.

During this time Jon Mervart and Irene Malinchak presented Mrs. Stelter with gifts on behalf of all the Kindergarten class. Mrs. Stelter thanked the children and their parents for their thoughtfulness and wonderful co-operation during the term. She said she will miss her little people but hoped they would do as well and be as happy in school as they have been with her.

HATTONFORD

Mr. and Mrs. O. Ford and Mrs. I. Cundict were Edson visitors on Thursday of last week.

Another small bush fire on the Nixon road aroused a lot of excitement last Saturday but was soon brought under control by quick action in removing it and getting help. Regardless of all the lightning and thunder early last Sunday morning there was little reward as far as rain was observed.

Elaine Cundict Dennis Cundict, Neil Gilbert, Barry Ford and Ivan Christenson enjoyed the day in Edmonton last Saturday. The grades 5 and 6 teachers sponsored the trip.

The Variety Show sponsored by the Hattonford Ladies Aid was greatly enjoyed by a large audience.

With sympathy of the district is extended to the Messers Bob, Jim and John Patterson, on the loss of their brother William who passed away in Misericordia Hospital on Monday May 29th.

Nowadays having regard to the high cost of living it would appear that white collar workers will have to be content with weekly salary [illegible]

Tom Cooper hits three score ten

A surprise party was held on June 4 honoring Mr. Tom Cooper on the occasion of his 70th birthday.

Home for the day were five of his six children Phyllis (Mrs. George Pegg) and Terry Cooper with their families.

One daughter Edith who lives in Southey B.C. was absent.

Several friends and neighbors called to enjoy a visit with Mr. Cooper.

Mr. Cooper came to this area in 1912 from England and was an employee of the CNR up to his retirement five years ago. He is still active in Masonic circles of Way Union work.

Tom it was postponed till June 20th Everyone is welcome to come.

On May 27, the Peers 4-H Girl's Clothing Club spent an active day at Mayerthorpe for the 4-H rally and sports day. They enjoyed themselves very much and brought home the 4-H plaque and certificate for the best demonstration.

Emilie Aschenmeier spent part of her holidays visiting in Edmonton and at home.

The Peers 4-H Achievement Day was held on May 28th at Peers. The power was off but gas lamps were used and everyone had an enjoyable evening of talks and demonstrations given by the girls. Mrs. Allbinson and her assistant Miss Adamson were out from Edmonton to judge the girls' work.

The guests of honor for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Willmore and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hook and Mrs. Paul of Edson and the Nixon 4-H girls and some of their mothers and friends. Everyone was invited to look over the girls' work and project books.

Miss Betty Ann Arcen was presented with a leather purse by Mr. Willmore for being the best 4-H girl.

At the close of the evening coffee and lunch was served.

Birthday greetings for June-week for a trip to the States to visit with relatives and friends.

AS I SEE IT

Reverend E. HURD — Pastor

It has been suggested that [illegible] church statistics [illegible] last Sunday [illegible] out-of-[illegible] church figures are of course deceptive. They have virtual[illegible] to say as to the number who have come to the arms of Christ seeking salvation from sin. They do, however, reflect a climate favorable to religious consideration. Indeed there are indications that more people than at any time in our generation are talking about religion and many of them are at least willing to listen to the claims of Christ. Throughout the country it would seem that there is a very real openness to the gospel.

But it is not even for the [illegible] who should know better to be deceived by such statistics. Church membership is popular but the ritual that is ready to nod approval to the idea of joining a church is not equipped to go further. Let the non-born Christian presume to be differ-ent in some way for the sake of Jesus Christ and the age-old enmity of the world will show its fangs.

This is as it should be. You and all that will live godly in Christ shall suffer persecution" (II Tim. 3:12). The danger is that the believer can come to expect acceptance from the world or be surprised when he encounters opposition.

Of course there is a vast difference between the making of a church statistic and the making of a saint. The one may be accomplished with little more than the signing of a pen but the other is the work of God.

One can become a church statistic by merely affiliating himself with a religious group of his choice. He cannot become a disciple. The Bible calls them saints until by God's grace he comes to see his sin-his utter unfitness with God. His only hope the cross of Jesus Christ.

Now is this all. For the one [illegible]

OPTIMIST NORM RPP PRESENTS Optimist Art Kratzmann with a life membership wall plaque at the regular meeting of the Edson club last week.

Rodeo performers active in Western circuits

Some of the cowboys who will be appearing in Edson's big two day rodeo August 6 and 7 have already got several rodeos and summer points under their belt, barkled bells, event though the season has just got going nicely.

Jimmy McLean of Okanagan Falls, B.C. continued to widen his lead in the Saddle Bronc riding event and after wins at Edmonton and Falkland, B.C. he has a total of 1,021 points. His nearest rival is George Myers of Viking Alberta with a total of 510 points. McLean also leads in the bush point pot going merely with a total of 1,020.

Earl Mac's brave of Taber, Alberta came from no where in the standings and now heads the list of all riders after winning over $1,000 at Edmonton in second place close behind him is Tom Ellis, of Shoal-lake, Alberta. Ellis by the steer wrestling and has become a favorite in the bronc-ridin fiere 20-13).

So now has a right to expect much change from the person who has merely become a membership statistic but God — and even the world — expects that the change from the inside out. Christian will be different than any other kind of person. A saint of a statistic? You can be a saint. If by God's grace you are already remembered by the manner and purpose of your calling.

Thank You

I wish to express my appreciation to the Treherne Rodeo Assn. for sponsoring my musical recital of June 2 and especially to Mr. Collins for his willing assistance and to all the parents for their patient co-operation.

A very special thanks to Mrs. V. Anker who so graciously loaned her piano for the event and to Mr. Jim Bell who so willingly stepped in and did a marvelous job as MC.

Also to the parents in the Legion who so thoughtfully supplied cold pop for a very appreciative group of young stars on such an extremely warm evening.

My sincere thanks.

Mrs. A. Petty

Pre-registration of School Beginners, Edson Schools

As in the past the Edson Elementary schools will pre-register possible fall school beginners during June The dates set for this year's pre-registration are June 26, 27 and 28 in both the A. H. Dakin and Evergreen Schools

All Children born on or before February 29, 1956 are required to attend pre-registration.

During the three days, the boys and girls will become acquainted with school life, will be cautioned, observed and helped by teachers, and will be given a test to determine their readiness for Grade 1 work

Those children born September 1, 1955 and later will be admitted in the fall only if tests and observations show that they are ready for Grade 1.

Parents will be notified of pre-registration results early in July

Please Note It is to the advantage of all children that your child pre-register in June, rather than show up for the first time in September. September pre-registration upsets a smooth school year beginning for all As well, test requirements will be three months stricter in September than in June

Please use the registration form below and forward to the school at which children of your area are attending This form should be at the school by June 23 Additional forms are available at the elementary schools or at the Edson School Division office

Building permits pass half million mark

With the building season just newly started, building permits taken out at the Town office to date total $585,082.00. Most recent permits includes $143,000 for buildings for the Alberta Gas Trunk Company and $110,000 for the Alberta Mechanical Contractors housing project.

Included in the total is an estimated $150,000 for the super structure of the new Edson Motor Hotel. It is expected the full permit will amount to much more.

A junior high school building is scheduled for a start this year and is not included in this total. The school building will probably run to around $200,000.

The hot weather we have been having the past few weeks has given the construction crews a real break. Little time due to rain has been held to a minimum for this time of year.

Sands Construction working on the west highway for the second year are experiencing less lost time than was the case last year. Nadon Paving working on the six blocks north from 6th Avenue on Main street have only had a couple of days close down as well in the past couple of weeks.

Watch Edson grow!

Majority in favor big sewer project

A handful of proprietary owners out of the 1043 property owners gave their yes vote to the $216,000 sewer expansion project presented to them by the Edson Town Council on Monday.

To be exact 21.9 per cent of the ellgible ratepayers voted on the important money by-law. Out of the 229 ballots cast, 224 said yes, while only four voted against the by-law. There was one spoiled ballot.

The necessary arrangements have already been started to get the project under way this summer. Acquisition of land, financing and letting of tenders takes considerable time and it is essential that services be available for all the new building taking place in town.

Entries coming in for July 1st tourney

Arrangements and entries are being dealt with in rapid succession in order to ensure Edson and district residents of a hang up Sports on July 1st and 2nd.

For the first time in many years, entries for the baseball tournament July 1st, exceed the number of teams required, this assures fans of top-notch baseball action.

Awurance has been received that one of Edson's old time E.A.A.A. Presidents Hon. N. Willmore will be here.

Many more letters of acceptance are being received as to entry and participation.

Travel restrictions eased

Local fishermen and sportsmen will be happy to learn of the lifting, this morning, of travel restrictions on wildfire roads.

The roads were closed by government order when the dry weather caused fire hazards to become dangerously high. The varying amounts of rainfall throughout the district has eased the hazard to the extent that restrictions can be eased.

However, persons travelling in the woods are urged to exercise extreme caution with cigarette butts, matches, camp fires, etc.

Pro wrestling for July 1st

Featuring some of the best known wrestlers in the country Mighty Tyrus, 225 pound fighter from Halifax, Norris La Pointe, 220 pounds from Montreal; Tarzan Tourville 250 pounds from Montreal; Dick Ruby 300 pounds from Hamilton; John Smith, 240 pounds from New York, and well known Stu Hart, 248 pounds hailing from Calgary, featuring a battle royal with three matches to follow. The show will start immediately after the last ball game at 8:30 p.m. July 1st.

DARLENE WOYTKA who this week joins the ranks of past editors of the Edson High School Yearbook. Darlene and her committee have come up with a new-picture and less rambling matter kind of book, which they hope will be more like a souvenir photo album to continuously relive through the years. The book is printed locally for the first time in recent years. The printers? The common printing department of the Edson Leader, of course.

100 Scouts and Cubs attend annual Jamboree

Saturday afternoon, June 10th, 1961, at the Edson Tri-Service Rodeo grounds approximately 100 Scouts and Cubs from Hinton, Edson and Whitecourt, attended the annual Yellowhead Boys' Scout District Council Jamboree.

This year's Jamboree which was hosted by the Edson groups started Saturday after noon when the visiting groups inspected the First Edson A nd B Scout Troops campsites which were located in the South East corner of the grounds. Following this inspection the Jamboree was officially opened when the four Scout troops formed a horse shoe and broke the flag.

Following, the Scout Flag ceremony, packs went through a stated level 1 pen completion of the opening for mation the Scouts and Cubs got together and had a horse back race.

The Scouts and Cubs then split up the rules played games based on their Cub work. The Cub activities of the afternoon were headed up by Cubmaster Jim Officer assisted by Cubmistress Mrs. Ria Harrison and the Cubmen from the 1st Hudson Cub Pack. The afternoon for the Cubs was completed by a tin foil cookout.

The Scouts then completed for the optional All around Scout Competitions consisted of Events such as Troop Rallies, Scouts and Cubs getting

UNLESS YOU'RE A MASTER MECHANIC YOU'D BETTER LOOK FOR THE OK TAG

Here's What OK Means To You — If you're shopping for a used car you ask yourself a lot of questions. "What's the actual mileage?" "What shape is it really in?" "Will it give me years of note trouble-free transportation?". Unless you're a master mechanic you have to take your dealer's word for the answers. So it makes the best of sense to shop and buy from a dealer you can trust. That's the dealer who puts the OK tag on his cars. The OK tag means he stands behind his claims.

Gaby Haas, Tony Biamonte coming to pool opening

HINTON—

Gaby Haas and Tony Biamonte, well known Edmonton TV personalities, are coming to Hinton on June 26 to help with the official opening of the swimming pool. Gaby and his orchestra will provide the music for the street dance outside the Ath abasca Valley Hotel. Tony will be master of ceremonies during the opening of the pool.

Both men have regular shows on CFRN-TV. Tony is one of the well known "Chuck Wagon" show, which features Gaby and his musicians. In addition to this, he also has a daily radio program from 1 to 4 p.m Monday through Friday, called Rancho Ballroom.

Gaby is very versatile in his musical interpretations and is equally at home with European music, waltzes and country hoedowns, although he is better known for the latter. During the summer months he and his orchestra play regularly at the Lakeshore resort. Every Saturday night they provide music at the Tivoli ballroom and every Friday he officiates at the CFRN Barn Dance.

Hinton will be filled with professional entertainers on June 26th. The opening of the Hinton pool should be one of the biggest events of the year.

Obed Lake stocked

Obed Lake recently became heavily populated as it was the target for 20,500 rainbow trout fingerlings.

Obed was the only lake in the immediate Hinton area that was included in the 10 fish programs. Three other bodies of water in the Edson district were also stocked with rainbow fry, fingerlings and yearlings.

Given time, at least a few of the 20,500 new residents of Obed Lake may grow up to be as big as the monster ones caught last Saturday near Guy Miller's cabin on Obed by Norvell Gauthier. Mr Gauthier can boast a pair of prize winners in the 2½ pound and the 3½ pound rainbow he caught.

Mrs. Geo Winter and child ren arrived last Monday from Toronto to spend a holiday with Mrs. Winter's parent Mr and Mrs H Lawton, be fore taking up residence in Edmonton in the fall, where Mr Winter will return from Ames, Iowa to accept a posi tion at the University of Al berta.

The June meeting of the W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. H Lawton on Wednesday June 7th Six members and two visitors were present It was decided to hold a joint W I and Community Club picnic on Saturday July 8th. After the business of the meeting was over the hostess assisted by her daughter Mrs. Winter served a lovely lunch.

Several families from this district attended the F.U.A. picnic at Peers on Farmers Day but were not in impress ed as it was certainly noisier to compare with former years.

The "bee" held on Saturday 10th to improve the cemetery grounds was very well attended and when the afternoon came to a close, it was gratifying to see just what had been accomplished. The Cemetery Club wishes to extend a hearty "Thank you" to all those who so ably lent their assistance.

Cooking is older than recorded history . . . nearly as old as man himself. The use of heat to make food more palatable dates back to the cave-man's open fire. But to bring it a little more up-to-date, maybe you remember how your mother complained about the old coal and wood stove. True, it's warmth was welcome in the kitchen during the winter, but not so welcome in the heat of summer.

And what a nuisance it was keeping the woodbox filled, keeping the stove clean, carrying out ashes. Today, it's electric cooking — the clean, fast, economical method that makes cooking fun — assures you of perfect results every time. All you have to do is set the oven time, put your meal in, and forget it. When you're ready for dinner . . . dinner's ready! YOU live better ELECTRICALLY!

MR. AND MRS. ED SOLTYS

The Edson Sacred Heart Church was the scene of a pretty wedding when Mary Radencich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M Radencich of Edson, became the bride of Edward Soltis son of Mr and Mrs S Soltis of Lesanac, on May 20th at 10:00 in the morning.

The Church was decorated with yellow and white mums and the organist was Mrs. L. Kechel with Wagner Callaghan singing the solo Rev Father J. C Nadon performed the wedding rites.

The bride, given on marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor length, princess lined gown of silk organza featuring bell point sleeves. She carried a bouquet of American beauty roses and her only jewellery was drop earrings made of cut glass a gift of the groom

The bride's attendants were Maid of Honor, Miss Teresa Mildred bridesmaids Miss Paula Reech and Teresa Kosar All were identical dresses of mauve lace matching head pieces and carried bouquets of pale yellow carnations

The best man was Harvey Soltis and the ushers were Joe Radencich and John Radencich

For her daughter's wedding Mrs Radencich chose a light blue linen dress with match ing jacket and accessories in light blue linen with white assonage ors and pink roses corsarage

The groom a mother wore a printed chiffon dress of blue and green, with white assonage ors and wore a corsage of white roses

The reception was held in the Sacred Heart Parish Hall with 200 guests attending The toast to the bride was made by Father J C Nadon and ably answered by the groom A wed ding dance followed later in the Elks house

For their honeymoon to the Mt interior and Southern Al berta the bride wore a mauve pleated dress with matching wool length jacket of white with mauve and a mauve hat

Out of town guests were Mr and Mrs N Soltis and family Mr and Mrs G Jacober and Diana of Medicine Hat, Mr and Mrs S Radencich of Grassy Lake, Mr and Mrs Joe Radencich of Nordegg Mr and Mrs S Bednar and Mr and Mrs T Krasowich of New Sarepta

Ask Surprise Lake declared wilderness area

A meeting of the Surprise Lake Camp committee was held in the United church base ment on Wednesday Various matters of interest to the forth coming camping season were discussed

A letter is going to be writ ten to our MP Dr Hugh Hor ner requesting into the possibil ity of declaring Surprise Lake a wilderness area, thus stop ping any further development and especially excluding motor boats from the lake

These boats would freighten away the loons and other birds, and also present a danger to swimmers It is hoped to have a program show for the camp fire activities are proceeding but so far the girls far out number the boys A very good staff has been lined up for the leadership training camp to be held from June 26 to July 3

This camp offers two years ex perience in handcraft and out door leadership and fellow ship The latter course would be excellent for Sunday school teachers as well as fu ture camp leaders. Registra tion forms can be obtained from Mrs H F Gardener Fol son or Rev C C Armstrong Edson

Donations of any of the fol lowing would be greatly ap preciated by the camp com mittee cans with lids such as coffee cans pails with lids wash ing lard containers bad minton birdie turkey feathers horse shoes etc

Last year 1960 the Parks Department said that there were over 300,000 visitors to the Jasper National Park My self and I were forty or fifty [illegible] we were also twenty [illegible] the 77,000 who made a return to the Myrtle [illegible] Park and the Myrtle [illegible] Lake have been many years as many years as my self were two residents in this area We think we have the most beautiful and daisies as most [illegible] and as much pasture as the next however there is one time when a taxpayer [illegible] cash

Where is the $6 000 000 00 a year being spent in the Wes [illegible] of Park's World [illegible] time that for the amount 300,000 people would need have to dodge open pits holes (if they are lucky) and fish their life and car on the hazardous drive between the East Gate and Jasper Town site The third tremendous amount of money would make it possible to drive on the Myrtle Hot Springs road the coming date, without any frights and the windows clos ed to keep out the cloud of dust That the sand road handling about 200,000 people each season be improved and hard topped, or that the Parks Department maybe find it possible to expand or replace the pool at Myrtle rather than try to keep up with increased attendance by limiting your 50 cent admission to 30 min utes swimming or allowing the pool to become butter on busy days so that people will not be able to even stay in for the 30 minutes

As a businessman I can ap preciate and approve the Tour ist promotional work the Gov ernment does, but as a travel ler on the Park I wonder if they are not just harvesting a bigger crop of travellers to be excoriated by this type of in adequate planning and mani festation.

The man made roads and facilities in these parks should enhance not detract from the beauties that nature itself has created for us to enjoy

Optimist Junior League Baseba'

On Friday, June 9, the Kins men Ball Club topped the Lions by a score of 11 to 7 in a fast 7 inning game that saw Galbraith of the Lions striking out 9 batters while the batters combination of Pyear, Reid and Sarin gave up 7 walks and 6 hits

Pool had your Mc Gillivray's bats been going as many years as his pitching he would be two residents in this league We think we have the right idea and dubbies as most [illegible] and as much pasture as the next however there is one time when a taxpayer [illegible] cash

Where is the $6 000 000 00 a year being spent in the Wes [illegible] of Park's World [illegible] time that for the amount 300,000 people would need have to dodge open pits holes (if they are lucky) and fish their life and car on the hazardous drive between the East Gate and Jasper Town site The third tremendous amount of money would make it possible to drive on the Myrtle Hot Springs road the coming date, without any frights and the windows clos ed to keep out the cloud of dust That the sand road handling about 200,000 people each season be improved and hard topped, or that the Parks Department maybe find it possible to expand or replace the pool at Myrtle rather than try to keep up with increased attendance by limiting your 50 cent admission to 30 min utes swimming or allowing the pool to become butter on busy days so that people will not be able to even stay in for the 30 minutes

As a businessman I can ap preciate and approve the Tour ist promotional work the Gov ernment does, but as a travel ler on the Park I wonder if they are not just harvesting a bigger crop of travellers to be excoriated by this type of in adequate planning and mani festation.

The man made roads and facilities in these parks should enhance not detract from the beauties that nature itself has created for us to enjoy

Hinton girls take Edson 19-11

Hinton ladies softball team won their first out of town game by a decisive 19-11 on Sunday. The game was tied up in the 7th inning when speedy Helen Radchitz knocked her fourth homer of the day to clinch the game for Hinton. A newcomer to the team, Carol McGhee pitched a perfect game and proved herself a very valuable new member.

Sponsored by Hinton Shell Service the team is managed by Lawrence Repchuk with Freda Thorien doing the coaching.

Hinton team in provincial juvenile playoffs

Hinton's Hinton merchants, by providing uniforms and sponsoring the team are giving a Hinton Juvenile baseball team a chance to enter Provincial Juvenile playoffs. The boys range in age from 13 to 15 years.

The playoffs will get underway in the early part of July with teams from cities and towns north of Red Deer playing off in the Northern Alberta section. The southern playoffs include teams from south of Red Deer.

The Hinton boys are being coached by Ray Watt, Jack Perkins and Herb Johnson. Russ Turgeon is their manager and Tris Kitagawski is secretary of the organization.

Hi-Brites keep up wins defeat Mayerthorpe twice

By MEL SOLTYS

The tight race for first place in the North Western Baseball League remained intact as a result of last Sunday's busy action on two fronts. The Whitecourt Eagles, Hinton Hi-Brites and MacKay Braves still dominate the circuit standings with only two points separating the first and third place teams, the identical position these three clubs were in on June 4th.

Edson Forfeits Two Games

The Whitecourt Eagles received a rather odd gift from the Edson Athletics the team they were scheduled to play, when the A's forfeited their doubleheader in the Eagles' Den to player difficulties. Edson was unable to make the trip to Whitecourt and as a result an automatic 4 points was handed to the Eagles. Unless the Athletics come up with a full roster against the Jasper Panthers at Edson this coming Sunday, they lose their league franchise. Back in 1958, the A's had to withdraw from the NWBL because of similar player problems.

In league play on June 11, the Hinton Hi-Brites kept on their winning ways by defeating the visiting Mayerthorpe Imperials twice. The Hi-Brites ran their winning streak to four straight games all of them in the confines of the Hinton baseball park, where they shortout the Imperials 7-0 in the first game of a doubleheader then bat well played 6-2 victory in the final encounter.

At MacKay, the revamped Braves swept a brace from the Jasper Panthers by scores of 8-4 and 5-0 wins. The Braves Hinton and MacKay deadlocked for second place in the North Western Baseball League standings with both points each, two back of the Whitecourt Eagle's who boast a 9-1 won-loss record. However, the Hi-Brites have two games in hand over the Braves and one over the Eagles.

NWBL STANDINGS

Team	GP	W	L	Pct.	Pts.
Whitecourt	7	6	1	.857	12
Hinton	6	5	1	.833	10
MacKay	6	5	1	.833	10
Jasper	6	2	4	.333	4
Mayerthorpe	7	2	5	.286	4
Edson	7	1	7	.125	2

JUNE 11 RESULTS

Mayerthorpe 0 2 Hinton 7 4 Jasper 4 8, MacKay 5 0

Bjork Shuts Out Imperials

With pitcher Al Bjork teaming up with a stellar performance, the Hinton Hi-Brites won their 3rd straight game at home by whitewashing the Mayerthorpe Imperials 7-0. The Imperials have yet to win while on the road. Bjork allowed just two hits to the visitors in racking up his third consecutive win for the Hi-Brites. The right hander gave up a single in the first inning and a double in the seventh struck out 8 and passed three batters in going the full route.

FIRST INNING DOES IT FOR HINTON

A five-run uprising in their half of the first inning provided all-scored it up for the Hi-error on the field aiding the game. With one out, Dan Lewsin and Ron Mooney got to Mayerthorpe hurler Bob Warkentin for consecutive singles, with Lewsin advancing to third on the latter's hit.

Al Bjork struck out for the second out but Frank Lewsin drove in brother Ramie with a safety to left field and went to second on an error by the right fielder. An overthrow to first base by catcher McDermott also dropped a third strike thrown to Jo Passemaire and Lewsin scampering home with the third Hi-Brite run. Mel Soltys

Mayerthorpe Imperials twice. The Hi-Brites ran their winning streak to four straight games all of them in the confines of the Hinton baseball park, where they shortout the Imperials 7-0 in the first game of a doubleheader then bat well played 6-2 victory in the final encounter.

At MacKay, the revamped Braves swept a brace from the Jasper Panthers by scores of 8-4 and 5-0 wins. The Braves Hinton and MacKay deadlocked for second place in the North Western Baseball League standings with both points each, two back of the Whitecourt Eagle's who boast a 9-1 won-loss record. However, the Hi-Brites have two games in hand over the Braves and one over the Eagles.

Dan Lewsin led the Hinton attack at the plate, going three-for-four, scoring two runs and stealing two bases.

First catcher Ron Mooney got two singles in three times at bat, scored once and drove in another Hinton run. Al Bjork and Frank Lewsin, running each and each on the North Western Baseball League individual batting average each had two hits and drove in one apiece.

Bob Warkentin took the loss, for the Imperials, allowing seven hits striking out five while walking one.

Hi-Brites Make Hits Count

Hinton had their hands full in the second game as Imperial pitcher Joe Sanji allowed them just five hits. However the Hi-Brites came up with the base hits when they were needed to post a well-earned 4-2 victory over the visitors.

Mayerthorpe struck for one run in the first inning to get in front 1-0 when Ed Ahrens walked, went to second on a throwing error to the left fielder scoring on George Smith's RBI single through the box. Hinton went after and to stay in the last of the second frame as Joe Passemaire, Mel Soltys and Rod Nerbas crossed the plate to make it 2-0

Ken Williams, grounded out to 4-3 for the first Hinton out. Joe Passemaire, walked, and after catcher Wayne Mullens struck out, Mel Soltys' double to centre made it 1-1. Ed Herbes' bat grounder to the shortstop was bobbled long enough to enable Soltys to score and send Herbes on to second. Dan Lewsin then came through with his fourth hit of the afternoon to drive in Herbes and put the Hi-Brites ahead 3-1.

A bend-off home run by catcher Joe Sanji in the 4th inning closed the gap to 3-2 but Hinton got that one back in the fifth when Herbes led off the inning with a single followed to second on a sacrifice bunt by Dan Lewsin. After Ron Mooney grounded out 5-3 Al Bjork's smash single to right field drove in Herbes to make it 4-2.

Mel Soltys took the win for Hinton, allowing eight hits, striking out fourteen batters and passing two. George was tagged with the loss, allowing only five hits, whiffing four and issuing three free passes.

Braves Rally in Seventh

The MacKay Braves rallied their first game out of the five against the Jasper Panthers when they rallied for four big runs in the bottom of the seventh and lost in going to opposite out the Panthers 5-4 and send the visitors away shaking their heads. Down 4-1 and going up to the plate for the last time Rob Brett MacKay led off the inning with a walk Howard Hawkins singled and Don Young drew in MacKay with an RBI single.

Fred Fenaris went on on strikes but Ernie Walsh came through with a 2-run double to tie the game at 4-4. The Panthers purposely walked Charlie Gallagher to get at Bill Barker and Ted Dye, who homered for MacKay in the fifth frame Barker though came up with the Braves second double of the inning to drive Walsh and the winning run.

Fred Solthal was the win inning pitcher for MacKay going the full distance, giving up six hits, striking out nine batters and walking two. Solthal who came on in relief for Jasper in the seventh inning was the loser.

Gallagher Throws No-hitter

Charlie Gallagher spun a no-hitter for MacKay in the second game as the Braves whipped Jasper 8-0 to sweep the doubleheader.

This marks the second time Gallagher has achieved such a feat in North Western Baseball League play. Each in 1957, the first year of the NWBL. Gallagher then an Edson Athletic player, didn't allow the visiting MacKay Braves a single bit but still came out on the short end of the score as the A's threw the game away as errors.

The right-hander had good support from his fielders, and struck out seven batters while issuing four. Against Jasper Bill Barker, who drove in the winning run in the first game smashed a bases-loaded home run in the fifth for MacKay. Charlie Gallagher was two for-two at bat while Ernie Walsh garnered a double and two singles in four times at bat. Robert MacKay also had two hits for the Braves in three trips to the plate.

The Hi-Brites have an opportunity to pull into a first place tie with the Eagles this Wednesday evening, June 14. They journey to Jasper to play the Panthers in a nine inning encounter. Due to their previously scheduled doubleheader on May 14 being called off, Hinton and Jasper will play this game and another one on June 21.

A win for the Hi Brites would set the stage for their crucial double header this coming Sunday, June 18, at Whitecourt against the hosting Eagles. In other league action on Sunday, Jasper travels to Edson while MacKay goes to Edson while Mayerthorpe is at home to MacKay.

GARDENING TIPS

By MRS. CAVE

Among the most expensive vegetable worth growing, but an exception Chicory, also known as French Endive or Witloof They are grown for their succulent blanched leaves for salad or baked "au gratin" in late Fall and winter The seeds are sown outdoors in drills a half an inch deep in rows fifteen inches apart in deeply dug soil free of lumps and fresh manure are Before the seeding become crowded they must be thinned to eight inches apart During the summer the soil must be cultivated regularly to keep down weeds and encourage new growth

In late autumn, the roots are lifted, the tops cut off a inch and a half from the top root The roots are then stored between layers of sand or fine soil in the cellar or in boxes in a shed or house with the greenhouse bench on.

Roots are set closely together, and so sand being packed between them. If not in a dark, warm place of a least 55 degrees, the product will be ready for cutting on a least three weeks in a cool cellar or shed for a to five weeks will elapse before they are ready to be cut, that is when they have reached a least six inches So by regulating the temperature from cold to warm, production can be checked to enjoy the continuous of the delicious leaves for a longer period of time It is not too late to try them this year if there is a spare spot in the garden.

HOW MANY HAVE A BANK ACCOUNT?

Chances are they all have/Because nowadays practically everybody is a bank customer. And they go to the bank so often and for so many reasons: to deposit savings, arrange a loan, buy or sell foreign exchange, purchase money orders... In fact, Canadians seem to use banking services more than the people of any other country/The chartered banks, for their part, do their utmost to make each branch a friendly, efficient centre for every kind of banking service.

Council has three tries at motion then tables it

Edson Council don't always agree on everything, as reading the six minutes of the meeting last Tuesday, June 8, will show. By reading down this report of the meeting the various motions about a business license for A&W on its removal to Second Avenue and its eventual tabling point this up. Council seem happy this week though at the results of the favorable plebiscite on the big sewer project.

Present were Mayor W B Brunelle and Councillors L A Mahon, W Balfe, F Bench, J Scott and P W Wells and Jr No. 27 of the meeting of May 26th was rescinded. The matter of left hand turns being made out of entrance are to be checked as to legality.

Mr H J Reid addressed Council with regard to CNR a proposal to eliminate the dam. The CNR is to be requested to withhold action on removal of dam structure for time being in permit further inspection and report Carried Committee Scott opposed to motion.

Council doubted its approval to the issuing of a tag day by the Order of the Royal Purple on Saturday, June 17.

The Mayor was directed to proclaim the week of June 11 to 17 as Bike Safety Week. Council granted its approval to the holding of a parade of children on bicycles, at 1:00 p.m. Saturday, June 17.

Council granted its approval to the placing of a North western Pubs and Power Ltd Fire Danger Index Sign at the Forestry garage site. Block 198, in a suitable location as that forestry may control information on sign as requested.

Material was placed on table with regard to Alberta Mechanical Contractors Ltd. application for change in site covered on license as retail dealer in hardware and lumber.

It was moved by Councillor Mills that Council approve site transfer of Plumbing and Heating license but that Council does not approve site transfer of retail license in hardware and lumber for site Lot 31 to 33, Block 8 in view of the fact Company has not been engaged in the retail hardware and lumber business.

Motion defeated Opposed to motion Councillor Read, Scott, Wells.

It was moved by Councillor Wells that Council grant its approval to change of site location for license Alberta Mechanical Contractors Ltd. to site Lot 21 to 23, Block 8, Plan 1406 AC on Plumbing, Heating, Hardware and Lumber retail dealer license Motion defeated. Opposed to motion Council for Scott Read, Mills and Mahon.

It was moved by Councillor Mahon that matter of submission of Alberta Mechanical Contractors Ltd for approval of Council to site transfer in opinion as retail dealer in Hardware and Lumber in addition to Plumbing and Heating at site Lot 31 to 33, Block 8, be tabled until the next meeting of Council and the Building and Plans Committee be requested to bring in report Carried.

Prior submission of Alberta Mechanical Contractors Ltd., requesting option on Lots 11 to 19, Block 136, and Lots 6 to 10, Block 137, as tabled by Council Motion No. 7, April 5th, 1961, was placed before Council and Council addressed to Mr S Peterson.

It was moved by Councillor Wells that the Mayor and Secretary be authorized to sign an agreement with Alberta Mechanical Contractors Ltd., providing for the sale of Lots 11 to 19, Block 136, and Lots 6 to 10 (incl), Block 137, Plan 6304 AC, being land held by the Town under tax enforcery, on a basis of $1.00 land sale, and $400.00 per lot, to the total cost of servicing (water, sewer and gravel road) and in the gross sum of $5 000.00, subject to payment of $4,000.00 upon completion of water and sewer installation, and subject to certain other conditions.

That the Mayor and Secretary be authorized to make transfer of title upon payment of the said sum of $500.00 being 10 per cent Carried

Mr P Serdiuk was appointed enumerator to prepare the voters' list.

Council approved the plan

PRAYER FOR A BRIDE AND GROOM

O God of love, Thou hast established marriage for the welfare and happiness of mankind. Thou was the plan and only with Thy can we work it out with joy Thou hast said, "It is not good for man to be alone I will make a help meet for him." Now our joys are doubled since the happiness of one is the happiness of the other. Our burdens are halved since when we share them, we divide the load.

Bless this husband. Bless him as provider of nourishment and raiment and sustenance in all the extractions and pressures of his battle for bread. May his strength be her protection, his character be her boast and her pride and may he so live that she will find in him the haven for which the heart of a woman truly longs.

Bless this loving wife. Give her a tenderness that will make her great, a deep sense of understanding and a great faith in Thee Give her that inner beauty of soul that never fades, that eternal youth that is found in holy living fast the things that never age.

Teach them that marriage is not living merely for each other, it is the uniting and joining hands to serve Thee Give them a great spiritual purpose in life May they seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and other things shall be added unto them.

May they not expect the perfection of each other that belongs alone to Thee May they immunize each other's weaknesses be swift to praise and mainly each other points of consistent strength and see each other through a lover's hand and patient eyes

Now make such assignments to them on the scroll of Thy will as will bless them and develop their characters as they walk together fast them enough tears to keep them tender enough hurts to keep them humane, enough of failure to keep their hands knotted tightly in Thine and enough success to multiply them sure they walk with God.

May they ever like each others love for granted but always experience that breathless wonder that exclaims, that of all this world you have chosen me

When life is done and the sun is setting may they be found then as now still hand in hand still thanking God for each other May they serve The happily faithful brother, until at last one shall fall the other into the arms of God

This we ask through Jesus Christ great lover of our souls. AMEN.

Dick Bocking accepts CBXT program position

Richard C. Bocking, district agriculturist for this area and a regular columnist for The Leader, has accepted a position with the new TV station CBXT in Edmonton. In this position he will include production, announcing and writing for both the TV station and on radio.

With the opening of the new CBC TV station in Edmonton, the farm department under Al Richardson will be expanded to cover a greater part of rural life and additional educational programs for the farmers of the province.

Mr. Bocking feels the potential offered by this new media to reach the agricultural population is unlimited and he has hopes of extending the services of agricultural education to farmers who have not been reached before. The new TV station would be in a position to bring the experts before many more farm people.

Mr. Bocking had served as a district agriculturist at Evansburg for six months prior to coming to Stony Plain as agriculturist. Before that he had been associated in Vermilion and Athabasca. He received his [illegible] agriculture from the University of Manitoba and came to Alberta the day after graduation.

Mr. Bocking was born in Port Arthur, Ontario, where he received his Public School education. He then attended Agricultural College in Guelph, Ontario, where he specialized in agriculture and [illegible] working on farms there, and for two in Manitoba. He became interested in Alberta when he came here with show cattle for James Richardson. The Alberta government sent men to interview agriculture graduates of the Guelph and then to school. Mr. Bocking decided to start his career as a district agriculturist in Alberta.

Mr. Bocking is married to the former Winnifred Harpell of Port Arthur and they have six sons. They plan to continue living at Stony Plain.

Two Edson girls are presently on their way to Europe where they will spend the next few months on tour. Miss Evelyn Tolmah with four friends plan to rent a car for their four month tour of the British Isles and the continent. Miss Nadine Dreghorn has also left for a three month Europe an holiday

THIS IS A GOOD APPETIZER but the minute that it is finished "Charlie" as the Willows call the baby moose, saved from the recent fire area north west of Edson, and kept in their garage for a little while, is ready for another but a bigger drink which calls for four quarts of milk a day. Here Fish and Wildlife Officer, Bill Willers feeds her a bottle with a big hole in the nipple. Bill tells us that if he had taken a collection of 10 cents from all the children that came to see the baby moose that he could be living pretty high about now.

Your not being fair to young animal pickups

If you make friends with so-called wild animal this summer in your vicinity it the result you are employing the almost certain death.

Fear not trust is the basis of the wild. If you make friends with a baby raccoon [illegible] Bruin will handle it gently at summer's end before it stalk fearlessly into a trap. It [illegible] herded like dogs because of the human.

Attention a squirrel deer mouse or any of the birds to come out in the open to accept your gifts of food and as soon as your dangerous presence is removed some predator whether owl hawk weasel or fox will pounce upon the little creature that you should have been taught by you to forget the rule that eternal secrecy is the price of life.

The lands and forests officers all across Canada advise the public not to pick up [illegible] or other young rules they may remember on their woodland holidays under the impression that the baby been deserted. Hardly ever does he at most favourite stations that some body does not turn up with such an infant asking the officers to take charge of it.

It was not decided. The probable mother was probably not fifty yards away hidden in a thicket watching as the baby was kidnapped.

Even were the youngsters to be released in the spot where it was handled or even found the mother will very likely refuse to accept it back because of the human scent.

For this reason the Game Act has recently been amended to read as follows:

Unless authorized by a [illegible] person shall [illegible] or in any way disturb the young thereof.

Jasper hosts Elks convention at weekend

JASPER—

The 34th Annual convention of the Alberta Provincial Elks Association is being held in Jasper this year from June 8th to 10th inclusive

At time of writing, Elks from all over the Province are pouring in to Jasper for the convention which promises to be one of the best

On Thursday, the Athabasca Hotel was the host spot being appointed Headquarters and all visiting Elks registering there Approximately 400 Elks registered with an additional 100 Ladies of the Royal Purple and about another 100 outside visitors accompanying

Thursday evening the Jasper Elks were hosts to a "Get together Dance at Spray's Dance Hall where all got acquainted On Friday the convention was opened at the Jasper Sports Arena with the presentation of flags introductions of the Grand Exhalted Ruler and other Grand Lodge Officers

This was followed by an address from the Superintendent of Jasper National Park Mr J H Atkinson an address by Exalted Ruler Vaught and by Hon Norman Willmore on behalf of the Alberta Government

Lunch was made available at the Arena by the ladies of the E R & S. of the Anglican Church Friday afternoon was completely used up with Club session business but the event was brought about fun for all with a barbecue, open air dance and entertainment at the indoor grounds The barbecue was sponsored by the Jasper Kinsmen Club

Saturday morning, all got back to the business of the convention Period teams competed in the school auditorium This was followed by a parade to the Cenotaph from the Arena The Banquet was ralled by Mr N Nicholas who is manager of the Athabasca Hotel Dining Room

A full report of this full convention will be given in next week's paper along with pictures of the parade, drills and parade Best of luck to the Elks and we are sure that you will all return for the Jasper convention

Pre-registration of School Beginners, Edson Schools

As in the past the Edson Elementary schools will pre-register possible fall school beginners during June The dates set for this year's pre-registration are June 26 27 and 28 in both the A H Dakin and Evergreen Schools

All Children born on or before February 29, 1956, are required to attend pre-registration.

During the three days, the boys and girls will become acquainted with school life will be carefully observed and helped in teachers and will be given a test to determine their readiness for Grade I work

Those children born September 1, 1955 and later will be admitted in the fall only if tests and observations show that they are ready for Grade 1

Parents will be notified of pre-registration results early in July

Please Note It is to the advantage of all children that your child pre-register in June rather than show up for the first time in September Septembee pre-registration upsets a smooth school year beginnone for all As well test requirements will be three months stricter in September than in June

Please use the registration form below and forward to the school at which children of your area are attending This form should be at the school by June 15 Additional forms are available at the elementary schools or at the Edson School Division office

their first visit to Canada and find the vast distance rather hard to get used to

A member of one of the legislatures was being needled constantly by a colleague The member waited with great pa tience for the day that he could strike back.

Finally the needler rose one day and addressed the legisla

PEDAL PUSHERS SPONSORED BY THE OPTIMISTS CLUB rode up Main Street to show off their bike decorations and their riding skill on Saturday morning. Winners of the decorated bike judging were: first group: Linda Allen, Patrick Wilson and Betty Bollmann; second group: Linda Hallowell and Egbert Jaeger; third group: Elizabeth Collin. The parade was under the supervision of Lloyd Collin and Sam Van Gunst. Object of the pedal pushers is to teach bike safety and riding skills to young people who ride out into street and highway traffic.

Council awards sewer contract Tuesday night

A city firm, Okelitch & McGinn were low tenderers with their bid of $183,140.88 for the expansion of the Edson sewer system authorized by a plebiscite of the ratepayers of the town a couple of Mondays ago.

Other tenders were as follows:

Berger Bros. Ltd. (not including Lagoon field)	$174,293.15
Brant Construction	190,884.60
G. C. McLeod & Co., Ltd.	171,548.16
N. S. Pawliuk & Son	165,379.05

It is expected work will start shortly on the project by the successful tenderer. Negotiations are also under way for purchase of enough property for the lagoons as this land lies outside the town boundaries.

What with the current housing and industrial construction surge, serviced town lots are at a premium and the project must be rushed to provide for this new building.

Present were Deputy Mayor W. Mills (councillors L. A. Mahon, P. Hesel, J. Scott and P. W. Wells).

A letter from General Manager Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation regarding that, in view of money requirements for sewer and water any other program be deferred, was read in Council.

Secretary submitted report of Returning Officer P. Bodnuk on results of polling on By law No. 917 of June 12th authorizing total votes cast were 239. For the By law, 224. Against the By law 6. Spoiled ballots 1. Total votes cast represented 21.8 per cent of eligible proprietary electors.

By law 917 providing for the borrowing of $216,000.00 toward the construction of main outfall and sewage disposal system was read a second and third times and passed.

Legion Bingo cars go out of town

Bingo fans came from far and near to attend the big Legion car bingo last Saturday night. The bingo, played from cars, was held in the Edson Memorial Park and had an attractive array of prizes topped by a 1961 Meteor two door sedan. The Meteor went out of town as did the 1960 model Meteor car drawn for on an advance ticket sale raffle.

Winner of the Meteor was Mr Gerald Anderson of Medicine Lodge while the other car was won by Mrs. Joe Frauche of Hinton.

Other winners came from as far away as Peace River and included TV trays, Mrs Marion Wash, Hinton, set of lamps, E Pelke, Edson, chrome kitchen stool, Mrs K Rasmussen, Jasper, card table set, Gordon Townsend Edson, electric frypan, Mrs Daisy Peppiet, Edson; Clothes hamper Ed Langhans, Edson, Steam iron, Mrs. L. Bandon (Jasper 20).

Chrome suite, George Revele, Edson, cassette set, Herb Hinman, Edson; electric toaster, Mrs Lui Aarbenaeier, Edson; coffee table Bill Barrowman, Edson; rocking chair, George Romanchuk, Peace River, ship lamp, Mrs Robin Waldwood, Irvine, Fred Parsons, Edson, hosting pad, Mrs. Joe Romaniuk, Edson.

The Canadian Legion Bingo committee wish to thank all those from far and near who made the bingo so successful and a special thank you to Westbing Transport for loaning them their diesel unit and float bed to operate from. Thanks everyone.

Committed for trial

Paul Maffret 37, of Edson was committed for trial Friday on a charge of criminal negligence in connection with the death of Albert Mackenzie 54 on April 27. He elected trial by judge.

Magistrate P. J. Bevis on Friday heard only two witnesses as compared with 15 heard three weeks previously when the preliminary hearing was adjourned.

One was an officer from the RCMP crime laboratory at Regina who reported on an analysis of MacKenzie's blood and of stains on Maffret's car and clothing. The other testified of seeing Maffret in Edson a short time before the apparent time of MacKenzie's death.

MacKenzie's body was found by two boys in a ditch beside the Jasper Highway, just with in the town limits. Maffret was arrested the following day by Chief John MacDonald of the Edson town police force.

WINS CROCHET SET

Mrs. Mollie Bishel was the winner of the crochet set raffled at the Father's Day Tea of the Canadian Legion.

CENSUS MISS YOU?

The census is pretty well complete in this district and the enumerators are following up "call-backs" where householders were not home on their first call.

Census officials urge people who think they have been missed in the big count to get in touch with their local census headquarters. In Edson a call to PA3-3302 will get an enumerator around to see you.

GERALD ANDERSON OF MEDICINE LODGE looks as though he can hardly believe his luck. But it's true — his bingo "blackout" Saturday night at the Legion's open air bingo in Memorial Park made him a clear winner of a free new 1961 Meteor from Waterloo Motors. Legion President Joe Wynne (left) presents the keys to the car. Their many friends will wish Mr. and Mrs. Anderson (nee Alma Damel) many miles of enjoyable motoring.

Hi-Brites take two from Whitecourt, grab first place in NWBL

It was some time in the making but the local Hinton Hi-Brites finally overhauled first place in the North West Baseball League. The Hi-Brites, after dropping an important encounter to the hard hitting Jasper Panthers last Wednesday evening, June 14, by a 8-3 margin, journeyed to Whitecourt on Sunday and swept two games from the then first place Eagles by scores of 4-3 and 10-4.

The two game sweep by the Hi-Brites gave them 14 points, two more than Whitecourt and

Junior League ball see more local play

Optimist Pitcher John May went the full 7 innings on June 14 for the Optimist second League victory beating the Lions 10 to 5

Friday June 16 saw the Legionaires win over the Kinsmen 11 to 9 in a tight see-saw ball game that looked like an other Legion run away until the bottom of the sixth when the Kinsmen drove in 7 runs on the ball game However the tense 7th inning went to the Legion by running in three men to the Kinsmen one

On Monday, June 19 the Optimist Team emerged victorious in a terrific extra inning ball game with rival Legion Team. Clutch hitter Paul Brand came through with 4 hits for 5 times at bat, while Wally Gilchrist showed 3 for 3 for the Legion

Both winning pitcher Guy Shirley and loser Peter Dayton went the full game

Lions	6	1

On July 3 and 9 the Ed monton Duratorex Teams will be here in Edson to play a four game series. These are the boys who took home the Provincial Championship last year, and won 63 of 67 games played

By bringing them out to play against our two hard packed all star teams we hope to demonstrate what we are trying to do with your own boys right here in Edson This, of course, can only be done with your co-operation. How can you help?

Simply by coming out to watch and cheer both our boys and these Edmonton boys. Don't embarrass us by staying at home and leaving the grand stand empty. Remember some of the players you will watch on the 9th and 9th will be the Major Leaguers of tomorrow

Achievement Night success at Edson High School

The Edson High School Auditorium was filled to capacity when the girls of the Home Economics Classes recently held their annual fashion show and display of handicrafts. This year's program being centered around the theme 50 Years of Fabric to Fashion aroused keen interest since it fitted so nicely into the celebrations in conjunction with Edson's Fiftieth Anniversary

Girls from the Grade 11 classes organized the program and rendered the commentaries over the P A system. Grade 10 girls helped arrange and decorate the stage. Bolts of fabric kindly lent by the H & N Yardstick and Gordon's Variety Store were artistically draped and had a colored spot light playing on them. This formed a very effective background.

Over 125 girls took part in modelling the more than 200 individual numbers The high lights of the show was the scene in which about eighteen garments symbolic of the past fifty years were beautifully modelled by the girls These were compared with those neatly fitted and sewn by our own Home Economics students of 1961

Carole Svedberg, a Grade 10 student acted as M C and she was assisted by Sarah McCrea of Grade 11. Miss P Chetwynd and Mrs I Koebel acted as commentators.

Grade 9 Art students tastefully displayed their art work and the boys of the industrial arts classes exhibited a beautiful arrangement of the Farm Fare and other well done articles in their shop. The Home Economics department was generally and other handiwork also drew high praise

Mr A Jardine Superintendent of the Edson S. D. No 71 and Mr D Meade Principal of the High School and Mr J Pattison Chairman of the Local Board all briefly addressed the audience

Barbara Koebel, representing all the Home Ec students presented our Home Ec trophy to Mrs Buhel with a beautiful bouquet of spring flowers while Janet Buhel represented the same group gave small gifts to the pianists and others who personally assisted on the stage

ACCORDING TO WORD RECEIVED THIS WEEK Mr. A. H. Dakin, formerly the principal in Edson Junior and Elementary Schools, and for whom the A. H. Dakin School is named, has received a life membership in the Alberta Teachers' Association. Mr. Dakin lives at the coast at present.

Buffalo hunting in Northwest Territories

Sportsmen who hope to test their luck at bagging a buffalo in Canada's Northwest Territories during the coming hunting season will also have a chance of adding a black bear to their trophy collection.

Recent changes in the hunting regulations for the Territories allow holders of buffalo hunting licenses to obtain a license to shoot one black bear at no extra charge. Black bear are plentiful in the buffalo hunting area, and will provide extra sport for hunters fortunate enough to bag their buffalo during the first two or three days.

In addition to the prospect of taking a buffalo and a bear, hunters are offered a number of streams for wilderness canoe trips and rivers and lakes, teeming with lake trout, walleyes and northern pike. Also on the hunting menu are game birds such a ruffed, sharp-tailed and sprure grouse and snow and ducks of the west end of Lake Athabasca and on the Hay Lakes in Northern Alberta.

The buffalo hunting season opens September 1 and closes November 30. A maximum of 100 licenses will be issued and each hunter is allowed to shoot one buffalo. An area of several hundred square miles along the Slave River south of Great Slave Lake offers the world's only wilderness buffalo hunt. Hunters must hire guides to cross the country is wild and the buffalo can be dangerous.

License fees run from $25 for a Canadian resident of the Northwest Territories to $250 for a non-resident alien. Total costs of the hunt vary according to the tastes of the individual hunters, the distance travelled and the amount of meat shipped out.

Two outfitters provide the hunter with all services and supervise all arrangements providing accommodation packing facilities, guides and horses. They also handle applications for licenses and enquiries concerning arrangements. The two outfitters are: C W Brewster Box 69, Banff, Alberta and S E Burrell Box 350 Banff, Alberta.

General inquiries on buffalo hunting and travel in the Northwest Territories should be directed to Northwest Territories Tourist Office, Rear Albert Building Ottawa, Ontario

A vote of confidence

When a money by-law receives such a favorable majority from those ratepayers who bothered to cast their votes as the recent plebiscite on the sewer project, we must presume that the Council and officials of the town have the confidence of the people who elected them.

While we realize that many of the voters felt the money by-law for the purpose of expanding the sewer system was inevitable, because of the expansion taking place in the town, nonetheless the men occupying the Council seats must also command respect for their analysis of the problem.

Double checking on the opinion of one engineering firm with an opinion from another firm, resulted in a considerable monetary saving to the taxpayers. It also resulted in having a fresh viewpoint brought to bear on our whole system of sewage disposal. A wholly gravitational system will result in lower maintenance costs and the new concept will also provide for our needs until we reach the neighborhood of 10,000 population according to our engineers.

We note with satisfaction that pencil marks were hardly made on the ballots before action was taken by the Council. At this writing a contract has been let that almost exactly matches the engineer's estimate, and the work will proceed immediately.

Leaders are needed ALL the time

We were listening to the induction ceremonies for new members into a local service club again this week. As we have many times before, we again heard the word "club" used. The club didn't seek you as a member for what we could do for you — we sought you for what you could do for the club."

It is in such service as this that many of our community leaders are matured. A club or community organization has what they consider worthy objectives. The enthusiasts already in the club see the vision of what they would like for their community. But they feel they can't do it all alone — the answer — new members who it is hoped will have the drive, for a few years at least, to get the job done. Out of the new recruits potential community leaders are brought along by those who have some years of service behind them.

The plodding routine worker has his place, but everywhere in the world people are crying out for leadership. This applies as much to local affairs and local organizations as it does at the higher level of government and international affairs.

Unless young men and women get a chance at positions of leadership in their district they have little hope of developing the necessary skills that a democratic society demands of its leaders.

A person with the greatest capacity for leadership is not all the one with the strongest lungs and the loudest voice to push himself forward. Quite often these people are the top simply because they have no competition. All too often when they get there, the view is, "I've worked — except to remain at the top.

Not enough credit is paid to the back bone of Canada who deliberately make it their business to see that their officers are the younger people who can instill leaders starting in committee and club organizations with their local club run gradually assuming more and more responsibility until everything they do is successful.

Sometimes in a town quite often maintain that everything is run by a "clique" or the favored few. Often times this would appear to be a fair criticism, and it is only the background of the people in the community. Then, and you find that almost to a man a community that have had years of community committee work behind them. They tend to examine every question brought to the floor for discussion in detail. That is they want to know all the facts before they make their decision.

A person in this walk of life to be successful must be a "Jack of all trades" and a master of some. Quite often this would appear to be a fair criticism, and it is only the background of the people in the community that have had years of community committee work behind them. They tend to examine every question brought to the floor for discussion in detail. That is they want to know all the facts before they make their decision.

Recently the Minister of Lands and Forests for Alberta and myself have been conducting some exchange of views as to whether or not the Provinces should have asked the help of the Armed Services in battling the serious Forest Fire situation in Alberta. My contention is that they should have been used along with any other human resources to keep fire damage to a minimum, and also to spare men for other employment so that the economies of local areas would not be too drastically affected.

I am willing to allow the people to judge after they have all the information. On April 20 at Nanaimo, B.C. the new Federal Minister of Forestry, Honorable Hugh John Flemming spoke to the Fourth National Forest Fire Research Conference. He told the conference of the work his new department was doing in regard to Forest Fire Research. He also told them of the new policy with regard to use of the Armed Services for fighting forest fires. This resulted from extensive study and cooperation between his department and that of the Honorable Douglas Harkness, the Minister of National Defence. In announcing that policy, the Provincial Ministers of Lands and Forests prior to his speech, would like to quote the pertinent parts from his speech. As an introduction to the subject he said:

"Although the assistance given by yet another federal department, the Department of National Defence is largely related to fire suppression rather than to fire research, I should make mention of their important contributions to your cause. There have been many references in the press to casualties during the last month or two about obtaining assistance from the armed forces to control forest fires. As you are well aware the Department of National Defence has on many occasions provided most of the personnel and horsepower with troops and aircraft for forest fire suppression. However in an attempt to obtain even greater assistance I and he have made available as expeditiously as possible I have been discussing the matter with my colleagues the Honourable Douglas S. Harkness Minister of National Defence Officers of my Department have been discussing the subject with industries and various provincial powers and have also initiated or at least considered discussions. I then be referred to past talks particularly in Nova Scotia.

At the moment I want to specifically refer to Nova Scotia as it was in Nova Scotia that a group of servicemen from the Black Watch Regiment from Glace Bay gave their services in one of how effective Armed Service Personnel even with limited training could be. I assure you that they were tremendously effective and their work was appreciated to such an extent that we have on file in Ottawa a letter from the Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests for the Province of Nova Scotia expressing appreciation and thanks for the effective contribution to the control of the serious outbreak of forest fires in that province last summer."

He then said:

"Before leaving Ottawa last Friday I sent a copy of the aforementioned letter to the appropriate Ministers of all the other provinces of Canada, so that every province is today aware of the policy. For the information of this meeting I think I should give you here and now the contents of that letter or at least the portion of it that has to do with forest fire fighting and control."

He then quoted extensively from his letter and for a clear understanding I believe the following should be quoted

"I am writing about the matter of assistance from the Armed Forces in protection against forest fires. You may recall that in my last letter on the subject, I stated that a joint committee composed of officials from my Department and from the Department of Forestry, had been working on the question for some time. This committee has now reached some fairly definite conclusions which I would now like to communicate to you.

It had been recommended that it should be possible for the officer responsible for forest protection in each province to contact directly an authorized official of the Department of National Defence, and immediately obtain whatever assistance may be required to the extent that it can be made available. In considering this recommendation, it is perhaps convenient to break it down into its three component parts. The extent and nature of the assistance we can give, the procedure for obtaining such assistance and lastly the financial implications.

I am sure you will appreciate that the extent of the assistance which the Armed Services can supply will depend largely upon the extent to which they can be released from their primary responsibilities, bearing in mind the conditions of training service in the case of the Army which is the Service most concerned concerning trained formation training takes place during the months of June and July, while August is the month in which we try to get as many families away on leave as possible. The assistance we could provide during these three months would therefore be very limited and would involve consideration of the location of the training program for the year, and during September and October, more help could be given with less effect on our program.

In the Air Force, the problem is different and is primarily one of equipment. The Air Force is authorized to provide assistance if civilian aircraft are unable to do so, and if the Air Force is able to do so. However, the Air Force has no equipment which is specifically designed for fighting forest fires. The type of assistance that could be provided would be primarily that of transportation of men and material. As Air Force equipment is all assigned to primary tasks on a continuous basis, there could be no guaranteed response to requests for Air Force assistance at any season of the year. Air Force assistance would have to be on "if and when available" basis.

The conclusion from the above is that the Department of National Defence can not guarantee in advance to provide any particular level or type of assistance in forest fire protection. As in the past, however, the Armed Services will always be available and willing to help to the greatest extent possible in cases of genuine emergency.

A considerable discussion has centered in the past, on the question of the training required by the Armed Services so that they may be fully effective in fire fighting. As you may know, considerable emphasis is now being placed on training for survival operations, included in which is training in fire fighting. This training is quite exhaustive and is included in the basic requirement for all corps of the Army. The result of this program will be an increasing number of soldiers in the Army with a very high standard as the technique of fire fighting in addition to the training of soldiers it will be necessary to ensure that officers commanding and staff officers are, and continue to be, familiar with the particular problems of this kind of operation. I suggest that the provinces can assist very greatly in this by offering vacancies on courses and symposia to local military commanders. I will ensure that military commanders will take full advantage of all such opportunities to familiarize themselves with the provincial fire fighting machinery.

The committee dealt next with the procedure for obtaining assistance and the conditions under which it might be sought. To be adequate it though it may be well enough known throughout the various levels of government concerned. As you know, what is now required is a request in writing by yourself, or by a Minister authorized by you, to the General Officer Commanding or Area Commander, as the case may be. However, there would be no objection to you or the responsible Minister delegating your authority to a senior official such as a Deputy Minister, provided that the authority which you delegate to him carries with it the necessary authority to commit the Province to the financial arrangements involved in the call out. It would be necessary in such instances to advise the Department and the General Officer Commanding or Area Commander involved of the official to whom he authorized. The General Officer Commanding or Area Commander is not bound to wait for a written request but may take immediate action if the situation demands it, on the understanding that written authorization will be provided by the Province as soon as available."

Mr. Willmore has talked about all the provincial members being used up before he could get a word in. The resolutions I have made speak for themselves.

I believe that the Federal Government can do more in this regard and I have asked for a Federal Co-ordinating Council on fire fighting to move readily help in a co-operative way to prevent fires and preserve our most precious forests.

Underestimate education financing

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Education Minister Aberhart's announced another chapter last week to the bewildering story of the government's new education financing program.

He announced the government had underestimated by $4,543,587 the amount it will have to put into the foundation program fund to meet requisitions of Alberta school boards.

This should not be confused with the contingency grant fund, set up to soften the blow for areas adversely affected by the new plan. That fund remains unchanged and will be used to pay out special grants totalling $2,042,433 — nearly two-thirds of it to the Calgary school board.

The additional sum announced by Mr. Aalborg is simply to pay the grants to which school boards are entitled under the foundation program.

It will raise the total education bill in Alberta this year to $114,211,820, the minister said. Of this, local taxpayers will contribute $62,721,622 under the uniform 30-mill levy and $4,543,431 as additional local taxes to meet deficiencies in the foundation grants. The government will pay $56,781,407 and the remainder will come from minor sources of revenue such as tuition fees, etc.

Mr. Aalborg also revealed that 28 school boards will qualify for contingency grants because the foundation formula doesn't give them enough to make ends meet. Most of these also will have to levy additional taxes.

That's six boards will receive nothing from the contingency fund but will have to levy additional taxes. Ninety-two will be able to meet their budgets from foundation program grants alone.

The announcement that the government must put nearly three and a half million more into the fund hardly bears out earlier claims that the program will cut school costs and save money.

Farmers, forestry officials and smoke blackened firefighters heaved a collective sigh of relief early last week as rain and cooler weather moved into Alberta from the west.

It gave crops in many areas a new lease on life and provided at least a breathing spell in the biggest firefighting operation in the province's history. Travel bans were lifted in all areas.

Probably it will be nothing but a breathing spell. The normal fire season has barely started and already the toll is the worst in years.

At week's end, though, hot weather appeared to have returned and the hazard was rising again in the forests.

The only serious fires were burning in the Lac La Biche forest division. There, four fires were out of control in areas too remote for water bombing.

So far this year, Alberta has reported 338 forest and bush fires.

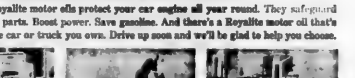
FOR ENGINE PROTECTION
Depend on it! Royalite motor oils protect your car engine all year round. They safeguard sensitive moving parts. Boost power. Save gasoline. And there's a Royalite motor oil that's just right for the car or truck you own. Drive up soon and we'll be glad to help you choose.



IN THE CITY

Wherever motorists drive in western Canada, the colorful turquoise and orange "R" beckons them to Royalite service stations. Here they find fast, courteous, efficient service — and petroleum products second to none. That's what turns casual callers into regular customers. You, for instance.

ON THE FARM

Western farmers depend on Royalite for regular deliveries of quality fuels and lubricants. And when the work load is heaviest they know they'll get special attention. You will, too. Just phone your Royalite agent. It's a good man to know.

IN INDUSTRY

Across the four western provinces Royalite bulk plants serve the needs of industry. Royalite is engaged in exploration, production, refining and marketing. It's the largest independent oil company in western Canada. Good to know when you buy Royalite products.

Reverend E. HURD — Pastor

Who he hall a Christian? If Satan cannot keep a man from the grace of God entirely he will do his best to keep him from full communion at If you doubt it look around you or better yet consider your own experience

By nature to be half a Christian. It is easy because of our natural bias. It is the way of the old Adam, the lusts of the eyes and distractions of this world and Satan and the attacks of the unbelievers.

To be half Christian life a self of indecision and frustration. The believer who is half hearted in his faith which he tries to live by which he tries to live by falls short in his address. He is only dimly aware of the longings and other fruits of the Spirit which God wishes to give him in abundance He is uncertain in his choices because he has repeatedly set aside God's leading by refusing to do His will He is constantly grieving the Holy Spirit so that he cannot more than glimpse the kind of fellowship with the Father and with His Son which I John tells him is his privilege His prayer life is anemic and he bears but little fruit

But God has not intended it to be so. Like Israel, the Christian has been called to be a living demonstration by the indwelling of the Spirit of our mind that ye may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God (Rom 12 2) And this kind of life is within the reach of every Christian

We would not seem to over simplify what may involve a definite personal problem for the individual Christian in surrender to the Lordship of Christ in faith or in the practical problems of feeding on the Word or dealing with a bewitching sin Often however, the point of becoming Christ-like is a commitment

Is Christ important enough to come first every day in every matter? It was the apostle Paul who said This one thing I do I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus" (Phil 3 13 14) Is that question "What Does Christ come first with us?

Paul's further word to us might well be his word to young Timothy, "Meditate upon these things give thyself wholly to them" (I Tim 4 15) Only as we do this will our profiting in the faith appear to all

"Ben Hur" which has been making theatrical and literary history for 80 years all around the world has again taken the news spotlight.

A local booking brings the long anticipated "Ben Hur" picture to Edson Theatre for a six day engagement.

Most acclaimed motion picture ever made the William Wyler production of Ben Hur won 11 Academy Awards including the Oscar for Best Picture of the Year. This is the greatest number of awards ever received by a picture in the history of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences

"Ben Hur" also won the British "Oscar" was named Best Film of the Year by the New York Film Critics. Best Produced Film of the Year by the Screen Producers Guild and has been cited for lots of additional awards and extra firsts

Ben Hur began making literary history back in 1880 when the book was published and became a world wide best seller. For years the author had refused to part with any share or one of his novel. Finally the old theatrical firm of Klaw & Erlanger induced Wallace to permit use of his book for a play. Wallace was paid 47½ per cent royalty three in those days and the contract was referred to as a million dollar deal. This developed into an understatement. The word million became attached to the production. Ben Hur Later in 1899 Ben Hur opened in New York City. It was a sensation.

It has become known as the most valuable theatrical property in show business history. Nearly any single entertainment enterprise excited as much interest as this film.

Edson Theatre patrons will be able to see this classic motion picture any one of six days. Monday through Saturday June 26 to July 1. Also there will be matinees at 1.30 Wednesday and Saturday during the week

RODNEY ANDERSON winner of the Donald Gourley Memorial Trophy for the 1960-61 school year received the trophy for a year when Mr. G. Gourley made the presentation at the High School last Friday morning.

Donald Gourley Trophy won by Rodney Anderson

Winner of the Donald George Gourley Memorial Trophy for the 1960-61 school year is Rodney Anderson of the high school grade eleven class. Mr George Gourley father of the deceased, made the presentation to Rodney before a full assembly of the school staff and student body on Friday morning last. Mrs Gourley was also in attendance.

The beautiful trophy is to be awarded annually to the boy in the Edson high school who best combines scholastic ability, athletic aptitude, and good sportsmanship. These criteria are most fitting since Don combined outstanding scholarship with prowess in hockey, baseball and track and field sports.

In addressing the staff and academic work is on no way slighted. Mr Gourley outlined to the student body the manner in which athletic scholarships are handled at the world famous teams of the Universities of Michigan and which he had played. Each boy who had attended such as the Detroit Tigers he indicated the care that is paid the touring Russian team [illegible] that the student receives every [illegible] ago. In conclusion he congratulated the [illegible] pointed out that [illegible] would follow with special interest the future [illegible] winners of [illegible] special trophy.

[illegible] Rodney in the [illegible] were Bruce Mahon and Salamonda. All [illegible] at present in [illegible] and have had [illegible] academic [illegible] the secretary [illegible] school year.

[illegible] some memory [illegible] A Bourne chairman of [illegible] 50th Anniversary committee presented cash prizes to the winners in the Essay and Poster Competitions. These were in the amounts of seven five and three dollars for first second and third prizes respectively. In the Poster competition there were fourth prizes of two dollars for each class. (Names of winners in these events have already been published)

Mr H Wortman Past Pres dent of the Edson Home and School Association, presented beautifully inscribed certificates of merit to all winners so that they will have something to keep for many years to come as a memento of this Golden Anniversary.

Mr R Smolanch of the Ed son Sch ool A.T.A. Committee presented first prize of fifteen dollars in the Crest Competition to Carol Garber of the grade nine class.

Mr Switzer and Mr Wort man then proceeded to the Junior high School and the A H Dakin and Evergreen Elementary schools to present prizes and certificates in grades eight to four. President Switzer of the ATA presented second and third Crest prize to the Garber twins Allen and Alvin.

Fall admission changes for U of A entrance

Because of the increasing number of applications for admission to the University of Alberta, it has been found necessary to make changes in the procedure for admission of most applicants and to adopt certain other changes in procedure.

As in past years, applications for admission to the MD and DDS programs must be in by April 1 and May 15 respectively. However, the application deadline for all other undergraduate programs except Law and Pharmacy must be filed by August 1st. Some prospective students in the Faculty of Graduate studies must apply by August 31. This may mean that most students will have to apply before they have received the results of Grade 12 examinations written in June.

The requirements for admission have not changed from previous years, except in one respect. Any applicant who, after the June departmental examinations has deficiencies due to failure that would require him to write more than two departmental examinations in August in order to meet the admission requirements, will not be considered for admission in the 1961-62 Session.

Moreover, any applicant who has had to write what the University considers to be an inordinate number of examinations because of failures and low marks in order to obtain the normal entrance requirements of the University may be refused admission on the ground that his chances for success at the University level are remote.

This year for the first time applicants will be expected to be medically examined by their own physicians as part of the admission procedure. Both medical examinations should be completed before August 1. The medical examination form and application forms may be obtained from the Registrar of the University well in advance.

Folks who try to maintain a budget today have living proof that both ends won't meet.

Mountains take beating from climbers

HINTON — On Sunday 10th the mountain peaks in Jasper were visited by at least two parties of hikers from Camps 23 and 24. Denis Anderson from Camp 23 set out to scale Roche Miette. At the time of writing, this reporter has not heard whether they succeeded. Both members are students from the Hinton Rock School and no doubt reached the top.

Rocky Morris and Robin Hutchinson scaled the north face of Roche a Perdrix. They both accomplished this is by far the toughest climb in their experience. Only by using pitons and with the aid of the walls of a local chimney in the rock face, were they able to make the top. Total time was 9½ hours.

TIMELY WEED CONTROL

The importance of proper timing in the use of chemical herbicides is too often overlooked by many farmers. They take great care to spray at the right time, south at the right time and combine when the crop is in proper condition. Many do seem to realize, however, that a delay of five to ten days, spraying a crop may mean the difference between a considerable increase in yield and no increase at all.

Experiments carried out at the University of Manitoba show that weeds exert their full competitive effect early in life of the crop plant. In other words late spraying may be quite effective in killing weeds but the competition of the weeds during the early stages of crop growth has already had its full effect in reducing crop yields.

Weeds vary greatly in their susceptibility to 2,4-D and Mc P. Wild Mustard and spring germinated Stinkweed when in early growth stage can be killed with very low rates of these chemicals. Other common weeds are more difficult to control. Wild Buckwheat the annual weeds and Hemp Nettle, for example, are only susceptible to treatment during their early growth stages. Delay ing treatment on such weeds often means a waste of chemical and reduced yields because of weed competition. Timeliness in spraying these weeds is vital.

The amount of chemical to use on various weeds under different growth conditions deserves thorough consideration. While an easy to kill weed may predominate in a field where there are many hard to control species, proper selection of chemicals must be applied to control all susceptible weeds not just the easy to control species. Serious consideration should also be given to growth conditions and stage growth of the weeds. Young weeds growing rapidly are much easier to kill than the same weeds growing under dry or cool conditions, or at a more advanced stage of growth. For full information on chemical weed control, write or call at this office for a copy of the booklet "Weed Control with Chemicals."

Butter Fat Tests

Butterfat tests often vary considerably, to the consternation of the dairyman. What causes tests to go up or down so rapidly?

A number of reasons could be responsible for a lower test. Arrival of spring weather, by excitement by feed, rough treatment barring the cows and poor physical conditions of the cow, enjoin could be a contributing factor. Tests are usually lowest in the middle of the lactation period. The test may be 1 per cent higher, or even more, towards the end than at the peak of the lactation period.

If something stops a cow from letting her milk down completely, the yield of milk is low and the fat percentage is also likely to be low. Chief reasons in stripping often test five to ten times higher than the first drawn milk.

If the milking time is later than usual you will get more milk, but it will be of lower test.

A higher test can be the result of low temperature, short intervals between milking and violent exercise such as being chased by a dog, which also reduces the amount of milk.

Higher tests are common when cows are in good physical condition, and milking and management changes in feed or routine tend to [illegible] but are a few of these factors. Test of a person cow can be affected by anything unusual. To her the presence of the tester in the barn once a month, or the presence of any stranger can be something unusual.

Although there are exceptions feed does materially affect the fat test. Among the exceptions would be the feeding of large doses of cod liver oil which would lower the test. Feed, used in [illegible] mixtures to boost fat content have generally speaking little effect on butterfat test.

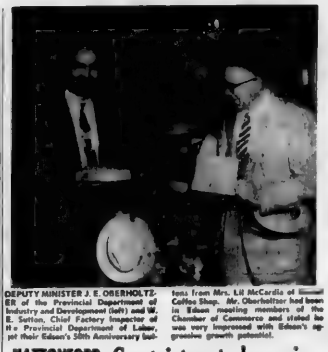
HOME & SCHOOL PRESIDENT MRS. M. McKNIGHT presents the pedal pushers all around trophy to Brenda Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Reid, at the pedal pushers' parade on Saturday morning. Runners-up were Fenna Fowler and Shirley Collin.



DEPUTY MINISTER J. E. OBERHOLTZER of the Provincial Department of Industry and Development (left) and W. R. Sutton, Chief Factory Inspector of the Provincial Department of Labour, get their Edson's 50th Anniversary buttons from Mrs. Lil McCardle of Edmond Coiffeur Shop. Mr. Oberholtzer had been in Edson inspecting members of the Chamber of Commerce and stated he was very impressed with Edson's aggressive growth potential.

First impressions of Edson

(As part of 50th Anniversary Year we are publishing some of the essays written about our town by young people as part of the celebration. This particular essay by Miss Gerber gives a point of view not always considered. It took second prize in the contest. We will publish the first prize essay next week as we have what we consider suitable pictures to go with it. — Editor).

As an American coming to outstanding and prominent Canada for the first time, I features of Edson impressed observed with keen interest my views and satisfied my the numerous progressive curiosities.

cities, pleasant town, attractive homes, modern buildings, centers of vast industries, and the fertile prairie. Indeed, Canada is a beautiful and exciting land — a land of challenging opportunity. That was the picture painted in my mind two years ago as we travelled from the States towards our new home which was to be in Edson.

With this immediate image of Canada as a whole, what

Edson, a strong and prosperous town, offers in its citizens all the amenities and conveniences of modern life. New business and public building rise early as the telephone office building and the civic building are modern and functional in style. Pleasant living conditions and the opportunity to acquire a fair share of the world's goods constitutes the normal way of life for the average worker and his family.

The established businesses on Edson's good shopping center vary from numerous, hardware general merchandise, grocery and furniture stores to banks, gas stations and garages. The strength and prosperity of Edson lies in the fact that this great variety of complementary businesses can combine to construct a cosmopolitan type center similar to that of a larger city only on a smaller scale.

Full respect for man's freedom to worship as he wishes is attested to in Edson by the many denominations of various faiths. Excellent educational opportunities are available to all children. Well equipped modern schools, expertly planned and well staffed, provide instruction from the primary school grades through to senior matriculation.

Edson, being close to the great outdoors offers much excitement to its fun-loving citizens. The invigorating atmosphere of the high altitude kindles a natural enthusiasm for healthful outdoor recreation. The local modern pool and other clear spring fed lakes beckon the swimming enthusiasts. There are also opportunities for boating, fishing or golfing.

Three economic, commercial and cultural advantages and facilities will soon make Edson a city of which we can be extremely proud. Surely there is enough opportunity in Edson to challenge us to a satisfying and rewarding life. Let's face up to these opportunities and prepare ourselves for a prosperous future.

HATTONFORD

Mrs Ted Cundiff was hostess at a miscellaneous shower last Wednesday for Mrs. A Clark (nee Nancy Sherry) a recent bride. About fourteen ladies were present. The bride received many lovely gifts for which she graciously thanked everyone. The afternoon was brought to a close by a delicious lunch.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Heath Brummet who were married at Rocky Mountain House on June 17. Mr Brummet is a brother of Mrs J Rogers at Carrol Creek and is well known among the young folks of the district.

The community club "work bee" at the hall on June 17th was, as per usual very poorly attended however those who did come, did applied their services and several long standing jobs were satisfactorily completed before the picnic to be held July 1.

Mr F. Strauss returned Saturday night from Forest Lawn where he had been to see his brother Mr R Strauss.

Mr and Mrs J Tyler and children from Drayton Valley visited Mrs Tyler's parents Mr and Mrs H Lawton last week-end.

Great interest shown in chariot team workouts

The past two Sundays after noon has had a lot of interested horse fans out to the rodeo grounds and race track watching the racing of the local chariot teams.

The season is only begin ning and the stage watch is shaping up some very good time and will be making things very interesting for outside entries in the races slated for August 6 and 8.

Last year entries were how ever that had been competitive in Calgary on the track was con races and the local fel lows have come up with stock to try and compete with this class of horse, and everything is shooting very favorably for them.

Teams working out last Sunday were A. W Smith driven by Senia Bill Smith W Campbell's team driven by Bill Campbell Bus. Beunelle's team team driven by Dick Neall. C. W Campbell's team and Bill Owen's team driven by Eddie Owen and L. Pearson.

The and Mrs H Lawton last weekend

We also like to thank the people who have driven over from Haddock This type of interest is very encouraging.

Next Sunday racing again weather permitting with more flat racing also as Reggie Lee has been the winner Junior as Robert Owen is feeding his horse onto instead of laping much like week.

Elks Convention very successful say visitors

JASPER

The Alberta Elks Annual Convention was held in Jasper this year and judging from the comments from the visiting Elks it was one of the most successful ever held.

Thursday night saw the registration of 671 Elks, Purples and visitors. This was followed by a get-together at Brother Spore's Hall.

Friday morning the Elks got down to Convention business. On Friday evening the Rodeo grounds was a scene of activity with the Kiwanis Club of Jasper barbecuing steaks. Some 5000 for the Elks. An open air dance was held with music by the "Mauppa's". All stated they never ate better steak.

Saturday morning saw the the lead and followed by an return to the Jasper Arena Elks and Legion color party for further convention business. At 11:30 a.m. there was a parade to the rendezvous with the Jasper Park Band in the Sports Arena

The two patrol teams performed continuously from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m in the patrol team competition in the Jasper High School auditorium. The team from Three Hills emerged victors with an edge of only 5 8/10 of a point over the 2nd place team.

The suavest "Goat" was presented by Cameron Lodge to Past President Don Horn of Calgary who immediately presented it to Chairman of the convention G. Knight, who in turn will present it to the Grand Exalted Ruler, Brother Ollie at the Grand Lodge Convention at North Bay, Ont. in July.

Saturday evening saw a supper banquet set up in the Sports Arena with about 300 at one sitting. It was entered by Mr Nick Birbeck of the Athabasca Hotel who read a verse of himself and set up a meal that will be long remembered.

Following the banquet was a demonstration by the Three Hills Patrol Team and a fine well dance in the arena was enjoyed.

It is believed that the Elks really proved their point, that with the amount of co-operation that they received from all in Jasper, that very successful convention can be held at Jasper in the Sports Arena every year.

Good going Jasper Elks you really put it over.

Custom built homes feature of new offer

As indicated in an advertisement elsewhere on this page a firm new to Edson as far as contracting is concerned is offering custom built homes in combination with two local business firms.

The contractors Elmer Dunn and Albert Peterson of St Albert and Edmonton have been building custom homes in Drayton Valley and are prepared to come into Edson on a similar basis.

Combined with the Edson firm of Koebel Co. Ltd. who will be doing the electrical and mechanical work on the homes the contractors make an effective construction team.

J. T. McNamara Edson insurance and real estate agent is handling the contract and his interest part of the triple park [illegible] deal.

BALL - - HARD AND SOFT GALORE

HELP CELEBRATE EDSON'S 50th ANNIVERSARY

The Edson Leader
The Voice of Edson Constituency
Established 1911 — 50 Years Old with Edson
Vol. 9 | Edson, Alberta, Thursday, June 29, 1961 | No. 26

Big parade to start off Dominion Day festivities

Ball — hard and soft will be the order of the day July First when six baseball teams compete for $1000 in prize money and Edson Hotel Trophy, added to four ladies softball teams for a ball-packed Saturday. Sunday, 12 fastball teams, male, will compete for honours on two Edson diamonds. The KAAA and the Kinsmen Club are co-operating to make the day a reality.

A gala parade will start the day for most visitors and town residents when a collection of floats and vehicles will start from the bottom of Main Street, proceed up to 5th Avenue and turn to go up 49th and on to Memorial park. Parade Marshall Reydon Shaben says he expects at least 30 floats, judging by entries to date.

At the grounds there will be a midway and concession booths. Inside the arena in the shade an all-day bingo game will provide sitting down activity for bingo fans. Later that night a pre-wrestling card will provide entertainment in the gentle art.

FIRST GAME AT 9

Starting at 9 p.m. Jasper will meet Drayton Valley to start off the baseball tournament. At 11 a.m. St Joseph's from Edmonton will meet Hinton. Edson and MacKay have received a bye from the first round draw.

At 1 p.m. Edson will play the winner of the Jasper Drayton Valley game. At 3 p.m. MacKay will take on the winner of the St Josephat Hinton game.

SOFTBALL

On the high school diamond Saturday the Edson ladies team will take on the Hinton girls at 10 a.m. At 12 noon MacKay will meet Drayton Valley, with the final game later in the afternoon.

FASTBALL

Two diamonds will be brought into play with 12 men's fastball teams starting their play-off Sunday morning at 10 a.m.

Entered in the football are four Edson teams, two from Hinton, Spruce Grove, two from McBride, B.C. the Dyke Bros. squad from Edmonton and the Jasper Place team.

Summer pool hours

For the young fry and the local teens who have been wondering about the pool opening times now that they are out of school, here is the swimming schedule for the summer months.

Monday through Saturday 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 12 to 6; Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 6.30 to 8.30. Adults only, Tuesday and Thursday is family swimming; 6.30 to 8 with children accompanied by parents admitted free.

Children may register for swimming lessons now at the swimming pool.

HAPPY 25TH ANNIVERSARY is what the calm his parishioners presented him with says. The occasion was the banquet which saw over 200 sit down to supper in Sacred Heart Parish Hall with their parish priest Father J. C. Maphin, C.Ss.R., on the occasion of his 25th anniversary since his ordination. Speakers introduced by MC Frank Rauch included Mayor W. R. Brunelle, Fr. F. I. Burke, C.Ss.R., of Grande Prairie, and formerly parish priest here, Fr. G. W. Malone, C.Ss.R., of Nisku, and briefly here, the Hon. Norman Willmore, Magistrate W. H. Hambrook, Rev. C. C. Armstrong of the United Church, Fr. A. C. Hooper, of St Catherine's, Edson, Mrs. Anne Hoy, CWL president, and Mrs. Mary Gavin, who presented a spiritual offering from the parish. Mayor Brunelle later presented Father Maphin with a set of golf clubs on behalf of the Knights of Columbus.

TV rebroadcast stations to start immediately is word

There will be no delay in getting on with the job of putting in the rebroadcast stations for CFRN-TV scheduled for Carrot Creek and Edson, according to word wired to The Leader as we go to press.

The special wire quotes G. R. A. Rice, president and general manager of Sovereign Broadcasting Company, as saying "Our engineers are now proceeding with final study at the two locations having to do with power supply, lot size of the buildings, and tower bases. Plans were blueprinted and the sites surveyed, of course, some time ago."

Action is now possible as Sovereign Broadcasting Co., Ltd., owners and operators of CFRN-TV, Edmonton, have now been officially advised by the Department of Transport that it has been granted licences to establish rebroadcast stations to serve the Carrot Creek - Edson area.

The Carrot Creek station will be on channel 9 and the Edson station will pick up that signal and rebroadcast it on channel 12. Both will be free unit stations according to the announcement.

All programs telecast from these rebroadcast points will be identical to the programs regularly seen on CFRN-TV channel 3 in Edmonton.

Mr. Rice told the Leader the rebroadcast stations will enable CFRN-TV to better the communication and information needs west of Edmonton through Edson. He added that present CFRN-TV reception in the Carrot Creek Edson area, sometimes faulty, would be greatly improved for the more than 3000 residents of this district.

Mr. Rice also pointed out that the expansion program was based purely on public service desire and that his company would not be getting additional revenue from the extension.

Application for establishment of the rebroadcast stations was made before the Board of Broadcast Governors some two months ago, subsequently approved by that agency and then referred to DOT and the Canadian Coh ner for approval and the issuance of the necessary operating licenses.

CFRN-TV, Edmonton, is presently an affiliate of the CBC which will be discussion and late in September when the new CBC television station in Edmonton is expected to go on the air.

Mr. Rice said that the new programming features for presentation in the fall, when CFRN-TV becomes an independent station, are being finalized and will provide all Northern Alberta viewers with much broader and more varied program fare than has been possible in the past.

Company policy, he added will be based, as it always has been, on public service with family programming.

An earlier statement made here several months ago indicated that the new rebroadcast stations should be capable of being picked up locally by considerably more modest antennas than are presently in use here.

Beams take beating as night cools

Gardeners with round leader beans viewed with dismay their gardens Wednesday morning after Tuesday night's cool drop to the freezing point.

The meteorological station here recorded a low of 33 degrees during the night which set a record for the province.

While we were surprised to hear about our cool nights, we don't really need them to get that cool!

Chas Wright gets congrats

Charles Wright was receiving congratulations from his many friends as we go to press this week on the occasion of his 75th birthday.

Mr Wright was born on the Georgean Bay in Ontario and held various accounting and administrative positions during his long active life. Most of his years has been spent in the accounting end of lumbering operations.

A life-long Tory with a capital T, he told us this week that he thinks "Diefenbaker should have fired Clyde three years ago."

Commercial stalls available

Commercial display stands can be obtained for the Rodeo by contacting E. Wallace or W. R. Brunelle before July 15 with payment of a fee of $20 for both days of the Rodeo.

The stands are to be in the neighborhood of about 16'x16'

Bob Manuel again picks up bursaries

A frequent winner during his Edson School days and during his university career, Robert Manuel, has this year qualified for three important bursary awards.

The university of Alberta honors prize for an average of over 85 per cent has won him a $50 award.

He has also won the John Alexander McDougall memorial scholarship in civil engineering valued at $500.

This year he qualifies for the second half of the Gas Company scholarship of $500. He took advantage of the first half last year.

During the holidays Bob is working with a Dominion Geodetic survey party working out of Uranium City in the North West Territories.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Manuel of Edson.

Rain only provides out for weak putting Sunday

The fourth annual men's tournament was held at the Edson golf course on Sunday, June 25. There were 36 entries for the competitions.

The weather was kind for most of the day, except for some torrential rain in mid-afternoon which only added interest to the proceedings and could even be blamed for the putts which did not go in.

The winner of the Edson Dairy Trophy was L. D. Robertson with a low handicap score of 68. Second was J. Walker with a score of 69. Congratulations to both players on a fine effort.

The high handicap trophy awarded to the players with handicaps of 22 and over was won by K. Helander.

The low gross score was won by F. Wells. The hidden hole prize was won by J. Scotter after a tie and a subsequent extra hole playoff when superb golf carried the day.

Some of the most interesting golf witnessed was the extra hole playoff which saw Cleo Sweeney just beat R. Bowrie in a tight finish to win the high hidden hole prize.

The Willmore trophy awarded for two birdies went to J. Walker and F. Wells who will now be challenged by another team.

The standard of golf was fairly good, but there are still evidences of early season shot making. No eagles, albatrosses, or aces were recorded although rumours of a near hole-in-one were rife — better luck next time! So far no hole-in-one has been scored on the course and therefore the customary and traditional honors following such a feat have still to be displayed.

The condition of the course was excellent and provoked favorable comments from many players, a worthy tribute to J. Long whose efforts have made so many of our golfing occasions noteworthy. Here it was unfortunate he was unable to be with us.

The continued improvements on our course are evidence of the eventual aim of the club — a course second to none of its kind in the province.

The ladies tournament will be played off June 29 and 29. The annual open tournament has been set for August 26 when many fine out of town golfers will be sent to mark our fourth annual open and also help celebrate Edson's 50th Anniversary.

NWBL race tightens up Hi-Brites still lead pack

After last Sunday's action in the North Western Baseball League, only six points separate the first and fifth place clubs in the six team circuit. The Hinton Hi-Brites retained their two point lead over the MacKay Braves, and Whitecourt Eagles by travelling to MacKay where they split their doubleheader with the Braves. Home runs by Dan Lowsin and Al Bjork, the latter's coming in the top of the seventh inning with one teammate on board and the Hi Brites trailing 8-5, that two-game set were 6-5 wins for the Braves.

The Braves however, lost ground in the third place battle when the steady pitching of Charlie Gallagher, stawed off Hinton rallies in the sixth and seventh frames to edge out the visitors 3-2 and remain in close running for first place. In other league action that same day the Whitecourt Eagles stayed in the second place tie with Mayerthorpe Imperials by winning one of their two games with the hosting Jasper Panthers. Scores in the 13 inning, two-game set were 6-5 and 4-3.

A coach speaks his mind

Little Leagues aren't big Leagues

Condensed from Parents' Magazine By Donald E. Mitchell and reprinted from Readers Digest

"Strike two!" the umpire bawled, and the nine-year-old stepped back from the plate.

He reaches nervously for some dirt to dry his sweating palms. Back in the batter's box, he paws the ground with his rubber cleats. His 68 pounds of young bone and muscle go tense as he crouches at the plate.

The pitcher throws. The boy watches the ball mit by.

"Strike three!" the umpire calls.

It is the third out, and the partisan parents in the grandstand howl with disappointment. "Don't just stand there, stupid!" "You got to strike at it, Charlie!" You got to hit it!"

It is the boy's father who is shouting.

The boy walks dejectedly to the bench for his glove. He eyes stop for a moment in the grandstand. He sees his father still waving his arms in disgust. As the boy runs to his positions on the field it is obvious that he is crying.

I witnessed this incident and many others just as heart breaking — last season as coach for one of our town's Little League teams. This month more than one million boys will begin playing in the 9,000 Little Leagues of the world and their parents, once again, will begin to apportion some their own standards on a sport designed for children 8 to 12 years of age.

Little League baseball is a splendid opportunity to teach boys the basic facts of sports and sportsmanship, teamwork and fair play. But all too many parents spoil the opportunity by putting unnecessary pressures on their youngsters, especially the pressure to win.

One night last season my team lost a close game. I sat the whole team on the bench and congratulated them for trying for acting like gentlemen. I said I couldn't have been prouder of them if they had won. Most of all I said, it is as important to be a good sport as to be a good player.

For the Eagles and 7-8 for Jasper

The Edson Athletics tumbled deeper into the league cellar by dropping two games to the Mayerthorpe Imperials' nite at Edson's Memorial Ball Park. The Imperials bombed the A's 21-2 in the opener and then followed that win up with a come-from behind 12-9 victory. Bill Montcrest to hit two home runs for the Imperials, one in each game.

The league standings find Hinton in first place with sixteen points while MacKay and Whitecourt right on the leaders backs with fourteen points. The Mayerthorpe Imperials hold down fourth place with 12 points Jasper has ten while Edson is in last place with six.

All six teams are idle this coming weekend due to the First of July baseball tournament at Edson and Whitecourt. NWBL action resumes on July 10th with Hinton playing host to the Jasper Panthers, Edson journeying to Mayerthorpe and MacKay at Whitecourt.

Sooner or a gracious winner As I talked I could see their sports lifting. I felt they had learned more than just how to play baseball that night.

But as I mingled with the parents in the stands afterward, I was shocked to hear what they were saying to the boys. The invariable theme was, Well, what happened to you tonight?" One father pulled out a note pad and went over his son's mistakes play by play. Another father frowned down his son for striking out twice. In five minutes the parents had undermined every principle I had set forth.

Our town has 12 Little League and 32 "Minor" League teams, enabling about 800 boys to play baseball. Approximately 100 fathers volunteer 10 to 10 hours a week as managers, coaches, umpires and officials. The thousands of other volunteers we are there to help the boys and certain concepts prevail.

We stress the will to win and we believe that enthusiasm is an emotional drive, but, is a part of baseball. And we think that parents should be encouraged to support their child's efforts to improve his play. But some parents have exaggerated ideas of what constitutes support. In front of teammates, managers, coaches and other parents, fathers and mothers abuse their boys for not fielding like Red Schoendienst, hitting like Mickey Mantle or pitching like Warren Law. They humiliate them with constant nagging criticism.

My blood still boils as I recall the mother screaming epithets at her eager little boy of ten who unluckily got caught off first base for the third out. And the fourborn relieved father who dictated from the stands, by shouts and hand signals, what pitches the boy should make when in trouble out on the mound. And the fathers who pay money for bits extra money for extra base hits — ten dollars for a home run in one family I know. At this point Little League baseball loses its purpose.

Many of these parents are simply worried about how they will look in the eyes of their neighbors. They assume that their son's actions somehow cast an unfavorable reflection on them. But by harping, carping criticizing and scolding they only pass their own insecurities on to the children. They aren't interested in the game. All they want is to win.

This distorted attitude was most outrageously in evidence during our Little League district tournament last year. In the playoffs, our team won the first game. Proud parents swarmed down from the stands, shouting congratulations. They lavished praise on the boys and excitedly pounded one another on the back. The next night our team playing on even better game. I thought, was eliminated. The same parents stood gloomily in the stands. No shouts of encouragement to the boys who had given their best.

During the Little League season, the chief target of the wrath at any cost parent is the umpire, a volunteer like the rest of us. In the heat of the moment, a certain amount of umpire-baiting is understandable and conforms to the long traditions of baseball. But Little League is not the place to teach profanity to the art. On our club, no player is allowed to dispute an umpire's decision.

Umpire-baiting by parents creates an unwholesome attitude toward authority. It was the goading fury of a parent that caused one boy to throw a rock at an umpire after a game. It was the invective of defiant parents that caused five umpires in our town to quit in mid-season. I maintain that the father who teaches by his example that rules are made to be broken in training his boy later in life to cry on school examinations, run through stop signs and cheat on his income tax.

Little League baseball has done more harm by far than medical men, Dr. John L. Reichert, a Chicago pediatrician, summarizes the critics' views. "Strong emotional reactions are too often engendered by high pressure competitive games. Hero worship of the star, the sense of failure to the boy who does not make the team or who fails to make the crucial play, the obvious disappointment of the parent when the boy fails, the apparent difference in mental acceptance by playmates and adults between winners and losers — all these can have a child's emotional and social development."

Little League officials reply that competition is an important fact of life But Dr. Thomas F. Shaffer, professor of pediatrics at Ohio State University, states that parents and themselves three questions The children really learn how to accept defeat? Do they learn how to get along with others? Children in the 8-to-12 age group are ready for competition, says Dr. Shaffer but they should not be required for the benefit of adults. Yet too many competitive leagues are organized with financial backing from community groups which seem to have no interest in the principles of physical education and recreation.

The answer to the problem I believe, is to encourage the

New minimum wage rate set by Industrial Board

Both male and female employees in Alberta now come under the same 65 cent hourly minimum wage in communities of more than 5 000 population, according to order of the Board of Industrial Relations issued under a recent amendment to The Alberta Labour Act.

The new regulations vary minimum wages for workers in three age groups and residents in towns of over and under 5,000 population

In centres with populations exceeding 5,000, the male minimum week week has been shortened to 44 hours. Prior to this change the 44 hour week applied only in Alberta's four major cities. Hourly wages in the over 5 000 population localities have been set at 65 cents for employees of either sex under 18 years of age 75 cents for workers over 18 years but not 19 and 80 cents for all employees over the age of 19

Hourly minimum wages in centres of less than 5 000 population are ten cents per hour less in all categories

Weekly minimum wages in the larger communities for male and female workers have been established by the Board at $26 for workers under 18 years, $30 for those between 18 and 19 years and $34 for employees over the age of 19 years

The weekly minimum wage is $4.00 per week less in all towns and villages with less than 5 000 population

In the case of a worker receiving board and lodging as part payment of his wages a maximum of $6 00 weekly may be deducted from the same in all areas of the province

The new orders of the Board of Industrial Relations replace the former minimum wage regulations in which separate schedules were drawn up for female and male workers

National survey reveals religion, not sex, has greatest movie appeal

Contrary to what one might suppose from reading the daily newspapers, it is religion, not sex, violence or romance, that provides the greatest attraction for the box office success of a motion picture today

That is the somewhat surprising conclusion of a recent survey into the nation's movie going habits conducted by the famous Sindlinger Research organization, the survey revealed that when a film streaming sex is matched against one playing the emphasis on religious and spiritual values it is the latter that most likely will draw the greater audience

The research group was engaged by Metro-Goldwyn Mayer film company to conduct an extensive survey in connection with its Academy Award winning production, "Ben Hur." The company was anxious to determine which of the many elements, in the spectacular film would appeal most greatly to the public and the survey covered hundreds of persons in every walk of life and in every section of the country

Although Gen Lew Wallace's famous, novel, first published in 1880, does not contain any plot lines that might be construed as sex or sensationalism, there is an underlying theme of a man's desire for vengeance and a strong romantic story, as well as the basic religious theme which led the author to subtitle his book, "A Tale of the Christ

Metro-Goldwyn Mayer wanted to know which of these elements might make the greatest impact on the public Three short one page synopses of the plot were prepared One stressed the religious sequences one placed a greater import on the action scenes and the revenge and the third laid the third plaid up the love story

Without revealing that the outlines were presented with "Ben Hur," but rather that they were all part of the story of "a new ancient picture" members of the survey teams showed the synopses to those being interviewed "Which story," they were asked "has the greatest appeal" Which would make the most attractive movie?

Contrary to what one might suppose from reading the daily newspapers, it is religion, not sex, violence or romance, that provides the greatest attraction for the box office success of a motion picture today

That is the somewhat surprising conclusion of a recent survey into the nation's movie going habits conducted by the famous Sindlinger Research organization, the survey revealed that when a film streaming sex is matched against one playing the emphasis on religious and spiritual values it is the latter that most likely will draw the greater audience

The research group was engaged by Metro-Goldwyn Mayer film company to conduct an extensive survey in connection with its Academy Award winning production, "Ben Hur." The company was anxious to determine which of the many elements, in the spectacular film would appeal most greatly to the public and the survey covered hundreds of persons in every walk of life and in every section of the country

Although Gen Lew Wallace's famous, novel, first published in 1880, does not contain any plot lines that might be construed as sex or sensationalism, there is an underlying theme of a man's desire for vengeance and a strong romantic story, as well as the basic religious theme which led the author to subtitle his book, "A Tale of the Christ

Metro-Goldwyn Mayer wanted to know which of these elements might make the greatest impact on the public Three short one page synopses of the plot were prepared One stressed the religious sequences one placed a greater import on the action scenes and the revenge and the third laid the third plaid up the love story

Without revealing that the outlines were presented with "Ben Hur," but rather that they were all part of the story of "a new ancient picture" members of the survey teams showed the synopses to those being interviewed "Which story," they were asked "has the greatest appeal" Which would make the most attractive movie?

Young courage faces danger

We talked to Ben Rose, who readers will recall suffered grievous knife wounds from an assailant who attacked him with murderous weapons in the dark at the station at Embarras recently.

Mr. Rose had gone into the building in which the shades were drawn, at eleven o'clock at night to pick up a lantern, advising his companion Danny White, to wait outside as Mr. Rose knew right where the lamp was.

In the pitch blackness of the room Mr. Rose was attacked by a man who had two knives and a gun. Mr. Rose got and broke the gun, but the assailant stabbed him through the left arm to such a depth with one knife that the blade passed into his abdomen as well. With the other knife the attacker caught him at the base of his neck and thrust the second blade in so deep it penetrated to the tip of his lung.

Faint and bleeding from the attack, Mr. Rose called a warning to Danny White, who was coming to his aid, to "get the gun from the vehicle parked outside." This seemed to scare the attacker off in addition to the fight for his life Mr. Rose was putting up.

Due to reports in the daily press which seemed to indicate otherwise, Mr. Rose would like us to pay tribute publicly to youthful Danny White, who stood by in the face of danger and acted with coolness. Following the disappearance of the assailant into the woods Danny stopped the flow of blood and got his friend to help it the E. B. Johnson Camp several miles away.

We know our readers will join us in this tribute to a good hearted young man who acted with courage and common sense to save the life of his friend.

That personal sense of responsibility

Johnny Bright, of the Edmonton Eskimos, had something worthwhile to say when, during his talk on Saturday evening he pointed out the fact that if things came too easy, we fail to appreciate them — and inferred that if we were continually having things put thrown into our laps without having to obtain them as we would develop a lazy and undesirable attitude. When he made this statement, he not only placed his finger on one of the weaknesses of our present recreational program — he placed it quite squarely on one of the weaknesses of our whole present way of living.

We are faced up today with prepared entertainment and recreation on every side, to such an extent that the challenge of making our own fun, of entertaining ourselves, or paying our own way, is to a large extent lost to our young people — to the extent much as might be expected. TV and radio have decimated interest of young folk in learning to play an instrument themselves. Real interest in physical development and participation is suffering and can only be maintained by the effort on the part of the organizers and by giving financial support from municipal bodies and from sponsoring organizations.

In our efforts to protect our young folk from labor exploitation and from taking jobs the men might hold, it seems to them of the hours of earlier days, we force them into a position where they have to depend more and more on others to provide play equipment and entertainment.

We're not smart enough to know the answer — but perhaps there is someone who has done. If so, let's hear it.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR NEW M.H.A. HOME

Several people in the Town of Edson are interested to know how C.M.H.C. loans and actual cash to mortgage are figured. The following figures are based on a home selling for $13,000.00 with a mortgage of $11,000.00. Usually the Mortgage Company pays $11 mortgage loan 2 per cent Mortgage Insurance Fee which amounts to $220.00. This means the paid out mortgage is $10,780.00.

The $22.00 is retained by C.M.H.C. to reimburse them for any loss should the Owner be unable to meet his monthly payments and the house having to be resold. This is not a life insurance premium of any kind.

There is a legal fee of approximately $170.00, which looks after the transfer of title to property, assurance that no liens are filed against the property, and to facilitate the advance payments from C.M.H.C. through the solicitor selected for the lender.

Fire insurance must be carried for at least the amount of the mortgage.

When purchasing a home the following points should be checked.

1. Is the property included in purchase price?
2. Are prepaid Town sidewalks included in the purchase price or are they payable to the Town on a "pay as you go" basis?
3. Is the mortgage insurance fee included in the purchase price?
4. Are legal fees included in the purchase price?
5. Is fire insurance included in the purchase price and if so, for how long should he for at least three years?

It is surprising for initial cost.

The above are included in the selling price by some builders while others consider these items as extras. Consult your solicitor on these items before signing any contract.

With regard to the finishing of the house the fact that it is built to C.M.H.C. standards does not mean that the special finishing which you desire is included in the base price. Be sure to get a complete breakdown from the contractor as to what is being supplied in order as material for rough carpentry finished carpentry and all other subtrades are covered.

Trusting this information will be of value to the prospective home owner and with my the best of luck to anyone contemplating the construction of a NHA home

CAPITOL REPORT

A politician emerges

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — The 1961 session of the Alberta Legislature will go down in history as the one in which Michael Maccagno the only elected Liberal in captivity in the province — emerged as a fighting politician.

Mike Maccagno was so surprised at anyone when the results of the 1959 general election left him the only Liberal member of a lonely little four-man Opposition facing a lop-sided majority of 61 Social Creditors.

It was generally considered then that Ernest Watkins, the lone Conservative from Calgary, would be the leader of the Opposition in effect, if not in name, because in past sessions he had been a more consistent critic of the government.

Mike had always stood rather softly, preferring to sit down a vast northern Lac La Biche area made up mostly of local improvement districts with no municipal organization, but he found the wise course was not to go easy on the government. He stuck mainly to issues concerning his own area, and didn't raise too many fundamental hackles.

At the same time, though, he didn't shy away from debates. He argued effectively on such things as municipal affairs (he is mayor of Lac La Biche), town planning, forestry, commercial fishing and fur farming.

During the 1959 House session, Ernest Watkins did have a go at his fine main government crime, even though there wasn't — and isn't — any official leader of the Opposition.

But this year was different. And what made it different was the government's new policy of financing projects. It gives Mike Maccagno an opportunity to attack on an issue which affected not only his town, but the rest of the province as well. In fact, it was and still is the most condemning issue of the day in Alberta.

Shortly after Municipal Affairs Minister Alfred Hooke unveiled the new plan, Mike was on his feet asking questions. He said preliminary figures showed a possible mill rate increase in his area. He wanted to know how come if, as the government claimed, the plan was aimed at putting a check on rising property taxes.

Mr. Hooke's reply was the bitterest attack we've heard in the Legislature in recent years.

The minister's general theme was that the Lac La Biche member should have taken the trouble to check with his town secretary or the municipal affairs department, and he would have known Lac La Biche could expect a tax decrease.

But Mr. Hooke punctuated his shouting attack with words like dense' and things like, how stupid can you get'

Unanimous among observers was that Mike had come out on top of the exchange. Otherwise, why did the minister have to pass such strong language. (Incidentally, at the time of writing we understand Lac La Biche still is uncertain about the effects of the new tax plan and is still worried about a possible increase. We've just learned that Bill Maccagno, as mayor of the town, has been discussing it with Mr. Hooke.)

The significant thing about the attack by the minister was that Mike took it without flinching. In the final couple of sessions after he was first elected in 1959, he'd have taken refuge under the desk.

Later in the session, Mike was even brave enough to take on Premier Manning. He interrupted a speech by the premier to get

Obstinate Governor needs firing

By T. W. PUE,
In The Edmonton Sun

As I write this article, James E. Coyne, Governor of the Bank of Canada has been asked to resign — in other words fired — from his $50,000.00 per year job, but he refuses to quit. My sympathies are all with the immediate inquiry is coming and the Government in Ottawa, and not with Coyne. Whether the Government is right or not — they — and not Coyne — were elected by the people of Canada. If the Government wants him fired, he should quit gracefully. His refusal displays his contempt for democracy and the Parliamentary system of government.

Last year Mr. Coyne got the Bank's Board of Governors to arrange for him a $20,000 per year pension after he has served seven years in his job. Canada's Members of Parliament get only $10,000 a year each while Cabinet Ministers get $15,000 with an additional $7,500 tax free expense allowance, a total in all of 22,500. Compare that with Coyne's $50,000 annual salary! The Prime Minister receives $25,000, with an indemnity of $8,000 and $2,500 expense free allowance, making a total of $37,000. Compare that with Coyne's $50,000 annual salary.

Members of Parliament who have been elected three times, and thereby serve a total of fifteen years, receive a maximum pension of $800 per month, or $9,600 per annum. Mr Coyne, having served only seven years, is to get $25,000 a year pension.

Mr Coyne is the Apostle of tight money, which keeps several hundred thousand able Canadian workers permanently unemployed. This same tight money policy has forced Canadian business men into paying the highest rates of interest in our history. The Government should increase the money supply, and should encourage rather than discourage the making of loans to small business.

The high unemployment caused by Coyne's economic policies has depleted our Unemployment Insurance Fund reserves.

The economic stagnation that is the result of Coyne's tight money policies has greatly reduced government tax revenues, resulting in bigger government deficits.

I don't know if Mr. Coyne is the author of the now three year old scheme of Canada's labor force should be permanently unemployed, but the seeming idea was expressed on June 8 in the formula likely bear on a fast moving article written by Val Sears from Ottawa.

The people of Canada, during Coyne's regime as Bank of Canada, have been subject to the rule of our economy by a committee of the Bank of Canada with the elected banks. Under this tyranny, bank interest rates have reached the maximum allowable by law. Interest rates on housing have reached maximum proportions. The Bank continues to create the liability component of which Canada's chartered banks could at one time truly boast. Now it is impossible for a Canadian to transfer a loan account from one bank to another because of a bank rule invoked three years ago by the bankers' committee.

I don't think the Government of Canada should be subject to repressive regulations of the Bank of Canada or the chartered banks. The Government of Canada should rule the banks as well as any other segment of our economy.

This fight between Fleming, representing the Government, and Coyne, representing the Banking Industry, must end in only one way - with the Government being the victor.

Then, the Government of Canada should manage the monetary and fiscal policies through the Bank of Canada. Sufficient bank credit should be issued to reduce bank loan rates per cent for the average small businessman, down to four per house mortgages and the economy should be so stimulated as to give everyone who wants it a job. Of course that is every one except James E. Coyne. With a $25,000 per year pension, he doesn't need a job.

Edson girl makes city newspaper teen page

A write-up in a recent issue of the Edmonton Journal contained some colorful tales about Susan Nigro daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Nigro who moved to the city with her parents a couple of years ago.

Susan 17 this year is taking her grade twelve at St. Joseph High school and as reported in teen page reporter Maureen Mellalo has per- sued her course there with all the vim and energy her Edson contemporaries remember her by.

We quote from the write-up. "When she entered her final year of Junior high school Susan enrolled at St. Vincent's. School from where she graduated with first class honors.

Upon entering St. Joseph Susan found herself caught up in the merry whirl of the French. She was elected room representative and took active part in all the activities and school functions. When she passed into grade 11 Susan decided to slow down but her plans and resolutions were tadedly changed.

The year began with a bang for her because she was nominated as a candidate for school treasurer which took a tiring but fun filled week of campaigning and laughing. Although she did not win this election Susan came out smiling and was given a vote of confidence by her classmates who once again elected her as room representative. During this period her name appeared on the Prench Club and president of this Secular Club which she organized.

Susan's graduating year was just as busy and busy as the rest were. She was a member of the Future Teachers Club and was honored by being elected to the Grad Council. Throughout the year she was a member of several committees and assisted in the operating and room rooms. It was further noted that Board Member J. Fleming approach the Department of Health with the view to discussing the overall heat problem during the summer months in the hospital.

The Matron was authorized to purchase a wall clock for the labour room at the approximate price of $80.00. It was decided by the Board to obtain a portable oxygen outfit from Stevens Companies on a trial basis. The unit cost $219.00.

The purchase of a mortar and pestle for use in the operating room was approved. In principle subject to the approval of the Department of Health and Mr. Fleming was given authority to place the order with Canadian Inter-Machine Company.

It was moved and carried that the Town of Hinton be built a sanitary valve on the main line for a town average water supply.

A discussion took place on the matter of rates for travel expenses which may be paid to members of the Board and staff. The matter was referred to the financial committee for a recommendation to be presented at the next Board meeting.

Curling Club plan 2nd fair

HINTON

The Hinton Curling Club have set the date for their second annual Exhibition and Fair as Friday and Saturday, August 11 and 12. The Fair will follow the pattern of last years event with a ball game Friday evening, a parade games and races on Saturday.

Exhibits, this year will cover a wider field to include work table and cut flower exhibits as well as a better organized cookout and sewing exhibit. An added feature that should cause considerable interest will be a competition for the best yard in the valley and hill areas with a fund prize for each section of town.

Hospital heat problem discussed by board

HINTON —

The heat problem in the Hinton Municipal Hospital came up for some discussion at the Board meeting held on June 20. Two developments came from the discussion. One was that the secretary contact the Department of Health regarding the heat problem being experienced in the operating and ease rooms. It was further moved that Board Member J. Fleming approach the Department of Health with the view to discussing the overall heat problem during the summer months in the hospital.

The Matron was authorized to purchase a wall clock for the labour room at the approximate price of $80.00. It was decided by the Board to obtain a portable oxygen outfit from Stevens Companies on a trial basis. The unit cost $219.00.

Shining Bank Rodeo scheduled for July 12

EDSON —

The Shining Bank Rodeo to be held on July 12 this year is shaping up and promising to be a good day of stampede sport.

The amateur competitions will be starting at 1:30 and the events will include bare back and saddle bronco riding, wild cow and wild steer riding along with the other Rodeo events.

The first class bronco that are lined up for the show will provide plenty of exciting action for rodeo fans.

The Rodeo, held at the grounds beside Conover's [illegible] three [illegible] north of Peers on a good travelled road has been well attended in the past and the management is looking forward to a good crowd this year — they feel that the show is considerably improved with the work they have lined up.

Refreshments will be set up on the grounds and a dance will be held on the ground there, the evening

SMOKEY SAYS Rules and regulations are a necessary and to our minds. If 100 per cent of our humans who use the forests, the lakes and streams would take time to be careful and to act wise in fact, rules and regulations would be unnecessary. However such is not the case and while strict out of city bounds persons the great out of doors must be careful and thoughtful of the remaining three make the rules necessary. Rules and regulations should be brief as possible and plain enough to be adhered to and not broken.

Holiday safety

The annual holiday season is once more upon us and during the next three months each of us in his turn will be taking a well-earned and much needed rest from the all around pressures of modern wage earning.

Some will wander far and wide by car, train plane, etc others will stay closer to home. Most of us, however will be using our car as the means of transportation.

Let's take a look at some fact disclosed by a National Safety Council investigation as to holiday accidents.

a The death toll on national holiday weekends averages 2 per cent higher than on non holiday weekends.

b The early hours are the most hazardous averaging 6 deaths per hour against 4 deaths per hour in the last 12 hours.

c Half of the fatal accidents happen within 10 miles from home. Two-thirds were with in 25 miles of home.

d Three out of 5 fatal holiday accidents involved only one vehicle.

e Not one person killed in the holiday accidents was wearing a seat belt. Investigators are of the opinion that 62 per cent defendents would have been saved by seat belts, and another 25 per cent might have been.

f More than half of the fatal accidents on holidays is inside a dinner who has been speeding or drinking.

TIMELY TIPS

1 Start your trip in plenty of time so you don't have to hurry. Expect extra danger and be extra alert. Slow down at sundown. When you get tired stop.

2 Even though you know the road well don't let familiarity breed contempt. Stay alert every to familiar territory.

3 Most holiday drivers meet death at their own hands — through excessive speed distractions, bad judgement Heed traffic signs they're your signs of life.

4 Seat belts won't prevent accidents but they can prevent injury and death. Like insurance they soften the blow if the worst happens.

5 Speed makes a car harder to stop and harder to control. It gives you less time to react in an emergency. And it makes an accident more severe.

6 As for drinking and driving there's only one rule (out) —

A reminder told his flock he had a call to go to another church. One of the deacons asked how much more he was offered. Five hundred dollars more was the reply.

I don't blame you for going remarked the deacon but you should be more exact in your language. Person. That isn't a call that's a curse.

Gardening Tips

BY RENE CAPT

Among the diseases that the gardener has to keep in mind is mildew. To prevent this fungus disease, it is wise to treat plants every two weeks or so with a sulphur base compound or mixture of the Rose Dust type Delphiniums Phlox Hollyhocks Roses and Tuberous Begonias are the plants to watch closely as they are very sensitive to it. Mildew develops more rapidly during moist warm weather and is particularly devastating during a period of hot days with intermittent rain. The most effective treatment to stop mildew is to use the well known Bordeaux mixture. This mixture of copper sulphate and lime has been for years the most widely used spray for protection against fungous diseases. It is used in different strengths for different purposes and these strengths are indicated on the packages. Mildew is recognized by white or gray ish powdery or fuzzy spots on the foliage particularly on the under side of the leaves. It burns rapidly, brownish and spreads to kill the whole leaf. It is a serious disease.

These chemicals we have mentioned should always be handy for emergency treatment. Let us add to our list a dust for the control of ground pests as ants cut worms etc.

Necessary tools and chemicals a gardener must have at all times are: (a) a small sprayer and Lindane Malathion insecticide for wet application (b) a duster and sulphur or sulphur base fungicide (c) a can of ground pest control dust to be worked in the soil.

Milk for Dairy Calves

Four weeks is long enough to feed milk to dairy calves according to results of experiments completed recently at the Research Station Lethbridge. At the end of the twenty eight day period the milk can be stopped abruptly without affecting future thrift. Holstein heifer calves were used in the tests.

Dr R. D Clark of the Animal Science Section reports that if calves are healthy and can be kept on clean surroundings, they can be raised successfully on set in eight pounds of whole milk per day until they are four weeks of age. They must however, be given a calf starter and good quality grass, or legume hay.

The starter contains 21 per cent protein and was fed in pellet form. Alfalfa hay was available to the calves at all times.

At the end of the 28 days, the milk supply was stopped but the alfalfa and calf starter feeding was continued until the calves were sixteen weeks old. At that age they were given a fourteen per cent concentrate with the good quality alfalfa hay that the past five years, 94 calves up to the age of twelve months have been raised in this way. All were raised successfully.

(Accidental) monitor a calf may need a little mineral and attention. It may be that if a calf is not eating around one pound of concentrate when weaned it may lack rather rough on the coat. Don't feed any longer on milk, he suggests. Just see that it is hand fed four or three days. In a few days it will have become accustomed to the dry feed.

The calves started eating at around two weeks of age and by the end of the four-week period they had consumed an average of ten pounds of starter and five to six pounds of alfalfa hay. At the end of the sixteen weeks they had consumed an average of 1 pounds of starter and five to six pounds of alfalfa hay. At the end of the sixteen weeks they had each eaten three hundred pounds of starter and one hundred and seventy pounds of hay. Average weight of the calves at sixteen weeks of age was two hundred and sixty pounds and at twelve months of age it was seven hundred and ten pounds.

The original criterion on a amount of milk to feed daily was ten per cent of the weight of the calf. It was found, however, that the calves did just as well when a unit of six to eight pounds of milk daily was used and the weight factor disregarded. For farm use this is much more convenient. It is important says Dr Clark, to keep clean fresh water before the calves at all times.

Slow down and live campaign is endorsed

"Slow down and Live" is the culmination of all traffic safety organizations as peak summer travel arrives. With Confederation Day in Canada on July 1st, and Independence Day in the USA on July 4th the need for safe and sane driving has never been greater.

The Alberta Safety Council, in cooperation with the Canadian Highway Safety Council and all provinces and states is sponsoring the emphasis on "Slow Down and Live".

Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta has joined all other Canadian Premiers and Governors of States in a plea for greater care on the highways during the summer. The dramatic setting forth this plea is on file with the Alberta Safety Council in Edmonton.

JOINT DECLARATION

By the Governors of fifty states, the Premiers of the Canadian Provinces, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, entered into by and between all those signatory hereto for the purpose of achieving a higher degree of safety on streets and highways.

The safety and welfare of the people is our common concern. On our streets and highways, safety is essential to our residents and to those who visit us for business or recreation. Traffic accidents take a terrible toll of life, limb and property, particularly in the summer season. Every effort must be made to bring down and hold down our traffic casualty experience.

To that end, in cooperation with the Association of Highway and Provincial Safety Council officials we urge every agency of traffic law enforcement and every-minded individuals and groups, everywhere to join with us in a concentration on safer highways during the summer of 1961 "On a hurry" psychology of vacation driving must be replaced by adherence to the safe-words Slow Down and Live.

E. C. MANNING,
Premier of Alberta.

Paul Lawrence, General Manager of the Alberta Safety Council, who is the Alberta member of the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators says, "The Slow Down and Live theme is just another way of saying drive at speeds which allow you to keep full control of your vehicle under all the different conditions you meet. Many drivers have an 'in a hurry' complex which leads them to depend on luck and the skill of other drivers. They contribute far more than their share of 'hazards.'"

The "in a hurry" driver takes a lot of enjoyment out of holiday and vacation driving, but there are some

AS I SEE IT

Rev. Fred C. HURD — Pastor

There are always dangers in the trend for intellectuality that of making down one's nose at those who have not attained it. Another is that of putting too much confidence on what intellectuality can do. Another is the danger of forgetting that there is something more important than erudition and capability in argument. These perils very real for all are especially dangerous for the child of God.

Let us not be misunderstood. We are not for carelessness in scholarship. We are for the best of training for a Christian young person as God may open doors and indicate usefulness in such preparation. We are only warning against certain dangers which all too often find expression when such a course is followed.

For the child of God the peril of pride should never master him. As a matter of fact, even non-christians should not falter here. It is an acknowledged fact that many people of the highest attainments, men and women who have made the greatest contribution, were most humble so far as their ability and work were concerned, it is understood as the elements of true science. But the Christian as the added factors which ought to be self-evident but is not by the grace of God. I Cor. 15:10) and no less known anthame as he (I Tim. 1:12-15). I am of these other areas in which we seem most in danger of missing God's will and favor. There are two observations we should like to make on true helpfully.

First let us remember that there are some things settled finally for the Bible-believing Christian. True these truths may need to be restated, but we since they are delivered, but to make them meaningful in a new context of time and people. But let us not mistake the matter, the verities of the faith are just that — verities. Let us be sure therefore that we do not water them down in the attempt to speak them in a language in which they may correctly be recognized and have meaning to the habit of present questions. The truth is unchanged and unchanging. Second let us be sure that we understand that God's work is carried on by meeting His demands for usefulness in His minds. It is true that some unbelievers may be impressed by our hope that some may even be brought to the place where they will seriously consider the claims of Christ. But on the vast majority of instances we know anything about the determining factor, the thing which brings the sinner to decision is not an intellectual broadside but the living Spirit's use of the Word of God backed by a consecrated life.

This is true though the means vary. Maybe it is the Christian's consistent testimony. Maybe it is an arrow kindness at a time of need. Maybe it is a pleasant dispositions that reflects the joy of a soul which knows the presence of Christ. In any case it is fidelity to the Lord Jesus that so often seems to be the way to a human heart.

After all, whatever our mental attainments, let us be sure that it is God's Word which he blesses and uses. So often human brilliance must get in the way. Let us strike fire in the halls of our hearts and minds" — by my sparks saith Jehovah of hosts."

Local couple going to Witness convention

"In my trade as an auto body man the same applies to my fellow mechanic," says Albert James. "I recognize the need to overhaul a car regularly in order to operate it at peak efficiency.

"I also realize that my mind must be constantly refreshed with accurate Bible knowledge if I expect to fulfill my scriptural responsibility to proclaim the Good News of the Kingdom. That is why all Jehovah's Witnesses plan their affairs so they may unite in the Christian fellowship that such a gathering of people can provide.

To learn more scriptural facts is the obligation of every Christian," Mr. James declared. So in order to enlarge my personal knowledge of the Bible and to improve my ministerial activity, I will attend the United Worshippers District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at Empire Stadium in Vancouver, British Columbia July 14 to 23. Also, because we believe that unity in worship must begin in the home, my family will be going with me."

With some 20 000 to 25 000 delegates expected from four northwestern states and four western provinces of Canada, the convention will take on a truly international atmosphere. Sponsoring the six-day Bible training session is the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society with world headquarters in Brooklyn, New York.

According to the local delegate, the purpose of this national convention is to build further on the Christian knowledge and faith already possessed by those who will attend and to improve and extend the individual minister's capacity to use Bible teaching with it. The unity in thought and action of Jehovah's Witnesses around the world is proof that Bible principles can be followed and that they are practical even in this space age."

Albert James was born, brought up married and is raising his family in Edson. "I appreciate the fine opportunities a community like this

Information for June Couples

At this time of the year social assistance from the many young couples, and their parents too, contemplating marriage will be enquiring for information on the marriage laws of the province. If the enquiries are made of parents who were married twenty odd years ago, the information received would in most cases not be up to date as marriage laws, like so many other things, change with time. Those persons requiring such information should therefore seek it from an up to date source and far enough in advance of their wedding date so that they may proceed according to plan. Such information is obtainable from the Division of Vital Statistics, Department of Public Health, or from the 170 odd marriage licence issuers located throughout the province. In some cases the issuer may be a civil servant while in others, by law, a Magistrate, a businessman or store-keeper.

For the information of the general public, the following is a synopsis of the requirements necessary to obtain a marriage licence.

Each applicant for a marriage licence must file with the issuer a form designated as Form F, certifying that a specimen of blood for the serological test for syphilis has been taken from the applicant and will be sent to the Provincial Laboratory for analysis. The blood test must be taken within 14 days prior to the date of application for licence. It is not necessary to await the result of the blood test before proceeding with the application, the discretion being left with the applicant.

Each applicant must also subscribe to an affidavit of health, designated Form A, swearing that to the best of his knowledge and belief he has never been infected with venereal disease or tuberculosis. If the applicant has been infected with either of the two diseases stated, additional requirements are necessary.

The following additional requirements are necessary, depending on age and status.

The minimum age for marriage in the province is 16 years and for purposes of The Marriage Act an applicant is considered to be a minor if under the age of 21 years. Those applicants under the age of 18 require the consent of both parents, if living, an applicants between 18 and 21 who has been residing apart from the parents or parent for three months or more immediately preceding the date of application for licence without having received the aforementioned evidence of the latter's satisfactory to the issuer shall be submitted.

When minor applicants are accompanied by the parent or parents and the parents or parent sign the required consent form witnessed by the issuer, the licence is issued lately issued. However, where it is necessary to notify the parents and receive consent by mail, there is a waiting period of seven clear days before the licence may be issued, providing in the meantime the required consent or consents consent is received by the issuer.

In the case of divorced applicants must, in addition to the foregoing, wait for thirty days after the date of entry of his final decree of divorce before applying for a marriage licence, and if he was divorced within the previous year must file with the issuer a certificate issued by the Clerk of the Supreme Court certifying that no appeal has been entered from the final decree and the time for appeal has expired. The aforementioned certificate is issue to a period of three months

Betty Warkentine wins safety essay award

Within the next few days 100 schoolrooms in Alberta will receive wall plaques from the Alberta Safety Council. Hand lettered certificates mounted under plate glass on a wooden base will show that a pupil from the schoolroom has written an essay on farm safety which was chosen by the judges to receive first prize for the school division. The pupil will receive an enamelled lapel pin to keep as a permanent personal memento.

Winner from Edson school division is Betty Warkentine in grade 7 and 8 group. No entries were received for the 4-5-6 and 9 and 10 from this division.

This is the eleventh year the Alberta Safety Council has offered farm safety essay contest for pupils in grades four six, seven and eight in the province's rural schools. Fifty two school divisions entered with an estimated 60235 children writing essays.

Prizes are offered in each school division and the Centre providence Branch and the Indian residential school for the best essays from grade 4, 5 and 6 and the best essay from grades 7 and 8.

Subjects for this year's contest were "Farm Machinery Safety and Hunting Safety."

In addition to the school division prizes for first second prizes of $250 and $25 are given to the pupils in grades 7 and 8 who in the opinion of the judges have written the best and next best essays for that group in the whole province and the same for pupils from grades 7 and 8 at the provincial level.

We take pleasure in reprinting Betty's essay on farm safety below.

FARM MACHINERY SAFETY

Safety on the farm may be referred to as one of Canada's greatest need. Every year the newspapers contain stories of farm accidents. Most of these could have been avoided with a little foresight on the part of the people involved. Accidents result in financial loss to the family, crippled and sometimes killed which causes a great deal of suffering. The following story of an accident that happened to a neighbour will explain. The carelessness on his part and how he could have prevented it.

This man never put away his farm machinery or put it in the machine shed after using it. One day he absent minded left his combine out in the farmyard while he went in to the mainmill headquarters. After he finished what he was going to do he started to go out to the combine. He was in such a hurry that he forgot to put on his gloves. He got on the combine and started it. He started cutting the grain. He noticed that the auger was plugged up. He stopped the combine and got off. He forgot to shut off the motor. He started to unplug the auger. He put his hand in the auger to unplug it

Edmonton team cops fastball tourney

Crowds enjoy parade and colorful floats

The Department of Highways captured first place in Edson's biggest and best Fastball Tournament held in this town on Saturday, July 2nd. Due to the annual First of July Baseball Tournament being called off because of wet grounds, the fastballers stole the show and judging from the capacity crowds which packed Memorial Ball Park and the Edson High School baseball diamond the affair will become an annual event in the coming years.

A large crowd assembled Saturday morning when loud speakers went around town to announce that a parade would be held up Edson Main Street as the sun was shining after two days of pouring rain.

Complete with a lively assembled Elks Junior Boys Band the parade was well worth watching. Decorations and businesses entering floats deserve considerable praise for their effort and imagination in spite of the gloomy skies the day before.

Close to 800 fans witnessed the game which saw the Highways come up with a big six run up-rising in their end of the eighth inning and break up a tight 6-5 ball game. The losers took home second place money of [illegible]

The Commodore Aces bombed McBride Motors 18 to [illegible] first game while Kozak [illegible] ran out of gas when they lost out to Ed Miller Construction 7 6. That game went into extra innings. Only Edson club to lose out in the opening round were the Worthing Truckers who succumbed to the McBride boys by a 10 4 score.

The tournament champions, the Department of Highways, had their hands full when they met the Big Three Oilers in the second round. Although the Big Three Oilers lost it 3 2 they came up with good showing on what could be termed the game of the day.

They tamered the sarks in their top of the seventh inning with only one out but couldn't touch Highways hurler Bill Panuh for a base hit after that. New Canadian stamp going on sale at P.O.

Details of a special commemorative five-cent postage stamp to mark the tenth anniversary of the Colombo Plan were announced recently by the Postmaster General, the Honorable William Hamilton.

The Colombo Plan Mr Hamilton said was initiated by Commonwealth countries to assist in the economic development of certain under developed countries by providing trained manpower and resources. A major part of the Canadian governmental contribution has been in the development of hydro electric power, transportation and communications facilities.

Such plans of international assistance, Mr Hamilton pointed out, benefit not only the countries which receive the assistance but the countries which contribute as well. In the case of Canada, which over $275 million had been contributed since the inception of the plan, practically all of this money had actually been spent in Canada for the purchase of equipment, supplies and material originating in Canada.

Canadian labor, industry and agriculture had all benefited as the result. No nation can hope to prosper indeed really in the world of today Mr Hamilton said by remaining its obligations to the broad community of mankind through such efforts as the Colombo Plan. Canada was helping to raise living standards throughout the world and in turn ensure increasing prosperity for itself as well.

Described by R J Reddie, designer of the Northern Development and Pauline Johnson stamps, the new 5 cent postage two figures hold ing a blueprint in front of a huge hydro power plant the figure is clothed in western garb The other wears a tur ban and wears climate clothing typical to the South East Asiatic countries.

In the top left corner the following wording appears "Le Plan de Colombo Plan" Along the bottom of the stamp appears the word ing Postes Canada Postage The figures and foreground will be printed in blue on a back ground of light brown The stamp is a large horizontal de sign measuring 1½ inches by 1 inch.

The stamp will be placed on sale in post offices across Canada on June 28, in time for the official anniversary of the Colombo Plan which was inaugurated on the 1st of July 1951 Thirty million stamps will be printed

Water Safety facts

From your Pool Superintendent

Learning to swim is only part of water safety protection. If a person learns to swim and does not learn of the same time how to protect himself either in or on the water then he is only half prepared Every swimmer regardless of his ability should be familiar with all the hazards of water activities

For some the dangers is the resort disaster delights in. It is common for swimmers to have an exaggerated opinion of their endurance A champion mile swimmer who has not been in the water for years may find it hard to believe that he cannot skill swim a mile with ease whereas non swimmers may be sufficient to enable him or that he requires help

In 1960 there were more than 45 drownings in Alberta Many of these drownings could have been avoided if the victims had learned water safety knowledge

The fresh young chick in the appliance store prided him self on always having a snappy comeback

GREEN ACRES

By DICK BOCKING

WE BID ADIEU

This is the last column that I will be contributing under the "Green Acres" heading I hope that you have found some of these items of interest and of value in your farm ing operations. Some writ ers in haste to meet a dead line, have left quite a lot to be desired.

The column will be continued by my successor, Mr Earle Lowe I know that he will do a fine job of bringing to you some of the many import ant new methods and ideas in this rapidly changing busi ness of farming.

The past six years during which I have served as your District Agriculturist have been rewarding ones for me. I have enjoyed very much working with the farm people of this district Mr. made re great about the past few years is that there are so many things that should have been done but for one reason or another usually lack of time were not done There is plenty of work to be done in this field and in Early Loon, this district has a man who will be of great help to the farm people in this district

I am joining the farm department of the CIC becaus I feel that radio and particularly television can be of very real help to the farm family Agriculture is changing very rapidly and these media make it possible to take quickly to the farm news of what is happening in the farming industry Radio and TV can perhaps be of help to the farm family in adjusting to these changes and achieving success

PRODUCTION FROM BUSHLAND

In this district many of us are interested in bringing bushland into production as cheaply as possible On previous occasions, we have reported on the work being done in this field by the Beaverlodge Experimental Farm on the Peace River district A recent report indicates that considerable success is being met in this project

The aim is to get bushland into pasture production as cheaply as possible without losing through the expensive and laborious steps of breaking and root picking

The best results have been obtained by full brush cutting and piling with the least

Irene Brandrett sended the following saying to a mixture of hemo. (6 pounds) alfalfa (3 pounds) and creeping red fescue (2 pounds) Then thinned was given a shallow double disking and floated.

This system resulted in a higher yield of forage and less trouble with weed growth and popular regrowth than any other seed mixture or system of cultivating

More tests will be made in finding the use of fertilizer control of popular regrowth and methods of land clearing It will be interesting to follow the development of this work which can be of real importance in this district where so much new land is brought under cultivation

July First still draws crowds

The fine examples of float making entered in the July First parade on Saturday would seem to indicate that the spirit behind the observance of the anniversary of Canada's birthday is not completely dead locally. Heavy rains right after Friday night would have, and in some cases did, dampen the ardour of some, but those who entered are to be congratulated.

Another observation we would like to make is about the enthusiasm with which the football tournament Saturday was received by nearly full stands all day and a full grandstand for the final game. The committee has had journey Saturday, of course, made any idea of parade remote, but there was a sturdy desire by all attending to have some sort of a sports day.

It's been noticed the decline in the last few years in fireworks, in food. Smaller crowds in turn have forced smaller prizes from the several hundred dollars and up to one thousand dollars that was the rule ten years ago. The exception to this decline is the Pony League which got up some exhibition play Saturday afternoon in lieu of the 50-mile journey and the little folk put on a fine turnout in large numbers.

At the risk of offending old time "hard" ball players who deplore the more modern "fast" ball we would like to suggest another combination of both activities for next year. We have never seen keener competition for a hundred dollar first prize money than was demonstrated to the delight of the fans by the two softball contenders at the weekend.

Football takes the most out of its fields and the accumulation of many visiting teams. The eight outside teams brought a number of supporters with them and their enthusiasm was contagious.

We would suppose we will ever equal the large number of supporters who used to come down from the Peat Ranch with the first rate baseball teams from the Branch but perhaps the football fever will catch on with district teams such as Rosevear, McLeod Valley, Mackay and Wildwood, to make up for the decline in baseball attendance.

Members of the fourteen clubs who backstopped the location of Athletic Association members putting on the day could be augmented by help from the community in our opinion. Let's not leave the organizing of July First celebrations to a few to push through the first week in June next year. A strong committee should be formed as early as March or April to plan the observance of Canada's birthday.

CAPITOL REPORT

More government info needed

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON Trade — The current confusion over the province's new education financing program seems to point up a need for better channels of communication between the government and the public. Conflicting statements from government officials, complicated formulas and long delays in putting a completed program into operation have left municipal administrators and the general public baffled.

Alberta's Social Credit government has always prided itself on being close to the common people and its success over the past 25 years proves it certainly has the backing of the little man. But lately we believe we've noticed a trend away from this close relationship with the Alberta public. Maybe at a time the government hasred a firm of public relations consultants to look over the communications and see where they can be improved.

The new education financing plan is a perfect example of how to keep the public befuddled. From the time the industrial tax redistribution scheme was shot down in flames in 1961, the provincial municipal advisory committee was hard at work on the new plan. What was the public told about it? Nothing much except for the odd little hint from Municipal Affairs Minister Alfred Hooke that some sort of revolutionary plan was in the works. Then it was announced to put a stop to the skyrocketing of school costs. Then came the 1961 session of the Legislature. Early in the session, in a marathon speech Mr. Hooke unveiled the plan for the first time. And it was received like a real dandy.

Mr. Hooke may not have said the plan will reduce property taxes, but he certainly gave that impression. Now, it appears, the plan will not have that effect. Probably what it will do is equalize the burden of taxes across the province, and this is all to the good but Albertans had led to expect more than this.

The manner made in two hour speech without the benefit of a prepared text in major public relations mistake right there and it is a real tribute to reporters that he wasn't complaining about being misquoted the next day.

A communications problem

In his regular column, Capital Report, columnist Ken Mason this week wondered aloud whether it was time for the provincial government to take a fresh look at its machinery for communicating with the public.

He cited the confusion over the government's new education financing plan and the difficulty the public has had, for lack of factual information, in sorting out the details.

In Grande Prairie, we have recently had a couple of further examples of slip ups in the communications channels which have created difficult situations.

The recent forest fires — and the upcoming manpower policies — were a case in point.

More recently, the establishment of a 40 hour week week in centres of 5000 population or better has brought confusion to employers and employees alike, simply because there was little advance notice or interpretation of the new regulations.

There is need for development of a strong overall communication policy at the highest level.

As it is now, some departments have [illegible] science, believes in the doctrine of "live and let live," and when he encounters one of the needy, he does not [illegible] shelter with his pocket book.

Machines have souls?

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Sometimes, I talk to my car. Come on you old tin heeller get started." I treat into the dashboard. The car never answers.

Then one time I have reached it with saying, "Thank you" to an automatic coffee machine it hands for their own good, polite way. You're welcome." of course.

Lately I've come to converse with computerized laundries. I have wouldn't get any reply except "Damp" Wash" Machines have no souls. And yet the automatic of Canada are up here.

The Supreme Court has ruled that laundry machines must not be exposed to the corruption of Sunday work. It's one of the Lord's Day Act.

We must allow a young laundromat thrive at little wheels and pennies) to commit the sin of washing dirty linen on the Sabbath.

And now there is a parallel of that dreary machines are all to be forbidden to work on Sunday for their own good, "Sorry, we're welcome." of course.

After that who knows? Other machines such as automatic telephone exchanges, barometers cars may be forced to observe a day of rest.

I hope they will use the time in going to church. I don't mean to be blasphemous. The government and the supreme court decided that machines have souls. I didn't.

I wonder whether my car is an Anglican or a Presbyterian.

RCMP capture escapee in Jasper home

The RCMP in Jasper last Sunday evening captured Clarence Bruce Cameron 24 of Innisfail, who was an escapee from the Spy Hill Provincial Jail 10 miles west of Calgary. He was arrested in a private home in Jasper.

The escape was made some time after the 7.30 p.m. check Tuesday. Warden H. C. Jakeman said later he believed Cameron was boosted to the roof of the one-story prison building and lay on the roof until after dark before making good his escape.

Cameron had served two months of a one year sentence for possession of stolen property. He was sentenced April 25, 1961.

Before routing out your spare bedroom, you should always ask for their parole card.

Optimist team Pony League champions

HINTON—

Winning by a close 12 11 overtime score the Optimist sponsored Pony League team were season champions when their game with the Kinsmen sponsored team was over last Thursday evening.

The Kinsmen boy had won the first of the total point two game series by a fairly wide margin and were confident that they would walk off with the championship but the optimist boys proved game fighters and won on an overtime inning after tying it up in regulation innings.

Final point standing of the Elks team leader was Optimists 8, Kinsmen 8, Rotary 7, Elks 5, Lions 4. The official league season has now been completed but it is hoped to continue to play baseball as long as the boys are interested.

This has been the first season since the Pony League was organized four years ago with more interest been shown by the boys although parent interest appears to be as low as ever.

THE FARMER

These are the hands whose sturdy labor brings
The peasant's food the golden pomp of kings;
This is the page whose letters shall be seen
Changed by the sun to words of luring green
This is the splendor whose immortal pen
Spells the first human hunger fought to men.
These are the lines which heaven commanded toil
Shorts of his creed — the charter of the soil

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear daughter Mrs. Marion LeBlanc, who passed away on July 12 1959

We do not need a special date
To bring you to our minds,
Each day we think of you.
So grateful and so kind.
Tonight the stars are shining
On a lonely, silent grave
Where sleeps in dreamy slumber,
One we love, but could not save.

Those who have a daughter,
Cherish her with care;
For you never know the sor row,
Till you see the empty chair
You are not forgotten Marian darling,
Nor ever shall you be Always remembered and sadly missed by Mom and Dad Mr and Mrs John Try

Knights of sixties

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Knights used to ride off to the Holy Land armed with a sword and a lance.

Today's knights ride to the underdeveloped countries in plane hop and truck. Their weapons are slide rule, books and ideas.

The modern crusade is free mankind from poverty and ignorance is one of the great objectives of our time. The other is pure fratel. These are not adventures in which everybody can take part. Only a few people will ride through space in rocket ships and they must be tough, adaptable and clever.

A lesser number will claim a chair in the other great enterprise of the 20th century the war against poverty. Many young people of the West are catching the spirit of this cause and are enrolling in its ranks.

They must learn for the campaign. They can't merely drift to Asia and Africa as a ragtag rabble of do-gooders. These areas need technicians in many scientific branches and specialists of many kinds. The need is for educated men and women. Some of them will attend the Peace Corps organized by nations of the West; others will join the ser vice of foreign governments.

All of them will work hard in faraway places building dams teaching peasant farmers how to use new tools and methods, learning languages and comforts to illiterate millions. Many of these peace soldiers will live in smelly and uncomfortable houses. They will be chewed by fleas and bugs. They won't make much money.

But they will earn some thing that money can't buy, the feeling of being useful. When a man has that feeling noth ing else matters. But if he fails to attain it or having attained it he loses it, pride he is poorer than any peas ant wretchine for life in the Asian earth.

The feeling of being use ful is some two common in the pampered West. But more and more people are going in search of it.

You may look out your win dow and see a youth in a black leather jacket reel down the street with a disembodied air.

Put other young people of the same moment are sailing for Africa to teach in jungle schools.

The Sea is to black leather jacket might be going there one of tomorrow.

Heads Alberta Red Cross

MR. M. C. HILTON of Calgary has assumed the position of Red Cross Commissioner for Alberta. Mr Hilton, who has been Assistant Commissioner for the provincial Red Cross Division since last July succeeds Lt. Col. D. H. Tomlinson, who served as chief Red Cross official in Alberta for the past 40 years.

Born in Winnipeg, Mr Hilton moved to Calgary with his parents as a child and received his public and high school education in that city. After attending University of Alberta he worked as a public accountant prior to joining the staff of Jenkins-Greenlees Ltd., with which he was associated as Director and Treasurer for 20 years.

Keenly interested in community and sports activities, Mr Hilton is a past president of the Tuberculosis Association and served as Director of the Calgary Kinsmen's Club for 11 years. He is also a former Director of the Rotary Club of Calgary.

Mr Hilton is married and has one son and three daughters.

EMPHASIZING THE LEGION'S role in community service the color party from the Ladies Auxiliary and one lone Legionnaire provided flags for the Dominion Day parade on Saturday.

Aquarium gets octupus

One of the most fearsome creatures of the sea, the octupus, can develop a "psychological block" in captivity which may cause his death.

So says Elmer Taylor, curator of the Calgary Aquarium, Canada's only inland aquarium which is located on the grounds of the Calgary Brewery at 8th Ave and 18th St. S.E. The aquarium is open to the public weekdays from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sundays from 12:00 to 6 p.m.

Mr Taylor recently acquired a 60 pound octupus for the aquarium during a spare time bout of the crusted sea ... off Vancouver and Washington. Whether the creature will live in captivity depends upon its emotional adjustment to new conditions, Mr Taylor said.

Octopi can and often do develop a "psychological block" as a result of being exposed to the light of aquarium or confined in water of different depth and pressure than that of their natural habitat. Sometime just the fact that they are being viewed by humans is sufficient to cause an emotional upset, and this may be manifest in a complete refusal to eat and eventual starvation.

Baby octupi are sometimes captured in tide pools, but most often aquarium specimens are obtained by skin divers who probe the crevices of the sea floor rocks until they see a tell-tale tentacle. They inject copper sulphate or lidocaine into the octupus' kidneypit which provokes the animal into the open water where he can be wrestled into submission and surfaced to a waiting boat.

Copper sulphate is poisonous and if it should enter the blood stream of the octupus during the capture it can cause a fatal toxic condition "But other methods of capture have so far been unsuccessful." Mr Taylor said. "The octopus seems to be too smart to be taken in a trap—and as for capturing him in the dark, as is sometimes suggested, the odds are all in favor of the animal."

Farmers can get permission to cut road hay

Hon Gordon F. Taylor, Minister of Highways announced recently that anyone wishing to cut the hay and grass on the right of way of highways that are under the jurisdiction of the Department of Highways should apply to the District Engineer of the area. The District Engineer will approve such applications on a basis of "first come, first serve."

The practice of the Department has been to give priority to the farmer whose land adjoins the right of way, provided as soon as he cut the hay but in view of the possible shortage of feed the Department has adopted the above open policy. It is anticipated that a very large amount of hay can be secured this way.

Tempus Fugit . . .

A company publication makes some rather staggering statistics relative to public memory of the great events of the first half of the Twentieth Century.

Some 75% of the people born, it points out, do not remember World War One, 66% don't remember candidates before World War Two.

We have no personal recollection of a major depression and 40% can't remember Hitler Russia or an ally during the war.

We are so painfully aware of time's winged chariot as anybody else, but we admit to not having realized that it was careening along at quite such a breakneck pace as this.

First impressions of Edson - - - 1913

An essay by Linda Yaudall which won first prize in the contest organized by a committee for the 50th Anniversary Celebrations.

On a spring day forty eight years ago the population of Edson was increased by two. This may not seem important but to young Bill Stroud and his wife it was a start in life in a new land.

The fellow that he was to succeed in the ... business ... sprawled ... three or four blocks ... Main Street was a relic of the Edmonton ... days ... Two models ... left ... down the middle of the street ... with murky puddles of water ... both sides. Bill Stroud ... to know every rut and ... hole on Main Street through ... as he drained for Bert Pettigrew for three years. He ... as interest suppliers to them ... Bonnichsen Bros. ... Johnson's Grocery Store ... Thompson Hardware ... Frank's Premises (Edson Leader) ... Schwartz Bakery and ... Harry Callaham's Liquor Store.

Today, Mr Stroud still remembers the location of other places. The Commercial Hotel, where the bakery is situated, the Imperial Bank on the present site of Marlen Motors, Robbin's Clothing Store and Swinarton's Drug Store. At the end of Main Street across from the C.N.R. station loomed the great framework built of the Edson Hotel then run by Max Greenberg. It stood there unfinished and burned down in 1910.

Though Edson was only two years old in 1913, it was a ... centres of contrast ... The theatre, run by Ed Spurgeon and ... Anderson was situated where the ... Middleton Hall now stands. Old Jeff's Cigar and Candy Shop was the meeting place where the men held their Saturday afternoon "gab fests."

When Mr Stroud first came to Edson, Gilbert Lawrence was acting as mayor and Dave Pethers upheld the law. John Griggs was postmaster. Many of the early comers to Edson are still here. Among them are Bert Pettigrew, Mark Albert, Bill York, Bill Stroud, Chris Matheas, Harvey Sumner, Mrs V. Matson and Mrs R. Hollas.

In 1918, the great flu epidemic that took more lives than World War I but throughout the world. The epidemic hit Edson on full force ... several hundred people in Edson alone were victims of the dreaded disease. Many of the townspeople took in people who had nowhere to go. Mr Stroud can remember having nearly thirty sick men staying at his house. Young Herbert ... did his best to help his stricken town, but the flu had spread the scourge of death over the whole area. Mr Stroud was one of the fortunate ones who didn't come down with the ... until the worst was over.

Guidance of graduates must be given

By Joanne Sarwatuk
District Home Economist

With the high school and city of graduation festivities just over or about to happen many high school students are confused by the thought "What now? Where do I go from here? What will my career be?"

As mothers of these undecided youngsters you have the responsibility of offering guidance — be it accepted or rejected

Every member of the high school graduating class is en visioning a happy life — but there are so many means of achieving this happy life to choose from — so many paths to climb

Each graduand is subject to the burdens of choice — with every choice involves his or her sense of values.

Know Thyself

"Hail the evil in this world comes from people not know ing what they like, but deli berately settling (hesitation) for what they really don't enjoy" So said a nineteenth century writer—This is more like Polonius' posting to his son Laertes

"The above all to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."

But it's difficult for a teen ager to really know himself because really he is still deciding what kind of self he wishes to be So much more important, then is the deci sions when he makes one

At this point, he should remember that life is also a set of skills His education and his preparations need to be suitable to his hopes, and the greatness of the easier prize upon which he is run hoping For his work, which will be determined by his in terests his training and his skills will be one of the most decisive factors in the choice he makes in such a long life

What Makes A Happy Life?

Actually there are five ma jor pursuits of a happy healthy well rounded life work interests friendships the pursuit of an idea

Happiness is not a negative nor a passive thing rather it is the outcome of the things he does the product of goal live thinking and active living.

Happiness is not the means to something else, but is the end in itself

Keep Ideal in Mind

The graduand may be at the top of his class — but this is not really a true measure of his success Comparison with others is never good en ough

Habits of fish in spring

In the spring a young bull frog's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, and as a con sequence the annual nature at the Calgary Aquarium may be startled by the sound of a crazed throated "Chur r ump"

Since the Calgary Aquarium treated on the grounds of the Calgary Brewery at 7th Ave and 9th Ave S E has been open less than a year, this is the first time Curator Elmer Taylor and his assistants have been able to see the influence of the spring season upon the habits of the fish, reptiles and amphibians there

Many of the fish are more active than usual and the latest, a major feature of the Alberta game fish display are showing scales of spawning But the fish that are housed in an announcing their intentions Dogfish are a separate place showcase the large bullfrogs have become quite vocal and often startle visitors to the Aquarium with their strange and loud croaking The bull frogs are native to Eastern Canada where their large pumping legs are an edible delicacy

The Aquarium also has an exhibit of native Western Can adian frogs, the ones that "churn" frog which despite their small size has tremendous vocal chords In their native habitat of Western sloughs and ponds chorus frogs "sing" in the cool of the early morning and during the evening and frequently continue their sing ing all night long Being in captivity at the Aquarium has not dampened their enthusiasm for their choral work

Western chorus frogs, al though not true tree frogs since they do not have the characteristic suction cups on their feet, are nevertheless expert tree climbers according to Mr Taylor

There are also marginlay in Clau's success in the realm of his accomplishments to his own capacities

And remember all achieve ment is particular Trophy no less it is based on foundation ed truth. the quiet strength of the happy life rests upon principle

Early graduand must estab lish his standards and then stick by them, not as if they were rules, but rather let them be signal lights to en courage him to do his own thinking and to acquire the stature of a man

One More Thing

Those who seek the happy life must have character A person of character is one who likes and dislikes what he ought He is honest by hab it and as a matter of course He has been taught this way of living by his parents, who possessing ability to make in telligent critical judge ments concerning the essen tials of life

Let not the trend by the graduand because of this He but rather let it be his thought about them

And remember he will not find the happy life, he must make it did not ask him "what will people think?" but rather "What will you think of your self?"

To answer such questions requires making a judgment Part of a happy life is the at

PAUL BOONER AT THE WHEEL OF THE OLD STEAMER had plenty of supervision as he drove up Main in the July First parade. About this time we ran through our film and didn't get the cavemen and women from the Edson Neptunes skin diving club who scared the maidens and intrigued the men with their primitive clothing and beauty.

OUR OWN FLOAT IN THE JULY FIRST parade had girls on top and flowers around the sides of our rear engine station wagon. PS The Leader really did get started in February, 1911 under the editorship of W. C. R. Garrioch.

Local Junior Leaguers meet city at weekend

It's Junior League baseball at Memorial Park this week and two packed teams from across the Canadian Legion, Kinsmen,

The games will be played Saturday, July 8 at 1 o'clock and 3:30 p.m. and two on Sun day, July 9 at the same time.

The Junior League play ers deserve your support this organized this year by the Optimist Club under the management of Glenn Schultz these players have already shown marked improvement

It's entertain ment on July 1 when they all folded tour teams and did a good job despite the ad verse conditions under which they played.

This is Edson's future senior teams. Let's support them this weekend by attend ing the games and the usual noise at the parade, but every one who can attend.

He – Where did you get those beautiful eyes?
She – They came with no head.

Wading pool open Saturday at Kin pool

The wading pool being con structed at Kinsmen park for the town and district mospers is expected to be ready to open its cooling influence by Saturday afternoon.

The wading pool is for the little people, but parents are reminded that no supervisors of the youngsters will be avail able. It is reported that the children will be somewhat by other children and some older ones whose to the pool.

The depth of the water is from nine inch es to 12 inches deep which is to be dangerous for little ones are left in attended.

Hours of the wading pool will conform to those of the main pool ie Monday through Saturday 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday 12 noon to 9. Monday, Wednesday and Friday 6:30 to 8:30 adults only. Tuesday and Thursday family swimming 6:30 to 8 with children ac companied by parents admitted free.

Swimming class, for chil dren able to use the main pool are being arranged.

Edson Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Craig and family are back from Campbell River B.C. looking the situa tion over and thinking about making their home here as they missed our fine town while they were away. When talking to members of the Leader Mr. Craig told us that he had several propositions that he was thinking about following up.

Master Jerrald Tanton is spending his summer holidays at Hop Lake with Mr and Mrs Ben Getson.

Experienced handsmen needed for big parade

Anyone interested on play ing in the Rodeo parade on August 1st part of a local brass band is urged to con tact Dick Christie at PA3-3424 or PA3-3077.

Each entry we should be able to get enough men with experience and preferably with their own instruments, to at least play a couple of tunes in the parade.

While there is not too much hope of training your potential handsmen for the parade Mr. Christie is also interested in hearing from young people interested in learning to play an instrument.

Your town

If you want to live in the kind of a town
Like the kind of a town you like.
You don't have to pack your clothes in a grip
And go on a long long hike
For you'll only find what you've left behind.
There's nothing that's really new.
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town
It isn't the town it's YOU!

Hard towns are not made by men afraid.
Lost someone else sees ahead;
Where everyone works and no body shirks
You can raise a town from the dead
And if while you make your personal strife
Your neighbor will make one too.
Your town will be what you want it to be
It isn't the town it's YOU!

Rodeo eve salute to Edson by CFRN Stars Revue precedes show

A "Salute to Edson" by stars of TV and radio Thursday night before the big two day Edson Tri-Service Rodeo gets going will lee off the stampede festivities for Edson's big summer show.

Being provided at no charge to the Rodeo committee by CFRN, the proceds from the attractive show will help make Edson's annual stampede bigger and better.

Prime attraction will be the Rodgers Bros group at the High School Auditorium where the show is being held. Old Time fiddling and glamorous Joyce Smith will give her up to date repertoire of modern western flavor songs.

The good old West will get attention as Frankie and Hank "the fastest guns in Canada" spread there ... in special gun gymnastics, trick shooting and ...dy.

... stage will be world famous cowboys and ... Volz in person. Harry is the man who will be ...ding the CPA stock for the big two day Rodeo.

Hot weather sees improving of rodeo spot

Members of the three service clubs who comprise the Edson Tri-Service Rodeo Committee — the Lions, the Gyros and the Kinsmen — have held volunteer work parties out for several weeks improving the grounds at the Rodeo field.

Paint has been put on some of the stands, fences and other facilities, corrals have been improved, more seats have been provided and other conveniences for the thousands of rodeo fans expected for August 4 and 5 have been arranged.

Bands galore and floats and floats, sprinkled with numerous big names in the political world are to make the parade both days something to remember.

A special committee of the Town Council has been named to see that the VIP's, those important personages who will be here will get the kind of friendly hospitality that idea being mooted is an informal civic reception for the dignitaries so Edson and district people can get to meet them. No definite plans are set on this as yet.

Yeah, Yeah — all roads will lead to the big two day Edson Rodeo, August 4 and 5.

This year's moths next year's tent caterpillars

Checks made by the local Forestry Department office the Exalta against the moths at the adult of the tent caterpillars which have now reached the egg laying stage. The larvae are small black caterpillar about three quarters of an inch long, and they are covered with orange diamonds along the back. The eggs of the Edson area people and both are quite edible can easily be recognized by the manner in which they build a tent cocoon over a branch or bush which is inhabited by hundreds or thousands.

The Dominion Entomologist for this area has been checking the situation and feels sure there are infestations of the caterpillars relatively close to Edson. They are known to be bad in the Whitecourt area this year but the moths are the first sign of them in the immediate Edson area.

Sorry

SMALL FRY HAVE SOMEWHERE TO GET WET when big brother and sister are in the Kinsmen Pool since last week. The project, backed by the Edson Kinsmen Club, provides for muppets wading pool for the hot days. Mothers are reminded that there is no supervision for the little ones and arrangements for older persons to look after the youngsters is needed. The colorful concrete toadstools in the background and palm tree in the centre designed by Eric Shepherd of the Town Staff make the pool look really attractive.

Children tour aquarium

The Calgary Aquarium which opened August 28 last year as a public service project of the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd. is accomplishing one of its primary purposes of visual education for young Albertans.

From the time the school term started in September until it ended June 30, more than 4,000 Alberta school children made official class tours of the Aquarium.

Biggest volume of traffic occurred in the last few days of June when as many as 500 youngsters in classes or groups of classes visited the Aquarium in one day.

More than half of the young visitors came from schools outside the city of Calgary, although Calgary school classes were more frequent visitors. Senior high school teachers and grade nine and twelve and grade level of the students.

Kindergarten pre-schoolers and elementary school students were of course most interested in the brightly colored tropical fish and in the larger specimens such as the alligators and the sharks," he said.

Boys school and university students were interested sixth graders for technical courses. Latin dealing with the biology of the specimens.

Hour design which free tours may be made to the Aquarium said the community for the guided tours on which the children were conducted by himself and his assistants were based to the age and grade level of the students.

Two weeks holiday after one year's service now in Alberta titled to two weeks vacation after one year's service under a Board of Industrial Relations order which went into effect.

Workers in Alberta are en a year made up of 280 work days.

The previous board order allowed one week after one year and two weeks for two or more years of service.

Under the new order an employee is deemed to have completed a year's employment after working 240 per cent of his regular working days. Previously the year was defined as 225 days and was changed because some occupations had

Together with the two weeks vacation the employee must get at least four per cent of his regular earnings as holiday pay.

The new order also makes a provision for an employee to take one weeks holiday at one time and another week at a later date if the is mutually agreed upon.

If a statutory holiday occurs during the employee's vacation and his business is closed, then he is entitled to an extra day at the end of his vacation.

NATIONAL SALAD WEEK

National Salad Week, now an annual event is to be celebrated July 30 to 30 this year. Its purpose is to promote the use of fruits and vegetables in season via the versatile salad.

There just isn't a better way to encourage the health need of our nutritional requirements for fruit and vegetables than by serving salad. The guide to salad abilities says, "One serving of citrus fruits or tomatoes or their juices and one serving of other fruits" and at least one serving of potatoes and at least two servings of other vegetables, preferably green or yellow and frequently, raw."

There are an unlimited number of combinations for variety in flavor and attractive additions to tempt the appetite. Salads can be served in many ways, appetizers, side dishes, main courses and desserts.

Vary the greens in your salad, lettuce, young spinach (raw), cabbage, water cress, swiss chard, romaine, parsley, endive, celery leaves, Chinese cabbage and dandelion leaves. Dress up the salad by using variety in the garnish chosen, cheese balls, carrot curls or sticks, pearl onions, lemon slices dipped in chopped parsley, pickles, cucumber slices, eggs, hard cooked and sliced, riced or chilled, hot slice wedges, cooked beets cut in shapes, red and green peppers shredded or in rings, onion, in toasted thin slices, salted lemon, orange segments, radish slices or roses and so on.

The choice of dressing for a salad opens up another very field, cooked dressing, mayonnaise and French with its countless variations, such as sieved cottage cheese, crumbled Roquefort, finely chopped parsley, sweet pickle or dill, chopped, garlic, green pepper, hard cooked eggs, jelly, cranberry sauce, salt anchovies, Worcestershire sauce, whole cloves or horseradish.

Now what to serve with it? Toast: blocks with cream cheese and tart jelly, cinnamon, with fruit and molded salad: caraway strips, cut strips of bread (crusts removed) and brush with melted butter, sprinkle generously with caraway seed and toast in oven; garlic bread melt in soft butter, allow 1 clove garlic and add to butter. Cut a loaf of French bread into thick slices and then spread with butter, first removing garlic slices. Spread generously between slices and over outside of the loaf. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese. Toast under moderate broil or heat and serve hot.

Quick breads: good with any salad. Tea biscuits plain or with a dab of jam or lemon custard sugar cube, pressed into flattened just prior to baking.

Muffins: plain and hot Cinnamon Rolls, Coffee Cakes, Banana Rolls.

Sandwiches: always suitable, choose a nutritious filling that lends in flavor with the type of salad.

Write for any of these but time in this office at 10005 107 Street, Edmonton. "The Salad Bowl," "Salads," "Preserves by Freezing," "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables," "Jams, Jellies, Pickles and Relishes."

Ownership rulings made on clay and marl deposits

Land surface owners in Alberta are considered to be the owners of all clay and marl recovered by surface excavation from their holdings according to new clarifying statutes passed at the last sitting of the Alberta Legislative Assembly.

The Clay and Marl Act and The Mineral Declaratory Act of 1961 outlined the ownership of several other substances found in the Province. The new regulations do not affect any lease or agreement made prior to their establishment.

The new statutes only to a small measure affect the production of more than 800,000 tons of the clay shale and marl annually produced in Alberta. Marl a white substance composed primarily of calcium carbonate and used for building and as fertilizer occurs in many Alberta areas.

The Mineral Declaratory Act outlines the substances which are included in the ownership of the mineral rights. Mrs Willems Declarais of Jasper visited her mother Mrs Teddy Plante last week

There will be a dance in Marlboro Community Hall on Friday, July 21. This dance is put on by the Marlboro ball team and proceeds will be used for the ball team expenses. The ball games are free and give a great deal of enjoyment to a lot of people so we hope you all get out and support your team. Also this is the first dance to be held since the hall was finished so all you folks who came and danced on our old plank floor come out and try out our new floor, and have a good time on July 21.

The ball team went to Mahaska on Sunday July 9 for two games. The first was won by Marlboro 8-6 the second by Mahaska 11-4.

Miss Jennie Clodine and Mary Cailliboa are Edmonton visitors this week.

Mrs Eva Paul daughters Muriel and Sharon of Port Vermilion are visiting Mrs Paul's daughter, Mrs Lloyd Gauthier.

Mrs Dale Lowell was surprised by friends on her birthday Saturday evening. Dancing was enjoyed by all.

"Ticket sir!" said the gate man to a gorgeous gentleman who hasn't been a season ticket holder for some time. believed his face was so well known that there was no need for him to show his ticket.

"My face is my ticket" said the man annoyed.

"Indeed!" said the gate man "Well my orders are to punch all tickets passing on to this platform."

Lonely hopes in old buildings

We were out fishing last Sunday near Galloway and were interested to find two large deserted houses as well as a smaller one. Deserted buildings always seem to have a pathetic something about them as if they still hold the lonely ghosts of former happy families and murdered dreams.

One of the houses was a particularly well made building with evidence of pride and skill showing in every line of the building and with big double windows overlooking the McLeod River. Someone definitely had a plan for the future in building a home such as this. We wonder what happened and why they left it growing up to young trees and underbrush.

Old deserted homes, many of them crude shacks, and overgrown once cultivated garden patches and fields can be found so many places in this pioneer country in Western Alberta. They testify to lonely hour of hard work building a small home and clearing a bit of land by the old backbreaking method of axe and horse-power. Many of these early settlers, going by, been it became apparent they would be unable [illegible] for many years. Young bachelors soon found the loneliness wasn't worth what they were putting into their home-stead and moved to more settled regions. Boy with families moved nearer schools so that their children could have the benefit of at least grade school education.

Likely many of them came to this area in the hungry thirties from other parts of Canada and the Mid-Continent from other parts of Europe. They settled where they could homier, or trap in winter and so augment their meagre living.

We find these deserted homes, and fields, many of which would have taken a number of years to clear and break, are pathetic in their being taken over again by nature. And yet, the pioneering instinct and the dreams that held these people isn't lost. Some hardy souls stayed and have prospered as the country around them opened up.

Marks for posterity

PARTLY PREFABRICATED HOMES being erected by Keith Construction on 6th Avenue West are typical of the new home boom being experienced in the North East Corner of town this summer. Jasper girls winners at highland games

Ten of Jasper's Highland Dancers entered in the Edmonton Highland Games Association held on July 1 with three of them taking prizes.

Miss Brenda Guild took a first prize and received a Gold Medal and cup. Miss Faith McPherson took a third prize and Miss Brenda Pudifin may come home with a fourth.

The girls, along with their instructor, Mrs P. H. (Peggy) Rourke, should be congratulated, as they were competing against a large number of other contestants who have had much more instruction and have been dancing for a much greater time than our Jasper girls.

Great enthusiasm was shown at the games in Edmonton about the Highland dancing competitions that will be held in Jasper on the Thanksgiving weekend of October 7.

GREEN ACRES
By R. C. LOWE
District Agriculturist

This is the time of year when farmers should be ordering trees and preparing land for farmstead, field and roadside shelterbelts intended for planting in the spring of 1962. Good shelterbelts are a credit to those who grow them. Private benefits derived for many years from planting trees on a farm far outweigh the effort and cost involved.

John Jones or Tom Brown often comment about the excellent shelterbelt on the farm of their lucky neighbor. It is not uncommon to hear the same John or Tom talking the same way ten years later with nothing more than a few telephone poles decorating their property — and protecting same from wind or drifting snow. Making a start is often the hardest part of establishing a grove of trees.

A little careful planning followed by suitable and prepared soil and diligent care for a few years after trees are planted usually brings desired results. Land for trees should be thoroughly summerfallowed for a year prior to planting.

Trees are provided to bona-fide farmers by the Alberta Department of Agriculture and also by the Federal Forest Nursery Station Head Saskatchewan Everygreens cost one cent each other species are free. Shipments are sent express collect Trees that may be ordered from the Alberta Department of Agriculture for 1962 planting are: Colorado and White Spruce, Lodge Pole Pine, Manitoba Maple, Green Ash, American Elm, Tartarian Honeysuckle, Villosa Lilac, Manchurian Elm and small roasted trees of the following species: Russian Popular, Northwest Poplar, Laurel Leaf, Acute Leaf or China Willow.

Some species are in limited supply. Those who order early stand the best chance of getting the desired kinds and quantities.

Bulletins, leaflets and application forms are available from this office.

When Hans [illegible] a brief case in one hand and a suitcase in the other hand, in the yard was [illegible] of rain. Great rain, and we Well I thought the [illegible] the old round up [illegible] Said a few of the [illegible] were not real models some were even 30 years old and [illegible] world.

Why are those cars there? They were smashed while trying on the highway although the government did everything possible to make the road safe. Cars were [illegible] and [illegible] police, ambulances and signals were installed. Millions of dollars were spent on careful planning and engineering to build the roads enough can reach their destination safely.

But still there are folk who do not obey the rules of the road. They think it does not matter much what they do — whether they drive too fast drink or pass cars on hills without knowing what is coming toward them. Breaking the rules or doing different with them and not that it does matter. Breaking rules can end much suffering or sudden death.

The explanation for these wrecked cars is that simple. Man a driver failed to arrive where he intended to go because he did not obey the "rules of the road."

Often used in the Bible are illustrations that picture a road or highway showing which way a man is traveling through life. It speaks of two different ways that he may choose to travel. Every man is traveling through life in one of those two ways. And whichever way he chooses the Bible shows what will be at "the end of the road."

Proverbs 14:12 speaks of the way of death. There is a way that seemeth right to a man but the end thereof are the ways of death. Then John 14:6 talks about the way of life. Well-meaning people tell us that all roads lead to heaven, but Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth and the life. No man cometh unto the Father but by me," said Jesus.

God has left the world know that He Himself planned the way to heaven for us. He planned it very carefully for more carefully than the best of our multi-million dollar super highways were planned. It was made at infinite cost to Himself. It cost the life of His Son Jesus — whom we have redemption through His blood the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace. (Ephesians 1:7).

Many folk are travelling merrily along the road to hell not following the rules of the road that God has planned and made for them at so great cost. They are like many drivers on the highway who thought he could do as he pleased. Perhaps he would for a while but "the end" came as a surprise and a shock to him.

If you and I do not follow God's rules on our journey through life our ends will be ruined and like the cars we see in the junk yards. Whether God is "old" or "young" did not matter one was wrecked as surely as the other. Let us pause and consider again God's warning: "There is a way that seemeth right to a man but the end thereof are the ways of death."

Niton children enjoy game farm trip

On June 16th the grade 3, the children all were born 4 and 5 students of Niton feeling that the benefit of Central School took a class trip to Edmonton by bus. They rewarded the effort that they visited Al Oeming Game Farm and saw the new Queen Elizabeth Photo Larson. This was in addition to enjoying the many sights on the way to and in Edmonton.

The children were up bright and early in order to get on the buses around eight o'clock. They arrived home tired but happy around eight in the evening.

The mothers who helped chaperone on the trip were Mrs. I. Brady, Mr. J. Hackett Mrs. J. Schriever, Mrs. F. Zaleski, Mrs. H. Bernath, Mrs. R. Brown, Mrs. S. Smith, Mrs. Skantz and Mrs. F. Dietson. These ladies are very kindly to be commended for having helped to make this a worthwhile trip for the children.

NWBL action resumes Sunday; Hi-Britos to host Jasper Panthers

After a two week layoff the Lesser swings into circulation again this Sunday 16th when all six teams see action. The first place Hinton Hi Brites play host to the Jasper Panthers MacKay visits Whitecourt and Mayerthorpe is at home to the Edson Athletics. All games are doubleheaders with the first game getting on the diamond at 1:00 p.m.

LEAGUE STANDINGS

Team	GP	W	L	Pts.
Hinton	11	8	3	16
MacKay	12	7	5	14
Whitecourt	12	7	5	14
Mayerthorpe	12	6	6	12
Jasper	11	5	6	10
Edson	12	2	10	4

HI-BRITES AT HOME

The Hinton Hi Brites host and a current 8 3 won-lost record return home to their own stomping grounds and last their home industry record to the line when they square off with the fifth place Jasper Panthers. The Hi Brites who have yet to lose at Hinton Ball Park in four league games will be going for a clean two game sweep when they meet the hot and cold Panthers On June 18th, Jas per defeated the Hi Brites 8 2 in a scheduled Wednesday game and are one of three teams who have handed Al MacKay's squad a setback Joe Passamaro a centrefielder who has seen action in only two games because of forced fire commitments is expect ed back in the Hinton line up this Sunday On the other hand, the Hi Brites will be without the services of Frank Lewis currently batting 385 as that player leaves for Chi cago due to a business reason two and holidays Then its back to the road for the Hi Brites who journey to Mayer thorpe on July 23 for their last series away from home They finish out the North Wes tern Baseball League schedule at their improved Hinton Ball Park against the Edson Athletics.

Battle for Second Place

In another important series this Sunday, the MacKay Braves and Whitecourt Eagles lock horns at Whitecourt in a battle for second place in the tight league standings Both clubs are tied for second place two points behind the front running Hinton Hi Brites They split a previous double header at MacKay earlier in the schedule, scores being 3 2 for MacKay and 7 6 for the Eagles

Athletics need sweep badly

The other league double header on July 16th puts the Edson Athletics against the fourth place Mayerthorpe Ju piorals at Mayerthorpe It's do or die for Edson, presently en trenched in the league base ment with only two wins if they hope to make the playoffs Barring at least a split be tween Jasper and Hinton the Athletics if they come up with a two game sweep amidst the Imperials They'll have to im prove considerably though If they hope for such a feat as Mayerthorpe came up with knocked 21 2 and 13 4 wins against the A's at Edson on June 25 Gary Pavlisher a hard hitting second baseman who is home for the summer from Moose Jaw will be on the Ed son line up along with Reg Gerbis who has recovered from a previous injury

Council moves to remit part of church taxes

A motion to remit part of the taxes on various church properties taxable since last year under the Town and Village Act was made at the regular meet ing of the Edson Council on Tuesday July 4

Mr. John Switzer addressed Council on behalf of the United Church requesting consideration of Coun cil to passage of By-law providing for grant on church owned taxed properties. Secretary indicated submission supported by request from other Churches.

By Law No 9820 providing for a grant to religious institutions in a sum equal to 30 mills on the assess ment of the taxable church owned lands and buildings plus the applicable frontage and local improvements taxes to be set off after and upon payment being made of taxes on the subject premises was given three readings and passed

The application of Mr August Patsch to move build ing into lot 8 block 128 was rejected on the basis that the building was unsatisfactory for move in.

Council granted its approval to the consolidation of lots and lane on Block 108, and its con solidation into one parcel it was the opinion of Council the such consolidation will not be detrimental to Town rate payers

Secretary reported on con versation held with Mr Gray of the Department of Trans port on proposed development of the air strip at Edson and indicated Mr Gray's understand ing to give report by letter It was agreed by Council that matter would be tabled pend ing receipt of written report

It was decided the Engineers are to be instructed to carry paving on Main street to the north side intersection 10th Avenue at unit prices on the main contract

Submissions of Mr C Gu mowka and Mr C Grieco on Lands required for easement and for street layouts was placed before Council The sub missions were tabled A special meeting of Council was called for Thursday July 6 to deal with the matter of land acquisi tion by Plans 918 and 920 and such other matters that might come before Council

Letter from Dr I Lees Medical Officer of Health recommending consideration and Council to establishment of a continuous chlorination sys tem on the Town water supply with supporting water reports was placed before Council The Secretary was directed to thank Dr Lees for his report and to indicate the intention of Council to aim toward full water treatment

The Secretary Manager re ported on progress being made in drilling new water well in Block 111 indicating sever ance has been established and drilling is to proceed imme diately

It was moved that the Coun cil abide by the recommenda tion of Mahaffy report on town planning and that it reject the application of Alberta Mechan ical Contractors to purchase lots 20 to 26 Block 5 for pro posed apartment development and that the Secretary be di rected to advise Alberta Me chanical Contractors that Council would encourage such development on another suita ble site

It was also moved that the Council abide by the recom mendation of the Mahaffy re port and that it reject the ap plication of Edson Hotel Ltd to purchase Lots 20 to 26 Block 5 for purpose of di lodging area for parking site

The Builders and Plans Com mittee were authorized to ne gotiate with the Edson Hotel Ltd towards selection of a suitable parking area adjacent to the new hotel

It was moved by Councillor Mahon that Council offer lot 7 and block 13 to Mr W J Olson on basis of accept

Bird and animal hitch hikers have played terrible disrupting roles in the history of civilization. Take the Aga Pensioner, formerly of the District of Drumheller in the Province of Alberta and who passed away on or about the 26 day of June A D 1961 at St Albert, Alberta, please contact the office of the Public Trustee, Land Titles Building, Edmonton, Alberta 28-c

The Chinese crab travelling to other countries attached to the hulls of ships undermined river banks destroyed fishing nets and carried a serious parasite disease

Deer liberated in New Zealand multiplied enormously and over ran the pasture. Deer ornament hunters are trying vainly to prune down their numbers. Hitch hiking mosquitoes arrive by airplane. have brought African diseases to South America.

The Chinese pheasant and Hungarian partridge are providing good sport in North America. Mongoose hastily introduced to North American Spanish settlers brought the horse to the Americas in the 17th century.

Most food crops are imported corn, beans, pumpkins squash and tobacco were grown in North America before the white man came but the Indians had introduced them from South America

"Man has changed the face of the earth wherever he has gone" says the Wildlife Review writer "Perhaps he became of benefactors for familiar things man has brought his own plants as well as animals even when it has meant destroying the country's native environment."

There will be more bird and animal plant immigration in the future. However the train fee will be considerably enlarged. The case of the Austria hare rabbits the bandicoot hope will never be repeated

Principal to take leadership course in city

Mr R A Beattie principal of the Evergreen School in Edson on 20 school principals meeting at Concordia College in Edmonton for two weeks beginning July 10 to study problems of educational leadership in rural communities This membership in this special leadership course for school principals, being conducted as a part of the University of Alberta Summer Session is sponsored by the Edson School Board

The course is a co-operative venture of the Alberta School Trustees' Association the Alberta Teachers' Association the Alberta School Superintendents' Association the Alberta Department of Education and the Faculty of Education of the University of Alberta

Sixty five city county divisional and independent Alberta school systems will be represented Representatives from the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, and the Alberta Teachers' Association will also be in attendance

Within the overall aim of improving forward looking education the course is intended (1) to serve four purposes (1) to provide an opportunity for further exploration of problems in educational administration and supervision (2) to provide an opportunity for individual members to formulate plans for later local action, (3) to provide members with an opportunity to gain further understanding of philosophies and techniques of leadership, (4) to stimulate the interpersonalization of educational ideas and practices between various school and administrative areas

New postage rates in effect on newspapers

Effective July 1st 1961 newspapers and periodicals posted in Canada by publishers or by the general public addressed for delivery in all countries except Continental United States, the Republic of Ireland and the Union of South Africa will be subject to postage at the rate of 2c for the first two ounces and 1c for each additional two ounces or fraction thereof to each separate address. The necessary postage stamps or postage meter impressions must be affixed.

There are two classes in the present rates of postage on newspapers and periodicals posted in Canada which are addressed for delivery in Canada, in Commonwealth countries in the Republic of Ireland and the Union of South Africa.

The postage on newspapers and periodicals addressed to personnel of the Canadian Armed Forces overseas remains unchanged

SUCCESSFUL GENERAL CONTRACTORS for the new eight room junior high school being started just north of 12th Avenue and Main Street have been pouring footings this week for the structure which is due for completion by November 1st. The contractor, W. J. Bennett, of Edmonton, are the general contractors, in the amount of $199,478.00; while the mechanical contract went to George S Villeneuve Ltd., and the electrical contract went to Will Get Electric Ltd. The eight rooms are the first part of what will eventually be a 16 room junior high school and probably an auditorium-gym. The red brick school will still be used for the next few years for junior high students though

Two 'Scotties' to walk and pipe all the way from city to the Rodeo

Whether it is the result of a sugar or them enthusiasm at the reception they received at the Rodeo last year Two Scotties are going to play the pipes all the way out from the city

The two reserve army men, Ernest Hunnisett and Jack Jones, plan to take their time and take the whole week to walk and play their way here in time for the CFRN program Thursday evening, August 3 in the high school auditorium.

Members of the Scotties are only one of the bands scheduled to infiltrate the east at the big two day rodeo Other bands will include those from the Princess Patricia's Light Infantry, the RCAF and a Shriners band. As we go to press there is no word about how the Edson band is making out perhaps by August 4 sound will issue forth from Edson streets too

Highway and bridge construction work on Park road is let

A $1,133,8xx.23 contract has been awarded by the Department of Public Works to W C Arnett and Company Limited of Kelowna, B.C., for construction work on 11 miles of the Jasper to Edmonton Highway within Jasper National Park, including the erection of a bridge. This was announced this week by Mr. Hugh M Horner, M.P. for Jasper Edson on, behalf of the Honourable Hon J Walker, Minister of Public Works

The company submitted the lowest bid of 10 in response to advertising for public tenders. The highest bid was $1,348,471.13. The highway construction part of the contract is to be completed by November 30, 1962, while the scheduled completion date for the bridge is August 31, 1962.

The work is being carried out for the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources. The highway work consists of grading, placing corrugated galvanized metal culverts laying subbase and base courses and putting down a double seal coat on the road from Mile 0 to Mile 11 in the park Mile 0 is approximately 1.5 miles east of Jasper

The bridge will be constructed over the Smoking River at Mile 0.8. It will be a Pre-span structure with composite deck having an overall length of 501 feet from the abutments. The roadway will be 44 feet wide with three-foot wide side walks. Prestressed concrete beams will be used for the superstructure of the bridge. Treated traffic is expected to be heavy up to Labour Day in September and the contractor is responsible for upkeep until the completion of the work stipulates that the contractor will conduct the work so as to create a minimum of inconvenience to traffic. Plans and specifications were prepared by the Development Engineering Branch of the Department of Public Works A H MacKinnon Director of Engineering of Banff Alberta is the responsible for supervision of the work

Who's a money baron?

Back in the dirty thirties when the "old line" parties caused the world wide depression and then didn't do anything about it according to the gospel by Aberhart and repeated for thirty years without any measure, we were told our fight (that is us common people) was with the "money barons" of eastern Canada.

Opinion as to who is and who is not a money baron differs. For instance we once had an MLA for the provincial constituency who went to jail for calling other people "bankers' loadies", but that was a long time ago.

Now we see an "old line" party the Conservative party trying to tire the head of the Bank of Canada. The PC's think he is a civil servant and thus responsible to the government elected by the people. The Conservatives even think that the head of the Bank of Canada has something to do with the supply of money (consumer purchasing power) The Liberals have carefully not supported too strongly the man tabbed with the "tight money" label, but have used their Senate majority for a little delaying action.

But the thing that amazes us most is that the province where the attack on the money barons was once in full bay and cry is silent on the subject. Doesn't social credit theory somewhere state that the people, through their government, should control a nation's money supply? Or is it that the Bank of Canada has nothing to do with crediting credit or consumer purchasing power?

Small town sounds

By the back step come small hens sounds,
The cock to other partners and pounds,
Sudden lull-floods of piano music flooding to my head.
The hiss of sander and lathe and saw
Tell me that soon my neighbor's cupboards will be done.
A fighter cat cries exhorting the law
Curbs a railroad of carefree young feet out having fun.
The fashion nearby brings the steady pace,
Of car and shovels that hour after hour drone on and on.
A team shoulder and stops in case
A lunch passers-at will board, or there's freight to put upon.
Two neighbor cats, smart and spit,
And tumble past the step, parting the night with a ghastly sound
Which no doubt wake the neighbor child,
Who, with whom some comfort is found.
Sometimes a train rides wing under the light,
Or the scream of rock and roll is over.
A distant shot upon, then slams tight,
Hi-Fi cars are back home from the show in their little flower.
A string of lives from a nearby slough,
Set sail to hop and then croak on unrelentingly
The cool air and the sky's dark blue
Short dreams and the small town settles peacefully.

The Romans

The Romans were people of progress
They had no time to waste.
They invented things and built things,
And worked well in their haste

They built strong towns and cities
And always seemed to see
Just how they should be governed
And what the laws should be

The people of Rome had many gods
They worshipped them each day
They prayed to them in thanks for life
In crisis such or play

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

In view of the war scare which we so much in the news these days, I would like to express my opinion and suggestion.

When war seems inevitable lives, why not the world over let people have a vote as to if they want war or not hold the same on our elections, instead of our governments deciding on this very important suggestion I dare say there would be no war, as no country wants to see their husbands, sons and daughters in it. Also if the mothers the world over refused to let their sons go there would be no war. The old saying is, "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," but does it when it comes to the question of war? If our lodges and Christian associations were so wonderful they would not fight one another

I am not a Communist and I believe in being loyal to our country, but do not see why we cannot always go on its way like in peace time

Come on mothers, let us join in force and see what can be done, also getting the men to join us and all the nations of the world

I hope someone will carry the banner on from here

Yours truly,
Just Another Poor Mother

Through the Ages

A long time ago
Before history began
It was quite bare on earth
With not a man

There were only animals
And trees and weeds,
There might have been barley,
And fishes and seeds

Then there came men,
They could hardly walk
They had big, long arms
They couldn't talk

It was hard to think
For this my elementary man
He couldn't be safe.
As now we can.

They had no weapons
But sticks and stones.
A club of wood
Or animal bones.

Then up came the years
The centuries passed
People began wondering
"How long did this last"

They began making records
Of all in their day,
And soon found out.
How it did pay

They all became civilized
And very wise,
Began watching time,
The sun, stars and moon

Now we are here
We think not to give
The credit to the cave man
For how we then live

CAPITOL REPORT

A point of view on gambling

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — This is the time of year when I can't resist the temptation to sound off about Canada's lacks from gambling laws. In Alberta as in other parts of the country, local summer fairs are on full swing this month. Exhibitions, stampedes, festivals, I hills are betting millions of dollars on horse races

Fast talking midway barkers and cadaverous men are luring fast cars into highly questionable games of chance in which the odds are stacked so heavily in favor of the operator that the poor rube playing the game is taken before he starts. The money he loses, sometimes goes into taxes to the U.S. and Canada where many of the midway shows are based.

Yet, while time of year these gangs-on would land somebody in jail that it's all legal and above board. Why? Because it is taking place at community summer fairs which are held to boost, promote, and and otherwise foster the welfare of agriculture.

This observer has never been able to understand why gambling is sinful and an illegal activity at summer fairs held as a part of agriculture. If attendants are due to conduct the gamble, why don't governments legalize gambling, control it and harness it as a source of revenue.

In Alberta, for example, the biggest gamble in the scheme of provincial and municipal government finance is finding enough money to pay the mounting education bill. There are daily hints about increasing existing taxes, imposing a sales tax or a provincial income tax to feed the bill.

Premier Manning and his ministers say it's problem is a chronic shortage of purchasing power and that the only answer is the introduction of Social Credit monetary principles.

Maybe so, but it may be a long time before the powers that be in Ottawa come around to that way of thinking. In the meantime a more immediate solution might be entertainment-type lotteries with the profits earmarked for education.

My bet is that such a scheme could make a really unload of a dream out of the tax reductions some government ministers hoped would result from the new school financing plan.

Are there likely to be any changes in the gambling laws in the foreseeable future? There may be. The Ontario government, realizing that illegal gambling is a major law enforcement problem, has launched an investigation which will include a study of legalized gambling in other parts of the world.

Observers in Ontario say it may lead a request to the federal government for a relaxation in the laws. At present, the provinces are unable to do anything about gambling. But in Ontario there is talk about possible changes to give the provinces some leeway. This would make the gambling laws similar in some respects to the Loto-6 lay bet, which gives provinces some latitude in regulating Sunday activities.

Governments which want to cash in on the gambling habits of the citizenry might even go beyond sweepstakes. Surely some other forms of chance could be legalized and taxed heavily without making Canada a wide open gambling country like Nevada, or the U.S.

Take bingo for example. It's become a major source of revenue for service clubs and churches. Yet it's illegal. That is, in most jurisdictions as Canada have ruled that it is illegal under a somewhat vague section of the Criminal Code. Result is that when complaints are received or lawyers are held too often, the police have to lay charges.

Which brings us to another point. The amount of gambling that goes on — legal and otherwise — proves that Canadians want to plunge. It also proves they haven't much respect for laws which say you can't gamble. And it's a widely accepted principle that laws which fail to command public respect should be changed.

It would be mighty interesting to see how members of the Alberta Legislature would react if some member took the suggestions set out here and made them the subject of a resolution next session.

New Party will fail on Liberal course

The New Party will die unless it shows well in the half of the course charted by its present leadership, a tattered CCFer predicts in the July 20 issue of Maclean's.

Calm Lamerton, a former member of Parliament for Assiniboia, quotes from New Party — north fellow CCFers on Stanley Knowles and Premier Tommy Douglas are too conservative and are edging themselves too closely to what he calls a "dying" business economy.

The fury left-winger sounds once again the old CCF clarion call for the nationalization of big corporations.

Nothing less than this is an adequate answer, either for a new political party in Canada at this time, he says. "The attempt to seek accommodation with the existing corporate structure of the nation, so disturbingly similar to New Party literature, is an open invitation to failure."

The corporation is nearing the end of its days, Lamerton contends. "It is no longer functionally pertinent. Its work has been done. It has accumulated the capital, developed the organizational structure, and stimulated the technological advances needed for mass production; but it is unable to release the resulting wealth for the benefit of the community.

He argues that the big corporations through automation, in slimming the flow of wealth salaries and wages, to the public. "An this is the only method by which private monetary distribution wealth, the bonanza of automation are denied to society as a whole."

The question of the investment of the surpluses of the modern industrial machine is the overriding problem for democracy today. Private corporations are unable to contribute anything by an expansion of the material paraphernalia of life and to do so for a decreasing proportion of the population and at the risk, almost certainty, of economic collapse."

Public ownership is the only answer to this problem of distributing corporate surpluses, according to Cameron. And it seems to him that the New Party leadership is turning away from public ownership toward the corporative system. "It is true that pressing merchant was made of the possibility of public ownership of some monopolies — but this was coupled with the declaration that public ownership should no longer occupy a central position."

Cameron sees in New Party pronouncements a strong tendency to back away from basic social transformation. Without this social transformation — which means public ownership in the Cameron view — the New Party will be only a splinter group, a new liberal party.

NOTE TO BRIDES

Weddings are news

Weddings are news. The Leader likes to publish the accounts of weddings as we think the friends and neighbors of the bride like to read about them too.

The key word is NEWS. News consists of something that has happened recently and in the case of a local news paper to someone locally known.

But even a wedding delayed for as they are to read about reasons be be news as the weeks slip by. We have a special form that suggests the items about the wedding and all they have to do to them is have the blanks filled in.

We would like to suggest to couples planning their wed ding that they get someone mother, the bridesmaid or even dad—to take on the job of filling in your wedding form for the paper.

In Edson our local photographer Al Grant is only too happy to supply us with a picture if you want it. The same goes for Mayes Studio. They are used to pictures and not all brides and grooms and their partners in the paper.

Shower, weeks after the newlyweds have returned from their honeymoon and set up housekeeping don't qualify as news either time readers like their news to feel off the griddle as a weekly newspaper can make it.

Hot weather good for road building

Gordon F. Taylor Minister of Highways announced this week that good progress has been made in the highway construction program this year.

1121 miles of grading has been completed which is 79 per cent of the program. 96 miles of bituminous has been laid which is 31 per cent of the program. 122 miles of asphaltic plant mix surface course has been placed which is 60 per cent of the program. 99 miles of double asphalt surface treatment has already been completed while 1186 miles of asphaltic seal coat has been laid which is 45 per cent of the proposed program.

Work is proceeding satisfactorily throughout the province

Edson man receives injuries
EDSON — A young Edson man Wed Quinnell escaped with chest and back injuries when his car went into the ditch about a mile and a half east of the Pembina river on Thursday morning.

Quinnell had been home to Edson and was returning to his job at Jasper about 2 a.m. when he went to sleep at the wheel losing control of his car. The vehicle hit the ditch rolling over several times before coming to rest

Maurice Demers, and William Plude were sleeping in the back seat at the time of the accident and escaped injury. Another passenger riding in the front seat was also unhurt

FODDER SUPPLIES
The drought stricken areas in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and south eastern Alberta are already in need of livestock feed, particularly roughage for cattle and sheep. It is very obvious that the fodder situation will become increasingly critical during the winter of 1961-62. Farmers in the more fortunate areas, such as ours should make every effort to harvest as much feed as possible. Some forage crops originally planned for seed may be a better gamble as hay, especially if purely a low or for other reasons an indifferent seed crop is likely. Hay from sloughs not normally harvested and other flat areas often turned under or burned is to be cut. Lightly appreciate to prairie cattle and sheep before the grass grows next spring.

Listings of feed available for sale are being compiled and these will be circulated weekly to the drought areas in this Province. The Canadians of Alberta will not be purchasing hay but there will be a freight assistance policy to move hay to the drier areas of south eastern Alberta. It will be the responsibility of the buyer and seller to complete all other arrangements.

We are accepting listings at this office of any available stocks of fodder. We would like to obtain the name, land location and telephone number of the owner along with information on quantity, kind and quality, whether loose or baled, and a price quotation. Then buyers who come in our office this week did not find up listings we had on hand because prices were not quoted and details were lacking. Give us complete information to avoid losing out on the rush sale of a crop with no quotes

AS I SEE IT

Reverend S. HURD — Pastor

Salvation is no mere fire escape from hell to heaven. It is no spiritual life and accident insurance policy that guarantees our eternal future while we are free to live a life of spiritual indifference and practical materialism on earth. Salvation is that supernatural work of God whereby He saves us from sin's penalty makes us sons of God and transforms us in the image of Christ God has called us out of the dark mess of sin the oppression of guilt and separation from Him, will make His marvelous life and light He has made us His children He has ordained that we should bear His family likeness because we are His own children We are to be holy Our lives are to demonstrate God's praise and glory. When God the Father viewed His incarnate Son the Lord Jesus living that life of sinless obedience on earth manifesting God's moral glory and excellence fulfilled the Law He broke the silence of eternity to declare "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased" Christ lived a life of perfection and purity in terms of human flesh and blood amid a rebellious cruel, and corrupted humanity

Yet God is a man this God man — in whom He could delight He had a man who found His fulfillment and satisfaction in God a perfect will Christ the last Adam was God's man one who was full of grace and truth The perfection and surpassing excellence of the God head was now demonstrated in creation which had been violated and corrupted by sin and the devil Yes God was satisfied with His Son

He determined to populate Heaven with redeemed and for Christ sinners by way of the Cross God predestinated that the redeemed ones who are conformed with the righteousness of Christ shall be made right and new He has willed that they shall be holy as He is holy The cost of God in the Salvation of man is to make sons like the incarnate Son the Lord Jesus Christ He has come to His Holy Spirit who enables us to live a life of victory over the world, the flesh, and the Devil. This is the life of Christ within the believer He has given us the Holy Spirit, who is sanctifying us, enabling us by grace He it is who fills us with all the fullness of God

It is entirely incompatible with God's master plan for the Christian God's power in the Holy Spirit within the Christian, for anyone to consider salvation merely as some deliverance from future punishment Likewise, it is entirely incompatible with man's true response to the Lord Jesus Christ for him to love this world, to be conformed to this world, and to be dominated by sin

Salvation is God's total plan of rescuing man from spiritual death and presenting him perfect in Christ Jesus An evidence of our regeneration is our positive response to the Lord and His master plan for us

Three point program to help local sheepmen

To aid Canada's sheep industry, Dr Hugh Horner, M.P. Jasper-Edson announced this week, on behalf of Agriculture Minister Hamilton, a three-point program of assistance

The Minister said that this decision follows initial representation to the Government by Alberta Members of Parliament and considerations of later discussions with interested producers in south eastern Alberta and other Lamb-producing areas in Canada

Wool will be supported by means of a deficiency payment It will be calculated as the difference between the stabilization price of the crop, a pound and the average market price per pound for Territory for the basic grade, Western Range Choice half blood staple and Eastern Domestic quarter blood staple combined

Producers will receive a direct payment on all wool marketed through registered wool houses, with the exception of pelts

Lambs will continue to be supported by a stabilization offer to purchase by the Stabilization Board of $19.25 per hundredweight live basis at public stockyards, formula with appropriate deductions for other markets throughout Canada

This price is the same as last year's and represents 82 per cent of the 10 year base price The same support price as 1963 was 80 per cent of the base price, with the 10 year average showing a decline of almost 70 cents, per hundredweight

As a third measure, and to stimulate production of high quality lambs the Government will pay the producers of A and B lamb carcasses of desirable weights, a premium of $2.00 and $1.00 respectively.

This action is taken to encourage production of better quality lambs and at the same time increase producers returns so as to help keep the industry in a region ably noted position This is necessary if Canada is to maintain a relatively competitive position on a quality basis with lamb products from Australia and New Zealand

Health Dental Unit program well underway

The Edson Health Unit Dental Program for 1964 has now been underway for almost three months.

Dr R. Clark is the Dental officer for the program and he is assisted by Mr N. Johnson third year dental student who is at the University of Alberta

The first six weeks of the program were held at Hinton and Edson The excellent response shown towards the Dental Clinic illustrates the interest and concern which people have about Dental Health

During the course of the clinic at Hinton three hundred and eighty four children were seen by the Dental Staff as some children were seen more than once a total of four hundred and twenty five appointments were actually completed. This irrespective of well sixty nine minutes per cent was satisfactory in all concerned. However the results of a survey which will be published shortly of the findings at Hinton indicate that dental disease is prevalent

The findings of the clinic show that the importance of prevention in dentistry must be stressed more and more because of the cost of the problem and the fact that it affects most children to a greater dental disease has been described as the 2nd major epidemic with the prevalence of dental disease

Now children who had received Dental applied last year will have it applied again this year The Dental staff discuss the importance of Dental Health to parents for the children and parents alike

A dental health record card is kept by the Edson Health Unit for each child who attended the clinic This card will show a complete history of the state of health of each individual child and also over some years of the total school population of some forty-eight hundred children

His most satisfactory means of prevention pointed out to the children and parents at the clinic may be summarized by the following 1 Sound nutritious good diet and eating habits 2 Proper mouth hygiene and faithful use of the tooth brush 3 Early and regular examination and care by the Dental dentist 4 The use of fluoride topicals ie painting the teeth 5 Fluoridation of the water supply this is the controlled mechanical application of fluoride to the optimum amount of one part per million

Any one of these measures will give complete protection To be most effective all of these measures should be used concurrently

Boat safety

1 Be sure that everyone in a boat wears a life jacket.

2 Be aware using small craft in rough weather, but if caught in a storm, lie down on the bottom of the boat and drift. If your weight is low in the boat it is not likely to capsize

3 Do remember if the canoe or row boat capsizes remain with the upset craft. Hold onto the gunwales, but do not try to climb onto the bottom of an upset canoe as it will roll. A capsized canoe can support as many as 10 persons if they remain calm

4 Do remember the safest method of paddling a canoe is to kneel with the knees spread well apart and rest the buttocks against a thwart

5 Do remember if you fall out of a canoe or boat and the craft does not upset and drift away in the current faster than you can swim, do not attempt to catch it A few strokes will tell you if you paddling a skier

ROYALITE GASOLINE

Good advice — for on or off the highway. Royalite gasolines give you fast warm-ups. Quick starts in city traffic. Plenty of pep when there's work to be done on the farm. And they're specially refined for the climate we live in. Drive up and get a tankful. Or arrange for bulk deliveries to your farm or ranch.

IN THE CITY
Wherever motorists drive in western Canada, the colorful turquoise and orange "R" beckons them to Royalite service stations. Here they find fast, courteous, efficient service — and petroleum products second to none. That's what turns casual callers into regular customers. You, for instance.

ON THE FARM
Western farmers depend on Royalite for regular deliveries of quality fuels and lubricants. And when the work load is heaviest they know they'll get special attention. You will, too, just phone your Royalite agent. He's a good man to know.

IN INDUSTRY
Across the four western provinces Royalite bulk plants serve the needs of industry. Royalite is proved in exploration, production, refining and marketing. It's the largest independent oil company in western Canada. Good to know when you buy Royalite products.

Contact your local ROYALITE dealer or agent.

Edson withdraws from league play

Although four teams saw regular action and the circuit standings continued to tighten up, the big news along the local baseball front last Sunday, July 16 was the withdrawal of Edson from the North Western Baseball League. The move which has been some time in the making, was announced by the Edson Athletes front office when the Athletics failed to make their scheduled trip to Mayerthorpe for a double-header with the Imperials

An automatic four points were awarded to Mayerthorpe which makes it the second time Edson has forfeited games this season. They were unable to dress a team against Whitecourt on June 11 and two games were credited to the Eagles in the league standings.

Although there is nothing official as we go to press, it is quite likely that the remaining games Edson has in the league schedule will be given to their would-be opponents

Despite cool and overcast weather, four games were played as scheduled last Sunday and the result saw Whitecourt pull into a first place tie with the Hinton Hi Brites by sweeping both ends of a double-header. In the MacKay Braves at Whitecourt The Eagles defeated the short handed Braves 6-3 in the opener and then followed that up with a 7 0 whitewashing over the defending league champions. Floyd Collins was the winning pitcher for Whitecourt in the first game while Fred Solinki was tagged with the loss for MacKay

In the final game, Pat Stratton hurled the shut out for the Eagles Charlie Gallagher

NEXT WEEK EDSON RODEO DAYS

HELP CELEBRATE EDSON'S 50th ANNIVERSARY

The Edson Leader

The Voice of Edson Constituency

Established 1911 --- 50 Years Old with Edson

Vol. 9 | Edson, Alberta, Thursday, July 27, 1961 | No. 30

Bigger and Better is word for this year's huge Rodeo parade

The mammoth Rodeo parade starts from First Avenue and Main Street this year and promises to be so big and so much better than previous parades as to be a subject of conversation for years to come

A Federal Minister and the Premier of the Province as well as several Mayors from cities and towns all over Alberta will be in the vanguard of the big show.

Three forces bands, the Princess Patricia Light Infantry, the RCAF Namao band and the Independent Medical Battery RCA Pipe Band, formerly the Montgomery Legion band and other local musicians on the floats and walking will add to the pleasure of the eye as well as the ear

More than the 75 floats entered in the parade are expected by Parade Marshall Peter Sordahl. The Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce will be among those riding horses in the parade

The parade committee has taken made arrangements for the parade to come up Main Street and go East on 6th Avenue to ensure patients at the hospital can see the parade

The parade Saturday will be augmented by the Shrine musical band from the city and the colorful Shriners in their exotic costumes

The parade will head for the Rodeo grounds after it comes West on the Highway. Part of it will disperse in the rough behind at Waterloo Motors, while the bulk of the floats will go on to the Rodeo grounds

RCAF jets to fly salute over Rodeo grounds

Confirmation has now been received from RCAF Station Saskatoon that four T33 jets of the Royal Canadian Air Force will fly a salute to Edson Rodeo at 2.30 sharp at least the day of the big event

The four aircraft will make four passes over the Rodeo grounds in various formations. The passes will be from east to west, west to east, east to west and west to east in that order.

The first three passes will be in box or diamond formation, and the fourth in trail. All passes will be done at 500 feet above local terrain speeds will be in the order of 420 miles per hour

The T33 aircraft has been the advanced trainer of the RCAF and it has been used for the same purpose to train NATO aircrew students in Canada.

A multi purpose aircraft the T33 is used for target towing communications and for many training purposes. It has a top speed of more than 500 mph.

Pilots who will be flying over Edson will be Flight Lieutenants F. "Herv" McLennon Dennis J. Lanoury, "Ron" W. Fortsman and Rod G. Gillespie the formation leader

Hot dogs Okay Friday

A last minute news flash from Rodeo Perry Bad Boy tells tales that hot dogs and hamburgers are all right Friday for Roman Catholics at the Rodeo.

Father Napkin, of the local parish has received a special dispensation for the eating of meat Friday, August 4, for church members.

Minister to arrive Thursday

Confirmation has been received that the Hon. George Hees Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Federal Cabinet will arrive Thursday evening by aircraft at approximately 6 p.m. from Edmonton

A delegation headed by Deputy Mayor W. R. Mills will be on hand at the airport to greet him.

Mr. Hees has volunteered to ride a horse in the parade and a mount is being provided by Harry Yold, the stock contractor for the Rodeo.

Distinguished guests here in strength for Rodeo

The following is a partial list of distinguished visitors who have indicated they will be in attendance at the Rodeo this year

Mayor W. [illegible] of Edmonton
Provincial Minister [illegible] Western Pulp and Power Limited
Mayor H. Hall of Calgary
The Hon. George Hees, Minister of Trade and Commerce
Dr. Hugh Horner Member of Parliament for Jasper Edson
Mr. W. Jackson Area Manager for Imperial Oil
Mayor Fred Johns of Lodgepole
Provincial Minister Manning, Premier of Alberta
Mayor A. Mayer of Drayton Valley
Mayor F. Newmarch of Jasper
Mayor H. J. Bishop of Lethbridge
Mayor F. Hopes of Edmonton
Mayor H. Vetter of Medicine Hat
The Hon. Norman Willmore, MLA for Edson and Minister of Lands and Forests
Mayor W. A. Hooper of Edmonton
Mayor J. F. Schoubroer of Hinton
The Vice President of the Edmonton Exhibition
The Deputy Attorney General of Alberta
Mr. D. A. Harry, [illegible] Bank of Canada

And there is also a possibility of even more distinguished visitors coming for the Rodeo.

Premier [illegible] Coming Friday

Confirmation has been received that Premier [illegible] Manning will arrive in time for the [illegible] Rodeo Parade on Friday

Shriners coming for Saturday

Members of the shrine Club will be on hand Saturday morning at the parade and out at the Rodeo grounds to entertain adults and kiddies alike

Included will be the oriental band flying saucers and guards and the international fly famous patrol team

The patrol team has just returned to Canada from winning the North American rookie cup honors as the best drill team among the Shrine Clubs of the continent

Friday retail store holiday

According to a proclamation of the Town Council a Civic Holiday has been declared for Friday, August 4.

This will enable the store staffs to take in the big parade and to spend the day at the Rodeo.

CPA means quality in Rodeo performers here

[illegible] posters and other advertising for the Rodeo [illegible] CPA appear. They stand for the Cowboys' Protective Association in which Rodeo performers prominent in Western Canada, and especially Southern Alberta [illegible] Bullfighters

The Canadian organization sets the conditions under which the Rodeo contestants work and are paid. This has eliminated a lot of the accidents and poor performances turned in at Rodeos in the past, especially in the smaller centres.

[illegible] rules and bylaws the manner in which a cowboy shall enter is laid down with the result that [illegible] protect the cowboy as well as the organization sponsoring the Rodeo [illegible] the biggest beneficiary.

The CPA organization has a working agreement with the Rodeo Cowboys' Association of the United States so that American cowboys can compete in Canadian rodeos and vice versa by paying the necessary [illegible]

Thus has resulted on the best performers from both sides of the border attending as many shipwrecks as travelling fairs this will allow.

Both groups discipline their members severely for irregular conduct NSF cheques failing to repay entry fees and so on HOBBEMA CHICKEN DANCE—This Chicken Dance is a creation of the western Canada plains Indians, a stylized imitation of the peculiar "dance" routine that prairie chickens, the pin-tailed grouse go through at mating time. The Indians have been doing this dance for centuries and have developed it into an entertaining spectacle. Their intricate steps and body motions are something to see. The group in the above picture are reputed to be the best of North America's Indian dancers. They're to be in Edson for Rodeo appearances.

With the Churches

AS I SEE IT

Reverend E. HURD — Pastor

AN OPEN LETTER TO GOD

Dear God

You have been pushing my conscience pretty hard lately on the matter of being a responsible church member and I think it's time for me to say something back to you.

Some your pushing has disturbed my tranquility and aware of mind. I may as well tell you the whole story. You see I started out with a firm resolution to go to every service of the church Sunday morning, Sunday evening, all of You! But since I joined the church the other men here seem to have forgotten me. All of them were right after me 'till I "joined" and it made me feel important. But God, the let down has really cooled my enthusiasm.

Besides that, I've been invited to join a senior dance club and bowling team. And with PTA, lodge, fishing and hunting, I don't have much time for You and the Church anyway. A person can't do everything you know.

I really hadn't meant to mention this, God—But since I've gone this far, I guess I might as well. You remember back a couple of Sundays ago— The Sunday the minister hit pretty hard on this matter of Christian steward ship and tithing money money ... money. Every oth er word money. I didn't appreciate that, God, to be quite frank! The scripture they are always quoting, did not impress me much. Because I know—You couldn't have really meant those things could You God? What do those preachers think I am, a banker? Did I not give $2.00 to the orphan.' home last Christmas, and $5.00 to the Community Chest am I when I am in church I always put in from life to a dollar? What more can you ask of a person? I just don't have that kind of money. It's for already put out over $100 this year for lodge dues, fishing tackle and license and must save money for a new car and color TV set. I tell you God, if these folks down at church are more interested in my money than they are in me—I can just stay home.

Well, there you have it God and if You don't mind lay off my conscience from now on about this church at tendance stuff and especially money. I'll get in touch with you whenever I need you for something.

Yours forever,
Lake Warm

No pointed toes for us

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Men's shoes are coming to a point. It is difficult to buy shoes with Round toes.

I found this out when I went in search of a new pair.

"Round toes, please." I said "Something or - like the ones I'm wearing."

As the clerk's eyes fell on my shoes, his professional smile faded to a frozen smirk

I had lived with those shoes for some time, and I suppose I had learned to understand them. But they must have been a startling sight to a stranger — with part of the sole flapping loose, the uppers glued precariously to them by a compound of polish and garden grime. I believe in getting the maximum possible wear from my shoes.

"It's - a - a kind of shoe we don't get in very often now," the clerk said. The wry smiling again that I could see that it was costing him some effort.

"Why not?" I asked.

"It's the manufacturers," he said in a slow patient voice — straining for humility. "They are making them in this style now. It's fashionable."

He gestured toward a pair of pointies that looked as though they had been designed for a leprechaun.

"But haven't you anything like the shoes I'm wearing?" I asked plaintively. "At least like they used to be, before decay set in?"

He gave me a tolerant, pitying glance, as though I were an old codger who had driven a 1905 Stutz Bearcat into a garage and demanded to buy a new one exactly like it at the same price.

"Sorry," he said, and stared down at my ancient shoes with thinly veiled contempt.

"I've only had them about six years," I said

He turned toward a pair of effeminate boxcars with quaint stitching and lots slap ped like wet cream cones.

"These aren't really pointed you know," he said

"They look pointed to me," I objected

He shrugged. I thought I should say something else to these men's shoes are young the way women's shoes seem I said. "That's the way they're made, and you can take it or leave it."

"Yes, the manufacturers are trying to introduce a little fashion into men's shoes," he said.

I went to other stores The conversation followed the same pattern - and I at last I found a place — no doubt a hopelessly old-fashioned store where they still had shoes with round toes.

Furthermore the proprietor seemed to think that it was quite a nice and ordinary request for a customer to make

Oh, yes, they're still making them that shape" he said But I hear that if you go into a store in Montreal, you can't buy anything but pointed shoes."

"In some ways, I'm glad I live here," I said.

GREEN ACRES

Stretching the Hay Supply

Generally speaking, roughage suppliers are reasonably plentiful in areas west of Edmonton. Why, then should you be concerned about stretching your supplies of hay? With severe shortages elsewhere especially on the prairies, you might find it profitable to adjust your feeding pattern if there is a surplus of stored grain on your farm perhaps it would be more economical to substitute grain for some roughage this year when demand for roughage is quite keen

The following information was prepared by Dr J M Bell from the Universty of Saskatchewan Dr Bell's article is quite long, so I will present part of it this week and the balance in next week's column

"When roughage supplies for cattle are limited farmers are faced with reducing herd numbers or else utilizing other food resources in order to carry on until the next crop year Everyone recognizes that hay, pasture and silage represent the mainstay of roughages However not everyone knows how little roughage a cow can get by with nor the comparative values of grains and roughages when used for cattle feed The following comments may serve to clarify some of these points.

1 How do grains and hay compare as sources of protein and energy* The values in Table 1 illustrate typical examples and show that, as a rule, grains contain more energy (total digestible nutrients, TDN) and more protein than do hays legumes possibly excepted This means that substitution of grain for part of the roughage is likely to improve the protein supply Furthermore because of the higher energy content of grain each 100 lb of hay could be replaced by 60 to 75 lb of grain without lowering the plane of nutrition

Feed	% digestible protein	% total digestible nutrients
Brome Hay	5.0	50
Cut hay	4.0	47
Alfalfa hay	10.5	59
Oat straw	0.9	45
Wheat straw	0.3	41
Barley	10.0	72
Oats	9.4	70
Wheat	12.3	81

2. How much can one afford to pay for hay* The answer to this question will vary from farm to farm depending on quality of livestock general relationships between market values and feed costs, etc For most purposes however hay prices should be assessed in relation to prices for grain The values in Table 2 show the costs per ton of average quality For example if hay is available at $20.00 a ton and feed barley is available at 60c per bus. the grain would be the best buy since 80c is below the 67c maximum shown in the table

Table 2

Price/Ton	Price per Bushel Oats	Barley	Wheat
$15.00	30c	44c	56c
20.00	44c	67c	89c
30.00	68c	$1.02	$1.80

3. What is the minimum amount of roughage that a cow needs* Digestive disturbances often occur when too little roughage is fed but in extreme cases of hay shortage as little as 4 to 5 lb per day for a mature cow will likely maintain rumen functions That is provided that proper care has been taken to supply the necessary minerals and vitamins in the ration Important — Hay, silage or green pasture is usually relied upon to provide vitamin A Straw, poor hay or cereal grains supply no vitamin A so this must be provided to prevent abortions and to increase disease resistance"

The section of Dr Bell's article to be covered next week deals with vitamin A, substituting straw for hay, and an example of how to utilize limited supplies of hay

Public Works Minister to officiate at opening of Banff - Jasper highway

Ottawa — It was announced in Ottawa this week that the Honorable David J Walker Minister of Public Works, would officiate at a ceremony commemorating the reconstruction of the Banff-Jasper Highway in Alberta

The ceremony will take place Thursday, August 3, at 2:30 p.m. at the boundary of Banff and Jasper National Parks, one and a half miles south of the Columbia Icefield. The public in the area generally are invited to attend.

As part of the official ceremony, Mr Walker will unveil a cairn which will commemorate the event

The Jasper Park Band will take part in the ceremony which will include a program

Also in the Scottish Dancers of Jasper

Reconstruction of the High way started at Mile 0 at Louise Junction, which is 46 miles 66.6 on the Trans-Canada Highway, and extends for 103 miles through Banff and Jasper Parks

The work was carried out under the supervision of A. H. MacKinnon, District Engineer of Banff for the Department of Public Works

According to word from Dr Hugh Horner MP for Jasper-Edson it is hoped to have the Hon Walter Dinsdale Minister of Northern Affairs in attendance for the ceremony as well

Switzer family reunion held

Mr and Mrs H A. Switzer recently were hosts to a number of the members of the family who live in other parts of Canada and returned home for holidays at the same time.

Included in the visitors were Wing Commander and Mrs G Cherne and daughters of Winnipeg Mr and Mrs Laurie Switzer and family of Edmonton and Joe also of Edmonton, Bill and Dick and families of Hinton and Mr and Mrs F McLeod and family of Kamloops ltt

The time was spent mostly in talking and visiting with a wiener roast held one evening to the delight of the grandchildren

Mr and Mrs H A. Switzer are away on a trip to Eastern Canada where Mr Switzer is attending the Flin Convention

Rodeo big undertaking

The annual Edson Rodeo is a big undertaking. All the work and planning goes back to a week or two after the last Rodeo. Stock to be arranged for, resolutions by various committees to change this or that and make it big, or or better or more attractive

This year's Rodeo seems to be attracting more attention from people in the rest of the province than it has in the past. Included in the prospective visitors are many distinguished guests. When they meet local people we know they will go away with the feeling of Edson and district being a wide-awake town.

A word to the visitors from out of town who may pick up this newspaper and read these words:

The organization's name The Tri Service Rodeo & Exhibition Association may throw you for a moment. The explanation is that three of Edson's service clubs combined in a joint committee to promote the Rodeo. The three the Kinsmen, the Lions, and the Optimist Clubs felt that another organization in town would be too many. The result was another organization all right but the committee work is discussed by the parent clubs and policy set which the succeeding Tri-Service committee put into effect. It has worked out well in the main. Who knows, we in Edson may have invented something in this over-organized world.

At any rate the Rodeo committee has made tremendous strides in a few years to put Edson up into the upper echelon of the small town stampede circuit.

CAN IDENTIFY SELVES

The question of why Rodeos are so popular in Western Canada and the mid-western states is bound to come to mind. Our explanation is that, like the Westerns of the movies and TV, the heros are people that everyone can understand. Everyone can sport a ten gallon hat and a cowboy shirt. By doing so a person's "Gone Western" is more or less authentic.

The heros of Rodeos are fellows who put on no pretense, but come through with a performance that demands physical stamina and a cold, fearless courage in the face of threat to life and limb. Everyone in the stands rides that caysue or bull as the shute doors open

LOOK US OVER

When our many visitors are in town we know they will be wondering why Edson displays the vigor it has. Won't Edson going to be a ghost town when the Coal Branch failed and the railroad staffs were cut? What took the place of all the people who used to come in from the Branch and run out of Edson on the railway?

A look at the map should suggest one reason why Edson district can't be "just a ... Yard." We're in the centre of the big area west of Alberta's biggest city. In the area of Alberta (the northern half) where the population is increasing not thinning out

To the west of Edson is an immense pulp operation that has replaced the Coal Branch and then some. Farming has come a long way toward supplying the local market and is not so subject to the fluctuations of world trade as is the prairie farm economy. Our oil and gas industry is just hitting its stride and the influx of people connected with this industry is only to 25 here, left this year

To the people visitors but we're all wrapped up in a wonderful place this area is in which to live. We hope you like like what you see of us while you're here. Rest and drive!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

We noticed in last week's Leader that the Rodeo Association hired three or four outside bands to play in the parade. Nothing was said about our boys' band playing in the parade. In order to find out why the boys are not playing we phoned the band leader Mr Kendall. He told us he was very sorry but he didn't know anymore about it than we did.

Apparently whoever is in charge of hiring bands was either badly misinformed or just ignored the fact that there is a boys' band and they forgot that two years ago the boys and majorettes marched for two miles from the CNR station to Glenwood.

In your editorial two weeks ago, you were telling us that this was our town and we should support it. How can we support any social functions of any sort when our boys are neglected and forgotten. Mr. Kendall made a splendid job of organizing and training the boys of the band and we are proud to have some one like him looking after our boys in the musical field of entertainment and he deserves support and a little more consideration than he has been getting.

It is a disgraceful thing to know a town the size of Edson refuses to support a band.

With your permission sir we would like to say a few words in favor of band leader, Mr. Kendall.

Rudy Kendall came to Edson 25 years ago last January. He opened a barber shop and later on a beauty salon. In 1938 he helped to organize the Edson Town Band under the leadership of Mr. H. Dempsey. In 1939 the band play ed at the CNR station when King George and Queen Elizabeth came through Edson There was about 3000 people at that time.

In 1950 Rudy organized, with the assistance of Cadet Lt. T. Bonner, the Edson Cadet Band. He kept this band going for five years. During that time he was registered with the Army as a Civilian Instructor and band leader. In 1951 the Cadet Band played in a parade, and reception put on for Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip on their way through Edson. There were about 1201 people present to welcome the royal pair.

In 1954 Rudy joined the Protective Order of Elks. In 1956 he organized the Elk's Boys' Band and majorettes under the sponsorship of the Elks Lodge. It was Rudy that trained and marched with our boys for many days and had them ready for the First of July parade For the last three years he has had them to every parade, not only in Edson, but in Jasper, Hinton and Evansburg.

We feel that he deserves more credit and appreciation than he has been getting. We feel that the Rodeo Association has done a very unfortunate thing We only hope that Rudy will keep up the good work in the future as he has done in the past.

Thanking you we remain,

Two Disgusted Mothers of Our Boys Band

EDITOR'S NOTE We at The Leader are quite cognizant of the community spirit display ed by Mr Kendall through the years in devoting his time, talent and at times, his own money, to coach young

Proud of "unusual" Label

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — The Alberta government acted quickly last week to announce its intention of going along with the federal government's program of aid for drought-stricken prairie farmers. But at the same time government officials let it be known Alberta isn't too happy about the way Ottawa is handling the affair

Agriculture Minister Leonard Halmrast said Alberta has received no word from Ottawa on the new plan, which would involve the federal and provincial governments sharing the cost of $5-per ton payments to farmers who convert parched grain crops into green feed. While Alberta is willing to participate, he said this province "strongly protests Ottawa's action in advocating subsidy programs in drought areas without first consulting the provinces concerned."

Announcement of the subsidy program was made in Prince Albert last week by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, who is beginning to sound more and more like a politician heading into a general election.

On a junket through Northern Canada last week, Prime Minister Diefenbaker told an audience at Fort Simpson, N.W.T., that the northern "vision" has not been fulfilled During a hand-shaking, hand-patting five-hour visit to the northern settlement, he said he looks forward to an "empire of the north" with greatly increased population and development.

And he promised immediate action on the new railway which will run north from Grimshaw, Alberta, to tap rich land and ore deposits on the south shore of Great Slave Lake Later in the week Mr. Diefenbaker became the first Canadian prime minister to cross the Arctic Circle when he arrived to open the modern, new community of Inuvik on the Mackenzie delta.

WHY DO THEY DO IT DEPT. — Space didn't permit us to deal with it last week, but we can't resist passing on more of the news coverage of the recent Social Credit leadership convention in Ottawa. Elmore Newsmen had themselves a field day with the Social party's unusual way of conducting its leadership vote.

Chiropractor Robert Thompson of Red Deer was declared the winner, but convention officials refused to disclose the vote and minutes after the election all the ballots were destroyed. And all this after it had been announced that more ballots were cast than the total number of registered voting delegates.

Orvis Kennedy of Edmonton, convention chairman revealed that 800 ballots had been cast, although there were only 507 delegates commissioned He explained that five alternate delegates from Ontario had cast votes. Reporters covering the convention, not accustomed to the Social Credit way of doing things, deluged Mr. Kennedy with questions and demanded to have the voting figures.

Party officials were adamant, and insisted the decision to keep the vote secret was not prompted by any backroom irregularities They said it was standard practice at Social Credit meetings. "We just do things differently," said Mr. Kennedy.

There were conflicting stories about whether the candidates themselves were told the number of votes each had received. One reporter asked if the practice of keeping the vote secret wasn't a bit unusual. Mr. Kennedy's classic reply: "Social Creditism are unusual." We're personally convinced the same thing at Social Credit nominating conventions in Alberta, and have wondered about the practice. Not that the actual figures mean that much, but when the party goes to such lengths to keep them secret you can't avoid the suspicion that the leaders have something to hide. If they haven't, why not announce the voting.

Such a practice also helps to keep alive the suspicion that Social candidates are not named democratically, but are hand-picked by some grey, backroom eminence. We personally don't think this is true but why arouse suspicion?

GOSSIP

It is a favorite pastime among certain people at small communities such as most of us live in, to criticize our fellow man for the things he does, as well as for the things he fails to do.

This is all very well, so long as the criticism is friendly and constructive, but sometimes critics become malicious and slanderous, and this, of course can cause much harm.

It is a good thing, once in a while, for everyone to remember the skeletons rattling in their own closets before saying another word. It is also a good thing to remember that people with great faults sometimes have great virtues.

Beethoven, the great composer, had many faults, one of which being that he valued his friends merely for what they did for him. And yet he left his music for the inspiration, consolation, and entertainment of millions of people.

Boswell's Johnson, the great man of letters who wrote the English dictionary, was absently in his dress, and his manners, while eating were so uncouth as to be almost unbearable. And yet he imbibed not the keenest and most refined perception.

If great men such as the two mentioned above could have such commonly known faults, surely lesser men should be allowed to have some too.

If people in small towns and villages must judge their neighbors, surely they can do it kindly and keep their lips sealed. It's not always what a man does that counts, it's what a man IS.

And, as Robert Burns once said: "A man's a man for a' that."

—Westlock News

Logic doesn't always make sense

The young are impressed by logic. Their elders know that logic sometimes doesn't always make sense

Remember the appeal on weird theory held for the young? It was called technocracy A young fellow hereabouts was most impressed with the argument that under technocracy things would be planned in a logical way For example, farm homes would be built in "clusters of convenience" so that the present silly system of market roads around each section would not be necessary.

Then the young man bought a farm and built his home in the least convenient spot because it was a lovely slope besides a stream If anyone had forced him to move his home to a "cluster of convenience," he would have fought like the very dickens against it.

And who would argue that there is logic in golf and fishing with an eight ounce line?

Yet there is never any shortage of citizens ready to save the world with some new system that proves that the present one "doesn't make sense" These crusaders, loaded with logic, would plan things more efficiently. There would be far less advertising. Competition would be done away with because it doesn't make sense. It would be far more efficient for the government to plan every thing and manufacture only those things that citizens need Logic and efficiency would go hand in hand.

And there would be no more laughter — because laughter is inefficient. Or love, because love is unplanned!

Dear Doug

No doubt you will be getting letters about Edson's 50th Jubilee I am taking a chance of writing to you as I don't know who is in charge so thought you might pass this letter on to whoever is on the committee

First of all I would like to know what day the rebekah tent is being held Also I have been thinking it would be a nice gesture to send special invitations to all those who were born in Edson in the year 1911 I don't think there are too many Edson Brat is of course living in Edson

I also believe Dale Leyden was born in Edson but then am not sure My sister Sarah Mrs G L. Borden (nee Pyle) was born in Edson in November 1911 She is now living at Dunsmuir, Alberta But perhaps Mr Beaver still has the records

Several times I have seen writeups in the Edson paper about old timers of Edson and have always felt that the oldest not in years old timer has been passed up Mr Barry Freeman Barry came to Edson with his mother and died in 1909 and has been in Edson or near it ever since except when he was Overseas Barry works away from Edson now but still makes his home there

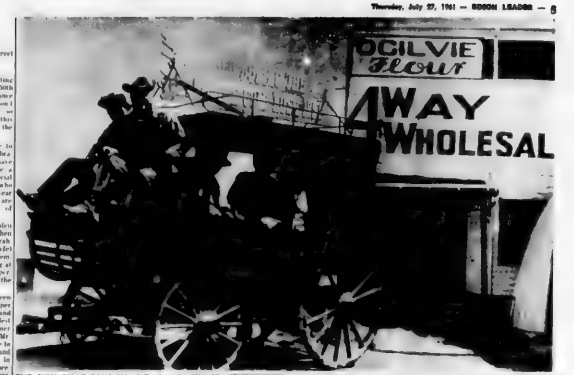
My mother and dad came to Edson in February 1911, but of course they have since moved away

Hope I haven't taken up too much of your time with this letter, but I would like to know the date of the rebekah tent and possibly attend

Sincerely,
Mrs Alex Lawrie

EDITOR'S NOTE Mrs Lawrie is the former Alex Pyle daughter of Mr and Mrs A J Pyle longtime residents of Pibroch The 50th Anniversary committee at our local rodeo know has several events lined up and for the celebration A 50th Anniversary banquet is being planned for September 23 — the date on which the Town received its charter There has been some talk of inviting all long time residents also to come

Another event planned to observe the 50th Anniversary is the Edson Pageant which Mrs Lawrie will be pleased to know has Mrs Freeman rest as the young wife and mother she was when she came to Edson with her then young husband and family Almost every public function this year has carried the 50th Anniversary in one way or another Drop into the Leader office when you're in town Alex and we'll buy you a coffee.



THE SIGN ON IT SAYS "Used During the Klondike Gold Rush of 1897" but the old stage has sure stood the test of time and miles. It was built by the rugged standards of the day and is complete with reupholstered leather slings that give it a reasonably comfortable riding quality. We got this shot of it as it was being unloaded beside 4 Way Wholesale. We later saw it on the Edson Motor lot awaiting a paint job. In the drivers' seat are two hombres known locally as Jim Smith and Bill Smith. Two pretty maids and a couple of passengers complete the load. Silm Martin seemed to be in charge of getting the antique unloaded.

Saying only "Jesus loves you."
Then they disappeared once more;
But they came again next evening

On the main line of the CNR midway between Edmonton (129 miles) and the B.C. boundary and serviced with a paved highway

Edson is a natural geographical distributing centre for a big oil and gas industry, wholesale food products, forestry headquarters for the Provincial Government supervisory staff for both lumber and pulp, mixed farming, coal mining and the natural trading centre for most of the area between Edmonton and the B.C. boundary

Why DO 5000 PEOPLE Live in Edson?

Cause . . .

— naturally because they can make a living here

- they like the climate

— they like being next to one of Alberta's raw he-man outdoor areas

they like to look south west and see the Rockies 70 miles away

- they like their friendly neighbors

they don't know of a better place to live

Bud-jacks in 12 team city tourney

The Edson women's soft ball team, Bud Jack's, journeyed to Edmonton on Sunday, July 23, to participate in a twelve team tournament. Despite two home runs from Ky. Shannon, and some good field work from Donna Berger, the team lost out in its first game against Drayton Valley at noon.

Rain brought the tourney to a halt at 5:00 p.m. before the Edmonton Truckettes and the Edmonton Police were able to play off for the final game.

Some really good ball playing was evidenced through out the day with entries from both intermediate "A" and "B" leagues from the city, as well as entries from Beverly, Jasper Place, Barrhead, Drayton Valley and Edson.

The Edson Bud Jacks, are sponsored by Bud's BBA and are [illegible] & S. Stores

CONSTRUCTION WILL COMMENCE LATE THIS year on a $7,000,000 student accommodation project at the University of Alberta in Edmonton. The project includes three 11-storyed "Y" shaped residences designed to house a total of 1,000 students. Two buildings will provide accommodation for male students, and one will be used for female students. The residences will be located immediately west of the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium. Construction is to be of reinforced concrete and masonry. All rooms are to be simply but functionally furnished for two persons.

Other accommodation on each of the three buildings includes suite for a resident supervising faculty member, a library and study room, a common lounge and study area on each floor and modest recreational facilities. In addition to the residences, a central food service building is being planned. Costing approximately $3 500 000 equipped, this structure will provide the cafeteria services for the residences as well as additional recreational area facilities, laundry and administration accommodation

Alberta cowboys piling up their point scores

Dick Havens of Madden, Alberta, president of the Cowboys' Protective Association, became the first cowboy to qualify for the Canadian All Around Championship. He has a total of 1,724 points from the three events which he works, bareback bronc riding, calf roping and steer wrestling.

To qualify for the All Around Title, a cowboy must win money at three different rodeos in each of the following events, one of the major riding events saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, or brahma bull riding, calf roping and steer wrestling.

George Myren of Viking, Alberta, one of Canada's top cowboys won a total of $1,732 points in the bareback bronc riding event at the Calgary Stampede to put him well on top in this event with a total of 3224 points. Next to him is Malcolm Jones of Lethbridge, Alberta with a total of 2254.

In the Brahma bull riding event, Leo Brown of Czar, Alberta, who got off to a very slow start at the first of the rodeo season, scored wins at Stettler, High River, and placed very well at Calgary, to soar him to the top of the standings in this event. Previously he was in sixth place. Next to him is Gid Garstad of Veteran, Alberta who had the misfortune of getting mauled by a bull at High River, and is expected to be out of action for most of the remaining rodeo season.

Bud Van Cleave of Taber, Alberta, the only Canadian cowboy to qualify in the calf roping at the Calgary Stampede has taken a large 1,400 point margin in this event. He has a total of 2550, with his nearest rival being Harry Nesty of Maple Creek, Saskatchewan with 1162. Val Cleave recently won the roping event at both the Brooks and the High River Rodeos.

Stan Walker of Lethbridge, Alberta has taken the lead over from Brian Butterfield of Ponoka in the steer wrestling event. His win of over $900 at the Calgary Stampede boosted him 200 points over Butterfield for the Canadian Championship in this event.

"GOT TO BE QUITE A TOWN" was the comment of Edson Old Timer Jack Anderson as he looks over the latest Leader and back for a visit to check up on the town where he spent many years. Now 82, Mr. Anderson with Mrs. Anderson, is living at Prince George, B.C. and were in town visiting their daughter Mrs. Dick Christie and Family. Mr. Anderson ran the "Idyl Hour Theatre," where Gordon's new shands, next to the IOOF hall, until it was burned down in the early thirties.

Local cattle take 13 awards

Red Poll cattle from the Lazy-U Ranch of Mr. and Mrs. H. Waller walked off with 13 awards in the cattle section of the recent Edmonton Exhibition.

The Lazy-U's pedigreed herd was led by Mr. Waller's prize bull, Lazy-U Sir Ivanhoe, which took first prize in the bull class.

Mr. Waller also reports that the Lazy-U herd is expected to be represented at the Provincial Show and Sale at Olds, Alta.

To reach a new peak earlier this Fall than the present expected in the future from Don Juan

Donates for Jr. Calf Roping

An extra $50 has been donated by Cassidy Bros. to bring the prize money for the Rodeo's junior calf roping event up to $75.

Always a popular crowd pleaser, this is the one event where local young fellers can strut after beef on the hoof.

Hotels ask room help

Due to the unprecedented demand for rooms for people coming to the Rodeo local hotels and motels have been swamped with reservations. Anyone with a spare bed room is urged to phone the other hotels and motels to help out.

Those wishing to take in a card or two can make the Rodeo possible for many who couldn't otherwise come.

AUTHENTIC CREE GARB. The group of Cree Indians at the right of the above picture, taken at the Hobbema Agency, are wearing the same garb that their ancestors donned for special occasions before white men ever came to the western plains. The eagle-feather bonnets are not war bonnets as it is generally thought. They are ceremonial [illegible] and would be worn on all special occasions. Some of the children are also in authentic Cree dress. Sixteen of these Indians are coming to our Rodeo celebrations

Bob Crossley wins further contest at the UN

HINTON—

Bill Crossley, district winner of the United Nations speaking contest, sponsored by the Oddfellow and Rebekah Lodges has won another speaking contest and put himself in line for a possible third win.

Bob returned home at the weekend from the trip and was met in Calgary by his parents, Mr and Mrs. Don Crossley.

The second chance Bob had to demonstrate his speaking prowess came at the end of the week of visiting the United Nations building in New York. At that time the 106 contest winners who had won the right to represent their districts, addressed an assembly on what they had gained from their visit to the UN.

The boy and girl with the most points are winners for that particular group.

With a total of seven different groups visiting the UN during the summer the boy and girl with the highest number of points is judged the winner for each group. Total points are kept and the boy and girl with the highest total of the seven groups wins a trip to the Oddfellow and Rebekah Grand Lodge in Artmon.

Judges awarded Bob the most points for his group from among the contestants from all over Canada and the States. He was presented with a ruby pin and cufflink set engraved with a United Nations design and now stands a very good chance of winning the final award.

The three week tour took the nine Alberta boys and girls winners in their zones over a 6000 mile tour that included stops in New York Washington, D.C. Montreal, Quebec City, Ottawa, Duluth and Great Falls. The highlight of the trip was a visit to the UN Trusteeship sessions, at which the Alberta delegates were allowed to sit in. The young people, because of the nature of the visits are also able to see many parts of the United Nations organization at work that ordinary visitors do not have the opportunity to visit.

Mr and Mrs Harry Wilson have returned from holidays spent in Kelowna, B.C. They also visited in Kamloops

Mowing the lawn isn't child's play

The summery weather we have enjoyed lately makes things grow quickly, including the lawn. This means more frequent mowing sessions. Lawn mowing equipment has moved along with other so called improvements and the power mower is now the rule rather than the exception.

The increased use of power for mowing has also increased the chance of injury. Adher ence to the following rules will help greatly to reduce those chances.

1 Wear safety shoes or tou guards.

2 Be sure you know how to disengage the clutch or stop the motor quickly in case of emergency. Stop the motor whenever you leave the mower.

3 Keep in step with the mower for perfect control. If you lag behind or let the machine pull you the machine will run you rather than you it.

4 If you have to work on the underside of the mower, if the blades are changed and jammed, disconnect the spark plug wire. Never attempt to remove any object from the mower until the motor has been stopped and the spark plug shorted out or disconnect ed.

5 Make sure of your footing Never pull the mower toward you or on an incline

6 Inspect the lawn before you begin to mow it.

7 Shut off the mower before mowing from one level to another

8 Wear safety goggles to protect your eyes from flying particles.

9 Keep fuel stored in an approved metal safety container Store fuel in a well ventilated area. Do not refuel when the engine is hot or still running

10 Don't use the mower when the grass is wet. See that electric mowers have the frames grounded through the cords

11 Have the mower inspected periodically and kept in good repair by a qualified serviceman

A recent analysis of some accidents involving power mower operators revealed that fewer than half the accident victims were actually mowing lawns when they were injured.

Some men were injured while moving mowers from trucks or trailers or while lift-

East District Doin's

By FERN ICE

Bill Heintz car was badly damaged Tuesday evening when struck from the rear by a truck driven by Ken Zerb No one was injured although Bill received a jolt and had a tough time keeping his car on the road following the un expected bound that almost doubled his speed in a matter of seconds.

Mrs. Durston returned from a city hospital Sunday and is spending some time at the home of her daughter Mrs. I. Radcliffe.

Mrs. Ken Walsh had her brother from Eastern Canada as a guest at their home re cently.

One of the De Leeu children had the misfortune to break his wrist a few days ago.

We just decided perhaps a word of explanation regarding our hit and miss column is in order Well the fact of the matter is we are riding shanks mares the past week or so, and just can't seem to get around in the style to which we are accustomed The vehicle will soon be discharged from hospital and things

Talking Rodeo on TV Friday

Rodeo Parade Marshall Peter Kershak, Kitsumen Princess Randall Murray and Mrs. Ed McCardia representing the Chamber of Commerce will appear on television Friday evening.

The Edsonites will be guests on the Al Shaver show which starts at 6:15 each evening Al is again coming to MC things as he has at previous Rodeos in Edson.

Another TV program to watch is the "Checkwagon Show" at 8 on Tuesday. Airs 1 for other highlights of the big two day stampede activities in Edson.

Brevity

There is a deplorable trait in a lot of modern writing (and speech) to be as long winded as possible Many people seem to think that a voluminous ponderous report is much more effective than a simple statement of facts It seems to be felt that a report made in short form lacks the proper importance This is wrong and we should remember that

The story of the Creation is told in the Bible in 400 words.

The Ten Commandments contain only 297 words.

Lincoln's immortal address at Gettysburg took 266 words.

The Declaration of Independence required only 1321 words to set up a new concept of Freedom but

The U.S. Office of Price Administration needed 3000 words to announce a reduction in the price of Cabbage Head.

Rv hook or bv crook

Ever see the term "by hook or by crook?" If you have you have been using an old forestry expression. The National Lumber Manufacturers Association gives this explanation for the origin of the expression

In feudal times all forests belonged to the lord of the manor The peasants were not permitted to cut trees, but had permission to secure fire wood and cooking what underbrush, limbs, twigs, etc. they could reach "by hook or by crook." I.e., what they could cut down with a pruning hook or pull down with a shepherd's crook. This served the useful purpose of keeping tree stands clear of underbrush and of supporting vines and dead limbs.

Hooks were curtis or canes with hooks.

Others got hurt while trying to start the motors either by using cranks or by pulling starter ropes

And a number were hurt while removing grass or foreign objects from blades, or in taking off the grass catcher

The others who were not operating mowers were injured while repairing servicing or sharpening mowers.

Weddings are news

Weddings are news The housekeeping don't qualify [illegible] likes to publish the account [illegible] as we think the friends and neighbors of the family like to read about them too

The key word is NEWS News consists of something that has happened recently and in the case of a local news paper to someone locally known.

But even a wedding delight ful as they are to read about or pass to be seen as the weeks slip by We have a special form that supplies the items about the wedding and all they have to do to them is have the blanks filled in

We would like to suggest to couples planning their wed ding that they get someone mother, the bridesmaid or even dad to take on the job of filling in your wedding form for the paper

In fact our local photographer [illegible] only too happy to supply us with a picture IF YOU TELL HIM you want it There are your picture and bride and groom will their pictures in the paper

Shower weeks after the newlyweds have returned from their honeymoon and set up [illegible] their new home are also news items either Our readers like their news as but off the griddle as a weekly newspaper can make it

Water Safety facts

From your Pool Superintendent

We continue this week with a list of "do's" for swimmers, persons who are around the water but can't swim very well, and all who holiday near water

Do use the jellyfish float to relieve leg cramps or to remove clothing in the water

Do swim diagonally and with the current Swimming into the current is very exhausting

Do swim with an undertow (usually found in streams or large lakes) The undertow weakens in 10 or 15 yards and you can swim to the surface

Do use underwater swimming when trapped under rafts or boats, when oil is blazing on the surface or when recovering objects

Do read such books, pamphlets as pushing or ducking your companions or calling for help unless you need it

THE "SCOTTIES" AS THE RESERVE ARMY BAND IS FAMILIARLY CALLED PROVED A REAL CROWD PLEASER AT LAST YEAR'S RODEO

Hi-Brites drop two Hi-Brites Park split brace

Five games were played in the North Western Baseball League last week and the results saw the Whitecourt Packers move into first place by virtue of a forfeited doubleheader from the Edson Athletics who have withdrawn from further league play. The Hinton Hi-Brites blew a chance to take over the top spot as they dropped a doubleheader to the Mayerthorpe Imperials at Mayerthorpe by scores of 5 - 4 in extra innings and 6 - 1

On Wednesday evening, the Hi-Brites journeyed to Jasper where they scored a come from behind 3 - 2 win over the Jasper Panthers and Monday split their two games at Jasper on Sunday July 23 the Brites Mayerthorpe have 20 Monday games the opener encounter has 16 while Jasper is to fifth 6 - 5 in the second at the end last place with 14 points

second went to the Panthers who were ahead 1 - 0 before rain set in after 3½ innings of play

The league results have Whitecourt ahead with 22 points, while both Hinton and Mayerthorpe have 20 Monday games remaining.

Mouth to mouth life saving film shows method

HINTON—

There was a very good turnout Monday evening in Cree rent Valley School to see the film "That they may live," a film showing the versatility of mouth to mouth resuscitation

The film had been shown during the last school term to students in all three Hinton schools then the mill had obtained it to show their employees Realizing what an outstanding film it was they held it over to be shown to the general public

The picture illustrated the proper way to give mouth to mouth resuscitation and the many different situations in which it could be used to save a human life The speed with which the victims in the picture were revived was amazing The number of situations in which it can be used was also amazing drowning heart attack car accident electric shock suffocation

The film was followed by a short run through of what happened at the swimming pool opening as seen on CFRN TV

Coal Branch still has its many attractions

By FERN ICE

Not a romantic name we must admit, but to the traveller driving the well graveled road leading westsouthwest from Edson there is everything to see and not time enough to see it all.

No cairn marks the spot, but the ghost towns of Mercoal, Cadomin and Luscar speak for themselves as no cairn could.

Every hanging scenery with the Rocky mountains as a back drop, tumbling streams, placid creeks with gravel bottoms where Rocky Mountain whitefish abound, hills, valleys, pine trees, and mysterious caves hidden away in the sides of the mountains.

A mansion at Luscar stands out in abandoned splendor. The creaking doors of an old hotel at Cardiac a prey piece as if threatening to topple at the slightest disturbance.

Hand made rock gardens in a land where nature has provided every setting to enhance the efforts of man.

Mercoal tells a tale of prosperity that came to an abrupt end with the closing of its once famous mines. Until recent months when fish began moving homes from Mercoal to make homes elsewhere one would get the impression that families had merely stepped out for an afternoon or week end.

Most of the abandoned homes were fully furnished in a mad scramble to earn a living for themselves and families, miners were forced to pull stakes and search for greener pastures; leaving behind in most instances everything that could not be packed to salt mines.

Cadomin rests at the foot of mountains, and altho' there is yet a certain amount of activity, Cadomin is a combination of the old and the new. Log huts that appear to be as old as the hills surrounding them, rub shoulders with modern structures, while near Rancor's stations lend an air of dignity to the overall picture.

Inhabitants along the Coal Branch road are justified in their belief that they have all the makings of a successful summer resort and in turn has a potential hunter's paradise.

Who's all worried to death?

By G F MORTIMORE

It takes a worried man to smells in the back yard to raise a worried song. This song was written for me and for numerous other chronic worry warts.

We fret about death, taxbills, house life and work about beating people's feet in by saying the wrong things about [illegible] let [illegible] bers barking dogs that bother the neighbors, carpenter ants blight on the currant bushes and the origin of mysterious [illegible]

When life appears to be go on well that is the time when we worry most of all, because it isn't natural. We aren't used to placid calm and well being and temporarily caress it gives us a feeling of doom — the creation of living in the eye of a hurricane.

We veteran worriers know that fate is only taking a breath and getting ready to fling more troubles at us.

Psychologists don't approve of worrying. They call it "non adjustive behaviour." But for the chronic fusspot, worrying is an end in itself. He enjoys it, as a smoker enjoys a cigarette.

Now I see in the newspaper, a man can earn money by worrying. According to a story from Albany, N.Y. the highest court in the state of New York has ruled that the widow of a man who worried himself to death can collect from the workmen's compensation fund.

This man died of a heart attack after extended worry over job problems. The court ruled that worry is part of the job.

Unless this decision is reversed by a panel of calm, unworried judges in a higher court, there is a bonanza in store for potential widows.

There will be difficulties in fixing the amount of money that a widow is paid. Men don't shut off their worries when they leave the office. They worry to their own time, too, about many vital decisions — what colour to paint the steps and whether to have liver cheese sandwich plain or toasted.

There will be times when the workmen's compensation board has to send a tactful man around to inform a widow that there is evidence that she can be trusted in his worries by not going him over the breakfast table.

"Although we are exceeding ly sorry that your husband has worried himself to death the tactful man will explain "we feel that perhaps through no fault of your own you hastened the death of your husband. Therefore we can not pay you enough money to buy a new one."

Mr and Mrs G Bolton and family have returned from a holiday trip to the Coast and western United States.

Attend second year Kindergarten course recently

Mrs. Margaret Osbourne and Mrs. Rita Sleith returned from Red Deer where they attended the "Second Year Playground Leaders Course"

This course is offered under the Recreation and Cultural Activities Branch Exists people from various parts of Alberta took part this year

Three young people, one from Mayerthorpe, and two from Edmonton are putting their course to work at Nojonse Lake, just east of Edson Seems rather a shame one has to go so far for something so close to home.

Mrs. Osbourne and Mrs. Sleith will both be teaching kindergarten starting this fall. Another kindergarten mainly to accommodate children in the west section of town will be operated under Mrs. Garber

As she still has vacancies anyone interested may contact her at PA3 3666. Mr. Garber taught school at Mayberta last year. The three kindergarten teachers will be following the same course of studies and are working together.

Mrs. Peter Reed of Winnipeg, has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. M. D. Beale and Mr. Beale of Edson

Mr. and Mrs. D. Fortier, Mark, Catherine and Michel are at McBride B.C. are spending the summer months with Pat's parents Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Grant

Mr. and Mrs. Macklin and family of Los Angles are visiting with Mr. Macklin's sister Mrs. Gilbert Switzer and family, this week

Gardening Tips

BY RENE CAPT

We continue on the subject of house plants

A slight yellow of the foliage or the losing of the roots through the drainage hole or over the rim of the pot are signs that repotting is necessary. If the roots are shown to be roots at all by only a sticky mass of soil remove the soil entirely by washing, the roots clean. This condition hurts unhealthy, and the need for a smaller pot. On the other hand if the earth ball breaks, a few mats of roots it is a healthy condition indicating only the need for a larger pot

It is advised for most plants that they should be placed still on the pots out doors during the summer Watch out though for cold nights in this country for the most tender ones. Bury the pots to the rim placing a piece of pal before the drainage hole to keep it open When ready to bring indoors, brush and wash the soil away on the outside so that it starts its life indoors clean

Humidity and temperature are very important factors for healthy house plants. A dry heat of 75 degrees is about all most plants can stand Most plants thrive best from cold to cold, which is too chilly for most people Cool rooms are best for house plants But if the temperature is high at daytime, it is beneficial if we reduce it at night. Flowering will improve and be prolonged

Humidity is obtained by placing pans on radiator boiling water on stoves and keeping water pans filled in hot air furnaces or in any other convenient places in the home For our own health we should use all the devices possible to obtain sufficient humidity in our homes

CWL whist ends for season

The final whist tournament was held recently in the Sacred Heart Church High score for the evening was Mrs. Mary Isabel and Mrs. J. Dutka with 946 and Mrs. Jos. Lutchy and Mrs. Ed McNaughton 940

High for the season was Mrs. Ed McNaughton and Mrs. Joe Lutchy, second Mrs. J. Wynne and Mrs. Yeo third Consolation was Mrs. Peet and Mrs. Spurgeon

The whist everyone wish to thank all the ladies who played in the tournament and money thanks to Mr. J. Mc Namara who looked after the fixtures The next whist tournament will start in September

Tips on Touring

When you take the youngsters on a vacation trip this summer a little fun with arithmetic. Why not figure out how many variations on a weekend vacation trip can be made when time and pocketbook are factors.

For purely pleasure trips the kids here are some good hints

Have your car in a mechanic check the working parts a few days Some motorists run out of oil between scheduled

Whatever the goal agree on it before you start Make sure the place to be visited will interest your children A place which interests you may have little attraction for them

Limit what you plan to see on one day especially at big museums Have something for a second or third trip

Take a camera and make a picture story of your day's outing

Keep a scrapbook of the literature you gather on your visits Junior will want to take it to school next Fall

Read ahead of time about the historic significance of a place to be visited

Plan your trip with a map Let the children study the map with you map skills are often learned this way

Plan your trip to avoid hot city Many sights are really new to children give them time to satisfy their curiosity This is the best of learning

CROWDS OF PEOPLE FORMED AT THE CORNER OF FOURTH AND MAIN AFTER LAST YEAR'S PARADE TO SEE THE TUG-O'-WAR

CPA means quality in Rodeo performers here

Rodeo an American heritage handed down from early days of the open rangeland, swings into action here next week. Big-hearted followers of the rugged western sport are passing their own ax here to compete in the scheduled contests of the Fourth Annual Edson Rodeo which will be held Friday and Saturday August 4 and 5

One of more than 500 approved each year by the Rodeo Cowboys Association, the game's self-governing, administrative body, the rodeo here is open to entry of all professional contesting cowboys in the United States and Canada. They will put skill and experience against outlaw livestock, furnished by Harry Veld of DeWinton, Alberta.

Purse money put up by the rodeo committee this year, $1,600 will probably be doubled by entry fees from contestants themselves.

Prize monies won here will be credited to the sport's world championship standings. No annual titles in rodeo are determined by the simple measure of who wins the most money during the almost year-round playing season.

By the end of November, the fifteen best money winners on each event become eligible for rodeo's world series, the National Final ... in Los Angeles, California, conclusion of the week-long Texas, play-for-money world title fete of the year. This event was not held at the rodeo here, could affect final qualification.

Rodeo has grown from a rangeland pastime to annual prize money payoff of over $3,000,000 held in 35 states and four Canadian provinces. In top money winning rodeo has averaged over $20,000 a year for the past decade.

Clinic report on dental program at Hinton

HINTON—

The Edson Health Unit held a dental clinic at the Crescent Valley School from May 25th until July 6th (in July 8th and 7th the clinic was held at Brule.

The excellent response shown toward the clinic illustrates the interest and concern which people have about dental health. During the course of the clinic in Hinton three hundred and eighty-four children were seen by the dental staff. Due to the fact that it was necessary for some children to be recalled to the clinic for more than one visit, in order to receive necessary treatment there was actually a total of four hundred and twenty five appointments fulfilled

This response was gratifying in remembering that there were only twenty-eight cancelled appointments. The percentage response was well over ninety per cent. Children included in this dental program were preschoolers and grades one two and three

The findings of the dental clinic indicate the poor state of dental health which is existing today. Because of the problem the dental program was primarily a preventive one rather than a treatment program. The teeth of each child were thoroughly cleaned and a topical application of stannous fluoride was applied to the teeth. Through this application the rate of tooth decay in these children will be significantly reduced during the ensuing years

The dental staff discussed the importance of good oral hygiene, dietary factors and other good dental health habits in prevention and control of tooth decay with the children and parents. A permanent dental record card has been kept by the Edson Health Unit for each child who attended the clinic. This will form a continuous and permanent record of the dental health of each individual child over the years.

The findings of the clinic have shown that the important area of prevention in dentistry must be continually stressed to the public at large. Dental decay is so common that we have come to accept it as a sort of necessary evil. This is entirely unfounded since it could easily be prevented or controlled. However for this to happen we must all be actively concerned and we must know what to do and when to do it

It was the purpose of the dental clinic to point out the most effective dental health measures and to stress the fact that these must begin with the young child. Every child starts off in life with a healthy mouth. It is a mere feasible aim to keep that mouth healthy than to allow disease to occur and later try to apply remedies. The neglect of early life results in great expense in adult life as an effort to restore what should have been spared.

The most satisfactory means of prevention pointed out to the children and parents at the clinic may be summarized by the following factors:

1 Sound nutrition, diet and eating habits

2 Proper mouth hygiene and limited use of the toothbrush

3 Early and regular examination and cure by the family dentist

4 The use of fluoride topical (painting the lesion)

5 Fluoridation This is the controlled mechanical addition of fluoride to public water supplies to the optimum amount of one part per million

Six one of the measures will give complete protection To be most effective all of these preventive measures should be used continuely. Of these factors fluoridation of public water supply is the most effective single measure Drinking fluoridated water will result in approximately two thirds less dental decay if used continually from birth to twelve years of age. Reduction to a lesser degree is obtained even if started at later age.

Once fluoridation is begun it starts to give immediate benefits which will continue without day to day attention to detail required of parents by the other methods of prevention

It should be available to everyone in the community and can be provided at a very feasible cost to each family As compared to fluoridation of public water supplies the cost of painting the teeth with fluorine is at least ten times as high.

In Canada communities in eight provinces comprising well over a million people are providing their children with the advantages of drinking fluoridated water It is important for us to realize that children today are facing a severe dental health problem in Hinton as elsewhere and that the greatest single thing which they can do to improve it is to vote for fluoridation when the next plebiscite is held

Observe turtles don't disturb

If Elmer H Taylor curator of the Calgary Aquarium had his way the Western painted turtle would wear that sign. Particularly this time of year when these creatures often wander near and on main highways and are picked up by well meaning travellers

Mr Taylor told the Calgary Aquarium located on the Calgary Brewery grounds at 8th Ave and 18th St S.E. in Calgary has been "swamped" with donations of Western painted turtles. A number are presently living in harmony with two alligators in the reptile pit at the Aquarium, but no more can be accepted

Most of the turtles are picked up by tourists visiting British Columbia. Native to the province, they are frequently found on the roadsides but travellers who take them home with them soon find they are unable to look after the creatures and hope to find them a home at the Aquarium

"Turtles require considerable attention - more usually than can be given by the average person." Mr Taylor said. Besides an environment which includes both land and water, they need an even moderate temperature and a diet containing meat or fish and supplemented with bone matter for shell building They cannot survive in chlorinated tap water

Nor can they survive for long in an Alberta slough Mr Taylor said, since this water dries up in the extreme hot weather He added that the introduction of species of turtles from neighbouring provinces is not encouraged by biologists

Much better to observe and not disturb the Western

Pitcher's plate stolen from ball diamond

JASPER—

Believe it or not, someone has found a use for a rubber pitcher's plate.

Last Wednesday, when Jasper hosted Hinton, it was found that the rubber pitching plate has been stolen. This item is worth $10.00 to the ball club and it would be appreciated if the person who took same would return it.

A temporary wooden plate has been installed but it is not satisfactory and a new rubber plate will have to be purchased if the one that has strayed is not returned

Anyone who knows the whereabouts of this plate please contact H Burgada or one of the Senior ball players.

OPEN RANGES FOR KIDS

By O. S. MORTIMORE

Should children be kept in the yard, or turned loose? I have noticed that parents are divided into two groups — the fence builders and the disciples of the open range.

One kind of mother says "Get out of the house and don't let me see you again until bed time."

The other kind says: "You can go out to play, but don't leave the yard unless you ask me."

A good western movie could be made about the conflict between these two groups.

On one side are the old fashioned child ranchers, fighting for the right to send their stock out to graze anywhere in the neighborhood

Deployed against them are the private land mothers who insist on building fences around each family allowance farm

On most days the story ends happily when the wandering children find their way to their fenced in playmates, and stay for dinner.

Both factions are right, by their own standards. Children must learn how to be free, and how to live with nature. But they must also learn how to live in a world of fences, and how to respect the property of others.

The trouble with letting toddlers roam freely is that they may damage themselves or set someone's house on fire in the process of learning by experience.

Edson swimming pool news

By GORDON WELCH
Pool Superintendent

Last week's attendance took a slight turn upwards, a total of 1,099 visitors attended the pool for the week. Total attendance was 1,134 persons. The average daily attendance was 189 which is made up of 100 adults and 89 children

An invitation has been received for our swimming team to attend the Drayton Swimming Meet on August 7. Last year Drayton sent 8 swimmers to our meet so it is hoped that we will be able to send at least one car of swimmers to Drayton. Anyone who could possibly supply the swimming club with a car to go to Drayton could they please get in touch with the pool staff. Any help along this line would be much appreciated by Edson swimmers.

There is still room for adults in our swimming classes. Beginners' meet every day at 6:30 or 7:15 on Tuesday and Thursday evenings while advanced swimmers come at 8:00 p.m on the same nights

This Week's Safety Hints

1 Never dive into unknown waters Check carefully for bottles or other dangerous objects that may be on the bottom before diving in

2 Stay clear of swimming areas with your boat Drunken hulls often occur because swimmers have knocked unconscious by boats in swimming areas

Pilot sends thanks to alert citizens with cars

The pilot who was over Edson and Hinton on Tuesday night from 8½ o'clock on to hours cloud cover sends his thanks to all the citizens who responded to the call for cars and light up the field at both Hinton and Edson.

Piloting his own aircraft, Bill Colquhoun of Kamloops, had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dan Crossley of Hinton and had been down on the Edson strip earlier in the day to let off a passenger.

When he got to Hinton early in the evening he found a cloud bank had come up and made an attempt at landing extremely difficult.

Seeing his plight from the ground Hinton citizens, form ed a motorcade and lined to light up the Hinton strip. How ever Pilot Colquhoun decided to head for Edmonton.

Thinking that the aircraft had not enough gas to make the city Don Crossley at Hi ton got in touch with th authorities at Edson. Mr. at Edson were ready to light the Edson strip if the pilot wished to return. Besides as pointed out by Mr. Crossley, there was no fuel available there for their public spirited news.

The aircraft set into Edson safely and on the ward came to the Hi Mr. Colquhoun th to go back home.

Highways Minister reports on road west of Edson

Gordon E Taylor, Minister of Highways, reported this week on the condition of the new construction west of Edson. The construction consists of grade widening and the application of stabilized gravel base course on 7 28 miles of road from Edson to Sundance Creek. The contract was awarded on May 12th, 1960 at a cost of $396,505 51. The next lowest bid was $540,038 65.

The contract was not completed in 1960 as planned and at the present time 3.6 miles of base has been completed. The grading operations have reached a point approximately one mile east of the junction of Highways Nos. 16 and 47, which leaves approximately 1.1 miles of the project that has not as yet been opened up. Base course construction in the various stages of construction on the completed portions.

The section where traffic has experienced some difficulty is through one mile of rough grading from the junction of Highways 16 and 47, west.

Instructions issued to Sandy Construction include the following:

1 That flag men must be kept on the project.

2 That towing equipment must be immediately available when required.

3 That traffic must be properly accommodated at all times.

4 That several sections of the one mile which permitted only one way traffic must be widened out immediately to permit two way traffic.

5 That salvage base gravel must be placed on sections of rough grade which become badly cut during rainy spells.

6 That additional signs must be erected.

7 That more flares are necessary.

"I personally went through the work without difficulty but am of the opinion that additional flares are still necessary. I understand that additional flares are being secured by the Contractor immediately. Our Resident Highway Engineer has been instructed to make frequent personal inspections of this project both day and night to make sure that traffic west of Edson will be properly accommodated" stated the Minister.

G. Rohr dies in Switzerland

Word has been received by Mr W Wilson Sr of the passing away in Switzerland of Mr G Rohr, who ran the Edson Bakery for a good many years.

Mr Rohr had been in poor health ever since he left Edson to live in retirement in his native land. Anyone wishing to send a card of sympathy to Mrs Rohr who was to well and favorable known to the people of Edson, Mr Wilson advises the address is:

Stadthof, Sonnhalde 5, Unter, Zurich, Switzerland.

Federal loan to Edson for sewage treatment project

The Federal government has approved a loan of $77,667 to the Town of Edson, Alberta, to assist in the construction of a sewage treatment project.

The announcement was made this week by H. M. Horner, M.P. for Jasper-Edson, on behalf of the Honorable David J. Walker, Minister responsible for the operations of the Federal housing agency, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Made under Part VI-B of the National Housing Act, the loan is for a term of 25 years with interest at 5 3/8 per cent per annum. The loan is based on an estimated cost of $116,500.

The Town is presently served by a piped sewer system which discharges into a treatment plant. The plant has become seriously overloaded and the Town proposes to abandon the existing treatment system and to build new facilities on the site of the present plant.

The NHA loan will assist in the construction of a 21 inch gravity outfall approximately 6 600 feet in length and a stabilization pond which will include four anaerobic ponds and two aerobic ponds.

Rodeo prospects look bright as Thursday dawns

No Rodeo can be a success without the co-operation of the weatherman. This, as we go to press, seems to be assured.

One of the other main considerations is that a line-up program be in the offering. This too, is assured.

Weather co-operating, program being available as it is, the most ingredient is crowds of people to make everything fit together.

If ever any event in Edson attracted more attention we don't know what it was. In this Rodeo we have all the ingredients — distinguished visitors, and district people all ready for a big time in Edson — the Rodeo capital of Northern Alberta.

AN OFFICIAL PHOTO OF THE RCAF JETS which were laid on to fly over the Rodeo celebrations on Friday as part of the big stampede which has attracted so much attention in Northern Alberta. The T33 aircraft are capable of a startling display of aerobatics and are great crowd thrillers.

Curlers Fair plans shaping up to big day

Plans for the Fair ... season continue to take formal shape ... curlers ... a definite increase in interest ...

The Friday night ball game between Minton Juveniles and Hinton Groaners (Old Timers) again appears to be the high light of the program. Word is out that the Groaners go into training this week to take out some of the kinks.

Should you hear a little grunting going on near the fire hall this week don't be alarmed. It's just the Fire Department team holding practice sessions ... they intend to hold on to honors won last year ... add a little more cash to their social fund despite threats by the Town Public Work team or the rumors of a challenge from the big men of Woodlands Job Department and cohorts

... that it has been on track will not be ready for a ... full-fledged turf day, we will go ahead with plans for novel ... baseball diamond ... These ... three legged ... wheel bar-... sack races, relay racing ... novelty ... of course the water melee ... The latter contest limited to entry of first 10 boys and 10 girls. More details on these events next week.

The tentative Saturday program lines up as follows: 10:00 a.m. parade, judging of floats and presentation of trophy for best float. At approximately 11:30 the horse shoes for riders up to 18 years. Judging in this event will be based on grooming of horse, handling and riding ability.

At approximately 12:30 the fault show for kiddies up to 10 years with their favorite pooch. Judging will again be based on health, grooming and handling of animals.

Novelty races will begin at approximately 1:00 o'clock. At 1:00 o'clock races will be interrupted for a barrel rolling contest by two teams from the Fire Department. This is a free for all, rooting sport which sees the teams try to get a barrel over a certain point by using a stream of water from a hose. A few more races will follow before the tug o war contest. The water melon eating contest will wind up the program unless a final is required in the tug-o-war.

Entry forms for exhibits are now available in local stores. Entry in the "Best Yard" competition must be returned to Mrs. K. Griffiths, Box 2113, by August 8 in order to give us a week for judging. Entries in other classes should be returned to Mrs. Griffiths by August 9th so that we may know the required space for each class of exhibits.

We hope to have tents up on the Fair Grounds by Thursday night and exhibits will be accepted Friday morning with the judging taking place Friday evening.

TWO MILLION BUCKS

Why Edmonton doesn't have a second daily

By T. W. PUE in The Edmonton Sun

Who answers a question often asked newspapermen

According to Max Bell, Publisher of the Calgary Albertan, it would take someone with $2,000,000 to organize a successful second daily newspaper in Edmonton Mr Bell, publisher of the Calgary Albertan, figures you'd need $1,000,000 to buy plant and equipment and $1,000,000 to pay the losses for the first five years

At every cocktail party I attend in Edmonton (I drink Coca-cola) someone askes up to me and says, in a demanding tone: "Why don't you make that Edmonton Sun into a daily paper and give the Edmonton Journal a run for their money?"

Invariably I tell about the two million bucks and explain that I haven't got that kind of money "But if I did have" I answer my inquisitor "I'd sure use it to get out of this dog-gone newspaper business—and get into it."

I rate Max Bell and his opinion high, because he is one of Canada's best and most respected daily newspaper publishers. I know that many people in Edmonton don't realize the high possibility of failure for such a project as a second daily in Edmonton even with two million dollars behind it

I am certain that many think that because Edmonton should have a second daily that there is no reason why the Edmonton Sun shouldn't be that paper and that we're sitting on top of a big fat opportunity and doing nothing with it

That's what the Bowes Brothers thought They are publishers of three big, successful weekly papers in the Peace River Country of Alberta and B.C So a year ago last September they commenced publication of a good little city weekly "The Edmonton News"

Nine months and about $20,000 in losses, later they quit and now think differently

Now, I understand Edmonton's Dr Allard has $100,000 to stake on a weekly paper for the city of Edmonton Dr Allard is not only a good doctor but a good businessman too That doesn't mean he can work a miracle in the field of journalism. Or maybe it means he has $500,000 that he just doesn't know what to do with Believe me, there is no quicker or cleaner way to divest one's self of that much money Besides, when he loses it, I wouldn't happen to a nicer guy

Notwithstanding all this, there is one simple formula to use in getting a second paper successfully established in Edmonton Just get one-third of the householders in Edmonton to quit taking the Edmonton Journal and take the new paper instead.

The big stores on which city papers depend for their advertising revenue won't do a thing to help you get established. Eaton's, Simpsons-Sears, Hudson's Bay, Woodward's won't patronize another publisher in Edmonton They are afraid, actually, that they might help another paper get going and that isn't what they want They are perfectly happy with having to advertise in only one daily paper. Another paper to which they were forced to advertise would just increase their advertising budget

These big stores, for instance, won't let an Edmonton firm print any of their flyers. This work is done in other places such as Calgary, Winnipeg and Saskatoon I'm sure the reason that if they were to patronize the Edmonton firm which could easily print their flyers in Edmonton, or advertise occasionally in the Sun papers that this would only encourage us to go on and establish a daily paper.

They would, however, be forced to advertise in a second paper if that second paper were to take away a substantial percentage of the city circulation enjoyed by the Edmonton Journal

Now, I believe that is impossible Much as the average Edmonton citizen curses the Journal you'll never convince him he should quit taking it.

For one thing, barring a miracle, the Journal will continue in the face of concrete opposition to be the super-per paper in its field The Southam Company, owners of this, their most profitable daily, have millions of dollars behind them to keep the Journal ahead in its field

Contrary to what many Edmonton people say, I do not believe the Journal is in any way an inferior paper.

Accused of running a monopoly, the Publisher of the Journal, Mr. Wes MacDonald goes out of his way to provide his readers many features and news services not demanded of him by reason of the lack of competition of another paper

And let me point out The Journal does not hold a monopoly on the paper business in Edmonton Anyone who wants to do so is free to publish another paper if he can get the necessary capital Just as free as the newspaper is any other line of business in the city

Don't forget, too that every time a new radio or TV station is started in Edmonton the chances of Edmonton enjoying a second daily paper are proportionately reduced because of the demand by other advertising media on the advertiser's dollar

When could Edmonton support another daily paper? Perhaps when the population reaches a million Detroit, with 1,500,000 population had three daily papers until last November. Then one with 600,000 circulation had to fold up because it was losing money and saw no prospect of restoring its profit position That means that the big, booming automobile city has to have 750,000 people to support one daily paper

If Detroit needs 1,500,000 population to support two daily papers, can Edmonton do it with less than 300,000 population?

Good luck, Dr Allard

Do remove clothing when forced with a long swim to save yourself or rescue another person

Do insist that novice and non-swimmers avoid using inner tubes, boats, etc., for support.

Do climb onto floating logs at the butt end. Climbing from the side will cause the log to roll.

Do avoid swimming in the dark.

Do you know your law?

THE ALBERTA LIQUOR CONTROL ACT

Many people ask the question "When I go on my holiday, can I legally carry liquor in my car?" As this is the holiday season, we will deal with this at this time.

Section 40 sub-section (4) of the Liquor Control Act, reads as follows:

"(4) Whether or not the package or vessel containing liquor is opened or the seal on any such package or vessel is broken a bona fide traveller may carry or transport in the Province any liquor that he may lawfully have and own same as a resident, of the package or vessel containing the liquor is carried or transported in the traveller's, bag gage with his clothing and other necessaries of travel."

First of all one must be a "bona fide" traveller In other words you and your family are on your holidays and will be away from your home for several days or weeks, you are not just driving around the country for a day's outing Secondly you must have liquor which is legally purchased from a liquor vendor Last but not least, the liquor must be in your suitcase or other receptical with your clothes and tooth brush, preferably locked up You cannot carry it in the glove compartment of your car, your pocket, on the car seat or loose in the trunk of the car

There is another point which should be carefully considered If you leave the Province, there may be liquor laws in other Provinces which prohibit one to carry liquor, even in a locked suitcase It is well to check on this when you enter an other Province. also the amount of liquor that can be carried from one Province to another.

A person entering Alberta from another Province cannot legally bring into this Province liquor not in excess of one bottle or beer in excess of twelve pints " If you enter Alberta from outside Canada you are only allowed the above amount, but it must be stamped or marked by a Canadian customs officer

If you do have liquor in your car while on holidays, don't drink while you drive, keep it locked up

Not all are thoughtful

We stopped in at the picnic shelter on the Wild Hay River awhile ago and saw a mess that made us ashamed of our fellow humans, whoever they may have been.

The shelter was littered with trash and with beer bottles thrown around inside and outside the shelter in spite of the trash barrel sitting close by. The stove had been broken where some so-called camper had used the bars as either end, as a place to break pieces of plank for wood although there was wood already all to store length. Besides this there was the usual [illegible] names, that like jackasses' faces always appear scribbled in public places written on any available surface.

We got talking to one of the district Forest Rangers one time and it is their job to keep the shelters neat and tidy. This particular Ranger said he had taken an old half worn out corn broom to the shelter he was responsible for, intending to use it to sweep out the place on his weekly clean-up. The next time he went back the broom was gone.

We can't understand how anyone can be so thoughtless of their fellow humans as these ill mannered litterbugs. We wonder if their own homes look the same or if they have the idea that because shelters are public and because someone must clean up after them that they can take advantage of the privilege and act like ill begotten louts of a manor with serfs to do their bidding.

These shelters are erected jointly by the federal and provincial governments for use by the people of Canada and especially our employers. They belong to all of us, it should be a matter of personal pride to see that they are left as they are found, with the picnic wood and refuse [illegible] campers and tourists aren't so thoughtless [illegible] and take pains to leave the shelters [illegible] found them and these are people truly blessed with thoughtfulness.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hartbrad, Alberta
July 24 1961

Dear Sir:

The June 14th issue of the Jasper Totem carried a letter addressed to you by Mr. Melnyk. In his letter Mr. Melnyk criticized the condition of Jasper roads and the facilities provided at the Miette Hot Springs Bathhouse.

Mr. Melnyk has written a letter containing sound, constructive criticism which I think is worthy of an answer.

The Miette Hot Springs road was built a good many years ago and was never intended in its original state to carry the volume of traffic which uses it today. It has been improved over the years but even so it is incapable of handling the number of cars using it today. Reconstruction has already been started and it is hoped that money can be provided in the near future to complete the construction to the higher standard.

Meanwhile, the old road must remain in use and every effort is made to maintain it in the best possible condition. Unfortunately, it does happen through an area containing a lot of clay which troughs badly in wet weather.

The clay and mud must be continually removed from the road but even so, some of it gets mixed with the gravel. This can lead to a severe dust problem if not treated. Consequently, calcium chloride is applied to the road early in June. However, this year warm weather accompanied by hot dry winds was experienced much earlier than usual.

The calcium chloride which had been ordered for this year's maintenance operation was not delivered before the dust problem developed. This work has since been completed and I have been told the road is now in quite good condition.

Mr. Melnyk has suggested that the Miette Hot Springs pool should be expanded or replaced to keep up with the increased attendance. The pool is fed from a hot sulphur spring. Like all waters of this type, it cannot be either chlorinated or filtered. Chlorine is rendered inactive and there is no known material for filters which will stand up to the chemical action of the water.

For these reasons, sanitary conditions can only be maintained by allowing a sufficient volume of water to flow through the pool daily to keep down the bacterial count. The present size and capacity of the pool was dictated by the amount of water available from the spring. Consequently, the length of stay allowed swimmers in the pool would be to limit the number of swimmers each day. The present system is the fairest way of handling the problem.

As for the Jasper Edmonton Highway reconstruction started this year and the 25 miles from the Park boundary to the junction will be completed in 1962. The present road surface has been badly during the spring breakup and weather conditions do not always permit repairs to be carried out as rapidly as we would like.

It will perhaps be recalled that much of this highway fell into the old railway alignment which was gradually improved over the years in from a highway.

Several sections are built over swamps and it is these sections which pothole badly each year. The alignment of the new highway has been carefully selected to avoid these difficult sections.

While promises of future reconstruction are only slight consolation to those who must travel the road in its present condition it is nevertheless satisfying to know that in the near future a first-class highway will exist all the way from Edmonton to Jasper.

Yours sincerely,
Hugh M Horner, M.P.
Member for Jasper-Edson

CAPITOL REPORT

Rain helped Alberta crops

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Skies darkened but the crop outlook brightened over much of Alberta last week. Clouds dumped good rains on most of the province's drought areas and changed things for the better in all but the parched southeast corner of Alberta, where the moisture came too late.

Here is the revised outlook, as seen by the provincial agriculture department this week.

Edmonton and Peace River areas — better than average crops. Calgary area — Crops which were still green will benefit greatly from the rain. Red Deer-Calgary area — farmers will probably harvest an average crop. Area south of the Edmonton-Vermilion line — crops should be fair to good. Lodge to Red Deer — Crops should be much better than had been anticipated.

In all areas, the rain gave pastures a new lease on life and brightened livestock prospects.

Meanwhile, the provincial government announced its plans to implement Ottawa's offer of subsidy aid to drought-stricken farmers. Under the program the railways, the province and the federal government will share the freight cost of moving fodder to isolated drought areas.

The two levels of government also will pay 75 per cent of costs paid by drought-area farmers for movement of hay by truck in excess of 25 miles and up to a maximum of 12 per ton.

There also will be a sharing of the cost moving hay-ing equipment and of moving cattle and sheep to pastures more than 25 miles distant. The governments will each pay one-half of 85 per cent subsidy to farmers who harvest cereal grain for fodder. District agriculturists and municipal officers will have full details.

There was other good news for western farmers last week — and it was particularly encouraging, for one farmer.

Manuel Bogach of the Bogach Seed Co., Edmonton, received word that the federal board of transport commissioners has issued an order placing rapeseed in the same category as flaxseed for freight rates purposes. For Bogach it eliminated a 3½ year battle to have rapeseed brought under the subsidized Crowsnest Pass freight rates. For Alberta farmers who grow rapeseed it means shipping costs will drop to an average of 65c cents per 100 pounds, compared with 75 cents the railways have been charging.

Bogach who grows fescue and rapeseed on 8 000 acres of land in the Peace River country says it will mean a saving of roughly $500 per carload for farmers. That should add up to a lot of money in farmers' pockets when you consider they have about 200,000 acres of rapeseed planted in Alberta this year. Last year they shipped out some 1,300 carloads and Bogach estimates it should rise to at least 2,000 this year.

Does Bogach consider his battle ended? He says not. His next step, he says will be a court action against the CNR for more than a million dollars which, he argues, the railways has overcharged him since 1897 on rapeseed rates.

The federal restrictive trade practices commission moved into Edmonton last week and heard what the Alberta Government had to say about drug prices.

Health Minister Dr. J. Donovan Ross presented Alberta's brief and argued that: The price spread between raw materials and the finished product is too great, part of this is due to the "elaborate attempts of various firms" to develop and sell a close imitation of a successful drug, part of the high cost is due to advertising which is aimed at convincing doctors and the public that a trade name drug is more effective than its equivalent under the generic name.

He suggested possible changes in legislation which would permit druggists to dispense a generic equivalent unless a trade name drug is specified by the doctor. Dr. Ross said the commission might also consider the possibility of prohibiting the dispensing of trade name drugs. He also suggested the medical profession periodically publish information on drugs to guide physicians, and wondered if rules of ethics should be aimed at keeping the cost to the patient down.

O'LEARY REPORT

Ever since the report of the Royal Commission on Publications, generally known as the O'Leary Report, was tabled at Ottawa recently we have been watching the reaction of Canadian and U.S. periodicals and newspapers.

This report is one of the most scathing and thorough jobs ever done by a royal commission in Canada. It is a mine of information for anyone concerned with publications, advertising and the spreading of information. To the best of our knowledge the mass of information contained in this 282 page booklet is not available anywhere else.

If it has done nothing else, the O'Leary Report has provided Canada's publications and advertising industry with a volume of basic facts that are priceless.

Practically all editorial opinion we have seen so far has been against the report's main recommendations. This we find hard to understand unless one assumes that the writers of these editorials did not take the time and trouble to study the report carefully and in detail.

The recommendation that income tax deductions be allowed Canadian business firms on advertising placed in such U.S. magazines as Time and Readers Digest is of course causing the uproar. Both these magazines spend enormous sums on gathering their editorial material for more than any other magazines in the world can spend. Their U.S. advertising and circulation pays for this material. Then they get out special Christmas editions consisting of a few pages of

SPLENDID JOB

Canadian material and are able to build up their Canadian circulations which in turn takes the comparatively limited amount of Canadian advertising dollars away from wholly Canadian publications.

It is obvious that this is unfair competition. The Canadian editions cost nothing except for setting up some four pages or so of editorial matter, the Canadian ads, and running the thing off on a press.

We submit that the situation of Canadian publications is entirely different than Canadian shirts, rayons or cars competing with foreign imports. To give Canadian publications protection against the invasion of the huge U.S. magazines is not basically a matter of securing them profits — it is a matter of assuring that Canada will have a national periodical press of her own. Canadian magazines produced by Canadians and dealing with Canadian viewpoints. Surely the importance of this needs no arguing today.

The O'Leary Report shows plainly that no Canadian magazine, with the exception of certain trade publications is making a profit today. Even Maclean's has to be subsidized by trade publications in the Maclean-Hunter organization.

The suggestion of some editorial writers that all Canadian magazines have to do to win back all advertising accounts is to improve the quality of their publications is ridiculous. Any person conversant with production costs and circulation problems knows this is impossible.

First Place Hi-Brites at home; meet Whitecourt in crucial set

To Hinton Hi-Brite baseball fans and to those who have yet to see the local team in action, this Sunday, August 6 should be quite a day to come out and watch the Hinton Hi-Brites play host to the Whitecourt Eagles.

The doubleheader, which is on tap at the Hinton Ball Park, is a crucial one for both clubs, running neck and neck in the North Western Baseball League standings.

These are the final games for the Hi-Brites in the regular loop schedule and coach Al MacKay and his squad won't be satisfied with just a split when they tangle with the eastern division Eagles. The way the North Western Baseball League standings have tightened up with no thanks to the withdrawal of the Edson Athletics from further league play the Hi-Brites can be assured of at least a tie for first place. If the Mayerthorpe Imperials win their remaining four games, by garnering a split with Whitecourt

Batting Crown at Stake.
Besides the battle for first place at Hinton, five players, three of them Hi-Brites, will be going out to maintain or flatten their current league batting averages in pursuit for the batting championship. Al Bjork(.418), Dan Lovein (.406) and Frank Lavoie(.398) have just this Sunday to improve or drop from their present averages. The Whitecourt players also running hot in the percentages are Ken Reeves (.389) and Ron Henry (.379).

Pantheon Upset Eagles.
At Whitecourt last Sunday the revamped Jasper Pantheers did all their scoring in an inning of each game to run off the hometown Eagles. Scores in the series were 2-0 and 4-2 with left hander Bill Pressbaw hurling some standout ball in both games for Jasper. The sweep for Jasper kept them intact in securing a playoff berth.

If you make a 10 minute speech . . . two persons will be killed and 175 injured while you talk. Cost will amount to $225,000.

Which do you prefer bingo or Russian roulette?

There was an editorial in the Edmonton Journal the other day about gambling and gambling laws in Canada. One line in particular caught the eye. The writer says, "Canadians are great gamblers."

This statement is especially true with regard to our liberal laws. The recklessness and [illegible] abandon one sees around is terrifying. Watch the hidden on the streets. They zoom down the sidewalks like jets or they ride in the road way on the wrong side. They don't use lights or reflectors during the hours of darkness and weather severely all over the road. Stop signs don't mean a thing to them they usually sail right through.

The older people pass away and adults alike seem to assume that someone maybe [illegible] lawmakers, grounds or fairy godmothers — will look after them. Some of the last raises evidently carried out on the highways in boats at work everywhere in fact would make it appear that we think little and not often of our shins and bowpipe sans [illegible] turf.

We heard of a citizen who came back from Edmonton a few hours and [illegible] stopped in at Nisbet's for refreshment. This was not a drive on a summer's day. It was mild in December.

Why must we always have to drive at a speed a little higher than the law limit? What makes a driver sit on the tail of the car ahead at a speed of 80 plus? People go out on the water in boats then can't swim are fully dressed have no life jackets and often resort to horseplay while out. Here are all the ingredients of tragedy. Yet we none of us are not a bit concerned least of all those participating.

A new automobile in the showroom is a thing of beauty and is perfectly harmless at least on the shows is only a run in the rack will harm no one but only in the hands of humans do these things become lethal. The thinking and the attitude of people toward the preservation of life limb and property must undergo a real re-adjustment before the number of deaths and maimings [illegible] every day does not appear a safe reduction. If we are going to gamble let it be with a high [illegible]

What's in a name?

The term "Redcoat" and "outlaws" . . . the National Parks. We don't know. Some station have nothing to do with the wild hardness of the wood [illegible] hard wood are found [illegible] outbreaks are needed [illegible] West hardwood are delicious anyone that does not feel that [illegible] annually, what most outbreaks are everyone is [illegible] they retain their [illegible] more than

Stockpiling the Hay Supply

This week I wish to present the second and concluding part of an article written by Dr. J. M. Bell. Several heavy rains on Alberta have improved the feed outlook materially so it may not be necessary to stretch hay supplies as much as earlier conditions indicated. However, the information made available by Dr. Bell answers many questions asked every year by farmers in the cattle business. I trust you will find the following interesting and informative

4. How can vitamin A be supplied in the absence of good hay? Vitamin A is available in natural products and in synthetic forms. The preferred source for cattle is reserved limited quantities of poor roughage is dehydrated alfalfa meal or dehydrated cereal grass. A cow requires about 30,000 I.U (International Units) per day, hence ½ lb of good quality meal will provide the winter requirement, and it also supplies other valuable nutrients. Everyone should be aware that there are great variations in prices at vitamin A products being sold. Vitamin A needs of a cow can usually be met with alfalfa meal at a cost of 1 to 2½ per day (1.0 lb. per lb of alfalfa meal) for 50,000 I.U. of the vitamin. Some products now being used by livestock men cost at least 8 times this for the same amount of vitamin.

Synthetic vitamin A supplement can sometimes be obtained on request from feed manufacturers at competitive prices and in a suitable form for farm use.

5. What are the consequences of substituting straw for hay? In some cases there may be sufficient straw on hand to augment the hay supply. Oat, barley (smooth awned or 2 awned) and wheat straw can be fed in high proportions for wintering cattle along with hay of quality hay. However, with limited good green hay the danger of protein, mineral and vitamin A difficulties increases and appropriate supplements should be used to correct the deficiencies.

Some caution should be observed regarding the use of certain feeds that may be available. Flax straw is of limited value as a feed even if supplemented. It should not be fed

Cadets attend summer camp in British Columbia

Nearly 1400 Royal Canadian Army Cadets from Canada's four Western provinces are enjoying six weeks summer training at the Vernon Cadet Camp on Vernon, B.C.

Situated in the heart of British Columbia's famous Okanagan district, the camp offers the boys the chance to forsake the city streets and delight in the warm summer sun of this valley community. Ranging in age from 14 to 18 years they are all members of various high school cadet corps in their home towns.

Each summer for the six-week period the young citizens invade the Vernon camp and begin training in a number of military subjects designed to develop their skills and keep them physically fit.

Motor mechanics of wheeless training are two trades taught there and the interest and enthusiasm of the students is the sincerity of these high school lads.

At the driver-mechanic training wing, the students are of it at routes many immature needs unless it has been tested for toxicity. Rapeseed straw and screenings have been known to cause trouble so should be used in limited amounts. Rye straw has put literally no feeding value than weed seeds, especially must be cut early, should be finely ground and used sparingly along with good grain, if used at all.

6. Examples of how one might proceed in utilizing limited supplies of hay.

Example rations for a 1000 pound beef cow, in calf, showing various alternatives with ground grain for providing the daily energy needs when good hay is available.

Roughage Allowance. — Full feed 18 lb per day; Oats, none; barley, none; Mineral, none. Dehydrated alfalfa meal none Roughage Allowance — Half feed 9 lbs per day, and oats, 9½ (10 qt.) or barley, 6½ lb (8 qt.) or wheat, 5¼ lb (3 ½ qt.) and Dehydrated alfalfa meal 1 - 2 lb per day

If straw (oat or barley) is available to use along with hay it will provide some of the energy requirements for older classes of cattle but straw contains very little protein, few minerals and no vitamin A. Full feeding mature pregnant cows on straw requires the use of about 2 lb per day of a 32 per cent protein beef cattle supplement or its equivalent in order to avert heavy calf losses in the spring. The use of protein supplements should be varied in accordance with the amount of straw and the quality of hay used. Nutritional needs are most critical with young growing animals and during pregnancy 1984 already?

A Short Snort by Timber McCrachan

Several years ago a book was published concerning one man's prediction of the possible political atmosphere in 1984. He envisaged a perplexing dictatorship over a bewildered and benumbed populace

While the author did foretell some palpably preposterous things, the underlying hypothesis is considerably correct. As each year passes and governments enact more and more legislation the probability that his prophecy may be accurate becomes apparent.

Every act passed requires enforcement officers and the older acts need additional policing. Closed circuit television is efficient and telephone companies are developing new and lower telephones. So, it may not be too long before it is technically feasible to monitor our every move indoors and much of our activity outside

Every one operating a business receives a close scrutiny from government officials several times a year. Some time in the future farmers and fishermen will get the same solicitous attention and "Big Brother" will be here. Mind you he may be a kinder and dictator but a dictator nevertheless

Perhaps a democratic front will be maintained and we will still have the privilege of disposing of the figurehead at the top but the true rulers who will have every individual taped and recorded and filed and working at his allocated task under the jurisdiction of a powerful assistant deputy minister, will survive while the real minister comes and goes making little or no impression on the bureaucratic empire of which he is nominally the head. There is almost true today and if present trends continue will be virtually so by before 1984.

Farmers are noticing the more marketing boards little resolving that from marketing boards to complete control is not a big step. Perhaps those in the forefront of this action envisage a kingdom over which they may reign because the power for producer apportioning how much each may contribute and then to effect regulate all these subservient to them. This could happen easily

If the government (in Alberta) does pass its proposed Business Ethics Act it will place in the hands of some civil servant the power to cancel revoke or suspend licenses and his decision may not be challenged in a court of law. This power has been bestowed to a certain extent on the Board of Industrial Relations and the Department of Industries and Labor and while they would they power just casually at present they could become oppressive instead of merely annoying.

Even now employees (other than government employees) cannot make an agreement to work late in exchange for time off at another date unless he is willing to falsify his time sheet and the employer is willing to accept this document knowing it to be inaccurate. In due time all regulations will apply to farmers and fishermen and the last bastions of individual freedom will disappear.

When the bureaucrats decide complete control they may insist that their minions do a full day's work. This will come as a great shock to those accustomed to hour long coffee breaks and smoking home early to make up for time lost in arriving late. Deputy ministers may not dare to take a holiday for fear that some power hungry subordinate will usurp their position during their absence.

At present the enforcement officers cannot keep all the recalcitrants under control in spite of regular inspections and repeated visits to the feebly businessmen. Many of them appear in re-operate on the surface while continuing to operate as they wish by concealing those infractors of the law which they do and consider to be just. But the inspectors become wise to such subterfuge and it is necessary for those caught to devise another method to circumvent the Act and they get caught again.

Eventually they will realize that they cannot fight city hall" and they will conform even though they know that they should not capitulate. But after many lessons they will become good boys and 1984 will be here.

ATTRACTING A TRANSIENT GROUP OF SPECTATORS these members of the Hinton town crew with the assistance of cat, bucket and pump, drained this gaping hole of water a week ago Saturday and finally found and checked the water main that had been the root of the trouble. Not quite completing the job the day before the crew went to work Saturday morning to find the hole in front of Fransen and Community Hardware filled after a downpour and all night rain. It was a two day job to locate the pipe, check it and fill the hole back in again

Coffee Break

He gals following quite a few suggestions that pour it all the time. It keeps the fair to paper needed a household hints column we decided ...d give it a try — with your help of course.

With home gardens now pouring merely, you may be able to make use of this idea from a lady who has been visiting from southe n Alberta that friend takes the work out of scraping new potatoes, by grasing them a once over with a Curly Kate. I remember when I was younger than I am now and thought it great fun to help mom with the new potatoes as long as the skins came off easily by just rubbing them with my thumb and forefinger Of course that isn't so nice if you are one of the unfortunate ones whose hands stain easily from new vegetables. Then again have you ever noticed hes much nicer potatoes taste if cooked with their jackets on?

That reminds me how amazed I was the time my sister in law had never seen anyone peel turnips like my mother We were always taught to slice the turnips then peel the slices rather than peel the awkward sized vegetable all in one piece It had just never occurred to me that other people didn't do things like my mother Try it once, you'll do remainder of the turnip fresh or toss if you have only used a portion.

While shopping in a local store last week we heard a hint we thought was certainly worth passing on A lady had just bought a pair of lovely black slacks and the sales girl gave her a bit of advice with her receipt Black slacks or skirt, which look so smart when spotless, show up marker bits of dust like a sore thumb. The sales girl demonstrated that bits of lint or soiled spots can be cleaned quite effectively on black material by taking a bit of cellulose tape and brushing the material with the sticky side It doesn't hurt the material but it really picks up the lint

Well don't you like to share some of your labor saving ideas? Just phone them in or better yet, send them in by mail and we will pass them along at our next "Coffee Break."

If we haven't got it —
We'll get it for you!

Woman's Travel Authority

As the woman of the family, you do the cooking — at home and on the camping vacations. If outdoor cooking is new to you, profit from these tips on how to make a good fire:

Select a spot that'll give a draft — preferably on sandy soil or gravel — and be sure the spot is bare, so the fire can't spread Use bark and small branches from dead or fallen trees for kindling Twigs from the ground are apt to be damp, they'll make smoke but little fire. Note: try to gather hard woods for the larger pieces Split them, and they burn better.

When building your fire, place some shavings and other kindling on the ground. Build a frame with the branches in the form of a tepee by laying them at a slant. Other shavings should rise over the frame to catch and hold the flame After the fire is well started, add the heavier wood. Crisscross the pieces so the draft won't be cut off.

Try to get a bed of hot, glowing embers. A roaring bonfire looks nice, but it's no good for cooking. Keep your fire small A fire not more than a foot and a half in diameter can cook a feast.

When you're finished, be sure that the fire is right out and heavy ash are down in some places Mute evidence that it's later than we think How can it get so late so early? It seems just a few days ago we were seeding

J-B Highway a significant route

Address by Hon. Walter Dinsdale at Highway opening

We have met today on one of the great highways of Canada. The Trans-Canada, the Mackenzie, the Alaska, the Cabot Trail, the Banff-Jasper — these are our modern roads to adventure, rich in romance as the Trail of '98, the Fort MacLeod Trail and the canoe routes of the fur trade

The Banff-Jasper Highway is one of the most scenic mountain highways in North America. Unlike most other alpine highways, it has long, straight stretches and easy grades which are a delight to drive. It is a highway that offers new vistas of captivating majesty and beauty at every bend of the road.

The Government of Canada attaches great significance to this highway. Tourism has become the contender for the number one position among our export dollar earners, and now that Canada's new Travel office at San Francisco is opened, drawing new vacationers from the western United States, it is imperative that we have a first rate highway connecting our two great National Parks of Banff and Jasper. This highway will bring to Canadians and our visitors alike a great panorama of Canadian mountain, valley and sky.

As well as a tourist road, I can see the birth of great rivers the Banff-Jasper Highway is a nature trail - the longest nature trail in Canada's National Parks. In comfort and ease a motorist can observe the process of nature in action He mountaineers, geologists, and explorers from all parts of the world Travel then was uncomfortable and fatiguing

Mosquitos waited in swarms for the enthusiastic explorer as he cut his trail through dense pine and spruce forests and struggled over innumerable deadfall

In 1907, automobile traffic in what was then called Rocky Mountain Park was prohibited by the federal government. Six years later, cars were allowed to use a few local roads that had been widened to accommodate motor vehicles. In 1911 a road was started from Banff to Lake Louise and completed 10 years later. In 1923 this road was extended to Field to Yoho National Park, proving the feasibility of road construction in difficult mountain terrain.

There had been much discussion, official and unofficial, about building a road along the medicinal route to Jasper. A number of people thought the road was impossible. They warned that the road would soon be overrun by the automobile fiend, that nothing could be built through Bulwaya Pass because of the deep canyon

These objections were unformed today. The glacier does not threaten the road because it is protected by advancing between 1922 and 1948, it receded a net total of 1,750 feet and its average annual recession now is about 100 feet a year. Sound engineering design and planning by-passed the Sunwapta Canyon. As you can soon now, the Banff Jasper Highway goes north down the Sunwapta River and follows a series of switchbacks that drop several hundred feet in two miles to pass a round the deep canyon

The largest reconstruction program is a part of a general program that will bring all highways in the national parks up to the highest standards. The total program is costing over $400,000,000. Commissioners on the Banff-Jasper highway constitute a sum of $12,000,000. It was realized during the war years that modern trunk highways would have to be built to provide for the heavier and more demanding traffic requirements of the future During the past four years this reconstruction program has proceeded with renewed vigor.

The federal Government has taken every precaution in thus new reconstruction program to ensure that the Banff-Jasper Highway will be a safe, scenic highway fully capable of carrying traffic at modern driving speeds. It has a pavement width of 32 feet and ten foot wide shoulders on each side, which in addition to safety will permit parking for observation purposes. A right of way 260 feet wide has been cleared the whole length of the highway to open up wide panoramas of the surrounding country to the motorist. The alignment has been improved to allow for increased driving speeds

There are no changes in the general route of the highway Major revisions of up to a mile in length on the Big Hill section between Mile 38 and 72 are necessary to provide the most economical and satisfactory route, from the view points of both aesthetics and geometry To reduce maintenance, there have been diversions to avoid sidehill cuts and thin side drainage.

Buying Clothes for Children

It takes skill and good judgement to buy clothes which match children's needs and the family's budget Because needs change rapidly it is both practical and economical to keep a child's wardrobe small but selective. In this way, outgrown but still usable garments in the child's wardrobe are held to a minimum

Two most important buying points to look for are

1 Fabrics which are soft, absorbent, easy to care for, washable and lightweight

2 Construction which will withstand hard wear and frequent washing

Select Suitable Colors and design.

Colors should be suited to the age, personal coloring, personality and size of the child White or light pastels are discouraging to the infant but as a child grows older, he develops a preference for bright or colors Let him help to choose the colors he will wear Patterned fabrics are practical since they do not show wrinkles and soil as readily as do plain colors However designs should be simple and small to be in scale with small figures Dainty floral or animal patterns, miniature checks, stripes and plaids all look well

If trimming is applied to a child's garment, examine it critically to see that it is

Attractive — Trimming should add to the appearance of the garment and be of equal or better quality material than that of the garment

Comfortable — Material and placement should not cause irritation

Suitable — for the child and the garment. Trimming should be small in scale, kept to a minimum and placed at structural points such as neckline, shoulder, front opening, sleeve or hemline

Washable — if garment is washable if the trimming can not be laundered, it should be easy to remove and to put back on.

Safe — It should be of a non-shedding material so it will not get into an infant's mouth or eyes On Toddlers and children's clothing check to see that trimming is attached in a secure, flat way so it will not catch on furniture or play equipment

Dentist boost Fluoride as dental decay preventative

Dental Health Officer Dr. W. V. Olsen in the annual report to the Edson Health Unit drew attention to the shocking state of children's teeth in the area in this connection we noted dental care, and boosted the use of fluoride in water which he said would prevent up to 60 per cent of future decay.

Mentioning a clinical day in one in the house, and then Dr. Olsen noted a good fact the favorite "I've done everything" was that "the parent and revising I could but he won't child were brought together listen to me so you make him as a diagnostic team and listen"

FLUORIDATED WATER

"This, to me is good preventive, though not as effective as fluoride in water which we know will prevent up to sixty percent of future decay, but until that is possible this surely must be carried through it costs twice as much and still only does one half the job of the fluoridated water and what I mention that this point has been made frequently to parents in my conversations with them concerning preventative dentistry We hope it will have effect- ive readership in future campaigns."

The readership or lack of it in the area during the period under review is in all interests and purposes complete.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE

The statistics show the following picture for the year

Four cases of paralytic poliomyelitis occurred One in March, two in August and one in October.

Scarlet fever cases compris ed the largest group of notifications, something over 45 per cent of the total. Over 16 per cent of these cases had post fever throat trouble.

Red Measles and chickenpox were second and third, respectively, of the communest diseases in area

Fifty two cases of rubella occurred and gamma globulin was given to 19 pregnant women who were exposed to this disease

One isolated case of dysentery occurred in February and 12 further cases occurred in the Hinton area in November and December

Seven hundred and forty nine students were tuberculin tested during the year and 36 adults, and of these 35 students and nine adults ie 4.5 per cent, and 16 percent respectively were positive

In the third quarter of the year a mass x ray survey was carried out throughout the Health Unit area. Five cases of active tuberculosis were discovered out of 8,978 persons x rayed.

High birth rate noted in Edson Health Unit report

The annual report of the Edson Health Unit notes that the high birth rate in the area continues at the rate of 38 4 births per 1000 of the population. this figure being the same as the rate recorded in 1958

Other statistics record that the infant mortality rate of 26 6 deaths per 1000 live births is the lowest since the Health Unit's inception

The general death rate was once again very low at 4.6 deaths per 1000 of population Accident deaths claimed the lives of five children and nine adults.

Two hundred and eighty two Well Baby Clinics were held during the year There were some 8,647 attendances, an average of just under 30 per clinic The number of new attendances fell slightly over the previous year This number closely approximated to the number of new borns in the area during the year. The coverage of most infants and pre school children is to all intents and purposes complete

The routine scheduled immunization program and other services were carried out as planned during the year In addition for the first time a dental program was offered to all grade 1 children.

The School Health service has evolved over the past three years with addition of nurses and the evaluation and re-alignment of others. The role of the public health nurse is central to the effective functioning of this service.

CLINIC SERVICES

The following points are features of the service as offered.

The public health nurse has an overall responsibility for both pre-school and school children and for all phases of public health concerning these groups.

Home visiting is an essential part of the service in the follow up and correction of defects, making advice available to the parents, and in the broad field of health education

The contact of the nurse with children of the same family whether at school or pre school during the course of home visiting, at well baby clinics in their different set ups, in child health conferences gives her a more comprehensive picture of these children and of the family group This multipurpose role enhances her understanding of an family in dealing with any public health problem which may arise

The following procedures were carried out in the 1960 program vision testing, grades 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 11, hearing testing, grades 1 and 2 (others in ten testing grades 1 and school leavers (9 10 11 12) haemoglobin and urine analysis when necessary medical of school health exams, grade 1

Co-operation with the rural school teacher and school principals is good The teacher and public health nurse as experts in their own fields are mutually striving to benefit the student This co-operation is reflected in the nurse teacher conference where individual problems are discussed. The teachers reveal the benefits and results of students in grades 1 to 8.

Guidance clinics first started in 1960.

The Penicillin Prophylaxis program was started by the provincial department of health in 1959.

1960 saw the introduction of the preventive dental health program This is to be expanded in the coming year

Hearing testing was started in the schools in 1960

A register of handicapped students was set up in 1958 and at the present time the question of the provision of residential facilities for certain groups of physically handicapped children in the area is under consideration by the provincial government

MENTAL HEALTH

A guidance clinic was held at Hinton in May when four students were seen and a further clinic was held in Edson in November where two of four children seen were from Brazeau Valley. The need for more extensive coverage in this field is vital and a maximum program of one or two visits per year at each larger centre of population namely Drayton Valley Edson and Hinton would be of some help in both ing the problem more realistically

A total of 63 pre natal classes were held with some 271 attendances during the year.

A total of 1,346 home visits were made during the year.

In addition 150 visits were made to the hospitals at Drayton Valley, Edson and Hinton and 318 mothers were seen during these visits

There has been a general improvement in the environmental hygiene field during the year

The provision of additional water supplies and sewage disposal systems in several municipalities is to be highly commended

LEGISLATION

Early in 1960 provincial board of health regulations governing trailer coaches and trailer court parks were amended to make them more exacting and comprehensive than hitherto Now parks now require more space per trailer site Each trailer site must have a sewer and water riser by August 1961 and play ground space is introduced as a legal requirement

Provisions are made for the setup of camping trailer parks where the local health authority is satisfied that there is a need for such parks In addition tourist trailer coach parks could be set up where longer visits may remain for periods up to five days. In these operating and trailer coach park operations certain setups are given by a more comprehensive picture of these children of the family group This

MILK SUPPLY

The Edson Dairy which supplies milk to the health unit area, closed down during the year as a processing plant Pressure with new high temperature pasteurizing equipment is now concentrated at Evansburg During the installation and early operation period of the new plant many problems were encountered who affected the quality of the milk, this arising in many communities. These have now been resolved and there is now greater satisfaction with the final product Complaints are now almost entirely eliminated and sales are increasing New milk carton containers were introduced at the close of the year The health unit played a large part in the changeover from the old process to the new

At the end of the year there were one processing plant, three distributor's premises and 26 producer's premises registered with the health unit

Five milk shippers were suspended for a period because of poor quality milk

RESTAURANTS

At the end of 1960 a total of 20 restaurants were operating in the health unit area Eleven of the businesses changed hands during the year Generally there is satisfactory to good standards prevailing though occasional difficulties arise

Licensed premises there are four in the area and one liquor outlet in the area. During the year the Memorial branch of the Legion closed down and the Edson Hotel burned down By the end of the year construction of a new hotel in Lodge pole was well under way Extensive alterations were carried out in the Drayton Valley Hotel when it became the liquor outlet in the area

Food Premises seven camp plants were lodged on six ground food and in each case in co-operation with the Federal Food and Drug inspector from Edmonton satisfaction was given the complainant

Trailer parks etc In the health unit area there are 18 parks A report on trailer coach parks in Hinton was submitted to the town council at their request

Cabin Court was closed and vacated because of continued failure to remove unsatisfactory conditions

LODGING CAMPS

Logging and pulp wood camps essential to Hinton's well being have public health problems associated with them The large camps supplying pulpwood to the Hinton Mill enjoy good sanitary facilities but this is not so with the numerous small private operators It is felt that the only effective method of improving standards is to require all camps to register with the Government Department requiring them being subject to inspection by a health authority or per haps a setup similar to that controlling restaurant operations would suffice In this was the location of camps would be known and inspections could be arranged

One operation was prosecuted for contravening Public Health Regulations and found guilty on each count The fault in one of thirty three dollars was handle a deterrent to good operations though this particular camp did close down

SEWAGE DISPOSAL

During the year the problem of the inadequate of Edson's sewage disposal system was realistically tackled and plans were drawn up that the problem could be resolved Representations from Edson town council and staff the Division of Sanitary Engineering and the health unit are all involved in providing a satisfactory disposal system for Edson

Items of public health interest during 1960 were as follows:

Opening of the Hudson Mans ional Hospital

Opening of the Evergreen Foundation at Edson as part of the Provincial Government's program for the provision of accommodation for the aged

Opening of the new Town Hall at Drayton Valley in which the new Health Unit offices are situated

Introduction of the Health Unit Dental Health Program

Introduction of a new immunization schedule

The introduction of sand traps on a sewage system at the junction against dispersal into Athabasca, result being an oil and polluted to Tri and lead have been abandoned

The institution of the Provincial Department of Health and Welfare of a new system of follow up in cases of poliomyelitis

A series of Public Health Nurse Physician clinics taken by the Director of Public Health Nursing

A start is made upon the establishment of a Mental Health unit at Hinton as a first step in ascertaining whether or not there is any out patient problem in Hinton It will be some time before results are available

During the year the health unit investigated a number of outbreaks of illness, the most outstanding of which was a contaminated well water at Entrance The date of each outbreak is over per cent due to the latter number of cases in well throughout the area and the main drain on the area

The Edson School District Custodial Training School was held in Edson in December The health inspector participated in the training course

At the request of the Department of Public Welfare a report on the Hudson Bay garden was submitted inspection conditions

Only one complaint was received during the year re pest in schools in 1960

Drayton Valley Edson and Hinton town councils carried to a health unit recommendation that all businesses be inspected and reported on by the health unit when the annual town licenses are issued Two inspections by the Health Inspector in 1960 were

Whitecourt to hear about processing plant

Calgary Plan for construction and operation of a natural gas processing plant in the Whitecourt area will be discussed at a public meeting to be held in the district August 10th it was announced this week. Area residents have been invited to attend a discussion forum sponsored by the Whitecourt Chamber of Commerce with the co-operation of the Alberta Division, Canadian Petroleum Association.

The meeting will be held in the Whitecourt school auditorium at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday August 10th. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

The gas plant, which will process natural gas from the Windfall Beaver Creek and Pine Creek fields is expected to be ready for operation sometime before the end of this year. Processed gas from the plant will be delivered to Alberta and Southern Gas Co. Ltd. for transmission to the California market.

The public forum was created to acquaint district residents with this new industry in the community and to outline what it will mean to the area. Topics to be discussed will include field and plant construction and operation and pipeline industry. Speakers representing various companies will be on hand to talk on these subjects and to answer any questions regarding them.

The Oratorical Contest starts from the local contest [illegible] then the [illegible] to the Canada or the International Oratorical Contest.

These boys were but four of the approximately 30,000 who competed in various club contests and the 1,278 boys who represented their clubs in zone and district contests held during the past year. Optimist who attended the final session in the jammed parked convention center at Las Vegas reluctantly to the excellence of these four boys speeches.

Federal loan for sewer project

[illegible] Alberta and Edmonton must make it possible for a municipality or [illegible] municipal sewerage corporation for the purpose of assisting in the construction or expansion of a sewage treatment project. A project must be part of an overall plan for the construction or prevention of water and soil pollution.

For work completed on or before March 31, 1962, CMHC may forgive repayment of 25 per cent of the principal amount of the MIA loan and 25 per cent of the interest that has accrued or has been paid in respect to the loan as of the date of completion of the project.

Shower for bride-elect

Miss Dora van der Walt was guest of honor at a shower Wednesday evening held at the home of Mrs. Thiem. Hostess for the evening was Margaret Thiem.

The fourteen guests present enjoyed an evening of [illegible] games. Many lovely gifts were presented to the bride-to-be for which she graciously thanked the guests. A delicious luncheon was served.

RODEO TAKES OVER THE DISTRICT

Of all the pictures we have in this issue, the one at the left typifies the Tri Service Rodeo in this 50th Anniversary year in Edson's history.

Harry Vold, the stock contractor, frames the shot of the RCAF jets in their flypast to remind us of the competent attractions which took place in the Stampede arena. The aircraft typify the bigness of the overall affair.

Big names — a federal cabinet minister and the premier of our province — scads of mayors, our own MLA and MP, and other official and unofficial personages. Big crowds at the gate and huge crowds lining the parade routes both days.

More people were involved in making the Rodeo possible than probably any other event in Edson's history. The two parades alone had at least a thousand people to make them possible, when we consider the scores of bandsmen, riders, walkers and those behind the scenes making the dozens of floats.

As our readers turn through the pages that follow we hope you too will like the pictures of the big days we have picked. It was impossible to get shots of everything, but we have delayed the paper long enough to get engravings of the most typical.

Visitors entertained at numerous Rodeo events

More visitors than Edson has ever seen were entertained on a variety of ways during the big two-day Rodeo festivities that extended from Thursday afternoon, August 3, to Saturday night, August 5. The majority of the visitors thoroughly enjoyed themselves at the multitude of Rodeo events at the grounds and watching the two big parades. Attendance at the Rodeo grounds is estimated at over 7000, including paying students, but not children for the two big days.

The official visitors such as Trade Minister Geo. Hees and Premier E. C. Manning were special guests at a civic reception Friday evening that took the form of a barbecue in the arena. The Chamber of Commerce entertained with a buffet luncheon in Sacred Heart Church basement Friday noon and at the Commodore banquet room the night before.

Public visitors came Edson's way with the walk of the Two Seats paper. Here the city during the week the visits of the two prominent political figure. Mr. Manning and Mr. Hees. Most of the mayors who intended to come actually did come. Weyburn and Lundy who learned of the Rodeo in the city were named Deputy of the Week and Lunds from Sutherland received similar treatment.

Friday and Saturday morn[illegible] ing's parades were really some[illegible] thing to behold. Many hun[illegible] dreds of hours were spent by district people, civil service personnel (in their own time) and business firms on making this year's parade the biggest and best to date.

Music for "The Edson Story" expected soon

Word has just been received from Mrs. Ringwood of Williams Lake B.C. author of historical musical which is being specially written for Edson 50th celebration.

Mrs. Ringwood is now in Victoria completing production notes with Mr Chet Lambert-on music composer for the show.

When completed script and musical score arrive in Edson, tryouts and castings will take place in order to begin rehearsal early in September.

All in Edson and district who sing and act and would enjoy taking part in the show are asked to watch for announcement of date and time and place when tryouts and casting will take place.

No Leader for a week

As usual, each summer, we skip one issue of The Leader and have a week's holiday, whether we need it or not.

Although there will be gap of a week in your paper we'll be back with all the news next week.

This issue is held up a couple of days so we could get as many Rodeo pics in as possible.

Rodeo in retrospect

The captains and the near kings have departed leaving our town and district with a pleasant memory of surging crowds such as our town has seldom since at least since the time we were visited by royalty a few years back

What strikes us most is the immense competence that our local rodeo committee have built up in a comparatively few years. Already after such a short time there are experts in their particular brand of committee work in the tremendous organizational job such a community project takes.

A combination of it being our 50th Anniversary as a town and several promotional gimmicks, such as the two pipers walking from the city really caught the imagination of people outside our district for the first time.

For people who like change because the sense of participation they can get by jetting on a few western duds there is certainly nothing this town has seen to beat it. As Premier Manning said "It's refreshing to have a community originate its own entertainment in stead of asking the government to do it for them."

We know the whole district joins us in saying that it was grand to have so many visitors in our midst for our annual western fling.

TRADE MINISTER George and Mrs. Hees arrive Thursday evening at the Edson strip and are met by Pipe Major Hunnisett, Peter Serdiuk, Paul Jacobs, Deputy Mayor W. Mills, Dr. Lewis, Jim Griffiths and Drummer Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Hees were driven into town in a stage provided through the courtesy of Edson Motor Co.

CAPITOL REPORT

Not so many birds this year

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON Premier Manning will be off to Ottawa at the end of this month hoping to arrange things so Alberta won't be forced into a special fall session of the legislature. If the government has to call the House into session this fall it will be to pass legislation needed to implement the new federal provincial tax agreement which is scheduled to go into effect in 1962.

But the odds are against it. Mr. Manning said last week he has "no intention" of calling a fall session "unless such action is required by Ottawa." What the premier has in mind is passing the necessary legislation during the regular session next year, and making it retroactive to January 1 which is the start of the income tax year.

Under the new setup, Ottawa will refund to the provinces 10 per cent of personal income tax and 9 per cent of the corporation tax collected. For the average taxpayer it probably won't make any difference because the new rates which will best suit the portion of the tax the federal government has claimed and will continue to collect on behalf of the provinces. The total possession limit is reduced to 10 from last year's 21.

The limit on geese which nest in the far north where there is plenty of water remains unchanged at five daily and a total of 10 in possession. Duck hunting will open September 9 and run until Nov 30 in the extreme north of Alberta. For the rest of the province the season will run from September 11 to December 15.

The shortage of water in prairie potholes this spring and summer forced many pairs of adult ducks to forego breeding. As a result this year's batch is down drastically. And Alberta hunters aren't the only ones affected. Sportsmen all over North America will be facing the pinch because the western waters make up the breeding area for most of [illegible] duck population.

Hunters may take some consolation from the fact that upland game bird limits will be fairly generous this year. The bag limit on Hungarian partridge is 10 daily with a possession limit of 40. High Octane

A Short Snort by Timber McCracken

To amuse myself on long trips I have a little question which I ask the service station attendants. When they say "Regular or Premium, Sir?" I always reply "What is the octane rating of the Premium?"

From the young I almost always get the same answer, namely, "Huh?" and the look on their face is either the blank stare of utter imbecility or a look of loathful weariness that seems to say "What kind of crackpot are you?"

From the older I get a rounded "I don't know" or "They never tell us." But many tell me that the octane rating is seventy or six ninety and the second grade is always ten points less. Almost invariably

I pulled into a very large service station in one of our larger cities and spotting a pair of pumps over to one side I parked beside them and waited. Since they were very busy and no one was concern ed about my presence I decided to fill my tank myself. Just as I was going to trip the trigger a voice bellowed "Hey You! That's diesel!"

Feeling foolish I replaced the hose and drove to the pump over which hellowed Bill presided. As I turned off the ignition he sprang a new one on me. "What blend, Sir?"

My mouth hung open and I offered a tentative "Huh?" Then I caught on. This was some sort of promotion or a gala opening of this camp fusion place, or perhaps, I was their ten millionth customer so I said "If it is all the same to you I'll have Hair & Hair."

I guess this was not the correct answer for he granted a heehaw grin and said "Hair blend or gas do you want."

Then I looked at the pump. It was the darndest pump I ever saw. There were counters, fractions, decimals and digits to confuse a professor of all rules and behind the insides crust that must have lurked a miniature Univac. There was a hose protruding from each side and a small crank to alter the position of the indicator. The attendant then explained that I could have regular or premium or any fraction al blend by tenths. Many motorists blended their gas he said. Feeling that I would now solve the riddle of the octane rating of commercial gasoline I asked him for the information I desired. From the expression on his face I knew he did not know. But he told me just the same. "The regular is ninety and the premium is one hundred."

Of course it was unnecessary able that the resplendent column of chrome and enamel could dispense anything less. So, seeing the indicator was at premium, I asked for regular just to make him wind the knobby across the dial. Ninety was to value was better than the seventy or eighty octane premium I usually purchase.

But seriously why is it that no service station attendant or bulk station operator knows what kind of gasoline he is selling. The principle of octane rating is not a complex thing and I believe that I am entitled to know what I am getting for my money. Or can it be that octane rating is not constant? If it is not, then it follows that I sometimes get regular when I am paying for premium or is there no difference

Campsite growth major influence on tourists here

The tremendous number of campers in Alberta these past few years has been encouraged by and responsible for, the marked increase in the number of Alberta roadside campsites.

As of April 1 there were 171 campsites erected by the Al berta Department of Highways with a matching grant outlay of $407,234 plus an additional non-matched $61,033. There were 20 provincial parks and the some $680,000. There were 20 campsites set up by the Eastern Slopes Conservation Board at a cost of some $83, 481.

In addition to the above 208 campsites there were an additional 28 camps erected in the national parks by the federal government, to make a grand total of 236 campsites in Alberta.

Air Parcel Post rates cut by post office

Reductions averaging ap proximately 17 per cent in domestic air parcel post rates were announced July 6th, by Postmaster General William Hamilton. This is the first general revision of air parcel post rates since the inception of the service more than eight years ago. Rates on in ternational air parcel post will also be cut, in the first general revision of these rates since 1952.

In making the announce ment Mr Hamilton referred to the rate cuts as a step ping forward in operating an efficient long-haul post ser vice. He explained that the new rates reflect a greater increase in lease air costs of mail transportation, and that the Post Office was passing this saving on to the shipping public.

The Postmaster General said his department felt that because of the vast distances involved in the building of a Canadian parcel post, it was necessary that air transporta tion be made an economical and as efficient as possible. He felt that the new, more at tractive rate would result in an increase in volume for this type of postal service.

The new domestic rates were scheduled to go into ef fect September 1st. The new international rates would pro bably be in operation in Aug ust, Mr Hamilton said.

AS I SEE IT

Reverend E. HURD — Pastor

From Louisiana comes the information that the oil industry spends $14,000.00 per hour helping to keep motor ists on the right roads by for mulating them with highway maps.

Home maps, we are told cost up to $30,000 even before they are sent to the printers.

One oil spokesman said that much money was spend to make sure the maps were kept up to date with the lat est road changes.

Some of the larger oil com panies provide as many as sixty different maps.

The proper use of maps has saved travellers much money, time, effort and dis appointment.

A careful motorist wants to know what route to follow to his destination. And if a choice can be made, he wants to know which road is the shorter, or the more scenic. He also wants to know what condition the road is in. In fact he wants to know all he can and should know about the road on which he is tra velling.

The Bible says, "The wisdom of the prudent is to un derstand his way." Proverbs 14 8

With all the maps there are to be had free of charge, it would be the height of folly for a traveller to say "I don't know where I'm going."

We are all travellers. We are travelling from time to eternity, but do we all know where we are going?

When the Lord Jesus talked about going to the Father's house, the place of many mansions, to prepare a place for his own, the Apostle Thomas asked, "How can we know the way?" The Lord replied "I am the way, the truth, and the life, no man cometh unto the Father but by Me." (John 14 6

Here is simplicity matters when a traveller knows there is only one way between the place where he is and the place to which he desires to go. Such is the way to Heaven.

It is time or time to look at the treasures around us and all the treasures around the world today. Of eternal glory, to the deserts destination, there is only one Way and that is the Lord Jesus Christ. Neither is there salvation in any other for there is none other Name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4 12).

PO encourages "Printed in Canada" mailings

Changes in postal regula tions designed to discourage a misleading appearance of Canadian origin on foreign printed and advertising mat erial brought to Canada for mailing were announced re cently by Postmaster General William Hamilton.

Under existing postal regu lations, to avoid placing post age stamps on each of many identical pieces of printed ad vertising material, bulk post age may be paid at the time of mailing. A permit obtain ed from the Post Office is printed on the envelope as an endorsion that this has been done. Such permits are term ed "postage paid in cash."

In somewhat similar fash ion "business reply stamps" are made available to prepay postage on business reply post cards. Until the present, no restrictions had been plac ed on the use of these special permits for material printed outside Canada. Under the new regulations, which go into effect October 1, the Post Office will no longer make available either type of per mit for materials printed abroad for mailing in Canada.

In announcing the change, Postmaster General Hamilton said that in the past some foreign advertisers had used Canadian postage paid to mail their printed material at low rates designed to give their material a "made in Canada" appear ance. The inclusion in foreign periodicals and advertising materials of business reply cards bearing Canada Post Of fice permit numbers had heightened this impression, he said. In future, the post office will decline to issue such electros to foreign pub lishers or advertisers unless written assurance is furnish ed that the electro will be used only on mail matter printed in Canada.

The change in regulations resembles with a recent an nouncement by the Post Office Department that effective August 1, the postage rate on foreign publications mailed in Canada would be increased from an average of about two and one-half cents per pound to a flat rate of five cents a pound.

Passes away at 95 years

Word was received of the death of Mrs Rebecca Whidden of Viking Alberta at the age of 95 years. Mrs Whidden is the mother of Mr Karl Whid den and Mrs Cecil Aylif of Edson.

She has visited the Aylif and Whidden families numerous times over the past years and has made a number of friend in the town and district.

A grand old lady Mr. Whid den was a great letter write and kept in almost weekly touch by letter with various members of her family. She had suffered a broken hip while visiting at Edson about two years ago but was de termined to get well enough to go home and look after her self again. She did this and was home for several months prior to her death.

Coffee Break

Hello again. All set for a real fine pair of forty winkers? Cup of coffee or what have you and some ideas from your fellow homemakers? We weren't snowed under with suggestions but here are a few that were sent in to share with you

Have you ever tried painting a number of pair of small kiddies bathing suits together with a safety pin before putting them in the washing machine? It saves ending up with half pairs. I know a young mother who said she has to call the repairman periodically to take her washer apart and take out those safety pins.

This is a hint that is put on in household columns all over the country, but bear repeating again. It was phoned in by someone whose special bugbear is to see a beauty with its bristles all pushed in to a lopsided point because it was left standing on its business end. She pointed out that it is just as easy to lean it against the wall with the hair or bristles up and that the broom will have a longer more efficient life if handled in this way.

The last one this week sound delicious but fattening! It has to do with frosting and frostings. Phone it in by a cook who is famous among her friends for her delicious cakes and pastries. Often are we so tasted them! Her suggestion that one don't forget responsible of baking powder added to meringue will prevent it from beading when the pie is cut. She added that the same amount of baking powder added to cake frosting also makes a big improvement.

See you in two weeks for another "Coffee Break."

Bank releases booklet on farm safety

A booklet designed to help [illegible] farm life as much has been released by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. The booklet reports that more than half of all farm accidents happen to farm people in the home or near it and that one fourth of all accidents occur in July and August and that about one member of every fourth farm family in Canada is an accident victim.

Based on the results of two of the bank's farm accidents the booklet illustrates, the when, where and how" of farm accidents and urges Canadian farm people to work harder at reducing the farm accident rate which is one of the highest in Canada.

Nearly a third of all farm accidents occurred between 2 and 4 p.m. the booklet says. The farmyard and farm build ings are the most dangerous places for farmers. farm fields come next and then the public highways.

The booklet illustrates the 20 most common farm accident hazards and points out that in each the individual worker, the farmer makes his own safety rules and is the only one who can see that they're followed.

You the farm operator of course must be the planning engineer or overhead supervisor for your self and your family" the booklet says.

Free copies of the booklet are obtained at any branch of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce or from the bank's head office 25 King Street Toronto.

Edson swimmers win ribbons at Devon

Seven swimmers from the Edson Swimming Club gave a good account of themselves at the Devon swim meet on Aug ust 7.

The meet was held in conjunction with the Devon Sports Day and had swimmers from Devon Peonka Fort Saskatchewan, Jasmital Vegreville, as well as Edson, competing.

Wayne Garding won two second place ribbons for Edson. He finished second in the Boy's 15 and 16, 100 yard free style event and then finished second in the Boys' 13 and 14, 50 yard free style, missing first place by only one tenth of a second.

Peter Dupre finished in the Men's 100 yard free style with an excellent time of 1 05. He also collected a second place ribbon in the men's breast stroke race

Joanne LoBallo won a third place ribbon in the girls' 50 yard breast stroke race Trisha Mahon, Simone Gornettie, Louis Stupar and Ted Green also did very well but finished out of the prizes.

The Swimming Club would like to thank Mrs. L. Mahon and Mr. Tom Wrigley for their help in providing transportation to Devon.

Last week's attendance at the pool was 1,261 persons which is an excellent figure when it is remembered that the pool was closed both days of the Edson Rodeo

This Week's Water Safety Hint:

Always condition your body to the temperature of the water before going in swimming. This is done by splashing the wrists, then over the heart and back of the neck This will prevent sudden shock to your body when entering cold water

New well promises solve Town water problem

The new well being developed near the east railroad crossing promises to solve Edson's water problems for the near future if the early promise it now looks up to the regular pumping rate Town Council was told Tuesday, August 1.

At least two of the Town's older wells are showing erratic bacteria counts and public health authorities are being contacted to find the cause.

Immediate steps were taken by the meeting to engage a competent professional engineering service for the examination of the whole town water system with a view to correcting any existing faults that may permit contamination. Action on consultants for the proper treatment will be asked in due course.

Little Britches Rodeo Sept. 2

As a secondary rodeo attraction in the district, the Edson Legion Service Club are sponsoring a half day Little Britches Rodeo to be held Saturday, September 2.

Little Britches Rodeos are becoming quite popular in many rural centres across Alberta as well as neighbouring provences and the States. They give boys and girls under sixteen years of age a chance to try their hand at rodeo events that are thrilling but lacking in most of the dangers that their adult counterparts face with the professional type of stock used.

The first little britches rodeost will feature first, second and third place trophies and awards in seven events they include calf roping, 12 years and under, stake race, open boy or girl, girls barrel race, open, pony race open, steer riding, 12 to 16 years, boys' barrel race open, and saddle race, 12 years and under.

Entry forms may be obtained at Bud's IGA 46th Street, Mahon Electric or by writing Box 975, Edson. The forms must be signed by a parent or guardian and have a one dollar entry fee enclosed for each event entered and must be in the hands of Mr. Fred Sparks at [illegible] by noon Saturday, August 26th. Late entries may be either handed in to Mr. Sparks at [illegible] or [illegible] Box 975 Edson.

[illegible] will be lined up for the half day event. Contestants should be at the rodeo grounds west of Edson by 12.30 p.m. so that they can be organized before the 1.00 p.m. opening.

Interspersed with the junior [illegible] will be [illegible] Sparks [illegible] and other [illegible] Edson [illegible] Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Their [illegible] and anticipated [illegible] rodeo fans and spectators.

Edson Open draws several outside entries

The Edson Golf Club men's fourth annual open tournament was held on August 20th. A total of 69 entries, including competitors from Barrhead, Drayton Valley, Edmonton and Calgary ensured the success of the day.

[illegible]

The tournament is becoming better known each year and the fine state of the course has greatly contributed to the enthusiasm of the visitors who plan on it. Many excellent comments were heard on the playing conditions.

Added to this one of the hottest days of the year which sent the mercury soaring up about to the nineties and the stage was set for a grand day's golf.

There were only three scores of 60 and under in the qualifying round. The low qualifier was P. Wells with a fine 38. The match play rounds in the championship and first flights produced some thrilling finishes even though the golf suffed a little in the hot mid afternoon. Three local golfers I. Lewis, J. Switzer and P. Wells qualified for the championship flight as did Dan Wakael. Doug Wakael and Norm Wakael all of Barrhead and J. Beady of Edmonton and Jim Wilson of Drayton Valley.

The final between young Doug Wakael of Barrhead and 16 year old high school student J. Beady produced some fine golf.

Doug Wakael's final round was the honeyd of the day. The final went to the last green as the darkness came on the green was lit by lightning.

A tie was a worthy finish to a fine day. The consolation of the championship flight was unfinished due to the dark ness.

The winners of the flights are as follows Championship,

Completes third fireman course

Deputy Fire Chief Bill Cush of the Edson Volunteer Fire Department has returned from a third year's training school for fire officers held at Calgary.

Mr Cush has attended the two previous courses that lead to this final course on the latest techniques in modern fire fighting.

All the modern equipment of the Calgary department as well as their training officers were made available for the school and Bill reports the course was very instructive.

Optimist Little League playoffs start Tuesdays

Waterloo Motors and Mahon Electric started the Little League four team playoffs on Tuesday August 22nd, with Mahon Electric winning a tough one 9 to 8. This is a best of three series and the second game will be played Saturday, August 26th, at 6.30 p.m. in Memorial Park. If a third game is necessary, this will be played on Tuesday, August 29th at 6.30 p.m. in Memorial Park.

Civil Service and Knights of Columbus start their best of three game series today. Thursday August 24th. The second game will be played on Monday August 28th and if a third game is necessary, this will be played on Wednesday, August 30th.

The winner of the series between Waterloo and Mahon and the winner of the series between Civil Service and the Knights of Columbus will meet on Thursday August 31st. The second game will be played Tuesday September 5th with the third game, if necessary will be played on Thursday September 7th.

All playoff games start at 6.30 and will finish at approximately 8.30 p.m. and will be held at Memorial Park. All parents and interested sport fans are urged to attend all games. No admission charge of 25 cents is being charged and the proceeds will go towards buying the trophies for the playoffs series.

The winning team will be presented the Dale Common Cup trophy upon winning the playoffs.

Back to schedule

We've had a bit of a time getting our pictures back on time from the engravers the last couple of issues but we've nearly got the Leader back on schedule.

Our all too short week's holiday has refreshed us a bit so we'll be back in stride next week.

We were pleased this week to learn that The Leader had been awarded third prize for the best news picture of the year by the announcement from the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Convention in Halifax of awards for newspapers all across Canada. Our winning picture (above left) was of the Odin Field kiddies looking at their poisoned pet last fall.

The citation by the judges in the cross-Canada competition reads "For a front page four column spread showing two tearful youngsters at the side of their dying dog - the latest victim of a pet poisoner. The picture hardly needed outlines, it doesn't look posed and it has pathos. Apart from its tear-jerker message it has all the elements of the old tried and successful pattern of kids and pet.

Our photographer was the then Miss Gretche Gilman (now Mrs Stan Sulek) who handled the shot as a routine Leader picture story.

Optimists install Jim Reil as new prexy

The Optimist Club of Edson had the pleasure of installing Mr Jim Reil as President for the following term of 1961/62 at their meeting on Monday August 21

Optimist Jim will take over this position well qualified, as his activities with the boys work and community projects have been very varied.

Jim and Kay came to Edson several years ago from Ab [illegible] where Jim was employed by Trans Mountain Pipe Line and transferred to our fair town.

Music was Jim has had a very colorful career playing with some of the leading music makers on the West Coast and has entertained many people in the Edson area with his fine accordion playing

For the past two years Jim has acted as chairman for Youth Appreciation Week sponsored by the Optimist Club. Through his guidance this has proven to be a very successful early event bring- ing to light the fine teenagers we have in our midst

Little hockey baseball fan for minute dasebee rudets hockey Little Britches Rodeo are a few of the time consum- ing efforts that has entered into the life of Optimist Jim in his dedication to being a Friend of the Boy

High productivity and low production costs are essential to profitable farming. Neither can be attained by using old-fash- ioned methods and obsolete machinery. The only way they can be achieved is by utilizing modern methods and up-to-date farm machinery.

Massey-Ferguson machines and implements are helping farmers the world over to make their particular farming operation more profitable by doing more work at less cost.

Why the dilly-dallying

Are the people of Edson to get the run-around again? A letter received by the Edson Chamber of Commerce from the Hon Gordon Taylor would make it appear so.

I have heard that there is now some uncertainty in the development in the Windfall area and consequently the entire matter is being reviewed. There is some indication that we may be ill advised to run those 18 miles of road Mr Taylor in his letter

Whether or not there is uncertainty around the actual plant at Windfall is not the point as far as the people of Edson and district are concerned. There can be no denying that there is now development north of Edson and that there is going to be more

Are the people who live in the Edson area to be denied easier access to those jobs? To our knowledge there are right now at least thirty Edson district men working on the Windfall area. We can readily realize that the government should not build roads for a few people to go to what could only be temporary jobs. But temporary construction jobs can and do turn into permanent jobs as the installations are completed. Are Edson district people not to be in a competitive basis for these jobs?

The Edson Chamber of Commerce has been asking for action on this road for several years. Our MLA at first wouldn't recommend it as he thought a road was not warranted. Then last fall Mr Wilmore did recommend action. The result was a start on clearing last winter and work on a mile or two this summer

The people of Edson have never asked for anything but a passable road directly to the Windfall area. The history of this country shows that when a route is available and there is a need the shortest direct route to the large population centre gets used, whether it is rough or not

Apparently it has not yet been pointed out what should be obvious. Edson, insisting its suburbs is in the 5000 population class. We offer more in the way of shopping, entertainment and living facilities than any other community between here and Edmonton. This is proved every day of the week. There are for instance almost as many baby bonus cheques from the Windfall White-out area cashed in Edson stores as there are Edson cheques.

Edson is not a back water on the forestry maps that some of our legislators seem to think. We are a thriving district and town that realizes we must go beyond our boundaries to thrive and grow. Several businesses in Edson employing a dozen and more people each have grown up in the last few years and are founded on this very principle. As the trading hub that is Edson grows with the addition of more spokes there will be more jobs for Edson's sons and daughters in their home area.

There is not too much hesitation by the Department of Highways in improving market roads in the prairie parts of this province. This direct minimum road to Windfall is a market road for the people of this area and it should receive priority because of this fact

Japs test Alberta steel

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Alberta's hopes for establishment of an iron and steel industry will be furthered with a 200-ton shipment of 35-pound brapnels which will leave Vancouver aboard a Japanese steamer later this month.

The experimental shipment comes from iron ore mined in the Clear Hills region of the Peace River country. If Japanese steel companies find it satisfactory, it could lead to the building of a big new industry in the province.

Premier Ernest Manning announced the Japanese acceptance of the Alberta iron brapnels in the first hurdle the proposed project must clear. After that, though, there are a number of other. Reduction. For example the grade of the iron ore is low, and that means it must be extracted and transported as cheaply as possible. Premier is currently basing its hopes on development of a technique for shipping iron through a pipeline.

The Alberta Research Council has been working on the problem of shipping cellulo ore pipeline, and is on the verge of obtaining the extensive patents on processes developed here. If the project goes ahead, water probably would be used as the agent to carry the iron.

The pipeline would carry the iron as fine powdered form some 600 miles across the mountains to the Pacific Coast at Kitimat or Prince Rupert. There it would be processed into brapnels and loaded aboard ships. Within a few months Premier will be deciding whether to call in a firm of U.S. consulting engineers to study the feasibility of such a pipeline.

Plans call for the building of a plant with an initial capacity of 1,000,000 tons per year. It will employ about 700 persons, and create a new town of 2,500 to 3,000 people in the Peace River area.

One born every minute

There will always be suits on a percentage of people who are ready and willing to take advantage of their fellow men. We see them come into our district from time to time — and no matter how smooth their tongues, how apparently attractive their merchandise or logical their statements and proposals, there is little reason that we should allow ourselves to become their victims.

In the first place, practically all of the things they offer are available through sources of supply which we know to be reliable The local businessmen, the local carpenter or painter, the local merchants are prepared to look after your needs in a manner every time. If your roof leaks or your chimney needs fixing — if you need electrical appliances or want to have your pictures taken there is nearly always a local business, professional or working man who can look after your needs in a capable manner. In the vast majority of cases he expects to live here for a long time, and values your patronage and your goodwill. Generally speaking he will be very careful to retain both.

In any case, he is right here and if he does fail you, you can get after him and bring him to time. While it would be incorrect to say that all itinerants owe dishonest, the fact remains that some are. How are you going to decide? Why not make the decisions to entrust your business to the people who live in the community and help to make it grow and prosper?

Fulton: Tory Salesman

Justice Minister Davie Fulton is regarded as some quarters as a timid sort of lawmaker on the Parliamentary scene, mostly because of his supposed dislike of bringing controversial murderers. On the other side, he is regarded as a great businessmen justice minister, one who has bothered unnecessarily about pressing problems.

The changes in regard to the death penalty, the establishment of degrees of homicide, shorter treatment for criminal drug dealers, and so much on juvenile delinquency and prison reform have earned him honors of others.

When these are added up, the last becomes impressive and the thought remains that Davie Fulton has established very well to justice and social justice in Canada.

Curlers Fair Has Many Winners

By GEORGE COBB

HINTON

The 1961 edition of the Curling Club Fair is now a thing of the past, but before it is long forgotten we would like to express our appreciation to all who took an active part in making the weekend a success

The parade showed a definite improvement over last year both in the number and quality of entries. The Entrance Square Dancers were awarded the Trophy for the best float and the Athabasca Ranch, who added color and class to the parade were given honorable mention.

The Four Maids — Valley Hotel Bar Staff, a fine comedy entry, were in running for the honors until they broke down and had to drop out of the parade. Generally speaking the parade was one of the highlights of the weekend

The entries for the exhibition of home products were well up once last year and promises to grow with each year, as people see what is expected in this phase of the fair. It is very apparent that many new classes will have to be open to competition in the future. The many floral displays were beautiful and the handicrafts were somewhat of a work to be very proud of. The lovely flowers of Mr. and Mrs. Gallinger, placed for display purposes, were much appreciated and added to the beauty of the show. Mrs. Robb's amazed the many visitors to the display tent with her very fine vegetable entry, almost the work of a magician.

The Friday night ball game between the Old Timers and the Juveniles was again a big attraction with the Juveniles showing fine form to gain revenge for the defeat last year.

The field events of Saturday afternoon were fairly well attended and the possibilities of a full fledged field day are very good

A hearty vote of thanks to the many citizens who gave of their time in the operation of the games on the mid way and to the gentlemen who did the judging of yards, rabbits, horses and dogs

While the financial returns were a little disappointing this year, we feel that our fair could be built into a real community effort We are still making mistakes but we are slowly learning through experience A little more planning and a little more help and we could have a fair equal to any small town

Your MP Dr. Hugh Horner Reports

The Hon. Michael Starr, Minister of Labour has announced that the Federal Government intends to continue its assistance in encouraging municipalities to undertake Municipal winter work programs In his announcement he emphasized that the program would be broadened to include additional classes of projects Only school and hospital will be exempted All other projects will be covered

This program has worked well in the past two winters and has provided many thousands of jobs It has also encouraged municipalities to get those projects done in the slack employment period that is the winter months.

The plan covers projects and work done between the 15th of October and the end of April. Under it the Federal Government pays 50% of the labor costs. It is suggested that the province will again pay 25% of the labor costs.

An important part of Mr. Starr's announcement dealt with average programs being built under LMDT Those projects on which funds are obtained under part VIII of the National Housing Act will not be disqualified for that person receiving contributions from the Federal government under this program

District daughter wed at St. Catherine's Aug. 5

The St Catherines Anglican Church was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Elizabeth Bowd, daughter of Mr and Mrs Alexander Bowd of Prerry, Alberta, became the bride of John Martin Schmidt son of Mr and Mrs PH Schmidt of Lunderjutland, Denmark August 5 at 3 30 p m

Rev A L Hooper performed the marriage ceremony with Mrs Hooper playing the organ The church was decorated with shasta daisies gladiolas and fern

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor length dress of chantilly lace with a pouf veil short, featuring finger length sleeves and sweetheart neckline trimmed with pearls and sequins Her chapel length veil was held in place by a tiara of pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of red roses with streamers of buds Her only jewellery was a diamond and pearl earring and pendant a gift of the groom.

The bride's attendants were Misses Mary Dinan, Pat Crimin and Betty Ayers who were identical dresses with Miss Dinan as matron of honor and the two other attendants as bridesmaids

The groom's attendants were Mr Ivan Mortenson best man and Mr George Carstens and Mr Erling Sorensen

For her daughter's wedding Mrs Bowd wore a dress with matching jacket of rose imported dupponi gaze silk with a white hat of organdie with white accessories and a corsage of white and pink baby roses and carnations

The reception was held in the St Catherines Parish Hall for 80 guests Mr Fred Watkins proposed the toast to the bride which was ably answered by the bridegroom.

A wedding dance was held during the evening in the Peers Hall with music supplied by Perry Wells

Before leaving on their honeymoon to Vancouver Island and the USA the bride changed into a cocoa blue walking suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses

Out of town guests included Mr and Mrs. Fred Watkins Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watkins Jr., Mr and Mrs J Bell, Mr and Mrs. Prescott, Mr and Mrs Hansen, Mr and Mrs. Ivan Stefienren Miss H Sorensen, Mr and Mrs S Petersen and Mat. Miss B Larsen, all of Edmonton and Mr and Mrs G Watkins of Drayton Valley

The newlywed couple are to live in Edmonton

With the Churches

AS I SEE IT

Reverend E. HURD — Pastor

Rarely does a Christian stand or kneel the help of other Christians and rarely can he fall without injuring in some way the Christians associated with him. This is not surprising. If, as the apostle Paul writes in 1 Corinthians 12, "the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need for thee," then we ought to expect that the failure of one part of the Body would inevitably weaken other parts.

Recently we have been reminded that the influence of failure is no less real when a believers testimony began to a lower plane of Christian living than the one on which he might have lived.

Consider what happens when a Christian in the office or shop comes to work each morning without the joy which had previously marked his task, mostly the what follows when the busy Christian pursue succumbs to the pressures of va tious tasks neglecting daily fel lowship with the Lord" the what results when a pastor be comes so preoccupied with ser vice or advancement that his ours grow dull to the voice of God?

In each instance, the believ er first of all fails his Lord (Rom. 14:8) Yet its effect is most visible in its influence up on other Christians

Most Christians on the other side have been attracted by the believers testimony begin to wonder if there's anything to it. After all other members of the family who were follow the particulars of mother's or father's devotional life no less, or receive this help or profit from meeting on God. Most here of the congregation whose pastor feels are deprived of the nurture God would supply for His people

Such losses can never be made up. Nothing can take the place of the missed blessings which might have flowed through us. No amount of stretching toward what we ought to be can do for Christ's sake today will make up for the lost opportunities of the past.

There are no trances in the Christian warfare. Let the believer fight the best fight he can every day. He dare not let down for his own sake. For he can be rush doing less than his Christian best for the sake of his Lord and the world he ing of his fellow Christians.

THROUGH THE Study Window

By Rev. C. C. Armstrong

During the past two months I have enjoyed an unusual opportunity to combine both business and pleasure. This happened because I have been attending a summer course at Queen's University in Kingston. To give it the official title it has been "A Seminar on Pastoral Care."

The course covered Personality Development, The Interview Relationship, Problems of the Child, Adolescent the old and the aged, Marriage and the Church and Marital Problems, Alcoholism, addiction and treatment, The convert and criminality, and finally the minister as a psychotherapist.

The course was the lessonest part of the summer. It involved 18 hours a week of lecture and clinical periods on the various hospitals, prisons and children's and facilities available at Kingston. It extended over a six week's period.

The "pleasure" portion was the trip east itself by car and getting along the way. This took a full week both coming and going. We saw drought in the prairie provinces water in all the Great Lakes and in a multitude of lesser lakes, and an interesting variety of insects, animals and people.

We saw museums, lather and saw and sometimes swam, at least as far as the children were concerned. Particularly notable as museum pieces were the 3 act theory and Upper Canada Village. The younger members preferred the Fort and the old roads, but most appreciated out of Upper Canada Village. The latter is a reconstruction of a village about it's entirety, complete with churches and houses and assembling them all on one site. They are furnished according to their time mainly about 1850 and some old earlier.

These side trips were of special interest time was limited as a second by boat up the 1000 Islands, country and a third to Niagara Falls. Here we discovered the falls, compar ing the Americans with the Horseshoe Falls as to beauty, volume of water and chances of survival. Certainly it was nothing less than a miracle that a man, boy, wastrip, only enormous banks and ice jacket should have survived the awful fall of millions of gallons of water dropping some 180 feet onto hidden rocks and whirlpools below. The falls themselves are beautified and the paint shades of night mark more entrancing than the garish colors on the picture postcards.

It was a kind of unusual education and of unusual interest that does not learn all the answers, nor see all the points of interest. Always there are some questions that remain unanswered, some areas unvisited and some good friends bypassed enroute. However we privately ourselves very fortunate and grateful. And not the least reason for gratitude lies in the fact that others contributed their time, their talents and their willingness and zeal to maintain the worship and witness of the church. Both pastors and people served both from the United Church and from other churches. For all these things we are grateful. Truly God has richly blessed us.

Do you know your law?

THE VEHICLES AND HIGHWAY TRAFFIC ACT

There are quite a number of persons driving vehicles who commit infractions of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act through lack of knowledge of the Act, mainly due to the fact that they have never read it. Some of the more common infractions will be covered briefly in the hope that it may assist some individual from keeping out of trouble in the future.

Concerning Number Plates. Each vehicle must have the number plates attached one on the front and the other on the rear of the vehicle. The plates must be legible at all times and clearly visible and unobscured by parts of the vehicle or load. The plate must not be lower than the axle of the vehicle. Plates can only be used on the vehicle for which they are authorized. Two of the most common infractions are dirty plates and those obscured behind the rear bumper.

Headlamps and stop lights. Every motor vehicle shall have at least two headlamps affixed to the front of the vehicle. Trucks can only have two headlamps. The Act specifies the various requirements for headlamps but will be sufficient here to state that no motor vehicle manufactured after April 1st 1936, headlamps cannot project more than fifty feet unless less than twenty inches from the centre of the light to the ground when the vehicle stands unloaded.

The lights on both front reveal persons or vehicles at a distance of at least three hundred and fifty feet, and on low beam one hundred feet on low beam. A light must be visible at the distance of an approaching driver should be remembered that when a vehicle is following another vehicle at a distance within a distance of two hundred feet of the rear of the vehicle ahead the lights on the following car should be on low beam except when overtaking or passing.

All vehicles shall be equipped with a red tail light capable of being visible at a distance of five hundred feet from the rear. This also applies to trailers. The tail lights shall not be more than several inches and not less than twenty inches from the ground when the vehicle stands unloaded.

Lights on vehicles are required between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, or where atmospheric conditions are such that objects on the highway are not visible at a distance of three hundred feet.

Double ring ceremony unites local families

The St Catherines Parish Church was the scene of a pretty afternoon wedding when Kathleen Louise Custon, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs D M Custon, became the bride of Mr William E Lutzaik son of Mr and Mrs Wm Lutzaik of Edson on Saturday, August 12, at 5 o'clock.

The Reverend Father A L Hooper performed the double ring rites for the double ring ceremony, with the Rev Thordin at the organ.

The altar was banked with branched carnations and mums with fern and ferns were marked with ribbon tulle bows and lily of the valley.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was lovely in a floor length gown of white ribbon taffeta with lace and sequin inlaid down the front with lace and sequins accentuating the sweetheart neckline and full point sleeves. Her chapel length veil was held in place by a crown of pearls and aurora borealis and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white roses with streamers.

The matron of honor was Mrs Ronald Arnold and bridesmaids were Miss Jeanne Mijanovich and Miss Betty Custon sisters of the bride. All three wore identical dresses of royal blue and gold organza over taffeta with white insertion and sleeves of pearl crepe. They carried bouquets of white carnations Little Miss Brenda Custon, youngest sister of the bride was flower girl and wore a pink embossed taffeta with a pearl crown and white accessories. She carried a miniature tam bouquet of white carnations.

The groom's attendants were Robert Jay, best man, Don Lutzaik brother of the groom and Doug Custon brother of the bride. The ring bearer was Master Thomas Custon brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother wore a heavy lined sheath with matching jacket and silver green accessories and a corsage of orange yellow carnations.

For the occasion the mother of the groom chose a dress suit with white collar and cuffs with white accessories and pink carnations corsage.

A wedding supper was held in the St Catherine's Parish Hall for 50 guests with the Anglican W A catering. The bride's table was centred with the large four tiered cake made and decorated by the bride's aunt The toast to the bride was made by T E Johnson and ably answered by the groom. A dance was held in the Elk's Hall during the evening with Percy Wells and his orchestra providing the music.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Frank Wrombel and children Miss Jeanne Morin with Mr and Mrs Diachuk Mr Bill Pierce all of Edmon ton Miss Joan White and Miss Donna Thompson of Red Deer, Mrs A Weaver of Penticton B C

Far North fish delicacy for Western Canada

Fishing fishermen at Cambridge Bay haven't spent the summer the way most anglers spend it Fishing for fun

They're in business and shipping south their first 10,000 pounds of prime arctic char The char is arriving in Edmonton this week and a second 10,000 pound consignment is to follow

Cambridge Bay is Canada's most northern commercial fishing operation Northern Affairs Minister Walter Dinsdale said in Ottawa today "As a westerner, I am particularly pleased that establishment of this new fishery will bring Arctic Char to western Canada for the first time Hitherto it had been available to a very limited market mostly in eastern Canada

Now the char will be supplied to fish dealers from Winnipeg right through to the Pacific Coast You're most likely to meet it the first time as a featured fish delicacy in your best restaurants and hotels

I. D. road committee Hold special meeting

A meeting of interest to many people from Edson and the surrounding area was held August 16th at the office of the District Engineer It was a special meeting of the advisory committee of Improvement Districts 195 called to discuss progress on this year's road program and hear some special requests

The highlight of the meeting was a motion introduced by George Seibel of Pioneer, requesting the appropriation of $3,500.00 for the construction of a one half mile access road to eighteen new cottages at Bear Lake. The proposal brought on a strong debate and the recommendation passed only after two restrictive amendments were approved.

A report of progress on this year's road program was given by I D Foreman Wm Osborne He indicated that two miles of roads had been constructed and that with half the work completed the program can be achieved on schedule

The main projects yet to be done are three miles on the Grande Prairie Trail, three miles on the Edson North road and two miles north of Yates.

Roads are always of prime concern to residents of an Improvement District especially those living on Improvement District No 195 as the roads from Wolf Creek in the east to Hinton in the west and from south of McLeod River to north of Shunda Basin

Because the rural area is sparsely settled it does not have a council like other municipalities but its affairs are managed by various departments of the Provincial Government

As a substitute for a council the advisory committee has been organized to help the government officials work out the year's budget and plan the road program The representatives on the committee are elected at annual ratepayer's meetings

One man is elected from each of five areas Members of the advisory committee are A J Bergeron Edson Carlsbad McLeod Valley Elmer Foulsham Edson and C F B White Haddock

Government representatives attending the meeting were J Winne Department of Municipal Affairs J O Newsham Assistant District Engineer A Osborne I D Foreman and District Engineer T McGiver who acted as chairman for the meeting

Baptise 14 in Wolf Creek waters

The warm waters of Wolf Creek were chosen as the site for the baptismal service held on Sunday August 6th by candidates from the Christian Faith Mission in Edson and Wildwood Gospel Fellowship Mrs Aagreson's parents from Swift Current Saskatchewan were also baptized with the local believers making four born in all

Mr Tom Payne of Wildwood gave the message at the service following which he and Mr Bert Lind baptized each candidate by immersion with a prophecy going forth over each one as he was baptized

A truly blessed time was had by everyone attending as they observed each one who was obedient to the example of the Lord in the ordinance of baptism by immersion

Distribute fish guide book this summer

"Catch Them All From Coal Gate," a guide book to some of the best fishing spots in Southern and Central Alberta appears to be living up to its name.

The Calgary Aquarium distributed thousands of the booklets this summer, and many anglers now returning from fishing holidays report good catches as a result of following the guide book's advice.

Where catches were not satisfactory adverse factors such as poor fishing weather or an abundance of fish food in the ponds and streams may have been at least partially responsible according to Calgary Aquarium curator Elmar R Taylor.

Besides details accessible fishing waters and the type of fish usually taken there, the free booklet gives the angler road directions, camping and picnicking information, bait advice — and plenty of encouragement "The further upstream you go, the better the fishing is liable to be" is the suggestion to stimulate fishing 20 miles up Brat Creek while those who choose the highwood River are advised to "park the good looking spots and be patient, the fish are there in quantity."

For the angler who wants to take a good leisurely look at the fish he is after the Calgary Aquarium's game fish display offers ample opportunity to view in large fresh water tanks at the Aquarium located on Calgary Brewery grounds at 9th Ave & 12th St S E — are all types of game fish found in Alberta. They include rainbow and brown trout cutthroat and dolly varden brook trout lake trout pike perch walleyes and rocky mountain whitefish

And the fisherman who catches a big one is always welcomed if he returns to the Aquarium to show off his prize Recently a fisherman landed a seven pound trout near Banff but was unable to identify it When he took it to the Aquarium where Mr Taylor identified it as a Dolly Varden he was encouraged to enter the specimen in an international fish-catching competition Officials at the provincial fish hatchery adjacent to the Aquarium, verified the size and weight of the fish for official competitions

EDSON POLICE DEPARTMENT has added a speedtimer to its equipment to help control traffic. On hand for its first demonstration were Mayor W. R. Brunelle and Magistrate P. Keyes whom Chief J. MacDonald fellon. It gives you a one mile an hour break but that isn't much help if you're going 45 in a 25 mph zone and other members of the department tested the instrument in front of the SMA gate last week. P

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane — Women's Travel Authority

After a summer in the sun and wind your hair could take on the look of straw. Your best weekend treatment Here's how to set up a salon at home with right in your own garage Cars like some wardrobes complexions can't always take drastic cuts and hot water When you give yourself the full Carol you only need water and clean soap Hair particularly dirty and oily needs a little more help Rinse well in the water Then dry off the excess with a clean chamois skin If you is done, the job outside do it on the early morning or late after noon when sunlight can't wreak havoc with your hair If you've had the car at the beach all it does need a good cleaning and wax job Wash it with a sponge or soft cloth let it dry then rub it off With liquid car polish Polishing isn't necessary Clean the Chrome and with a sponge, good car chrom cleaner and protector Wipe it good and dry Don't stop your beauty operations with the car's exterior A thorough treatment with which broom vacuum cleaner and other gear is in order

It's a good idea to vacuum the car once a month to prevent excessive wear and deterioration of fabrics covers and flooring

Paperless towels end your chance of getting a flat Tip That's time But too many motorists have neglect these tires and this can lead to trouble particularly unnoticed wear

The major cause of tire wear are excessive speed underinflation neglected damage wheel out of alignment or unbalanced studs and stops

Here's how to diagnose tire trouble at the centre of the tread means underinflation excessive wear around outside edges under inflation individual tread wear on one side wheels out of alignment Cupped wear on one side wheels out of balance Feathered wear on one side of the tread wheels need balancing

Have tires properly inflated before starting your journey when they're cool Do not release air from hot tires

When driving on a very bad road slow down Also stop at this almost speed you want to damage your tires

If your car always carries a heavy load it's all right to add two to four pounds to every tire

Whitecourt meeting hears plans for Windfall plant

A recent public gas platform was held recently at Whitecourt under the co-sponsorship of the Alberta Petroleum Canadian Petroleum Association and the Whitecourt Chamber of Commerce.

Attended by an audience of well over one hundred and fifty citizens of Whitecourt and district, the meeting featured a panel discussion concerning plans for construction and operation of a natural gas processing plant at Windfall in the Whitecourt area.

The gas plant, which will process natural gas from the Windfall, Pembina Creek and Pine Creek fields is expected to be ready for operation on or about the end of this year. Processed gas from the plant will be delivered to Alberta and Southern Gas Co. Ltd. for transmission to the California markets.

The moderator was D. M. Mc... Donald, Manager, Canadian Western Natural Gas Co. Ltd. Division. Clark Oil & Refining President and R. A. Ledlaw Corporation, and the panel was: Plant Superintendent Pan Am...

Local Little Britches set for this Saturday

Details of arranging for the Little Britches Rodeo being held at the Rodeo Grounds Saturday afternoon have been tidied and the novel affair is expected to draw a good crowd to watch the youngsters try their hand with the rodeo events appropriate their age groups. Entries were still being received as we write this but an enjoyable program is assured for participants and spectators.

Little Britches Rodeos are becoming quite popular in many rural centres across Alberta as well as neighboring provinces and the States. They give boys and girls under sixteen years of age a chance to try their hand at rodeo events that are thrilling but lacking in most of the dangers that their adult counterparts face with the professional type of stock used.

The first little britches contest will feature first second and third place trophies and awards in seven events. They include: calf roping 12 years and under, stake race open boy or girl, girls barrel race open, pony race open steer riding 12 to 16 years boy, barrel race open and saddle race 17 years and under.

Entry forms may be obtained at Bell's IGA Store, Melvin Electric or by writing Box 875 Edson. The forms must be signed by a parent or guardian must have a one dollar entry fee enclosed for each event entered and must be in the hand of Mr. Carol Sparks by 7 p.m. on Wednesday 1st Entry forms may be obtained at Bell's IGA Store, Melvin Electric or by writing Box 875 Edson. The forms must be signed by a parent or guardian must have a one dollar entry fee enclosed for each event entered and must be in the hand of Mr. Carol Sparks by 7 p.m. on Wednesday 1st Entry forms may be obtained at Bell's IGA Store, Melvin Electric or by writing Box 875 Edson. P.M. Sizes up Weeklies

North America's weekly press a peculiar democratic product

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker sized up the weekly edition and his relation with the freedom of the press in a speech Tuesday August 15, at the Nova Scotian Hotel in Halifax during the Canadian Weekly Newspaper convention.

Pointing out that Halifax was the birthplace of Canada's first English language newspaper, the Diefenbaker traced Joseph Howe's defence in which he gained for all times, the rights of Canadian newspapers to assert their freedom in expressing opinions.

The weekly newspaper Mr Diefenbaker said, is a unique product of democracy as it has developed in Canada and the United States in North America the weekly newspaper has flourished as nowhere else in the world. In no other country is there anything like the number of weeklies in proportion as in these countries. The weekly press is therefore a special development of the democratic institutions in North America under federal systems of government.

"I hardly need stress the interests and opinions is the close relationship between every avenue of democracy democratic government and the weekly newspaper a strong weekly press. Where has proved itself over and I asked for a comparison of over again to be a asset of the number of weeklies in Canada and the United I was informed that in the whole of Soviet Russia there are only about a hundred newspapers of all kinds of which only fourteen are weeklies.

The link between the federal system and the weekly press is less apparent but nonetheless real. A federal system assumes a more or less scattered population grouped in many communities. Each has its own individual character its own special interests its own requirements for local news coverage and form of opinion. Particular expression of these views is provided by the weekly press.

Turning to the freedom of the press Mr Diefenbaker said, "A local paper is sometimes more full, or rude or even pulpy. It is a living aspect," the revered pupil, "As a result of its daily and weekly presence it should breathe life into a community. As the paper breathes life into a community, so the editor breathes a little bit of himself, day by day, week by week, year by year, into sometimes lives. Thus he achieves a immortality offered only to editors because there is a part of him in each succeeding generation."

In Halifax there is yet evidence of that immortality that was achieved by some notable local newspaper owners. Mr Diefenbaker said Joseph Howe in 1835 launch ed a campaign against the arbitrary authority of the Executive Council in his new paper "The Nova Scotian". One fiery article against the magistrate who governed Halifax brought a charge of libel and to defend himself Howe borrowed the law books of the lawyers who could not represent him, and argued enough law to wage a successful case Joseph Howe was a man of the people who fought hard against injustice and failure in the tradition of many other Canadian weekly newspaper editors.

The outcome of this celebrated trial in 1835 established the freedom of the press

Halifax is also the home of the first newspaper published in the English language in Canada.

Reports

The recent announcement by the Hon Alvin Hamilton, regarding the operational boundaries of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration to include all settled areas of the prairie provinces will be good news to our area. This is something that we have been asking for at the north for many years.

PFRA was established in 1935 in the drought years to provide for farmland rehabilitation. Over the years it has concentrated on long term water conservation and land utilization programs in some provinces this has meant a number of PFRA community pastures however Alberta has never entered this phase of its operations. Many individual irrigation projects have been developed and more than 65,000 farm dugouts have been built.

I am hopefull that with a reorganization of PFRA and the new Agricultural Rehabilitation and development Act that we will be able to have programs of water conservation land utilization and other developments which will help the agricultural and recreational facilities of our area.

A new Edson image

Is Edson creating a new image for itself? All the evidence would seem to point that way now that we have had chance to ponder the main aims of what the local provincial and national publicity this area received from the rodeo this year has done for us.

A district such as ours can't have a federal cabinet minister riding a horse with his wife, the premier of the province present and miscellaneous mayors and other dignitaries as guests without attracting publicity. This the rodeo committee managed this year. We may never have a good an opportunity as we have had this year by virtue of being able to tie the deal in with the 50th Anniversary of the town but the fact remains that our district did get a lot of publicity all favorable as far as we are able to assess it.

Edson has had various images through the years. In our earliest beginnings we received attention from land promoters who likes our potentialities so high that such boom as the late Bob Edwards who came to look it over left us timed to prick the bubble. During the thirties we supplied one of the personalities that help topple the farmers government. Whether this created an image, we wouldn't like to say, but some people's memories are long.

During the heyday of the Coal Branch we were by passed mentally, if not physically, as we had somehow created an image with the comparatively prosperous miners, community of not being too wide awake. We have always maintained this opinion was not necessarily associated but none the less it was there.

Edson has had a reputation of being something of a mud hole through the years. This opinion, was of course, only valid when it rained which was most of each summer and if something that we held in common with other communities in their development stages. Our main street has been paved for years now. The years on first piece of residential curbing and block bopping has been completed and many of our streets have been noted improving their appearance and usefulness a thousandfold. We hope our critic will notice these things as they now visit us.

Action and criticism

The only man who makes mistakes is the man who does things, says the old saw. This is particularly true when a man heads a committee and puts a town on the map with a project such as our rodeo.

After three years of pushing the rodeo Mayor W. E. Brunelle asked the Tri Service Association not to accept re-election as their president. At their meeting the other night the association gave Mr. Brunelle a [illegible] to retired from the chair. It was well received.

Mr D M Caston,
Edson Leader,
Edson, Alberta.

Dear Mr Caston:

At the last executive meeting of the Edson Chamber of Commerce the secretary was directed to express the warm vote of thanks and appreciation of the members of the Chamber for the fine contribution made through your paper to the success of Rodeo week in Edson.

The Chamber is also aware of the fine publicity you gave to the part taken by the Chamber in making this Rodeo such an outstanding success in the year of 1961 which is the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the Town of Edson.

It is also noted the newspaper of the Town is in its 50th Anniversary year and may we wish you continued success.

Yours very truly,

CAPITOL REPORT

August's speculative cabinet moves

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — When the August dog drums hit the political scene, the coolest way to liven things up is to revive rumors of an impending shuffle in the provincial cabinet. Last week some of the boys were discussing the political scene as they tried their best to beat the heat, and they came up with the idea that a provincial cabinet shuffle is a distant possibility in the not too-distant future.

Premier Manning has two ministers who are ready to retire. Public Works Minister James Hartley, a Social Credit MLA since 1935 is 78 years old. Welfare Minister Robert Jorgenson, a member since 1944, is 68. This makes them the oldest members of the cabinet although neither one is a returns minister. Mr Jorgenson was elevated to cabinet rank in 1954, and Mr Hartley came in the following year.

So far, government officials have remained mum about any possible changes. Mr. Jorgenson, asked last week if his retirement is in the offing, replied genially "It's news to me." Premier Manning was asked about it at his press conference last week, and said there's nothing announced.

However, you can be fairly sure it won't be too long before the premier has to open the door to promotion for some of his back benchers. Take for example Arthur Dixon, Social Crediter from Calgary who looks like the best bet for the next cabinet appointment. Most Mr Dixon is now deputy Speaker of the Legislature, has twice served as chairman of House committees, himself is named the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Political gossipers think Dixon is the logical choice for the welfare portfolio when it becomes vacant. But his experience with the Workmen's Compensation Act also could make him a good bet for the labor department.

If Dixon were to be named labor minister, it would clear the way for Labor and Telephones Minister Raymond Reierson to take over public works. There is a feeling in gov-

PERFECT MENTAL HEALTH MAY BE DELUSION

It's normal to be a little neurotic, John Dollymple reports in an article in the current Liberty magazine.

"Mental health experts are becoming disenchanted with their old vision of mental health, and now admit psychological portraiture is not a mirage after all."

What do the experts mean by when they say you are mentally "normal"? Answering to psychologist Dr Robert F Peck, it means this.

"It is to be unreasonable with one's spouse, or children several times a week, not try in a half swept, but always way to make it up. It is to spend money foolishly, then work hard to stretch what is left till pay day. It is to work hard all your life as a railroad man, wishing you'd finished school and gone into law — yet proud of your 35 years of service. It is to get drunk every week for years, then "get religion" and stop drinking, start doing church work. It is to marry in haste, divorce in haste, and marry [illegible]

Government is bank boss

The new governor of the Bank of Canada, Louis Rasminsky, has made it clear at the start of his career that in case of differences between the government and the bank, government has the right and the responsibility to direct the bank as to the policy which the bank is to carry out.

Well and good. For too many public institutions — banking, insurance companies — are stewards of them have built up the fiction that they are supreme and the further governments keep away from them, the less likely are they to become "political interference."

James Coyne brilliant man as he is, was unfortunate in having to inherit this type of tradition in his evidence he said clearly that he had been advised by a former governor regarding his actions in case of a difference. Mr Coyne like so many CBC types and others in publicly owned radio stations, considered politicians a nuisance around his domain. Rasminsky apparently thanks differently.

This same type of distorted consciousness is seen in some of the publicly owned enterprises especially among the bored help who have set up a private hierarchy. They too, resent interference from government — especially departments of education — and term political interference" when their moved bars are transplanted.

Democracy implies responsibility. All governments are responsible to their people — just as their social conduct. Agents of government ranging from little radio stations to the CBC and from crown corporations to the CNR and the Bank of Canada are likewise responsible to government and their owners the people of Canada.

Pretty morning wedding at Sacred Heart, Edson

MR. AND MRS. PETER KUILDOER

The Sacred Heart Church in Edson was the scene of a pretty morning wedding on August 8 at 10 a.m. when Dora Anne Vanderzwaal daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vanderzwaal of Edmonton, became the bride of Mr. Peter Kuilboer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kuilboer of Hilmerthe. The wedding ceremony was performed by Father P. [illegible] Hughes and the church was decorated with stylish

A DISPLAY OF SAMPLES OF ALBERTA MADE PRODUCTS, attractively arranged on large exhibit boards, are being made available to fairs and exhibitions without cost, by the Alberta Government. The boards, measuring some eleven 4 feet by 8 feet panels, are arranged by the Industrial Development Branch of the Department of Industry and Development. The display participated in at Stettler Fair, in the exhibition at Lloydminster, at Vermilion, and at Vegreville this are done at the Westlock Fair August 9 and 10. By participation in Alberta exhibitions is limited by necessary travelling time and conflict of display dates. Applications should be made to the Industrial Development Branch or to the Publicity Bureau Department of Industry and Development. The extraordinary range of product, made in Alberta as shown on part by the industrial spirit is a source of surprise to most Albertans. Patronage of home produced goods by Albertans is the objective of this province-wide sponsored campaign. The incentive to develop smaller Albertans to see at first hand a portion of the variety of everyday products produced in this province.

Flower Arrangements At Evening Function

A flower arrangement demonstration was given by nayanne Hall at one that can give the individual great satisfaction at the survey the results.

There are two delicate rules to follow in arranging flowers but with an eye instead basic principles and common sense practical hints the finished arrangement can be more quickly and

Cutting and Care 1 Flowers are best cut early in the morning or late in the evening 2 Use a sharp knife and cut with a slanted stroke 3 After cutting flowers place them in a pail of water and leave for several hours. 4 Shorten the stems often to keep the water moving up free 5 Heavy stems should be crushed slightly at the bottom so the water will move up more readily 6 Remove all leaves submerged in water to prevent them from decaying

Containers 1 These should be simple and plain in design 2 The color should harmonize with the flowers used Very vivid colors are best 3 The most pleasing adequate space for color

Hinton Ladies win Peers tournament

The Hinton Ladies Shell ball team took first money in the softball tournament that was a part of the Oldtimers Sports day held at Peers on August 19. They brought home the $30 first prize with several points of $20 coming to Edson.

Both of the Hinton games were won by lopsided scores of 17-3 and 17-4. The only home runs in the games were by Carol McGhee in the first and Agnes Lavoin in the second. These home run queens each received five dollars for the first and only home runs in each game.

It is hoped Hintonites will be out rooting for their home town gals when a four team tournament is held in Hinton in mid-September. Teams from Edson Whitecourt and Drayton Valley are expected to take part.

BLOCKING THE UPPER END OF THE SPRAY CANYON, the earth fill Canyon Dam diverted the flow of the Spray River from Banff. This diversion formed the 28-mile-long Spray Lake, the reservoir which feeds Three Sisters Spray and Rundle Plants. After passing through these plants, the water returns to the Bow River near Canmore to be used by four other hydro plants down-stream.

THE PROTECTIVE SURGE TANK of Spray Plant's newest unit (completed in 1960) is located in Whiteman's Pass, over 900 feet above the plant. Tolance of the plant, Calgary Power staff quarters, Bow Valley and the Fairholme Range can be seen below. James Sinclair, in his trek from Edmonton across the Rockies, travelled this same rugged ground 130 years ago.

The story of Spray

In capturing the energy of rushing mountain water from the Spray Lakes, and transforming it to push button benefits for homes farms, and factories hundreds of miles away, Calgary Power Ltd found special reason for pride. The achievement of reversing the direction of a mountain water course to generate 166,000 horse power is one to be recounted as the Company celebrates its 50th Anniversary of power production in 1961.

The beginning was humble. Three stokers operated the original. Though the construction of the first dam at Horseshoe Falls in 1911 did not escape its share of warnings of failure the soundness of this decision was soon apparent and the Kananaskis development followed. Then Ghost, Barrier, Three Sisters, Spray, Rundle, Bearspaw, Interlakes, Pocaterra, and finally the Wabamun thermal installation was built to meet the growing demands of the province.

Spray was unique in many ways. Didn't the utilization of those lakes more than 12m feet above the Bow River establish a new height for such an undertaking? The surveyor's reports were filed and nothing was done [illegible] bond them for many years. In 1072 a party of company engineers, including G. A. Hinton youth drowns in southern Alberta

Funeral services were held Monday for Russell Taylor, 24 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Taylor of Hinton who lost his life in a drowning accident last week. He is survived by his wife, two young aged two and four, his parents, two brothers, Lloyd and Clifford, and a sister, Diane. His parents, brothers and sister all live in Hinton.

The accident occurred at Pincher Creek, Alberta, last Wednesday while the family were picnicing near a lake. Mr. Taylor who could not swim, dropped into a deep hole in the lake before other members of the family had even gotten into the water. His mother Mrs. Cam Taylor, Clifford and Diane were visiting at the time and were a part of the family picnic group.

Mr. Taylor had not lived in Hinton for five or six years but had taken all his schooling here.

Funeral services were held from Our Lady of the Foothills Roman Catholic Church with Fr. B. W. Malone officiating. Interment was made in the Hinton cemetery.

CRANE HIGH VIEW OF THE SPRAY POWERHOUSE interior shows its two 50,000 kilowatt generators. Fourth unit of the plant right, is mountain rock which is pierced by a 3131-foot hard rock tunnel carrying water to drive the turbines of the 1951 unit on the foreground. The penstock serving the second unit is an exposed high tensile steel pipe secured to the mountainside by concrete anchor blocks. The steel section of the penstock is 1400 feet long with a diameter of 9 feet at its upper end.

Coffee Break

Well gals, I haven't had to fight my way out of a pile of helpful suggestions so far, but there are a few sent in to share with you over a cup of refreshing coffee.

Almost everyone who cooks has wondered how to get rid of smelly/some odor of fish, garlic, onions, etc., from cooking utensils. Like so many things that are a delight to the nose when cooking, these foods have an odor that is definitely unpleasant when clinging to a utensil and are apt to taint the next food cooked in the dish. The lady who passed this on said that she finds the simple solution of putting a piece of lemon peel in the dishwater worked wonders.

This sounded like a good idea. If you have accidentally put too much salt in a dish of food that is cooking place a wet cloth over the top of the utensil in which the food is boiling. The steam will draw the salt into the cloth. It's under it it would work in the case of corn beef and cabbage when the corned beef has been made too salty at the brine.

We've heard housewives wondering what to do with clothes that had been left over from an ironing or got accidentally damp and mud dewed. This hint was phoned in the other day. Light Starching will remove mildew spots from material which is slightly touched. Heavy mildew spots can usually be removed with a vigorous washing. We hope this will be the answer for those who have mildew problems.

Shower for Sept. bride

On Saturday afternoon August 26 Mrs. F. Strauss, Mrs. H. Lawton and Mrs. D. Christensen were co-hostesses to 20 ladies of Hattiesford and Kitscoty at the hall for a miscellaneous shower held in honour of Miss Muriel Wiseman bride elect.

The hall was tastefully decorated with pink blue and white streamers, bells and a basket of roses were draped above the table when the bride elect to receive her gifts. Several games were played, winners receiving prizes were Mrs. G. Ford, Mrs. P. Setzer and Mrs. B. Wiseman.

Miss Valerie Ford and Miss Carol Cundiff presented the bride with the numerous and lovely gifts. Miss Francis Goodale and Mrs. Alex Vida Jr. assisted with the opening and passing of the gifts after which the bride graciously thanked everyone.

The afternoon was brought to a close by the hostesses serving a delicious lunch.

THE VEHICLES AND HIGHWAY TRAFFIC ACT

It is surprising how many persons, pass other vehicles on a highway in contravention of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act, probably in ignorance in some cases, but mostly because they are in too much of a hurry to slow down.

For example the Act states in Section 65 that it is unlawful to pass or attempt to pass another vehicle proceeding in the same direction (a) while proceeding uphill (b) on a curve (c) on a bridge or any approaches thereto (d) at a level crossing except where there are two or more traffic lanes on the same side of the centre line and a driver can pass safely without crossing the centre line.

On single lane traffic it is illegal to pass on the right side of a vehicle travelling in the same direction except where the vehicle ahead has signalled to make a left turn. Where two or more traffic lanes are marked in the right of the centre line a driver can pass to either the right or the left of the vehicle travelling in the same direction and the vehicle being passed shall allow the overtaking vehicle to pass on either the right or left lane.

It should also be noted that no driver desiring to pass a vehicle travelling in the same direction shall sound his horn. There are several rules which apply where a highway is divided into traffic lanes. Section 67 of the Act states:

(a) A driver cannot pass from one lane to another where there is a solid line between lanes.

(b) A driver must signal when changing from one lane to another.

(c) A driver desiring to turn left shall travel in the centre traffic lane or the lane nearest the centre of the highway.

(d) A driver desiring to turn right shall travel in the lane nearest the right hand side of the highway.

There are several other regulations concerning traffic lanes and passing but those mentioned above are the most common that are being violated by the majority of drivers from time to time.

Underwater Escape

Every year some 400 people are drowned in cars that have plunged into water when they can't open the doors because of the pressure of the water they panic and get trapped.

Theoretical as it may seem the time to do is to sit tight and let the car fill with water. Whether the car is upright upside down or on its side and whether the windows are open or closed a pocket of air will remain in the highest part of the car. When the water has nearly filled the car take a deep breath open the door or floor through a window and swim free.
